TABLE II.

TIMES OF UPPER MERIDIAN PASSAGE OF POLARIS, OR NORTH STAR, 1898.

Surveyors and civil engineers may obtain the variation of the magnetic needle for any place in the United States by directing their compass to the North Star (Polaris) when it is upon the meridian, as given in the table below, for the upper culmination; or 11 hours 58 minutes 2 seconds, before or after, when the star is on the lower meridian. Exact local time is used in the table, and the timepiece used must be correct, and the bearing of the star taken promptly on time, and that bearing will be the true variation of the needle. An error of only a few seconds in the timepiece will vitiate the bearing found; therefore, it will be much better to take the bearing when the star is furthest east or west, at its greatest elongation, as observations made upon it then are not affected materially by small errors of timepieces. To use this table for other places than Washington, D. C., add 9.83 seconds for each hour of longitude east of Washington, and subtract 9.83 seconds for each hour west of it. From February 1 to August 1, use the lower culmination. (For table to find the time of greatest elongation of Polaris, see Page 1, Table I. Almanac of 1897.)

The year 5657 is an Emolismic year, containing 13 months; Veadar, the seventh, of 30 days being added. The year contains 55 Sabbaths, and is the 14th year of the 298th cycle of 19 years.

A TABLE OF ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTEEN BRIGHT STARS.

To ascertain when any Star or Constellation found in the following Table will be on the upper meridian, add the numbers opposite in the left-hand column of figures to the time of "Sidereal Noon" found in these pages. For the rising of a Star, subtract the number opposite in the right-hand column of figures from its meridian passage. For the setting of a Star, add the same number to its meridian passage. Those marked (....) revolve in a circle of perpetual apparition, and do not rise or set north of the latitude of New York (40° 42' 40"), for which latitude the semi-diurnal arcs are calculated. The civil day begins at midnight, and consequently 24 hours after midnight, or 12 hours from noon, is morning of the succeeding day; and more than 24 hours from noon, is evening of the next day. This table is arranged in the order of culmination. Stars having an asterisk (*) in the last column are seen only in Florida and Texas, when passing the meridian.

PLANETS BRIGHTEST OR BEST SEEN.

Mercury, February 4 and September 24, rising shortly before the Sun; also April 7 and December 1, setting soon after the Sun.
 Venus, October 27.

Mars, not this year.
 Jupiter, March 25.
 Saturn, May 30.
 Uranus, May 22.
 Neptune, December 15.

MORNING STARS.

Rising After Midnight.

Mercury, January 6 to March 16; May 1 to June 30; September 5 to October 19, and after December 21.
 Venus, until February 15 and after December 1.

EVENING STARS.

Rising Before Midnight.

Mercury, until January 6 and from March 16 to May 1; June 30 to September 5, and October 19 to December

AZIMUTH TABLE OF POLARIS, OR NORTH STAR, 1898.

The azimuths in the annexed table, applied properly to the magnetic bearing of Polaris at the time of its greatest elongation east or west, will give the true variation of the magnetic needle from a true north direction, and will be of great use to all surveyors and engineers. When the elongation is east the azimuth will be east and vice versa. At the present time the line of "No Variation" of the needle runs southeasterly from near Toledo, Ohio, to a point on the Atlantic coast about fifty miles southwest of Cape Fear, N. C. East of that line the north end of the needle points west of a true north, and west of that line east of the true north. The country may therefore be divided into eastern and western magnetic regions. In the "Eastern Region" the bearing of Polaris at its western elongation, if eastward, added to the azimuth, gives the desired variation west; but if westward, the bearing taken from the azimuth gives the variation west. The bearing of Polaris at its eastern elongation will be eastward, and the azimuth subtracted therefrom gives the variation west. In the "Western Region" the bearing of Polaris at its eastern elongation, if westward, added to the azimuth, gives the variation east; but if eastward, the bearing taken from the azimuth gives the variation east. The bearing of Polaris at its western elongation will be westward, and diminished by the azimuth gives the variation east. The azimuths in the table, given for two degree zones, are practically sufficient for all the United States except Alaska. For intermediate latitudes, and dates, the azimuths may be found by proportion sufficiently correct, or exactly by the formula, $\log\text{-sine azimuth equal log-sine Polar Distance of Polaris, minus log-cosine latitude}$. The surveyor or engineer is on the line of "No Variation" when the bearing of Polaris at greatest elongation is the same as the azimuth.

THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES.

PREAMBLE.

We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defence, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

ARTICLE I.

Section 1. All legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.

Sec. 2. The House of Representatives shall be composed of members chosen every second year by the people of the several States, and the electors in each State shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State Legislature.

No person shall be a Representative who shall not have attained the age of twenty-five years, and been seven years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen.

Representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union according to their respective numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole number of free persons, including those bound to service for a term of years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three-fifths of all other persons. The actual enumeration shall be made within three years after the first meeting of the Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent term of ten years, in such manner as they shall by law direct. The number of Representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty thousand, but each State shall have at least one Representative; and until such enumeration shall be made, the State of New-Hampshire shall be entitled to choose three, Massachusetts eight, Rhode Island and Providence Plantations one, Connecticut five, New-York six, New-Jersey four, Pennsylvania eight, Delaware one, Maryland six, Virginia ten, North Carolina five, South Carolina five and Georgia three.

When vacancies happen in the representation from any State, the executive authority thereof shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies.

The House of Representatives shall choose their Speaker and other officers, and shall have the sole power of impeachment.

Sec. 3. The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, chosen by the Legislature thereof, for six years; and each Senator shall have one vote.

Immediately after they shall be assembled in consequence of the first election, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three classes. The seats of the Senators of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of the second year; of the second class, at the expiration of the fourth year, and of the third class, at the expiration of the sixth year, so that one-third may be chosen every second year; and if vacancies happen by resignation or otherwise during the recess of the Legislature of any State, the executive thereof may make temporary appointments until the next meeting of the Legislature, which shall then fill such vacancies.

No person shall be a Senator who shall not have attained to the age of thirty years and been nine years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State for which he shall be chosen.

The Vice-President of the United States shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no vote unless they be equally divided.

The Senate shall choose their other officers, and also a President pro tempore in the absence of the Vice-President, or when he shall exercise the office of President of the United States.

The Senate shall have the sole power to try all impeachments. When sitting for that purpose, they shall be on oath or affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried, the Chief Justice shall preside; and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present.

Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust or profit under the United States; but the party convicted shall, nevertheless, be liable and subject to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment, according to law.

Sec. 4. The times, places and manner of holding elections for Senators and Representatives shall be prescribed in each State by the Legislature thereof; but the Congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations, except as to the places of choosing Senators.

The Congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by law appoint a different day.

Sec. 5. Each house shall be the judge of the elections, returns and qualifications of its own members, and a majority of each shall constitute a quorum to do business; but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner and under such penalties as each house may provide.

Each house may determine the rules of its proceedings, punish its members for disorderly behavior and, with the concurrence of two-thirds, expel a member.

Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and from time to time publish the same, excepting such parts as may in their judgment require secrecy, and the yeas and nays of the members of either house on any question shall, at the desire of one-fifth of those present, be entered on the journal.

Neither house, during the session of Congress, shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which the two houses shall be sitting.

Sec. 6. The Senators and Representatives shall receive a compensation for their services, to be ascertained by law, and paid out of the Treasury of the United States. They shall, in all cases except treason, felony and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at the session of their respective houses, and in going to and returning from the same; and for any speech or debate in either house they shall not be questioned in any other place.

No Senator or Representative shall, during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority of the United States which shall have been created, or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time; and no person holding any office under the United States shall be a member of either house during his continuance in office.

Sec. 7. All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives; but the Senate may propose or concur with amendments as on other bills.

Every bill which shall have passed the House of Representatives and the Senate shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the President of the United States; if he approve he shall sign it, but if not he shall return it, with his objections, to that house in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the objections at large on their journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If after such reconsideration two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and if approved by two-thirds of that house it shall become a law. But in all cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the President within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless Congress by their adjournment prevents its return, in which case it shall not be a law.

Every order, resolution or vote to which the concurrence of the Senate and House of Representatives may be necessary (except on a question of adjournment) shall be presented to the President of the United States; and before the same shall take effect shall be approved by him, or, being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by two-thirds of the Senate and House of Representatives, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill.

Sec. 8. The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts and excises, to pay the debts and provide for the common defence and general welfare of the United States; but all duties, imposts and excises shall be uniform throughout the United States;

To borrow money on the credit of the United States;

To regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several States and with the Indian tribes;

To establish a uniform rule of naturalization, and uniform laws on the subject of bankruptcies throughout the United States;

To coin money, regulate the value thereof, and of foreign coin, and fix the standard of weights and measures;

To provide for the punishment of counterfeiting the securities and current coin of the United States;

To establish postoffices and postroads;

To promote the progress of science and useful arts, by securing for limited times to authors and inventors the exclusive right to their respective writings and discoveries;

To constitute tribunals inferior to the Supreme Court;

To define and punish piracies and felonies committed on the high seas, and offences against the laws of nations;

To declare war, grant letters of marque and reprisal, and make rules concerning captures on land and water;

To raise and support armies, but no appropriation of money to that use shall be for a longer term than two years;

To provide and maintain a navy;

To make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces;

To provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the Union, suppress insurrections and repel invasions;

To provide for organizing, arming and disciplining the militia, and for governing such part of them as may be employed in the service of the United States, reserving to the States respectively the appointment of the officers and the authority of training the militia according to the discipline prescribed by Congress;

To exercise exclusive legislation in all cases whatsoever, over such district (not exceeding ten miles square) as may, by cession of particular States, and the acceptance of Congress, become the seat of government of the United States, and to exercise like authority over all places purchased by the consent of the Legislature of the State in which the same shall be, for the erection of forts, magazines, arsenals, dockyards, and other needful buildings; and

To make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers, and all other powers vested by this Constitution in the Government of the United States, or in any department or officer thereof.

Sec. 9. The migration or importation of such persons as any of the States now existing shall think proper to admit shall not be prohibited by the Congress prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight, but a tax or duty may be imposed on such importation, not exceeding ten dollars for each person.

The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in cases of rebellion or invasion the public safety may require it.

No bill of attainder or ex post facto law shall be passed.

No capitation or other direct tax shall be laid, unless in proportion to the census or enumeration hereinbefore directed to be taken.

No tax or duty shall be laid on articles exported from any State.

No preference shall be given by any regulation of commerce or revenue to the ports of one State over those of another; nor shall vessels bound to or from one State be obliged to enter, clear or pay duties in another.

No money shall be drawn from the Treasury but in consequence of appropriations made by law; and a regular statement and account of the receipts and expenditures of all public money shall be published from time to time.

No title of nobility shall be granted by the United States; and no person holding an office of profit or trust under them shall, without the consent of the Congress, accept of any present, emolument, office or title of any kind whatever, from any king, prince or foreign State.

Sec. 10. No State shall enter into any treaty, alliance or confederation; grant letters of marque and reprisal; coin money; emit bills of credit; make anything but gold and silver coin a tender in payment of debts; pass any bill of attainder, ex post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of contracts, or grant any title of nobility.

No State shall, without the consent of the Congress, lay any imposts or duties on imports or exports, except what may be absolutely necessary for executing its inspection laws; and the net produce of all duties and imposts, laid by any State on imports or exports, shall be for the use of the Treasury of the United States; and all such laws shall be subject to the revision and control of the Congress.

No State shall, without the consent of Congress, lay any duty of tonnage, keep troops or ships of war in time of peace, enter into any agreement or compact with another State, or with a foreign power, or engage in war, unless actually invaded, or in such imminent danger as will not admit of delay.

ARTICLE II.

Section 1. The executive power shall be vested in a President of the United States of America. He shall hold his office during the term of four years, and, together with the Vice-President, chosen for the same term, be elected as follows:

Each State shall appoint, in such manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors, equal to the whole number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in the Congress; but no Senator or Representative, or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States shall be appointed an elector.

The electors shall meet in their respective States, and vote by ballot for two persons, of whom one at least shall not be an inhabitant of the same State with themselves. And they shall make a list of all the persons voted for, and of the number of votes for each; which list they shall sign and certify, and transmit, sealed, to the seat of Government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate. The President of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates, and the votes shall then be counted. The person having the greatest number of votes shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if there be more than one who have such a majority, and have an equal number of votes, then the House of Representatives shall immediately choose by ballot one of them President; and if no person have a majority, then from the five highest on the list the said House shall in like manner choose the President. But in choosing the President, the votes shall be taken by States, the representation from each State having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the States, and a majority of all the States shall be necessary to a choice. In every case, after the choice of the President, the person having the greatest number of votes of the electors shall be the Vice-President. But if there should remain two or more who have equal votes, the Senate shall choose from them by ballot the Vice-President.

The Congress may determine the time of choosing the electors, and the day on which they shall give their votes; which day shall be the same throughout the United States.

No person except a natural-born citizen or a citizen of the United States at the time of the adoption of this Constitution shall be eligible to the office of President; neither shall any person be eligible to that office who shall not have attained to the age of thirty-five years, and been fourteen years a resident within the United States.

In case of the removal of the President from office, or of his death, resignation or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the Vice-President, and the Congress may by law provide for the case of removal, death, resignation or inability both of the President and Vice-President, declaring what officer shall then act as President, and such officer shall act accordingly until the disability be removed or a President shall be elected.

The President shall, at stated times, receive for his services a compensation which shall be neither increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected, and he shall not receive within that period any other emolument from the United States, or any of them.

Before he enters on the execution of his office, he shall take the following oath or affirmation:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States."

Sec. 2. The President shall be Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, and of the militia of the several States, when called into the actual service of the United States; he may require the opinion, in writing, of the principal officer in each of the executive departments, upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices, and he shall have power to grant reprieves and pardons for offences against the United States, except in cases of impeachment.

He shall have power, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to make treaties, provided two-thirds of the Senators present concur; and he shall nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall appoint ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, judges of the Supreme Court, and all other officers of the United States, whose appointments are not herein otherwise provided for, and which shall be established by law; but the Congress may by law vest the appointment of such inferior officers as they think proper, in the President alone, in the courts of law or in the heads of departments.

The President shall have power to fill up all vacancies that may happen during the recess of the Senate, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session.

Sec. 3. He shall from time to time give to the Congress information of the state of the Union, and recommend to their consideration such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient; he may on extraordinary occasions convene both houses, or either of them, and in case of disagreement between them, with respect to the time of adjournment, he may adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper; he shall receive ambassadors and other public ministers; he shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed, and shall commission all of the officers of the United States.

Sec. 4. The President, Vice-President and all civil officers of the United States shall be removed from office on impeachment for and conviction of treason, bribery or other high crimes and misdemeanors.

ARTICLE III.

Sec. 1. The judicial power of the United States shall be vested in one Supreme Court, and in such inferior courts as the Congress may from time to time ordain and establish. The judges, both of the supreme and inferior courts, shall hold their offices during good behavior, and shall at stated times receive for their services a compensation which shall not be diminished during their continuance in office.

Sec. 2. The judicial power shall extend to all cases, in law and equity, arising under this Constitution, the laws of the United States, and treaties made or which shall be made, under their authority; to all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls; to all cases of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction; to controversies to which the United States shall be a party; to controversies between two or more States; between a State and citizens of another State; between citizens of different States; between citizens of the same State claiming lands under grants of different States, and between a State, or the citizens thereof, and foreign States, citizens or subjects.

In all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, and those in which a State shall be a party, the Supreme Court shall have original jurisdiction. In all the other cases before mentioned the Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction, both as to law and fact, with such exceptions and under such regulations as the Congress shall make.

The trial of all crimes, except in cases of impeachment, shall be by jury; and such trial shall be held in the State where the said crime shall have been committed; but when not committed within any State, the trial shall be at such place or places as the Congress may by law have directed.

Sec. 3. Treason against the United States shall consist only in levying war against them, or in adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court.

The Congress shall have power to declare the punishment of treason, but no attainder of treason shall work corruption of blood or forfeiture except during the life of the person attained.

ARTICLE IV.

Sec. 1. Full faith and credit shall be given in each State to the public acts, records, and judicial proceedings of every other State. And the Congress may by general laws prescribe the manner in which such acts, records and proceedings shall be proved, and the effect thereof.

Sec. 2. The citizens of each State shall be entitled to all privileges and immunities of citizens in the several States.

A person charged in any State with treason, felony, or other crime, who shall flee from justice, and be found in another State, shall, on demand of the executive authority of the State from which he fled, be delivered up, to be removed to the State having jurisdiction of the crime.

No person held to service or labor in one State, under the laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in consequence of any law or regulation therein, be discharged from such service or labor, but shall be delivered up on claim of the party to whom such service or labor may be due.

Sec. 3. New States may be admitted by the Congress into this Union; but no new State shall be formed or erected within the jurisdiction of any other State; nor any State be formed by the junction of two or more States, or part of States, without the consent of the Legislature of the States concerned as well as of the Congress.

The Congress shall have power to dispose of and make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territory or other property belonging to the United States; and nothing in this Constitution shall be so construed as to prejudice any claims of the United States, or of any particular State.

Sec. 4. The United States shall guarantee to every State in this Union a republican form of government, and shall protect each of them against invasion, and on application of the Legislature, or of the executive (when the Legislature cannot be convened), against domestic violence.

ARTICLE V.

The Congress, whenever two-thirds of both houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose amendments to this Constitution, or, on the application of the legislatures of two-thirds of the several States, shall call a convention for proposing amendments, which in either case shall be valid to all intents and purposes, as part of this Constitution, when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several States, or by conventions in three-fourths thereof, as the one or the other mode of ratification may be proposed by the Congress; provided that no amendment which may be made prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight shall in any manner affect the first and fourth clauses in the ninth section of the first article; and that no State, without its consent, shall be deprived of its equal suffrage in the Senate.

ARTICLE VI.

All debts contracted and engagements entered into before the adoption of this Constitution shall be as valid against the United States under this Constitution as under the confederation.

This Constitution, and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof, and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land; and the judges in every State shall be bound thereby, anything in the Constitution or laws of any State to the contrary notwithstanding.

The Senators and Representatives before mentioned, and the members of the several State legislatures, and all executive and judicial officers, both of the United States and of the several States, shall be bound by oath or affirmation to support this Constitution; but no religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under the United States.

ARTICLE VII.

The ratification of the convention of nine States shall be sufficient for the establishment of this Constitution between the States so ratifying the same.

Done in convention by the unanimous consent of the States present, the seventeenth day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and eighty-seven, and of the independence of the United States of America the twelfth. In witness whereof we have hereunto subscribed our names.

AMENDMENTS.

(The first ten amendments were proposed at the first session of the 1st Congress of the United States, which was began and held at the city of New-York on March 4, 1789, and were adopted by the requisite number of States.—1 vol. Laws of U. S., p. 72.)

(The preamble and resolution following preceded the original proposition of the amendments, and, as they have been supposed by a high equity judge (8 Wendell's Reports, p. 100) to have an important bearing on the construction of those amendments, they are here inserted. They will be found in the journals of the first session of the 1st Congress.)

Congress of the United States begun and held at the city of New-York, on Wednesday, the 4th of March, 1789. The conventions of a number of the States having at the time of their adopting the Constitution expressed a desire, in order to prevent misconstruction or abuse of its powers, that further declaratory and restrictive clauses should be added; and as extending the ground of public confidence in the Government will best insure the beneficent ends of its institution—

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, two-thirds of both houses concurring, That the following articles be proposed to the Legislatures of the several States as amendments to the Constitution of the United States, all or any of which articles, when ratified by three-fourths of said Legislatures, to be valid to all intents and purposes as part of said Constitution, namely:

ARTICLE I.

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

ARTICLE II.

A well-regulated militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed.

ARTICLE III.

No soldier shall in time of peace be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner, nor in time of war, but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

ARTICLE IV.

The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures shall not be violated, and no warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched and the persons or things to be seized.

ARTICLE V.

No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a grand jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces or in the militia when in actual service in time of war or public danger; nor shall any person be subject for the same offence to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself nor be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use without just compensation.

ARTICLE VI.

In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury of the State and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the assistance of counsel for his defence.

ARTICLE VII.

In suits at common law, where the value in controversy shall exceed $20, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved, and no fact tried by a jury shall be otherwise re-examined in any court of the United States, than according to the rules of the common law.

ARTICLE VIII.

Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishments inflicted.

ARTICLE IX.

The enumeration in the Constitution of certain rights shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people.

ARTICLE X.

The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people.

ARTICLE XI.

The judicial power of the United States shall not be construed to extend to any suit in law or equity, commenced or prosecuted against one of the United States by citizens of another State, or by citizens or subjects of any foreign State.

ARTICLE XII.

The electors shall meet in their respective States and vote by ballot for President and Vice-President, one of whom at least shall not be an inhabitant of the same State with themselves; they shall name in their ballots the persons voted for as President, and in distinct ballots the persons voted for as Vice-President, and they shall make distinct lists of all persons voted for as President, and of all persons voted for as Vice-President, and of the number of votes for each; which list they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the seat of government of the United States, directed to the President of the Senate. The President of the Senate shall, in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives, open all the certificates, and the votes shall then be counted; the person having the greatest number of votes for President shall be the President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest numbers, not exceeding three on the list of those voted for as President, the House of Representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot, the President. But in choosing the President, the vote shall be taken by States, the representation from each State having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the States, and a majority of all the States shall be necessary to a choice. And if the House of Representatives shall not choose a President whenever the right of choice shall devolve upon them, before the fourth day of March next following, then the Vice-President shall act as President, as in the case of the death or other constitutional disability of the President.

The person having the greatest number of votes as Vice-President shall be the Vice-President, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed, and if no person have a majority, then from the two highest numbers on the list, the Senate shall choose the Vice-President; a quorum for the purpose shall consist of two-thirds of the whole number of Senators, and a majority of the whole number shall be necessary to a choice. But no person constitutionally ineligible to the office of President shall be eligible to that of Vice-President of the United States.

ARTICLE XIII.

Section 1. Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted, shall exist within the United States, or any place subject to their jurisdiction.

Sec. 2. Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

ARTICLE XIV.

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States, and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States, nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Sec. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, Representatives in Congress, the executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State, being twenty-one years of age, and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Sec. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President or Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; but Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each house, remove such disability.

Sec. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States, authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing the insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims shall be held illegal and void.

Sec. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.

ARTICLE XV.

Section 1. The right of the citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude.

Sec. 2. The Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation.

PRESIDENTS: LAW AS TO SUCCESSION.

The act of Congress approved January 19, 1886, providing for the performance of the duties of the office of President in case of the removal, death, resignation or inability both of the President and Vice-President, is as follows:

"That in case of removal, death, resignation, or inability of both the President and Vice-President of the United States, the Secretary of State; or, if there be none, or in case of his removal, death, resignation or inability, then the Secretary of the Treasury; or, if there be none, or in case of his removal, death, resignation or inability, then the Secretary of War; or if there be none, or in case of his removal, death, resignation or inability, then the Attorney-General; or if there be none, or in case of his removal, death, resignation or inability, then the Postmaster-General; or if there be none, or in case of his removal, death, resignation or inability, then the Secretary of the Navy; or if there be none, or in case of his removal, death, resignation or inability, then the Secretary of the Interior; or if there be none, or in case of his removal, death, resignation or inability, then the Secretary of Agriculture shall act as President until the disability of the President or Vice-President is removed or a President shall be elected; Provided, That whenever the powers and duties of the office of President of the United States shall devolve upon any of the persons named herein, if Congress be not then in session, or if it would not meet in accordance with law within twenty days thereafter, it shall be the duty of the person upon whom said powers and duties shall devolve to issue a proclamation convening Congress in extraordinary session, giving twenty days' notice of the time of meeting.

"Sec. 2. That the preceding section shall only be held to describe and apply to such officers as shall have been appointed by the advice and consent of the Senate to the offices therein named, and such as are eligible to the office of President under the Constitution, and not under impeachment by the House of Representatives of the United States at the time the powers and duties of the office shall devolve upon them respectively."

NATIONAL PARTY CONVENTIONS, 1896.

REPUBLICAN.

The eleventh Republican National Convention assembled at St. Louis, Mo., on June 16, 1896, and was in session three days. C. W. Fairbanks was temporary chairman, and Senator John M. Thurston, of Nebraska, permanent chairman. The Convention was composed of 924 delegates. William McKinley, of Ohio, was nominated for President, and Garret A. Hobart, of New-Jersey, was nominated for Vice-President. On June 18 the following were put in nomination for President: William McKinley, by Joseph B. Foraker; Levi P. Morton, of New-York, by Chauncey M. Depew; William B. Allison, of Iowa, by J. N. Baldwin; Thomas B. Reed, of Maine, by H. Cabot Lodge; Matthew S. Quay, of Pennsylvania, by Governor Hastings. Mr. McKinley was chosen on the first ballot, and upon motion of Senator Lodge, seconded by Governor Hastings, Thomas C. Platt, of New-York, and Mr. Henderson, of Iowa, the nomination of Mr. McKinley was made unanimous.

The nominations for Vice-President were: Garret A. Hobart, by Judge John F. Fort; C. W. Lippitt, of Rhode Island, by Mr. Allen; H. Clay Evans, of Tennessee, by Mr. Randolph; James A. Walker, of Virginia, by I. C. Walker.

The following table gives the vote by States for President and Vice-President.

THE PLATFORM.

There were a majority and minority report from the Committee on Platform. The majority report was adopted in the Committee on the Platform by a vote of 40 out of its 51 members; and in the Convention, June 18, by a vote of 812½ to 110½. It was as follows:

"The Republicans of the United States assembled, by their representatives in National Convention, appealing for the popular and historical justification of their claims to the matchless achievements of thirty years of Republican rule, earnestly and confidently address themselves to the awakened intelligence, experience and conscience of their countrymen in the following declaration of facts and principles:

"For the first time since the Civil War the American people have witnessed the calamitous consequences of full and unrestricted Democratic control of the Government. It has been a record of unparalleled incapacity, dishonor and disaster. In administrative management it has ruthlessly sacrificed indispensable revenue, entailed an unceasing deficit, eked out ordinary current expenses with borrowed money, piled up the public debt by $262,000,000 in time of peace, forced an adverse balance of trade, kept a perpetual menace hanging over the redemption fund, pawned American credit to alien syndicates, and reversed all the measures and results of successful Republican rule. In the broad effect of its policy it has precipitated panic, blighted industry and trade with prolonged depression, closed factories, reduced work and wages, halted enterprise and crippled American production, while stimulating foreign production for the American market. Every consideration of public safety and individual interest demands that the Government shall be rescued from the hands of those who have shown themselves incapable of conducting it without disaster at home and dishonor abroad, and shall be restored to the party which for thirty years administered it with unequalled success and prosperity. And in this connection we heartily indorse the wisdom, patriotism and the success of the Administration of President Harrison."

PROTECTION.—"We renew and emphasize our allegiance to the policy of protection as the bulwark of American industrial independence and the foundation of American development and prosperity. This true American policy taxes foreign products and encourages home industry; it puts the burden of revenue on foreign goods; it secures the American market for the American producer; it upholds the American standard of wages for the American workingman; it puts the factory by the side of the farm, and makes the American farmer less dependent on foreign demand and prices; it diffuses general thrift and founds the strength of all on the strength of each. In its reasonable application it is just, fair and impartial, equally opposed to foreign control and domestic monopoly, to sectional discrimination and individual favoritism. We denounce the present Democratic tariff as sectional, injurious to the public credit and destructive to business enterprise. We demand such an equitable tariff on foreign imports which come into competition with American products as will not only furnish adequate revenue for the necessary expenses of the Government, but will protect American labor from degradation to the wage level of other lands. We are not pledged to any particular schedules. The question of rates is a practical question, to be governed by the conditions of the time and of production; the ruling and uncompromising principle is the protection and development of American labor and industry. The country demands a right settlement, and then it wants rest."

RECIPROCITY.—"We believe the repeal of the reciprocity arrangements negotiated by the last Republican Administration was a National calamity, and we demand their renewal and extension on such terms as will equalize our trade with other nations, remove the restrictions which now obstruct the sale of American products in the ports of other countries, and secure enlarged markets for the products of our farms, forests and factories. Protection and reciprocity are twin measures of Republican policy and go hand in hand. Democratic rule has recklessly struck down both, and both must be re-established. Protection for what we produce; free admission for the necessities of life which we do not produce; reciprocal agreements of mutual interest which gain open markets for us in return for our open market to others. Protection builds up domestic industry and trade and secures our own market for ourselves; reciprocity builds up foreign trade and finds an outlet for our surplus."

SUGAR.—"We condemn the present Administration for not keeping faith with the sugar producers of this country; the Republican party favors such protection as will lead to the production on American soil of all the sugar which the American people use and for which they pay other countries more than $100,000,000 annually. To all our products—to those of the mine and the field as well as those of the shop and the factory—to hemp, to wool, the product of the great industry of sheep husbandry, as well as to the finished woolsens of the mill—we promise the most ample protection."

MERCHANT MARINE.—"We favor restoring the early American policy of discriminating duties for the upbuilding of our merchant marine and the protection of our shipping in the foreign carrying trade, so that American ships—the product of American labor, employed in American shipyards, sailing under the Stars and Stripes, and manned, officered and owned by Americans—may regain the carrying of our foreign commerce."

MONEY.—"The Republican party is unreservedly for sound money. It caused the enactment of the law providing for the resumption of specie payment in 1879; since then every dollar has been as good as gold. We are unalterably opposed to every measure calculated to debase our currency or impair the credit of our country. We are, therefore, opposed to the free coinage of silver, except by international agreement with the leading commercial nations of the world, which we pledge ourselves to promote; and, until such agreement can be obtained, the existing gold standard must be preserved. All our silver and paper currency must be maintained at parity with gold, and we favor all measures designed to maintain inviolable the obligations of the United States and all our money, whether coin or paper, at the present standard, the standard of the most enlightened nations of the earth."

WAR VETERANS.—"The veterans of the Union armies deserve and should receive fair treatment and generous recognition. Whenever practicable they should be given the preference in the matter of employment, and they are entitled to the enactment of such laws as are best calculated to secure the fulfilment of the pledges made to them in the dark days of the country's peril. We denounce the practice in the Pension Bureau, so recklessly and unjustly carried on by the present Administration, of reducing pensions and arbitrarily dropping names from the rolls, as deserving the severest condemnation of the American people."

FOREIGN RELATIONS.—"Our foreign policy should be at all times firm, vigorous and dignified, and all our interests in the Western Hemisphere carefully watched and guarded. The Hawaiian Islands should be controlled by the United States, and no foreign Power should be permitted to interfere with them; the Nicaragua Canal should be built, owned and operated by the United States, and, by the purchase of the Danish Islands, we should secure a proper and much-needed naval station in the West Indies. The massacres in Armenia have aroused the deep sympathy and just indignation of the American people, and we believe that the United States should exercise all the influence it can properly exert to bring these atrocities to an end. In Turkey American residents have been exposed to the gravest dangers, and American property destroyed. There, and everywhere, American citizens and American property must be absolutely protected at all hazards and at any cost. We reassert the Monroe Doctrine in its full extent, and we reaffirm the right of the United States to give the Doctrine effect by responding to the appeals of any American State for friendly intervention in case of European encroachment. We have not interfered, and shall not interfere, with the existing possessions of any European Power in this hemisphere, but those possessions must not, on any pretext, be extended. We hopefully look forward to the eventual withdrawal of the European Powers from this hemisphere, and to the ultimate union of all of the English-speaking part of the continent by the free consent of its inhabitants."

CUBA.—"From the hour of achieving their own independence, the people of the United States have regarded with sympathy the struggles of other American peoples to free themselves from European domination. We watch with deep and abiding interest the heroic battle of the Cuban patriots against cruelty and oppression, and our best hopes go out for the full success of their determined contest for liberty. The Government of Spain, having lost control of Cuba, and being unable to protect the property or lives of resident American citizens, or to comply with its treaty obligations, we believe that the Government of the United States should actively use its influence and good offices to restore peace and give independence to the island."

NAVY.—"The peace and security of the Republic, and the maintenance of its rightful influence among the nations of the earth, demand a naval power commensurate with its position and responsibility. We therefore favor the continued enlargement of the Navy and a complete system of harbor and seacoast defenses."

IMMIGRATION.—"For the protection of the equality of our American citizenship and of the wages of our workmen against the fatal competition of low-priced labor, we demand that the immigration laws be thoroughly enforced and so extended as to exclude from entrance to the United States those who can neither read nor write."

CIVIL SERVICE.—"The Civil Service law was placed on the statute book by the Republican party, which has always sustained it, and we renew our repeated declarations that it shall be thoroughly and honestly enforced and extended wherever practicable."

FREE BALLOT.—"We demand that every citizen of the United States shall be allowed to cast one free and unrestricted ballot, and that such ballot shall be counted and returned as cast."

LYNCHINGS.—"We proclaim our unqualified condemnation of the uncivilized and barbarous practices well known as lynching or killing of human beings, suspected or charged with crime, without process of law."

ARBITRATION.—"We favor the creation of a National Board of Arbitration to settle and adjust differences which may arise between employers and employed engaged in interstate commerce."

HOMESTEADS.—"We believe in an immediate return to the free homestead policy of the Republican party, and urge the passage by Congress of the satisfactory free homestead measure which has already passed the House and is now pending in the Senate."

TERRITORIES.—"We favor the admission of the remaining Territories at the earliest practicable date, having due regard to the interests of the people of the Territories and of the United States. All the Federal officers appointed for the Territories should be selected from bona fide residents thereof, and the right of self-government should be accorded as far as practicable. We believe the citizens of Alaska should have representation in the Congress of the United States, to the end that needful legislation may be intelligently enacted."

TEMPERANCE AND RIGHTS OF WOMEN.—"We sympathize with all wise and legitimate efforts to lessen and prevent the evils of intemperance and promote morality. The Republican party is mindful of the rights and interests of women. Protection of American industries includes equal opportunities, equal pay for equal work, and protection to the home. We favor the admission of women to wider spheres of usefulness, and welcome their co-operation in rescuing the country from Democratic and Populistic mismanagement and misrule."

"Such are the principles and policies of the Republican party. By these principles we will abide, and these policies we will put into execution. We ask for them the considerate judgment of the American people. Confident alike in the history of our great party and in the justice of our cause, we present our platform and our candidates in the full assurance that the election will bring victory to the Republican party and prosperity to the people of the United States."

The minority report was as follows:

"We, the undersigned members of the Committee on Resolutions, being unable to agree with that part of the majority report which treats of the subjects of coinage and finance, respectfully submit the following paragraph as a substitute therefor:

"The Republican party favors the use of both gold and silver as equal standard money, and pledges its power to secure the free, unrestricted and independent coinage of gold and silver at our mints at the ratio of 16 parts of silver to 1 of gold."

This was defeated by a motion to lay it on the table by the following vote:

Twenty-two silver delegates—8 from Colorado, 6 from Idaho, 3 from Nevada, 3 from Utah, and one each from Montana and South Dakota—bolted the Convention; among them were U. S. Senators Teller, Dubois, Cannon and Pettigrew. Three alternates were chosen to take the place of the three regulars who bolted from Utah.

DEMOCRATIC.

The Democratic National Convention met in Chicago, Ill., on July 7, 1896. Senator John W. Daniel, of Virginia, was temporary chairman, and Senator Stephen M. White, of California, permanent chairman. It was composed of 930 delegates. William J. Bryan, of Nebraska, was chosen as candidate for President, and Arthur Sewall, of Maine, for Vice-President. On July 9 the following nominations for President were made: Richard P. Bland, of Missouri, by Senator Vest; J. C. S. Blackburn, of Kentucky, by J. S. Rhea; Horace Boies, of Iowa, by Frederick White; William J. Bryan, of Nebraska, by H. T. Lewis; John R. McLean, of Ohio, by A. W. Patrick; Claude Matthews, of Indiana, by Senator Turpie; Robert E. Pattison, of Pennsylvania, by W. F. Harrity; Sylvester Pennoyer, of Oregon, by Mr. Miller. The balloting began on July 10, but there were votes cast for others than the regular nominees, and it was not decided until the fifth ballot, when the result showed that Bryan received 500 of the 930 votes, 162 not voting at all, and one absent. A motion to make the nomination unanimous was carried, but there were some negative votes. The vote for the various candidates on the different ballots was:

The nominations for Vice-President were made on July 11, and were: George F. Williams, Massachusetts; John R. McLean, of Ohio; James H. Lewis, of Washington; Judge Walter Clark, of North Carolina; George W. Fithian, of Illinois; Sylvester Pennoyer, of Oregon; Arthur Sewall, of Maine; Joseph C. Sibley, of Pennsylvania; John W. Daniel, of Virginia. Five ballots were taken, some votes being cast for men not regularly nominated; but one after another withdrew his name until on the fourth and fifth ballots only McLean and Sewall were left in the lead, and on the fifth ballot Sewall received 514 of the 930 votes, and was declared the nominee. The vote on the several ballots was as follows: First ballot—Sewall, 100; McLean, 111; Bland, 62; Sibley, 163; Williams (Mass.), 76; Blackburn, 20; Daniel, 11; Harrity, 21; Boies, 20; Lewis, 11; Clark, 50; Williams (Ill.), 22; Teller, White and Fithian, each 1; not voting, 260. Second ballot—Bland, 294; McLean, 158; Sibley, 113; Sewall, 37; Williams (Mass.), 16; scattering, 57; not voting, 255. Third ballot—Bland, 255; McLean, 210; Sewall, 97; Sibley, 50; Williams (Mass.), 15; scattering, 48; not voting, 255. Fourth ballot—McLean, 296; Sewall, 261; scattering, 121; not voting, 252. Notwithstanding the request of Mr. McLean that his name be withdrawn, the vote on the fifth ballot was: Sewall, 514; McLean, 78; scattering, 103; not voting, 235. The vote for McLean was: Ohio's total of 46; District of Columbia, 6; Vermont, 4; Maryland, 5; California, 2; Pennsylvania and Wisconsin, each 1.

The final vote, by States, on the leading candidates for President and Vice-President was as follows:

For President, during the ballot, Ohio's vote was changed from McLean to Bryan, and Oklahoma's vote was changed from Bland to Bryan. Other changes were made after the vote was announced, thus increasing Bryan's total. The solid delegation from New-York and many of the gold delegates from other States declined to take part in the proceedings. On the fifth ballot Boies, Bland, Matthews and McLean were withdrawn as candidates. The vote for others than those in the above table for President was: Boies, 26 (Iowa's delegation); Matthews, 31 (Indiana's delegation and 1 from Florida); Stevenson, 8 (2 each from Massachusetts, Minnesota, North Dakota and West Virginia); Hill, 1 (from Massachusetts); and Turpie, 1 (from West Virginia).

THE PLATFORM.

The following platform was reported by the majority of the Committee on Resolutions on July 9, and was adopted by the Convention by a vote of 628 to 301, one delegate being absent:

"We, the Democrats of the United States in National Convention assembled, do reaffirm our allegiance to those great essential principles of justice and liberty upon which our institutions are founded, and which the Democratic party has advocated from Jefferson's time to our own—freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom of conscience, the preservation of personal rights, the equality of all citizens before the law and the faithful observance of constitutional limitations. During all these years the Democratic party has resisted the tendency of selfish interests to the centralization of governmental power, and steadfastly maintained the integrity of the dual scheme of government established by the founders of this Republic of republics. Under its guidance and teachings the great principle of local self-government has found its best expression in the maintenance of the rights of the States and in its assertion of the necessity of confining the general Government to the exercise of powers granted by the Constitution of the United States."

RELIGIOUS LIBERTY.—"The Constitution of the United States guarantees to every citizen the rights of civil and religious liberty. The Democratic party has always been the exponent of political liberty and religious freedom, and it renews its obligations and reaffirms its devotion to these fundamental principles of the Constitution."

SILVER.—"Recognizing that the money question is paramount to all others at this time, we invite attention to the fact that the Constitution names silver and gold together as the money metals of the United States, and that the first coinage law passed by Congress under the Constitution made the silver dollar the money unit of value and admitted gold to free coinage at a ratio based upon the silver-dollar unit. We declare that the act of 1873 demonetizing silver without the knowledge or approval of the American people has resulted in the appreciation of gold and a corresponding fall in the prices of commodities produced by the people, a heavy increase in the burden of taxation and of all debts, public and private, the enrichment of the money-lending class at home and abroad, prostration of industry and impoverishment of the people. We are unalterably opposed to monometallism, which has locked fast the prosperity of an industrial people in the paralysis of hard times. Gold monometallism is a British policy, and its adoption has brought other nations into financial servitude to London. It is not only un-American but anti-American, and it can be fastened on the United States only by the stifling of that indomitable spirit and love of liberty which proclaimed our political independence in 1776 and won it in the War of the Revolution. We demand the free and unlimited coinage of both silver and gold at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1, without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation. We demand that the standard silver dollar shall be a full legal tender, equally with gold, for all debts, public and private, and we favor such legislation as will prevent for the future the demonetization of any kind of legal-tender money by private contract. We are opposed to the policy and practice of surrendering to the holders of the obligations of the United States the option reserved by law to the Government of redeeming such obligations in either silver coin or gold coin."

BOND ISSUES.—"We are opposed to the issuing of interest-bearing bonds of the United States in time of peace, and condemn the trafficking with banking syndicates, which, in exchange for bonds and at an enormous profit to themselves, supply the Federal Treasury with gold to maintain the policy of gold monometallism."

NATIONAL BANKS.—"Congress alone has the power to coin and issue money, and President Jackson declared that this power should not be delegated to corporations or individuals. We therefore denounce the issuance of notes intended to circulate as money by National banks as in derogation of the Constitution, and we demand that all paper which is made a legal tender for public and private debts, or which is receivable for duties to the United States, shall be issued by the Government of the United States and shall be redeemable in coin."

TARIFF.—"We hold that tariff duties should be levied for purposes of revenue, such duties to be so adjusted as to operate equally throughout the country, and not discriminate between class or section, and that taxation should be limited by the needs of the Government, honestly and economically administered. We denounce as disturbing to business the Republican threat to restore the McKinley law, which has been twice condemned by the people in National elections, and which, enacted under the false plea of protection to home industry, proved a prolific breeder of trusts and monopolies. In which the few, at the expense of the many, restricted trade and deprived the producers of the great American staples of access to their natural markets."

INCOME TAX.—"Until the money question is settled we are opposed to any agitation for further changes in our tariff laws except such as are necessary to meet the deficit caused by the adverse decision of the Supreme Court on the income tax. But for this decision by the Supreme Court there would be no deficit in the revenue law passed by a Democratic Congress in strict pursuance of the uniform decisions of that court for nearly one hundred years, that court having in that decision sustained constitutional objections to its enactment, which had previously been overruled by the ablest Judges who had ever sat on that bench. We declare that it is the duty of Congress to use all the constitutional power which remains after that decision, or which may come from its reversal by the court as it may hereafter be constituted, so that the burdens of taxation may be equally and impartially laid, to the end that we may all bear our proportion of the expenses of the Government."

IMMIGRATION.—"We hold that the most efficient way of protecting American labor is to prevent the importation of foreign pauper labor to compete with it in the home market, and that the value of the home market to our American farmers and artisans is greatly reduced by a vicious monetary system which depresses the prices of their products below the cost of production and thus deprives them of the means of purchasing the products of our home manufactures, and as labor creates the wealth of the country so demand the passage of such laws as may be necessary to protect it in all its rights."

LABOR.—"We are in favor of the arbitration of differences between employers engaged in interstate commerce and their employees, and recommend such legislation as is necessary to carry out this principle."

RAILROADS.—"The absorption of wealth by the few, the consolidation of our leading railroad systems and the formation of trusts and pools require a stricter control by the Federal Government of those arteries of commerce. We demand the enlargement of the powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission and such restrictions and guarantees in the control of railroads as will protect the people from robbery and oppression."

ECONOMY.—"We denounce the profligate waste of the money wrung from the people by oppressive taxation and the lavish appropriations of recent Republican Congresses, which have kept taxes high, while the labor that pays them is unemployed and the products of the people's toil are depressed in price till they no longer repay the cost of production. We demand a return to that simplicity and economy which befit a Democratic Government, and a reduction in the number of useless officers, the salaries of which drain the substance of the people."

FEDERAL COURTS.—"We denounce arbitrary interference by Federal authorities in local affairs as a violation of the Constitution of the United States and a crime against free institutions, and we especially object to government by injunction as a new and highly dangerous form of oppression by which Federal Judges, in contempt of the laws of the States and rights of citizens, become at once legislators, judges and executioners; and we approve the bill passed at the last session of the United States Senate and now pending in the House of Representatives relative to contempts in Federal courts, and providing for trials by jury in certain cases of contempt."

PACIFIC RAILROAD DEBT.—"No discrimination should be indulged in by the Government of the United States in favor of any of its debtors. We approve of the refusal of the LIIRD Congress to pass the Pacific Railroad Funding bill; denounce the effort of the present Republican Congress to enact a similar measure."

PENSIONS.—"Recognizing the just claims of deserving Union soldiers, we heartily indorse the rule of the present Commissioner of Pensions that no names shall be arbitrarily dropped from the pension list, and the fact of enlistment and service should be deemed conclusive evidence against disease and disability before enlistment."

STATEHOOD.—"We favor the admission of the Territories of New-Mexico, Oklahoma and Arizona into the Union as States, and we favor the early admission of all the Territories having the necessary population and resources to entitle them to Statehood, and, while they remain Territories, we hold that the officials appointed to administer the government of any Territory, together with the District of Columbia and Alaska, should be bona-fide residents of the Territory or District in which the duties are to be performed. The Democratic party believes in home rule, and that all public lands of the United States should be appropriated to the establishment of free homes for American citizens."

ALASKA.—"We recommend that the Territory of Alaska be granted a Delegate in Congress, and that the general land and timber laws of the United States be extended to said Territory."

MONROE DOCTRINE.—"The Monroe Doctrine, as originally declared and as interpreted by succeeding Presidents, is a permanent part of the foreign policy of the United States, and must at all times be maintained."

CUBA.—"We extend our sympathy to the people of Cuba in their heroic struggle for liberty and independence."

CIVIL SERVICE.—"We are opposed to life tenure in the public service. We favor appointments based upon merit, fixed terms of office, and such an administration of the Civil Service laws as will afford equal opportunities to all citizens of ascertained fitness."

THIRD TERM.—"We declare it to be the unwritten law of this Republic, established by custom and usage of 100 years and sanctioned by the examples of the greatest and wisest of those who founded and have maintained our Government, that no man should be eligible for a third term of the Presidential office."

WATERWAYS.—"The Federal Government should care for and improve the Mississippi River and other great waterways of the Republic, so as to secure for the interior States easy and cheap transportation to tidewater. When any waterway of the Republic is of sufficient importance to demand aid of the Government, such aid should be extended upon a definite plan of continuous work until permanent improvement is secured."

"Confiding in the justice of our cause and the necessity of its success at the polls, we submit the foregoing declaration of principles and purposes to the considerate judgment of the American people. We invite the support of all citizens who approve them and who desire to have them made effective through legislation for the relief of the people and the restoration of the country's prosperity."

The platform reported by the minority (signed by David B. Hill, New-York; William F. Vilas, Wisconsin; George Gray, Delaware; John Prentiss Poe, Maryland; Irving W. Drew, New-Hampshire; P. J. Farrell, Vermont; Lynde Harrison, Connecticut; David S. Baker, Rhode Island; C. O. Holman, Maine; Thomas A. C. Weadock, Michigan; James E. O'Brien, Minnesota; John E. Russell, Massachusetts; Robert E. Wright, Pennsylvania; William R. Steele, South Dakota; Allan L. McDermott, New-Jersey, and Charles D. Rogers, Alaska) was as follows:

"To the Democratic National Convention: Sixteen delegates, constituting the minority of the Committee on Resolutions, find many declarations in the report of the majority to which they cannot give their assent. Some of these are wholly unnecessary. Some are ill-considered and ambiguously phrased, while others are extreme and revolutionary of the well-recognized principles of the party. The minority content themselves with this general expression of their dissent without going into a specific statement of these objectionable features of the report of the majority.

"But upon the financial question, which engages at this time the chief share of public attention, the views of the majority differ so fundamentally from what the minority regard as vital Democratic doctrine as to demand a distinct statement of what they hold to as the only just and true expression of Democratic faith upon this important issue, as follows, which is offered as a substitute for the financial report of the majority:

"We declare our belief that the experiment on the part of the United States alone of free silver coinage and a change in the existing standard of value independently of the action of other great nations would not only imperil our finances, but would retard or entirely prevent the establishment of international bimetalism, to which the efforts of the Government should be steadily directed. It would place this country at once upon a silver basis, impair contracts, disturb business, diminish the purchasing power of the wages of labor, and inflict irreparable evils upon our Nation's commerce and industry.

"Until international co-operation among leading nations for the coinage of silver can be secured, we favor the rigid maintenance of the existing gold standard as essential to the preservation of our National credit, the redemption of our public pledges, and the keeping inviolate of our country's honor. We insist that all our paper currency shall be kept at a parity with gold. The Democratic party is the party of hard money, and is opposed to legal-tender paper money as a part of our permanent financial system, and we therefore favor the gradual retirement and cancellation of all United States notes and Treasury notes, under such legislative provisions as will prevent undue contraction. We demand that the National credit shall be resolutely maintained at all times and under all circumstances.

"The majority also feel that the report of the majority is defective in failing to make any recognition of the honesty, economy, courage and fidelity of the present Democratic Administration, and they therefore offer the following declaration as an amendment to the majority report:

"We commend the honesty, economy, courage and fidelity of the present Democratic National Administration."

The vote on the financial plank of the minority was: Yeas, 363; nays, 626. On the resolution indorsing the Administration the vote was: Yeas, 357; nays, 564; not voting, 9. The platform as reported by the majority was then adopted by the following vote:

Simon Bolivar Buckner, of Kentucky, was nominated for Vice-President by acclamation.

THE PLATFORM.

The platform, adopted on September 3, was as follows:

"This Convention has assembled to uphold the principles upon which depend the honor and welfare of the American people, in order that Democrats throughout the Union may unite their patriotic efforts to avert disaster from their country and ruin from their party. The Democratic party is pledged to equal and exact justice to all men of every creed and condition; to the largest freedom of the individual consistent with good government; to the preservation of the Federal Government in its Constitutional vigor, and to the support of the States in all their just rights; to economy in the public expenditures; to the maintenance of the public faith and sound money; and it is opposed to paternalism and all class legislation. The declarations of the Chicago Convention attack individual freedom, the right to private contract, the independence of the judiciary and the authority of the President to enforce Federal laws. They advocate a reckless attempt to increase the price of silver by legislation, to the debasement of our monetary standard, and threaten unlimited issues of paper money by the Government. They abandon for Republican allies the Democratic cause of tariff reform to court the favor of protectionists to their fiscal heresy. In view of these and other grave departures from Democratic principles, we cannot support the candidates of that convention nor be bound by its acts. The Democratic party has survived defeats, but could not survive a victory won in behalf of the doctrine and policy proclaimed in its name at Chicago. The condition, however, which made possible such utterances from a National Convention are the direct result of class legislation by the Republican party. It still proclaims, as it has for years, the power and duty of Government to raise and maintain prices by law, and it proposes no remedy for existing evils except oppressive and unjust taxation."

TARIFF.—"The National Democracy here convened, therefore, renews its declarations of faith in Democratic principles, especially as applicable to the conditions of the times. Taxation tariff, excise or direct, is rightfully imposed only for public purposes, and not for private gain. Its amount is justly measured by public expenditures, which should be limited by scrupulous economy. The sum derived by the Treasury from tariff and excise levies is affected by the state of trade and volume of consumption. The amount required by the Treasury is determined by the appropriations made, by Congress. The demand of the Republican party for an increase in tariff taxation has its pretext in the deficiency of the revenue, which has its causes in the stagnation of trade and reduced consumption, due entirely to the loss of confidence that has followed the Populist threat of free coinage and depreciation of our money, and the Republican practice of extravagant appropriations beyond the needs of good government. We arraign and condemn the Populistic conventions of Chicago and St. Louis for their co-operation with the Republican party in creating these conditions, which are pleaded in justification of a heavy increase of the burdens of the people by a further resort to protection. We therefore denounce protection and its ally, free coinage of silver, as schemes for the personal profit of a few at the expense of the masses, and oppose the two parties which stand for these schemes as hostile to the people of the Republic, whose food and shelter, comfort and prosperity are attacked by higher taxes and depreciated money. In fine, we reaffirm the historic Democratic doctrine of tariff for revenue only. We demand that henceforth modern and liberal policies toward American shipping shall take the place of our imitation of the restricted statutes of the eighteenth century, which have been abandoned by every maritime Power but the United States, and which, to the Nation's humiliation, have driven American capital and enterprise to the use of alien flags and alien crews, have made the Stars and Stripes an almost unknown emblem in foreign ports, and have virtually extinguished the race of American seamen. We oppose the pretence that discriminating duties will promote shipping; that scheme is an invitation to commercial warfare upon the United States, un-American in the light of our great commercial treaties, offering no gain whatever to American shipping, while greatly increasing ocean freights on our agricultural and manufactured products."

MONEY.—"The experience of mankind has shown that, by reason of their natural qualities, gold is the necessary money of the large affairs of commerce and business, while silver is conveniently adapted to minor transactions, and the most beneficial use of both together can be insured only by the adoption of the former as a standard of monetary measure, and the maintenance of silver at a parity with gold by its limited coinage under suitable safeguards of law. Thus the largest possible enjoyment of both metals is gained with a value universally accepted throughout the world, which constitutes the only practical bimetallic currency, assuring the most stable standard, and especially the best and safest money for all who earn their livelihood by labor or the produce of husbandry. They cannot suffer when paid in the best money known to man, but are the peculiar and most defenceless victims of a debased and fluctuating currency, which offers continual profits to the money changer at their cost. Realizing these truths, demonstrated by long and public inconvenience and loss, the Democratic party, in the interests of the masses and of equal justice to all, practically established by the legislation of 1834 and 1853 the gold standard of monetary measurement, and likewise entirely divorced the Government from banking and currency issues. To this long-established Democratic policy we adhere, and insist upon the maintenance of the gold standard, and of the parity therewith of every dollar issued by the Government, and are firmly opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver and to the compulsory purchase of silver bullion. But we denounce also the further maintenance of the present costly patchwork system of National paper currency as a constant source of injury and peril. We assert the necessity of such intelligent currency reform as will confine the Government to its legitimate functions, completely separated from the banking business, and afford to all sections of our country uniform, safe and elastic bank currency under Governmental supervision, measured in volume by the needs of business."

CLEVELAND.—"The fidelity, patriotism and courage with which President Cleveland has fulfilled his great public trust, the high character of his Administration, its wisdom and energy in the maintenance of civil order and the enforcement of the laws, its equal regard for the rights of every class and every section, its firm and dignified conduct of foreign affairs and its sturdy persistence in upholding the credit and honor of the Nation are fully recognized by the Democratic party, and will secure to him a place in history beside the fathers of the Republic."

CIVIL SERVICE.—"We also commend the Administration for the great progress made in the reform of the public service, and we indorse its effort to extend the merit system still further. We demand that no backward step be taken, but that the reform be supported and advanced until the un-Democratic spoils system of appointments shall be eradicated."

ECONOMY.—"We demand strict economy in the appropriations and in the administration of the Government."

ARBITRATION.—"We favor arbitration for the settlement of international disputes."

PENSIONS.—"We favor a liberal policy of pensions to deserving soldiers and sailors of the United States."

SUPREME COURT.—"The Supreme Court of the United States was wisely established by the framers of our Constitution as one of the three co-ordinate branches of the Government. Its independence and authority to interpret the law of the land without fear or favor must be maintained. We condemn all efforts to degrade that tribunal or impair the confidence and respect which it has deservedly held. The Democratic party ever has maintained, and ever will maintain, the supremacy of law, the independence of its judicial administration, the inviolability of contracts and the obligations of all good citizens to resist every illegal trust, combination or attempt against the just rights of property and the good order of society, in which are bound up the peace and happiness of our people."

"Believing these principles to be essential to the well-being of the Republic, we submit them to the consideration of the American people."

POPULISTS.

The second National Convention of the Populist party met at St. Louis, Mo., on July 22, 1896. Senator Marion Butler, of North Carolina, was temporary chairman, and Senator William V. Allen, of Nebraska, was permanent chairman. William J. Bryan, the Democratic nominee for President, was indorsed, and Thomas E. Watson, of Georgia, was nominated for Vice-President.

The convention reversed the order of procedure in nominations, by a vote of 785 to 615, to nominate the candidate for Vice-President first. The names presented were Congressman Harry Skinner, of North Carolina; Thomas E. Watson, of Georgia; Frank Burkitt, of Mississippi; A. L. Mimms, of Tennessee; Mann Page, of Virginia, and Arthur Sewall, of Maine. The balloting began after midnight, July 24, and the result of the first ballot gave Watson 469 $\frac{3}{4}$; Sewall, 257 $\frac{3}{4}$, and the others ranging lower. A motion to declare Watson the nominee was carried.

On the following day William J. Bryan, nominee of the Democratic Convention, was made the head of the Populist ticket, notwithstanding he had telegraphed to Senator Jones to withdraw his name if Sewall, Democratic nominee for Vice-President, was not indorsed for Vice-President. James B. Weaver nominated Mr. Bryan; Henry W. Call nominated S. F. Norton, of Chicago; Mr. Livingston nominated J. S. Coxey, but withdrew the name later. The ballot showed the following result: Bryan, 1,042; Norton, 321; Eugene V. Debs, 8; Ignatius Donnelly, 3; J. S. Coxey, 1.

THE PLATFORM.

"The People's party assembled in National Convention, reaffirms its allegiance to the principles declared by the founders of the republic, and also to the fundamental principles of just government as enunciated in the platform of the party in 1892. We recognize that, through the connivance of the present and preceding administrations, the country has reached a crisis in its national life, as predicted in our declaration four years ago, and that prompt and patriotic action is the supreme duty of the hour.

"We realize that while we have political independence, our financial and industrial independence is yet to be attained by restoring to our country the constitutional control and exercise of the functions necessary to a people's government, which functions have been largely surrendered by our public servants to corporate monopolies. The influence of European money changers has been more potent in shaping legislation than the voice of the American people. Executive power and patronage have been used to corrupt our Legislatures and defeat the will of the people, and plutocracy has thereby been enthroned upon the ruins of democracy. To restore the Government intended by the fathers, and for the welfare and prosperity of this and future generations, we demand the establishment of an economic and financial system which shall make us masters of our own affairs and independent of European control, by the adoption of the following:

NATIONAL MONEY.—"We demand a national money, safe and sound, issued by the general Government only, without the intervention of banks of issue, to be a full legal tender for all debts, public and private; a just, equitable, and efficient means of distribution direct to the people and through the lawful disbursements of the Government."

SILVER.—"We demand the free and unrestricted coinage of silver and gold at the present legal ratio of sixteen to one, without waiting for the consent of foreign nations."

CIRCULATION.—"We demand the volume of circulating medium be speedily increased to an amount sufficient to meet the demands of the business and population, and to restore the just level of prices of labor and production."

BOND ISSUE.—"We denounce the sale of bonds and the increase of the public interest-bearing debt made by the present Administration as unnecessary and without authority of law, and demand that no more bonds be issued except by specific act of Congress. We demand such legislation as will prevent the demonetization of the lawful money of the United States by private contract. We demand that the Government, in payment of its obligations, shall use its option as to the kind of lawful money in which they are to be paid, and we denounce the present and preceding Administrations for surrendering this option to the holders of Government obligations."

INCOME TAX.—"We demand a graduated income tax, to the end that aggregated wealth shall bear its just proportion of taxation, and we regard the recent decision of the Supreme Court relative to the Income Tax law as a misinterpretation of the Constitution and an invasion of the rightful powers of Congress over the subject of taxation."

POSTAL BANKS.—"We demand that postal savings banks be established by the Government for the safe deposit of the savings of the people and to facilitate exchange."

RAILROADS.—"Transportation being a means of exchange and a public necessity, the Government should own and operate the railroads in the interest of the people and on a non-partisan basis, to the end that all may be accorded the same treatment in transportation, and that the tyranny and political power now exercised by the great railroad corporations which result in the impairment, if not the destruction, of the political rights and personal liberties of the citizen, may be destroyed. Such ownership is to be accomplished gradually in a manner consistent with sound public policy."

PACIFIC RAILROAD DEBTS.—"The interest of the United States in the public highways built with public moneys, and the proceeds of extensive grants of land to the Pacific railroads, should never be alienated, mortgaged, or sold, but guarded and protected for the general welfare as provided by the laws organizing such railroads. The foreclosure of existing liens of the United States on these roads should at once follow default in the payment thereof by the debtor companies; and at the foreclosure sales of said roads the Government shall purchase the same if it becomes necessary to protect its interests therein, or if they can be purchased at a reasonable price; and the Government shall operate said railroads as public highways for the benefit of the whole people, and not in the interest of the few, under suitable provisions, for protection of life and property, giving to all transportation interests equal privileges and equal rates for fares and freights. We denounce the present infamous schemes for refunding these debts, and demand that the laws now applicable thereto be executed and administered according to their interest and spirit."

TELEGRAPH.—"The telegraph, like the postoffice system, being a necessity for the transmission of news, should be owned and operated by the Government in the interest of the people."

LAND.—"True policy demands that the National and State legislation shall be such as will ultimately enable every prudent and industrious citizen to secure a home, and therefore the land should not be monopolized for speculative purposes. All lands now held by railroads and other corporations in excess of their actual needs should by lawful means be reclaimed by the Government and held for actual settlers only, and private land monopoly, as well as alien ownership, should be prohibited. We condemn the land grant frauds by which the Pacific railroad companies have, through the connivance of the Interior Department, robbed multitudes of actual bona fide settlers of their homes and miners of their claims, and we demand legislation by Congress which will enforce the exception of mineral land from such grants after as well as before the patent. We demand that bona fide settlers on all public lands be granted free homes, as provided in the National Homestead law, and that no exception be made in the case of Indian reservations when opened for settlement, and that all lands not now patented come under this demand."

DIRECT LEGISLATION.—"We favor a system of direct legislation through the initiative and referendum, under proper constitutional safeguards."

GENERAL PROPOSITIONS.—"We demand the election of President, Vice-President, and United States Senators by a direct vote of the people. We tender to the patriotic people of Cuba our deepest sympathy in their heroic struggle for political freedom and independence, and we believe the time has come when the United States, the great republic of the world, should recognize that Cuba is and of right ought to be a free and independent State.

"We favor home rule in the Territories and the District of Columbia and the early admission of the Territories as States.

"All public salaries should be made to correspond to the price of labor and its products.

"In times of great industrial depression idle labor should be employed on public works as far as practicable.

"The arbitrary course of the courts in assuming to imprison citizens for indirect contempt and ruling them by injunction should be prevented by proper legislation.

"We favor just pensions for our disabled Union soldiers.

"Believing that the elective franchise and an untrammelled ballot are essential to government of, for, and by the people, the People's party condemn the wholesale system of disfranchisement adopted in some of the States as unrepugnant and undemocratic, and we declare it to be the duty of the several State Legislatures to take such action as will secure a full, free, and fair ballot and an honest count.

"While the foregoing propositions constitute the platform upon which our party stands, and for the vindication of which its organization will be maintained, we recognize that the great and pressing issue of the pending campaign upon which the present election will turn is the financial question, and upon this great and specific issue between the parties we cordially invite the aid and co-operation of all organizations and citizens agreeing with us upon this vital question."

A minority submitted a substitute platform, taking the ground that the one of the majority was too elaborate and too much like that adopted at the Democratic Convention. The substitute denounced "the methods and policies of the Democratic and Republican parties" for their "mutual co-operation with the money power"; also their policies of tariff and the issuance of interest-bearing United States bonds in time of peace; demanded a National currency; the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at a ratio of 16 to 1; that the circulating medium shall consist of gold, silver and paper currency; a graduated income tax; economy in Federal administration; Government ownership of the telegraph and telephone; the prohibition of alien ownership of land and pauper immigration, and legislation by means of the initiative and referendum. The minority platform was overwhelmingly defeated, and the majority platform, as above, was adopted.

SILVERITES.

The first National Convention of the Silverites met at St. Louis on July 22, 1896. Francis G. Newlands, of Nevada, was made temporary chairman, and W. P. St. John, of New-York, was permanent chairman. William J. Bryan and Arthur Sewall, the candidates of the Democratic Convention for President and Vice-President, respectively, were endorsed on July 24, by acclamation.

THE PLATFORM.

The following is the platform as adopted on July 23:

MONEY.—"The National Silver party of America, in convention assembled, hereby adopts the following declaration of principles:

"The paramount issue at this time in the United States is indisputably the money question. It is between the British gold standard, gold bonds and bank currency on the one side, and the bi-metallic standard, no bonds, Government currency (and an American policy) on the other. On this issue we declare ourselves to be in favor of a distinctively American financial system. We are unalterably opposed to the single gold standard and demand the immediate return to the constitutional standard of gold and silver, by the restoration by this Government, independently of any foreign power, of the unrestricted coinage of both gold and silver into standard money at the ratio of 16 to 1, and upon terms of exact equality as they existed prior to 1873: the silver coin to be of full legal tender, equally with gold, for all debts and dues, public and private; and we demand such legislation as will prevent for the future the destruction of the legal-tender quality of any kind of money by private contract. We hold that the power to control and regulate a paper currency is inseparable from the power to coin money, and hence that all currency intended to circulate as money should be issued and its volume controlled by the General Government only, and should be a legal tender."

BOND ISSUE.—"We are unalterably opposed to the issue by the United States of interest-bearing bonds in time of peace, and we denounce as a blunder worse than a crime the present Treasury policy, concurred in by a Republican House, of plunging the country into debt by hundreds of millions in the vain attempt to maintain the gold standard by borrowing gold; and we demand the payment of all coin obligations of the United States as provided by existing laws, in either gold or silver coin, at the option of the Government and not at the option of the creditor. The demonetization of silver in 1873 enormously increased the demand for gold, enhancing its purchasing power and lowering all prices measured by that standard; and since that unjust and indefensible act the prices of American products have fallen upon an average nearly 50 per cent, carrying down with them proportionately the money value of all other forms of property. Such fall of prices has destroyed the profits of legitimate industry, injuring the producer for the benefit of the non-producer, increasing the burden of the debtor, swelling the gains of the creditor, paralyzing the productive energies of the American people, relegating to idleness vast numbers of willing workers, sending the shadows of despair into the home of the honest toiler, filling the land with tramps and paupers, and building up colossal fortunes at the money centres. In the effort to maintain the gold standard, the country has, within the last two years, in a time of profound peace and plenty, been loaded down with $262,000,000 of additional interest-bearing debt under such circumstances as to allow a syndicate of native and foreign bankers to realize a net profit of millions on a single deal."

GOLD.—"It stands confessed that the gold standard can only be upheld by so depleting our paper currency as to force the prices of our products below the European, and even below the Asiatic level, to enable us to sell in foreign markets, thus aggravating the very evils of which our people so bitterly complain, degrading American labor and striking at the foundations of our civilization itself. The advocates of the gold standard persistently claim that the real cause of our distress is overproduction; that we have produced so much that it made us poor—which implies that the true remedy is to close the factory, abandon the farm and throw a multitude of people out of employment; a doctrine that leaves us unnerved and disheartened and absolutely without hope for the future. We affirm to be unquestioned that there can be no such economic paradox as over-production, and at the same time tens of thousands of our fellow-citizens remaining half-clothed and half-fed, and who are piteously clamoring for the common necessities of life. Over and above all other questions of policy, we are in favor of restoring to the people of the United States the time-honored money of the Constitution—gold and silver, not one, but both—the money of Washington and Hamilton, and Jefferson and Monroe, and Jackson and Lincoln, to the end that the American people may receive honest pay for an honest product; that the American debtor may pay his just obligations in an honest standard, and not in a dishonest and unsound standard, appreciated 100 per cent in purchasing power and no appreciation in debt-paying power, and to the end, further, that silver-standard countries may be deprived of the unjust advantage they now enjoy, in the difference in exchange between gold and silver—an advantage which tariff legislation cannot overcome. We therefore confidently appeal to the people of the United States to hold in abeyance all other questions, however important and even momentous they may appear; to sunder, if need be, all former party ties and affiliations, and unite in one supreme effort to free themselves and their children from the domination of the money power—a power more destructive than any which has ever been fastened upon the civilized men of any race or in any age. And, upon the consummation of our desires and efforts, we evoke the aid of all patriotic American citizens and the gracious favor of Divine Providence. Inasmuch as the patriotic majority of the Chicago Convention embodied in the financial plank of its platform the principles enunciated in the platform of the American Bimetallic party, promulgated at Washington, D. C., January 22, 1896, and herein reiterated, which is not only the paramount but the only real issue in the pending campaign, therefore, recognizing that their nominees embody these patriotic principles, we recommend that this Convention nominate William J. Bryan, of Nebraska, for President, and Arthur Sewall, of Maine, for Vice-President."

PROHIBITION.

The National Convention of the Prohibition party was held at Pittsburg, Penn., May 28, 1896. Joshua Levering, of Maryland, was nominated for President, and Hale Johnson, of Illinois, for Vice-President. Close to midnight, when contributions to the campaign fund were being received, the Free Silver, Woman's Suffrage and Populist delegates, numbering about 200, bolted the convention.

THE PLATFORM.

The majority of the Committee on Resolutions reported a platform, the first six planks of which were adopted unanimously by the committee, and were denunciatory of the liquor traffic and proposed straightout prohibition. The seventh plank, which declared that no citizen should be denied the right to vote on account of sex, was adopted by only a small majority. The other planks, which referred to one day's rest a week, the English language in non-sectarian schools, the election of President, Vice-President and Senators directly by the people, liberal pensions, exclusion of pauper and criminal emigrants, arbitration, etc., there was some division on.

The minority reported a platform which contained this money plank:

"Resolved, That all money be issued by the Government only and without the intervention of any private citizen, corporation or banking institution. It should be based upon the wealth, stability and integrity of the Nation, and be full legal tender for all debts, public and private, and should be of sufficient volume to meet the demands of the legitimate business interests in this country and for the purpose of honestly liquidating all our outstanding obligations payable in coin. We demand the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at a ratio of 16 to 1 without consulting any other nation." The other points on which the minority asked action were: Preserving public lands from monopoly and speculation; Government control of railroads and telegraphs; favoring an income tax and imposing only such import duties as are necessary to secure equitable commercial relations with other nations; favoring the adoption of the initiative and referendum as a means of obtaining free expression of the popular will. On the motion to make these recommendations part of the majority report the fight began. A vote to lay it on the table resulted in 492 nays, 310 yeas. The free silver plank was defeated by a vote of 427 nays to 387 yeas.

A substitute platform was proposed by Mr. Patton, of Illinois, which omitted mention of every subject, woman suffrage included, except prohibition, and it was adopted and became the sole platform of the party. The following is the full text:

"The Prohibition party, in National Convention assembled, declares its firm conviction that the manufacture, exportation, importation and sale of alcoholic beverages has produced such social, commercial, industrial and political wrongs and is now so threatening the perpetuity of all our social and political institutions that the suppression of the same by a national party organized therefor is the greatest object to be accomplished by the voters of our country, and is of such importance as that it, of right, ought to control the political action of all our patriotic citizens until such suppression is accomplished. The urgency of this cause demands the union without further delay of all citizens who desire the prohibition of the liquor traffic.

"Therefore, be it resolved, That we favor the legal prohibition by State and National legislation of the manufacture, importation, exportation, interstate transportation and sale of alcoholic beverages.

"That we declare our purpose to organize and invite all the friends of prohibition into our party, and in order to accomplish this end we declare it but right to leave every Prohibitionist the freedom of his own conscience upon all other political questions, and trust our representatives to take legislative action upon other political questions as the changes occasioned by prohibition and the welfare of the whole people shall demand."

PROHIBITION BOLTERS.

The new National party (Prohibition bolters) held its first convention at Pittsburg, Penn., on May 28, 1896. Rev. Charles E. Bentley, of Nebraska, was nominated for President, and J. H. Southgate, of North Carolina, was nominated for Vice-President. On the money question the platform said:

"All money should be issued by the general Government only, and without the intervention of any private citizen, corporation, or banking institution. It should be based upon the wealth, stability and integrity of the nation. It should be a full legal tender for all debts, public and private, and should be of sufficient volume to meet the demands of the legitimate business interests of the country. For the purpose of honestly liquidating our outstanding coin obligations we favor the free and unlimited coinage of both silver and gold, at the ratio of 16 to 1, without consulting any other nation."

SOCIALIST-LABOR.

The National Convention of the Socialist-Labor party held in New-York City on July 9, 1896, nominated Charles H. Matchett, of New-York, for President, and Mathew Maguire, of New-Jersey, for Vice-President. The platform, divided into twenty-one items, was as follows:

"With a view to immediate improvement in the condition of labor we present the following demands: Reduction of the hours of labor in proportion to the progress of production. The United States to obtain possession of the mines, railroads, canals, telegraphs, telephones and all other means of public transportation and communication; the employes to operate the same co-operatively under control of the Federal Government and to elect their own superior officers, but no employe shall be discharged for political reasons. The municipalities to obtain possession of the local railroads, ferries, waterworks, gasworks, electric plants and all industries requiring municipal franchises; the employes to operate the same co-operatively under control of the municipal administration and to elect their own superior officers, but no employe shall be discharged for political reasons. The public lands to be declared inalienable, revocation of all land grants to corporations or individuals the conditions of which have not been complied with. The United States to have the exclusive right to issue money. Congressional legislation providing for the scientific management of forests and waterways, and prohibiting the waste of the natural resources of the country. Inventions to be free to all; the inventors to be remunerated by the nation. Progressive income tax and tax on inheritances; the smaller incomes to be exempt. School education of all children under fourteen years of age to be compulsory, gratuitous and accessible to all by public assistance in meals, clothing, books, etc., where necessary. Repeal of all pauper, tramp, conspiracy and sumptuary laws. Unabridged right of combination. Prohibition of the employment of children of school age and the employment of female labor in occupations detrimental to health or morality. Abolition of the convict labor contract system. Employment of the unemployed by the public authorities (county, city, State and Nation). All wages to be paid in lawful money of the United States; equalization of women's wages with those of men where equal service is performed. Laws for the protection of life and limb in all occupations, and an efficient employers' liability law. The people to have the right to propose laws and to vote upon all measures of importance, according to the referendum principle. Abolition of the veto power of the Executive (National, State and municipal), wherever it exists. Abolition of the United States Senate and all upper legislative chambers. Municipal self-government. Direct vote and secret ballots in all elections; universal and equal right of suffrage without regard to color, creed or sex; election days to be legal holidays; the principle of proportional representation to be introduced. All public officers to be subject to recall by their respective constituencies. Uniform civil and criminal law throughout the United States; administration of justice to be free of charge; abolition of capital punishment."

NATIONAL LEAGUE OF REPUBLICAN CLUBS.

August 26, 1896.—"We heartily indorse the platform adopted at St. Louis by the National Republican Convention, June 17, 1895. The Republican party was right when it elected Abraham Lincoln. It was right in its effort to save the Union. It was right when it struck the chains from 4,000,000 slaves and made them free men. It was right in carrying into successful operation the resumption of specie payment. It was right in making Protection to American industries a cardinal doctrine of the American people. It was right in insisting that Reciprocity should be come the permanent law of the land. It is right now and always has been right in advocating a safe and stable currency, worth its face the world over, whether in the hands of rich or poor. It was right when it confided in the leadership of Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Arthur and Harrison. It was right when it nominated William McKinley, of Ohio, and Garret A. Hobart, of New-Jersey, and we pledge them our hearty and loyal support."

"We believe that a return to the Republican policy of protection is as essential to the solvency of the Nation as is the maintenance of the present financial standard to her credit and honor. A cheap dollar means low wages, a financial panic, distress to the people, obligations repudiated, a dishonored country, a blot on our fair history. The Republican party stands for honest money, honest treatment of our country's defenders, an honest system of revenue, protecting our industries and procuring sufficient income to conduct the affairs of the Nation, an honest system of exchange with foreign countries, as embodied in the reciprocity idea of the immortal Blaine, an honest administration of public affairs.

"The names of its candidates are synonymous with honesty, patriotism, statesmanship and the highest ideal of life, duty and government. Our policies and candidates inspire the student, quicken the best thought of the voter, elevate the citizen and add new lustre to our country's history."

Detroit, Mich., July 14, 1897.—The following is the full text of the platform adopted:

The representatives of the National League of the Republican Clubs of the United States, in convention assembled in the city of Detroit, reaffirm their unfaltering allegiance to the principles and policies of the party of protection, sound money, reciprocity and patriotism, as expressed in the St. Louis platform. The faith which prompted the nomination and election of William McKinley and a Republican Congress has been justified, and we congratulate the country upon the evidence of returning prosperity. We pledge anew the energy and support of the great army of organized League men in every state of the Republic for the advancement and continued success of the party of Abraham Lincoln.

We view with satisfaction the progress that has been made during the short period of the present Republican Administration toward the fulfillment of every pledge made to the people, and commend the President and Congress for their prompt and decisive action in sending a monetary commission to confer with other great Powers of the world in the interests of international bimetallicism. We rejoice in the conclusion of a treaty providing for the annexation of Hawaii, and expect that, pending the ratification thereof by the Senate of the United States, the Administration will protect the islands against all interference.

NATIONAL EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION.

Officers—President, James M. Greenwood, Kansas City, Mo.; first vice-president, Charles R. Skinner, Albany, N. Y.; secretary, Irwin Shepard, Winona, Minn.; Treasurer, I. C. McNeill, West Superior, Wis.; chairman of Board of Trustees, Albert G. Lane, Chicago, Ill. (These constitute the Executive Committee, which has direct charge over the general affairs of the Association. There is a Board of Trustees of seven members, to which is intrusted the financial management.)

OBJECTS.—To elevate the character and advance the interests of the profession of teaching and to promote the cause of

The Republican party proclaimed in 1896 its active interest in and sympathy with the Cuban patriots in their long and heroic struggle against foreign misrule and oppression, as well as the fact that Spain has lost control of Cuba. The first and practical evidence of the sincerity of these declarations is the great and unmistakable lessening of Spanish atrocities and butcheries in Cuba at the demand of this Nation since March 4, 1897. The verdict of the American people and the voice of humanity are that the useless and inhuman efforts of Spain to govern Cuba have lasted long enough, and we believe that President McKinley may be relied upon to interpose his good offices to end that struggle, with the greatest promptitude consistent with wise administration.

In order to carry into effect the policy advocated in the last National Republican platform, we earnestly urge upon Congress the earliest possible passage of a discriminating duty measure for the protection and upbuilding of our shipping in the foreign trade.

We earnestly ask of Congress such legislation by bounties as will encourage our beet-sugar industries.

We again commend to the consideration of the Republican clubs of the United States, as a matter of education, the question of granting suffrage to women.

We emphatically condemn the partisan action of the last Democratic President in summarily removing from office Union soldiers and other tried and competent public servants, and in extending the protection of the classified service over his own appointees, without requiring any examination as to their fitness and without regard to their qualifications, as a sham and a fraud and a subversion of the intent and purpose of the Civil Service law; and we favor a modification of the rules and provisions of said law for the benefit of the public service and to remedy the gross injustice thus perpetrated.

We request that new safeguards be incorporated into our immigration laws to prevent unworthy immigrants from landing upon our shores and from entering into competition with the citizen labor of our country.

We sympathize with the miners and other laboring men of the land in their peaceful struggles for living wages; and believe that the Tariff bill soon to be passed by Congress will restore the good times enjoyed by all citizens under former Republican Administrations and destroyed by Democratic free-trade legislation.

popular education in the United States. Aside from the general association there are seventeen different departments, as follows: National Council, kindergarten, elementary, secondary, higher, normal, superintendence, manual and industrial, art, music, business, child study, physical training, science, school administration, library, education of the deaf.

The annual meetings of the general association and departments are held in July. The association has about two hundred life members, an associate membership of 8,000, and a permanent fund of about $60,000.

POLITICAL STATE PLATFORMS.

ALABAMA.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

April 28, 1896.—We contend for honest money, for a currency of gold, silver and paper, with which to measure our exchange, that shall be as sound as the Government and as untarnished as its honor, and to that end we favor bimetalism and demand the use of both gold and silver as standard money, under such restrictions to be determined by legislation as will secure the maintenance of the parities of the values of the two metals; also, that the purchasing and debt-paying power of the dollar, whether of gold, silver or paper, shall be at all times equal, and we believe the best way to continue the parity of our dollars and at the same time enlarge the circulating medium commensurate with the growth of population is the unlimited use of the domestic silver product of our own monetary system and the prohibition of foreign silver, modified by financial reciprocity.

We are unalterably opposed to any scheme that will give to this country a depreciated and debased currency. We favor the use of silver as currency, but to the extent only that its parity with gold can be maintained, and in consequence are opposed to a free and unlimited and independent coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. We believe that every American dollar should be an honest 100-cent dollar, always and everywhere, whether gold, silver or paper.

DEMOCRATIC.

April 22, 1896.—The platform favors the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at the ratio of 16 to 1, as the standard money of the country, without discrimination against either metal and without the consent of foreign nations. It also calls for the repeal of the 10 per cent tax on State bank issues, and for the government of the State by white men. President Cleveland was commended for his attitude on the Monroe Doctrine, but his financial policy was condemned. The minority report, which was in opposition to free coinage, was tabled by a vote of 331 to 173. The National Convention delegates were instructed to vote as a unit for free silver.

SOUND MONEY DEMOCRATS.

August 27, 1896.—Resolutions were unanimously adopted indorsing Secretary Herbert's course in bolting the Chicago Convention; declaring in favor of nominating a National Democratic candidate in each district in Alabama; deploring the death of ex-Governor Russell of Massachusetts; indorsing the action of the National Provisional Executive Committee, and especially the work of J. M. Falkner, Alabama's member; providing for a thorough organization in every county in Alabama; demanding that the National Democracy be treated fairly at the polls in Alabama; declaring in favor of the Indianapolis Convention placing a National ticket in the field.

POPULISTS.

April 29, 1896.—The platform demanded a free ballot and a fair count; declared for free coinage of silver; the abolition of National banks, and the expansion of currency. A tariff plank said: "We favor a tariff for revenue so adjusted as to protect, as far as practicable, the farmers and the labor in our shops, mines, factories and mills, and their products, against foreign pauper labor."

ARIZONA.

REPUBLICAN.

April 30, 1896.—The "McKinley Wing" adopted a platform, in part, as follows:

"We declare that it is the unanimous demand of the people of the Territory of Arizona that silver should be remonetized and restored to its place in the currency of the Nation as a money metal accorded it by the founders of the Republic. We assert that we are for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, and we hereby instruct the delegates to the National Convention to use every means in their power to secure a clause in the National platform favoring free and unlimited coinage of silver."

The platform also urges Congress to grant Statehood to the Territory; favored liberal pensions to veterans; advocated "protection to American labor and American industries," and the policy of reciprocity, and indorsed William McKinley for President.

The "Stoddard-Christy Wing" adopted this money plank:

"That it is the belief of this convention that the people of Arizona, without regard to party, are in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of not less than 16 to 1, and the delegates elected by this convention to St. Louis are held instructed to use all honorable means to secure the adoption of a silver plank in the National Republican platform."

DEMOCRATIC.

June 8, 1896.—Resolved, That we, the Democratic party of Arizona, in convention, repudiate the financial policy of the present National Administration.

We indorse the language used by John G. Carlisle in 1878, when he denounced the "conspiracy" to destroy silver as a standard money, as "the most gigantic crime of this or any other age," and we agree with him in the declaration then made that "the consummation of such a scheme would ultimately entail more misery upon the human race than all the wars, pestilences and famines that have ever occurred in the history of the world."

We are not willing to be parties to such a crime and in order to undo a wrong already done and to prevent a further rise in the purchasing power of the dollar, we favor the immediate restoration of the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1, as such coinage existed prior to 1873, without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation, such gold and silver to be a full legal tender for all debts, public and private.

We are opposed to the retirement of the greenback, and demand that the Secretary of the Treasury, instead of issuing interest-bearing bonds for the purchase of gold, shall recognize silver as money of redemption and exercise the right to redeem greenbacks, treasury notes and all other coin obligations in silver when silver is more convenient.

POPULIST.

August 21, 1896.—The platform indorsed the nominations of Bryan and Sewall on the National ticket; favored free silver; declared for Statehood for Arizona, and the reclamation of desert lands by Governmental aid, and opposed the present irrigation laws of the Territory.

ARKANSAS.

REPUBLICAN.

March 3, 1896.—The platform favored "true bimetalism, with such restrictions and under such provisions, to be determined by legislation, as will secure the maintenance of the parity of values of the two metals, so that the purchasing and debt-paying power of the dollar, whether of silver, gold or paper, shall be at all times equal."

Favored protection to American industries, and added: "Whatever the next Republican tariff law may provide, its rates will measure the difference between American and European conditions and will be fully adequate to protect ourselves from the invasion of our market by Oriental products, to the injury of American labor, and will in no case be too low to protect and exalt American labor and promote and increase American production. We are not contending for any particular tariff law or laws, or for any special schedules or rates, but for the great principle—the American protective policy—the temporary overthrow of which has brought distress and ruin to every part of our beloved country."

It also condemned the action of the Democratic party in Congress in voting to place the forest products on the free list, which would cripple the industry of Arkansas and greatly reduce the price of labor; expressed sincere sympathy for the Cubans in their heroic struggle for liberty and independence.

DEMOCRATIC.

June 19, 1896.—"We favor bimetalism, and to that end we insist upon the free and unlimited coinage of both silver and gold at the ratio of 16 to 1, as money of final redemption, with equal legal tender power, independent of the action of any other nation.

"We are opposed to the issue of interest-bearing bonds for any purpose in time of peace. We demand that the Government shall not surrender, but shall always exercise the lawful option to redeem its obligations in either gold or silver, as may be most convenient.

"We demand the repeal of the present laws discrediting the silver money of the Nation and permitting the making of private contracts payable in gold alone.

"We favor the collection of an income tax as part of the revenue of the General Government, and demand such Constitutional amendments as may be necessary to authorize the same. We affirm the oft-repeated declaration of the Democratic party in favor of a tariff for revenue only. We favor the election of United States Senators by the vote of the people in primary elections."

PROHIBITION.

May 7, 1896.—The platform favored free silver, woman suffrage, Government ownership of railroads and telegraphs, and the enactment of laws prohibiting the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors.

CALIFORNIA.

REPUBLICAN.

May 6, 1896.—The platform had this money plank:

"We favor the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 and the making of silver, as well as gold, a legal tender in payment of all debts, both public and private."

The platform also demanded such legislation as might be necessary for highway improvement; amendments to the immigration laws such as will keep out of the country all contract laborers, criminals, paupers, diseased persons, and other unfit persons; amendments to the naturalization laws necessary to prevent unfit foreign-born persons from becoming citizens; declared that none but non-sectarian free public schools shall receive public aid; demanded a revision of the tariff laws upon the basis of the American protective system; favored reciprocity, and instructed the National Convention delegates to vote for William McKinley.

DEMOCRATIC.

June 17, 1896.—"The Democratic party of the State of California is unalterably in favor of free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, without waiting for or depending on the action of any other nation; and it demands the use of silver as well as gold as a full legal tender in payment of all debts, both public and private."

On tariff and taxation it said: First—We reaffirm our adherence to the principles of the tariff platform of the National Democratic Convention of 1892. Second—In view of the universal decrease in the price of all products of all labor in the State and in the value of land and all other property, justice demands a material reduction in the public expenditures. Notwithstanding the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, we adhere to the position of the last Democratic Congress in favor of an income tax; and, if necessary, of amending the Constitution of the United States, so as to obviate the objection of the Supreme Court.

Other planks indorsed the administration or President Cleveland, opposed the Pacific railroads funding bill pending in Congress, or any similar measure; demanded that the Southern Pacific Company and all other corporations subsidized by the Government be compelled to fulfil their obligations in the same way that private debtors are compelled to liquidate theirs; denounced the American Protective Association, and declared that no public money shall ever be appropriated for the support of any sectarian or denominational school, or any school not under the exclusive control of the officers of the public schools.

PROHIBITION.

May 14, 1896.—The platform declared for the usual prohibition principles, favored the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, woman suffrage, election of the President and Vice-President and United States Senators by a direct vote of the people, and declared against the refund of the Pacific Railway indebtedness.

COLORADO. REPUBLICAN.

May 15, 1896.—The money plank read: "We therefore declare that the free coinage of silver and gold at a ratio of 16 to 1 is for the time now being of paramount and controlling importance, and the most pressing question connected with our political duty and action. The doctrine of bimetalism has never been denied by any National Republican convention, but often asserted, and they who now deny it are false to the party, and not we who still maintain it. International bimetalism can only be achieved through National bimetalism adopted by the United States. To the maintenance of this principle as well as to the restoration of silver as a money metal to the full standard of the Constitution, we, as Republicans, pledge our most arduous and persistent effort."

Other planks declared that bimetalism and protection are vital to the prosperity of the country, and that Oriental competition would render protection futile with the gold standard; that Democratic free trade and the gold standard were the causes of a destruction of values one-half; bond issues were denounced; restriction of immigration was demanded, and Senator Teller was declared to be the "ablest living exponent of the true principles of American finance, and the most fearless and intelligent advocate in public life of the financial system which will best promote the comfort and prosperity of the whole people and the whole world." The delegates to the National Convention were instructed to follow the lead of Senator Teller.

DEMOCRATIC.

April 15, 1896.—There was but one plank in the platform, closing as follows: "We favor the immediate restoration of the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1, as such coinage existed prior to 1873, without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation; such gold and silver to be a full legal tender for all debts, public and private."

SILVERITES.

June 25, 1896.—"The paramount issue at this time in the United States is indisputably the money question. It is between the gold standard, gold bonds and bank currency on the one side and the bimetallic standard, no bonds and Government currency on the other. On this issue we declare ourselves to be in favor of a distinctly American financial system. We are unalterably opposed to the single gold standard and demand immediate return to the constitutional standard of gold and silver by the restoration by the Government independently of any foreign Power of the unrestricted coinage of both gold and silver in standard money at the ratio of 16 to 1, and upon terms of exact equality as they existed prior to 1873, the silver coin to be a full legal tender equally with gold for all debts and dues, private and public.

"We therefore confidently appeal to the people of the United States to leave in abeyance for the moment all other questions, however important and even momentous they may seem, to sunder if need be all former party ties and affiliations and unite in one supreme effort to free themselves and their children from the domination of the money power, and upon the consummation of our desires and efforts we invoke the gracious favor of Divine Providence."

CONNECTICUT. REPUBLICAN.

April 22, 1896.—"Republicans of Connecticut reaffirm their belief in the doctrine of protection, with reciprocity, as advocated by James G. Blaine, believing that upon its maintenance depends the development of American industry, the elevation of American labor and the protection of the products of the American farm.

"We believe in maintaining the flag of America, in protecting every citizen of the United States in his legal rights, at home and abroad, and in preserving the homes of Americans. We are unalterably opposed to the issue of unsecured paper currency, either by the Government or the banks; the free coinage of silver at any ratio, and favor a single standard of value, and that standard gold.

"We believe that this policy, with a sound and stable currency upon a gold basis, will furnish sufficient revenue to meet all requirements of the Government and properly support it. We believe in such discriminating duties in favor of American bottoms as will again revive our shipping interests, and extend our trade and commerce to every land.

"We believe in the Monroe Doctrine, and in supplying the Government with ships and fortifications, and men to man them, sufficient at all times to uphold and maintain it. We are opposed to the immigration of paupers, insane and criminals.

"We are firm in our convictions that the maintenance of those principles, and the enactment of laws to carry them into effect, under a Republican Administration, charged with the duty of enforcing such laws, will, in the near future, guarantee to our country the financial and industrial supremacy of the world.

"So long as a deserving Union soldier or sailor, his widow or orphan, remains in the land, a due sense of gratitude demands that the Nation extend to all such its special care and protection."

REPUBLICAN.

September 2, 1896.—The platform adopted read:

"We, the Republicans of Connecticut, in convention assembled, while reaffirming the principles of the Republican party as enunciated in the platform adopted by the National Convention at St. Louis and in the masterly letter of acceptance of our Presidential nominee, William McKinley, and in the admirable platform recently adopted by our State Convention, recognize in the crisis which has been forced upon this country by the un-American and revolutionary action of the so-called Democratic Convention held at Chicago that the question of supreme importance at present is the preservation of the life, honor and integrity of our Nation.

"We realize that this can only be accomplished by the maintenance of our judicial system, which is the bulwark of our liberties and the admiration of the world, and by the continuance of a financial policy which makes gold the standard of value until a different policy is adopted by international agreement.

"We favor a tariff which will provide revenues sufficient to meet the ordinary necessary expenses of the Government, and so adjusted as to place American labor, without the sacrifice of our high-wage system, on at least equal terms in our own market with the labor of other lands."

DEMOCRATIC.

June 10, 1896.—On money the platform said: "As a necessary consequence the honest payment of public debts and the preservation of the public faith and credit require that the gold standard of money, as a measure of value, shall be maintained. While we favor the most liberal use of silver consistent with the enforcement of a gold standard, we are unalterably opposed to the free coinage of silver, deeming it a device for the debasement of our currency and the compulsory purchase of silver by the Government."

On tariff it said: "The purpose of all taxation is revenue. In establishing a system of tariff taxation for revenue, careful consideration should be given to the schedules with due regard for the cost of raw materials and the interests of labor. We are opposed to any further general revision of the tariff as tending to unsettle business and deprive labor of employment; and we believe that only such changes should be made from time to time as are necessary to provide revenue. These revenues should be made equal to the expenditures and should provide a surplus for the payment of the Federal debt."

September 16, 1896.—The platform indorsed that of the National Convention at Chicago, and pledged support to Bryan and Sewall; declared that "the growing industrial disaster and distressing poverty and idleness have been the ever increasing result of the demonetization of silver in 1873; we therefore invite the united support of the electors in the effort to restore the coinage system which existed during the years of our National prosperity, and which is the coinage system recognized in our National Constitution"; denounced the "bond issue and the useless increase of the National debt in time of peace"; invited "labor to unite to save itself from the danger which threatens it if money shall continue to increase in purchasing power, and all else to decrease in exchangeable value in the markets of the world."

NATIONAL DEMOCRATS.

October 8, 1896.—The principal feature of the platform read as follows:

"The Democrats of Connecticut believe that the fundamental principles of the party, declared by its founder, Thomas Jefferson, and reaffirmed by Jackson, Tilden and Cleveland, are binding at all times. Among them are the following essential doctrines in the creed of the party:

"The honest payment of our debts and the sacred preservation of the public faith.

"Economy in the public expenses, that labor may be lightly burdened.

"Equal and exact justice to all men, of whatever state or persuasion, religious or political—freedom of religion."

DELAWARE. REPUBLICAN.

May 12, 1896.—The Anti-Addicks men bolted the convention and held one of their own. The "regulars," controlled by J. Edward Addicks, adopted a platform, which contained this money plank: "We are opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver, except after international agreement, and until such agreement can be obtained we believe that the existing standard should be firmly maintained. The credit of the United States must be kept unquestioned at home and abroad, the reserves of the Treasury must be scrupulously maintained, and every coin obligation must be paid in gold, or in whatever coin the creditor chooses to demand."

The platform also indorsed the McKinley tariff bill, favored liberal pensions to veterans, and denounced the Democratic administration of the State.

The Anti-Addicks delegates, led by Mr. Hastings, adopted a platform which contained this money plank: "Believing that the people are entitled to the use of the best money, and being anxious to restore the industrial and commercial prosperity of the Nation, we demand the maintenance of the present gold standard of value; we favor international bimetallism, but until that can be established upon a secure basis we are opposed to the free coinage of silver by the United States."

It also declared "faith in the principles of protection to American industries, and of reciprocity with other nations; and to this end we demand an adequate revision of the tariff in the interest of the agriculturist, the artist, the manufacturer and the miner"; demanded discriminating duties in favor of goods carried in American vessels; demanded adequate additions to the Navy and to the seacoast and frontier defences; denounced J. Edward Addicks for betraying the Republican party by conspiracy with the Democrats to defeat the election of a Republican to the Senate of the United States, and as being unfit, morally and politically, to represent the State in any capacity; also instructed the delegates to vote for William McKinley for Presidential candidate.

DEMOCRATIC.

June 16, 1896.—The money plank read: "The Democracy of Delaware, in convention assembled, declare again their allegiance to the cardinal doctrines of their political faith, and that therefore we are in favor of maintaining the present monetary standard and are opposed to the free coinage of silver at any ratio, or to the compulsory purchase of silver bullion by the Government. We believe that the true interests of the people require that the earnings of agriculture and trade and the wages of labor should be paid in money that is intrinsically worth, in all markets of the world, what it purports to be worth, and that the Government should keep all its obligations at all times redeemable and payable in money of the standard adopted and now in use by ourselves and by the most advanced civilized nations of the world. As the party of the plain people of this country, who, for the most part depend upon the wages and salaries they receive, we are opposed to experiments in finance which will lessen the purchasing power of the money they earn. We believe that a fluctuating currency or a falsified money would be fatal to the interests of agriculture and labor, and would only inure to the benefit of the gold speculator and gambler."

Other planks opposed the issue of bonds; opposed alteration of the present tariff law in the direction of higher duties; expressed sympathy for the Cubans in their struggle for freedom, and commended President Cleveland's Administration.

August 18, 1896.—The platform was a compromise, the silver men omitting a silver plank, but securing the indorsement of the candidates in the following plank:

"Pledging the electors this day nominated to the support of the candidates, William J. Bryan and Arthur Sewall, nominated for President and Vice-President by the National Democratic Convention held in Chicago on the 7th of July last, it presents to the thoughtful consideration of the citizens of Delaware the high character and citizenship of the candidates nominated for the trusts which the votes of a free people alone can confer."

FLORIDA. REPUBLICAN.

March 5, 1896.—The platform urged upon Congress to take favorable action looking toward the construction of the Nicaragua Canal, and sympathized with "the Cuban patriots in their efforts to secure the liberty which we enjoy, and will joyfully hail the day when the banner bearing the single star will float over a free people and the 'Queen of the Antilles' is added to the free governments of the American continent."

The "Gunbyites," or bolters, also held a convention after withdrawing from the "regulars," and adopted resolutions favoring "adequate protection to American industries," absolute protection to Americans and American interests abroad, sound money and indorsing the action of Congress on the Cuban question."

DEMOCRATIC.

June 17, 1896.—The Committee on Resolutions voted, 25 to 22, against free silver; subsequently, in convention, a motion to instruct the delegates to vote for free silver was defeated by a vote of 175 to 171. The following was adopted: "Whereas questions of coinage and the finance are matters prescribed by the Constitution for National legislation, and we recognize that it is the proper function of the Democratic National Convention to assemble at Chicago at an early date to prescribe the policy of the party on such questions, as well as all other National issues,

"Therefore, be it resolved that all such questions are properly referred for determination to the National Democratic Convention, and we pledge our support to the policy of the party which may be so enunciated."

POPULIST.

August 6, 1896.—The following was the principal feature of the platform: "In accepting Bryan, the Democratic nominee, the Populist party has done all that reason and justice can demand. We desire a union of all reformers, and a failure by Democrats to withdraw Sewall or substitute Watson places the onus of possible defeat of reform forces upon the Democratic, and not upon the Populist party."

GEORGIA. REPUBLICAN.

April 29, 1896.—The platform pledged allegiance to the principles advocated by the Republican party; commended the party as the only one adapted to the success and interest of all the people; condemned the lynch law, and urged that every means be used to abolish it; favored National aid to education; demanded a protective tariff for American industries and protection to American ship-owners; demanded the adoption of a sound-money plank in the National platform.

DEMOCRATIC.

June 25, 1896.—The money plank read: "Resolved, That Congress has no power to discriminate at the mints against either gold or silver as metals for the coinage of primary money, or against gold or silver coin of the United States as to their debt-paying functions. Such discriminations deprive the citizens of the use of one kind of standard money provided by the Constitution for the payment of debts, and we demand the repeal of all laws or parts of laws making such discriminations, and the restoration of the standard silver dollar to the rank of primary money which it held prior to 1873, by opening the mints to the coinage of silver on a perfect equality with gold at the ratio of 16 to 1."

"Resolved, That we condemn the financial policy which necessitates the increase of the bonded debt of the country in time of peace to maintain an unnecessary gold reserve or to pay the current expenses of the Government. We also condemn a policy which seeks to retire the United States Treasury notes, as they constitute an absolutely safe circulating medium, based on gold and silver coin and backed by the entire wealth of the country. Such a policy would not only intensify the present evil of contraction, but place the exclusive right to issue a circulating medium in the control of a concentrated money power and above the laws and will of the people, and foster the Federal doctrine of centralization and class government through financial control

—a doctrine which is a standing menace to our republican institutions and the liberties of the people; and we demand the repeal of laws which clothe a Secretary of the Treasury with the more than imperial power to issue bonds and increase the public debt at his will and pleasure without specific authority from Congress.

"Resolved, That we favor the payment of the public debt as rapidly as possible."

Other planks declared for a "tariff for revenue only"; a repeal of the tax upon State bank issues, and an income tax; deplored lynchings, and favored such laws as would effectually prevent them.

POPULIST.

August 7, 1896.—A resolution authorized the State Committee to negotiate with the Democrats for a fusion on the electoral ticket whenever the Democrats would withdraw Mr. Sewall as Vice-President. Other resolutions indorsed the Populist National platform of 1896; condemned barrooms, and declared against the sale of liquor as a beverage; demanded that the convict lease system be abolished and that the convicts be employed by the State in some way which shall not compete with free labor. Liberal appropriations for public schools and for pensions for the old Confederate veterans were recommended. The use of railroad passes and telegraph franks by public officials was condemned, and so was lynching. Speedy trials were demanded for accused persons. The fee system was condemned, and it was demanded that all public officers be put on salaries. A demand was made for a free ballot and a fair count.

REPUBLICAN.

May 16, 1896.—This was the money plank:

"Whereas, The Republican Convention of 1888 declared in favor of gold and silver as standard money of the United States, and condemned the action of the Democratic party for its efforts in attempting to demonetize silver; and

"Whereas, The Republican National Convention of 1892 substantially reiterated the declaration of 1888; and

"Whereas, The question of crystallizing into law the utterances of the last two conventions named, and of every utterance heretofore made by the Republican party of this State, recently arose in the United States Senate; and

"Whereas, Senators Henry M. Teller, Fred T. Dubois, Thomas H. Carter, Lee Mantle and Frank Cannon demanded the re-enforcement of said platform and utterances under conditions known to all; therefore be it

"Resolved, That we heartily indorse the action of Senator Dubois in joining with his associates named in the fearless position named in behalf of the free coinage of silver and protection to American industry and reciprocity, one and inseparable."

August 28, 1896.—The platform indorsed that of the National Convention, and adopted a plank indorsing "the faithful and laborious services of George L. Shoup" in the United States Senate "in his efforts to protect the interests of Idaho, and in maintaining the integrity of the Republican party."

DEMOCRATIC.

June 16, 1896.—The platform demanded the immediate restoration of the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1, as such coinage existed prior to 1873, without waiting for the action of any other Nation on earth, such gold and silver to be full legal tender for all debts, public and private.

Resolutions were offered condemning the financial policy of President Cleveland and Secretary Carlisle, but there were such fiery speeches made that the resolutions were withdrawn.

August 22, 1896.—The platform affirmed allegiance to that adopted by the National Convention of 1896.

POPULIST.

August 22, 1896.—The platform favored woman suffrage.

REPUBLICAN.

April 30, 1896.—The platform declared that the Administration of President Cleveland had demonstrated that the Democratic party is constitutionally incapable of managing the affairs of the Nation. On money and tariff, it said:

"Resolved, That we, the Republicans of Illinois, are emphatic in our demands for honest money. We are opposed, as we ever have been, to any and every scheme that will give to this country a currency in any way depreciated or debased, or in any respect inferior to the money of the most advanced and intelligent nations of the earth. We favor the use of silver as currency, but to the extent only, and under such restrictions, that parity with gold can be maintained. The Republican party, from the days of Lincoln, has been devoted irrevocably to the doctrine of protection to home industry, and we hereby renew and reaffirm our faith in this fundamental principle. We believe in a tariff that will produce revenue sufficient to meet the wants of government honestly and economically administered, and high enough to insure to home labor regular and remunerative employment. We advocate the unrestricted exchange of non-competitive articles. We believe in reciprocity—the reciprocity of James G. Blaine—reinforced by experience and an earnest wish to extend our foreign commerce to the fullest extent consistent with the control of our own market in the sale of articles that can be profitably produced at home."

Other planks declared that the Monroe Doctrine should be upheld, and that there should be a firm, vigorous and dignified policy toward all nations, with a strengthening of the coast defenses and an enlargement of the Navy to command the respect of other Governments; expressed sympathy for the Cubans in their struggle for independence, and condemned Governor Altgeld for failing to enforce the laws in perilous times, and for not keeping his promise to prevent competition of convict labor with free labor, and for the extravagant, insufficient and partisan management of the State institutions.

DEMOCRATIC.

June 23, 1896.—The financial plank declared: "We favor the soundest and safest money known to men, and, as experience has shown that this consists of both gold and silver, with equal rights of coinage and full legal-tender power, we demand the repeal of that Republican and plutocratic legislation which demonetized silver and reduced it to the basis of token money, destroying by one-half the stock of real money, and by doubling the work to be done by gold doubled its purchasing power, so that the farmers and producers had to give twice as much work to get a dollar as they formerly had, and found it hard to meet the debts, interest, taxes and fixed charges, which were not lowered. In this way the market for those things which the mechanic and laborer made was destroyed and the factories had to shut down. . . . We believe that the benefits of the independence which we gained a hundred years ago—the war for which was initiated upon a matter of tribute—should not be lost by yielding vassalage to a monetary system preferred by other Governments. . . .

We demand the immediate restoration of the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver as standard money at the ratio of 16 ounces of silver to 1 of gold of equal fineness, with full legal-tender power to each metal, without waiting for or depending on any other nation on earth. We are also opposed to the contraction of the currency by the retirement of any part of the present outstanding Treasury notes."

The platform also declared for a tariff for revenue only, demanded "the abolition of Government injunction," denounced "the arbitrary interference on the part of the Federal Government in local affairs by ignoring lawful authorities," and favored a Constitutional amendment authorizing an income tax.

SOUND MONEY DEMOCRATS.

August 25, 1896.—The platform declared that the Democratic party is primarily and solemnly pledged to liberty regulated by law; to equal justice to all men of whatsoever condition or persuasion, religious or political; to economy, to peace and honest friendship with all nations, and entangling alliances with none; to the payment of debts in honest money, and to the maintenance of the public faith, and is opposed to class legislation, and indorses "every act, Executive, legislative and judicial of the present Democratic National Administration."

The second section declares that the gold dollar is now and for more than sixty years has been the American standard of value fixed by Democratic statesmen, who were opposed to a debased and fluctuating currency, and that it is the measure upon which private and public faith has rested and now rests; and declares unreservedly in favor of maintaining that standard.

Section 3 favors the use of silver as currency and the coinage and circulation of such quantities thereof as can be kept at parity with gold coin, but opposes "the free and unlimited coinage of silver by the United States Government as a measure certain to impair contracts, disturb business, diminish the purchasing power of the wages of labor, inflict irreparable injury upon commerce and industry, and fasten an ineffaceable stigma upon the financial honor of the American people."

Succeeding sections demand the retirement of the United States from the banking business and the gradual redemption and cancellation of all United States and Treasury notes; charge to the McKinley tariff and the McKinley-Sherman Silver Purchase Act the panic and depression of 1893 and succeeding years; denounce Republican protection as a fraud and robbery of the many for the few; declare for tariff for revenue only; rebuke the Republican National Convention as dominated by the intriguing attorneys of favored interests, and the Democratic National Convention as controlled by agents of the silver-mining interests, agitators and demagogues; commend the "honesty, economy, courage and fidelity" of the present National Administration, and declare "uncompromisingly in favor of the constitutional independence of the United States Supreme Court as one of the three co-ordinate powers in this Government."

INDIAN TERRITORY.

DEMOCRATIC.

June 10, 1896.—The platform declared for free coinage of silver at 16 to 1.

INDIANA.

REPUBLICAN.

May 7, 1896.—"The Republicans of Indiana are in favor of protection. We demand a tariff that will not only secure the necessary amount of revenue, but will also afford adequate and certain protection to the wage-workers and producers of this country. We demand that American sellers shall have the first chance in American markets. From Lincoln to Harrison, under a wise policy of Protection and Reciprocity, we steadily decreased our bonded debt, resumed specie payment, maintained the public credit, kept unimpaired the gold reserve, increased the wealth of the whole country and added to the comfort and happiness of the people to a degree unparalleled in the history of nations. The reversal of this beneficent and patriotic policy by the Democratic party has brought to the American people nothing but distrust, deficit and disaster. We therefore demand a return to the sound Republican policy of Protection and Reciprocity."

"We are firm and emphatic in our demand for honest money. We believe that our money should not be inferior to the money of the most enlightened nations of the earth. We are unalterably opposed to every scheme that threatens to debase or depreciate our currency. We favor the use of silver as currency, but to the extent only and under such regulations that its parity with gold can be maintained, and in consequence are opposed to the free, unlimited and independent coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1."

"We demand a rigid enforcement of all existing immigration laws by the National Government and the enactment of such further legislation as will better protect our people against the influx of the criminal and vicious classes of foreign countries.

"We believe in a liberal construction of our pension laws, and condemn the unjust and unfair policy of the present Administration in depriving ex-soldiers of their pensions without notice and without a hearing, upon charges filed against them. We believe it to be the duty of the State, as well as the Nation, to make suitable provision for the care and maintenance of all unfortunate soldiers, their wives and widows, and we therefore commend the act of the last Legislature of Indiana in providing a suitable home for such soldiers, their wives and widows as may be overtaken by adversity."

DEMOCRATIC.

June 24, 1896.—The principal planks of the platform were these: "We reaffirm our adherence to and faith in the Democratic doctrine, bimetallism, and therefore demand the immediate restoration of bimetallism by the free and unlimited coinage of both silver and gold as primary money at the ratio of 16 to 1, without waiting the co-operation of Great Britain or any other foreign Power, all such coinage to be full legal tender in the payment of all debts, public and private.

"Resolved, That we believe the existing tariff laws will be fully equal to all demands for needed revenue for the expenses of the Government, economically administered, under the conditions which will arise from the restoration of bimetallism.

"We are opposed to the redemption and final cancellation of the United States notes (greenbacks), or any other notes or certificates issued by the United States to circulate as money, such redemption and cancellation necessarily involving an increase of the public debt by the issue of bonds and a reduction of the currency.

"We demand a sufficient stable volume of money, gold, silver and paper, to meet the requirements of our growing population and the constant increase of our productive industries."

Other planks protested against the "increase of the public debt by the issue of interest-bearing bonds, or otherwise in time of peace"; demanded that "obligations of the Government in every form be paid and redeemed in conformity with the laws under which they were issued in coin, gold and silver, at the option of the Government of the United States, and not at the option of the creditor"; sympathized with the Cubans, and believed that they ought to be accorded all the rights of belligerents, and indorsed Governor Matthews as a candidate for the Presidency.

POPULISTS.

July 28, 1896.—The platform reaffirmed those of the National conventions of 1892 and 1896, and declared that the Indiana party is in favor of maintaining the party organization.

IOWA.

REPUBLICAN.

August 18, 1897.—The platform reviewed with the utmost satisfaction the campaign of 1896, and highly commended the wisdom and energy of President McKinley in directing the whole force of the Administration toward the early and complete fulfillment of all pledges of the platform at St. Louis. It applauded Congress for so quickly reforming the tariff from a menace against the interests of this country into an adequate protection for the men and women of the United States; it reaffirmed and adopted in every part the declaration of the principles announced by the Republican National Convention in 1896, and pledged for Iowa that the election in November, 1897, should be a still more emphatic evidence of the strength and justice of Republican doctrines; it declared for protection and honest money; it demanded a most rigid economy, consistent with public welfare, in all governments, National, State, and municipal, to the end that the burdens of taxpayers will be lessened; demanded a system of taxation that will justly distribute among the taxpayers the amount necessary for public expenditures, and insisted that all individuals and corporations, in whatever business they may be engaged, shall be so taxed that they shall not escape their fair and proportionate share of the burdens; and it declared against trusts. Upon State questions the platform dwelt at much length, pointing with satisfaction and pride to the long record of wise and economical administration of State affairs by the Republican party, to the benevolent institutions established and splendid edifices erected and paid for, on a rate of taxation uniformly below that of our sister States. It commended the General Assembly for its earnest and thorough efforts to reduce the expenses of government to the lowest practicable point. It indorsed the administration of Governor Drake; it congratulated the farmers of the United States in the selection of James Wilson as Secretary of Agriculture, and commended the laws heretofore enacted by Republican Legislatures, securing to employees of railways the right to indemnity for personal injuries resulting from negligence, and favored such legislation as may be found necessary to perfect such right and prevent its impairment or nullification in letter or spirit.

FUSION (Democrats, Free Silver Republicans and Populists).

June 23, 1897.—The platform approved the Chicago platform entire and reiterated the principle of free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1; said that prosperity promised by Republicans last year is for the benefit of the few protected trusts which contributed to the Republican campaign fund last year; denounced Secretary Gage's proposed bank-note scheme and Railway Pooling bill, and declared in favor of several railway and other corporation measures which were defeated in the Legislature last winter. The liquor question was not mentioned. This omission brought forth howls of derision and anger in the Democratic Convention. It was agreed to by the Committee on Resolutions after a five-hour struggle, its object being to satisfy the Free-Silver Republicans and the Populists, who are mostly Prohibitionists.

SOUND MONEY DEMOCRATS.

August 26, 1896.—The platform reiterates the principles recognized as those of the Democracy; says that the Chicago Convention surrendered these and declared for a new sectionalism of the West and South against the East and North; declares that the Chicago platform is mischievous in its tendencies and a menace to free government. It denounces the Chicago attitude toward President Cleveland, whom it eulogizes. The attack on the Judiciary is denounced, and the attitude of the Chicago gathering on money is discussed at some length. The declaration on this subject is substantially as follows:

"That platform threatens to debase the coinage through ultimate coinage of silver at an arbitrary and fictitious ratio. It virtually pledges, if placed in power, to repeal the act for the resumption of specie payment. These are not Democratic principles, and cannot receive our support. The election of a President pledged to these principles will precipitate a financial crisis whose consequences cannot be predicted. We favor the use of gold and silver, maintained at parity; we adhere to the gold standard till true bimetallism can be achieved. We demand a reorganization of present financial laws, especially those which compel the issue of Government bonds to maintain National credit. We reaffirm the past declarations of the party on the tariff and on State issues."

KANSAS.

REPUBLICAN.

March 10, 1896.—The platform arraigned and condemned the National Democratic Administration as unstatesmanlike, un-American and without ability to manage the affairs of the Government at home, or diplomatic intelligence and courage to enforce the rights and maintain the dignity and honor of our country in its foreign relations. It has denied the right of American labor to protection against the pauper and criminal labor of foreign nations. It has failed to provide the means of meeting the expenses of the Government with its current income, and has changed the Republican policy of reducing the public debt to the Democratic practice of increasing it, and this, too, in a time of profound peace. It has once more given convincing evidence that the Democratic party has neither the patriotism nor the ability to manage the affairs of our Government with safety to the Constitution or solvency to its finances.

"We recognize a conviction and purpose among the body of the people as universal as intelligent to rid the country of Democratic misrule by placing it once more in the hands of its friends, the same Republican party which has before saved it from Democratic misrule and governmental ineptitude."

August 11, 1896.—The platform indorsed the nominations of McKinley and Hobart, declared for protection, reciprocity and sound money as the three cardinal principles of Republicanism; opposed the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 by this country alone, although favoring the fullest possible use of gold, silver and paper money consistent with maintaining them at a parity; condemned the pension policy of the present Administration, and declared for more liberal interpretation of present pension laws; favored better roads; favored State and National aid for irrigation; urged amendments which will make the Interstate Commerce law more effective, and heartily indorsed the administration of Governor Morrill and his associates.

DEMOCRATIC.

June 3, 1896.—This was the most important plank:

"Resolved, That we demand the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at a ratio of 16 to 1 without any effort toward international agreement, believing this great country capable of taking care of itself."

The resolution further provided that the delegates to the National Convention be instructed to vote for no man for the Presidential nomination not holding well-known views favoring silver. The resolutions as reported were adopted.

The platform adopted commended the Administration in so far as regards Cleveland's vigorous foreign policy, his efforts for tariff reform, his firm stand toward Spain and the Americans held in Cuban prisons.

POPULISTS.

August 6, 1896.—The platform indorsed the National Populist code of principles; severely arraigned the Republican State administration, and demanded the enactment of a maximum freight rate bill by the next Legislature.

KENTUCKY.

REPUBLICAN.

Aug. 10, 1897.—First—That we reaffirm the principles of the Republican party as set forth in the platform adopted by it at St. Louis in 1896.

Second—That we indorse the Republican National and State administrations, and especially commend the action of our present State officials in their efforts to suppress mob violence and to preserve the financial credit of the State.

Third—We commend the action of the representatives of the Republican party in the passage of the Tariff bill, which will raise revenue sufficient to support the Government, prevent the issue of interest-bearing bonds, protect American labor and maintain the National credit.

Fourth—We are opposed to a system of Civil Service that builds up an official class of practically life tenure in almost all branches of the public service, and we demand that the Civil Service be so modified as to limit the terms of service to four years, with the privilege of reappointment or promotion, subject to such restrictions as will secure competent officials and to every section of the country its proper portion of them.

Fifth—We heartily sympathize with the struggling people of Cuba in their efforts to secure liberty and independence.

Sixth—That we recommend to the people the adoption of the constitutional amendments submitted by the last Legislature, allowing all cities and towns the privilege of regulating under legislative supervision the method of levying the taxes they impose on themselves for city and town expenses.

NATIONAL DEMOCRATS.

July 14, 1897.—The platform adopted was, in part, as follows: "The National Democracy of Kentucky, in convention assembled, cordially approve the action taken last year resulting in the Indianapolis convention, the nomination of Palmer and Buckner, and the complete reorganization and perpetuation of the Democratic party, not only for that campaign, but for all time. We reaffirm as the pledge of the Democratic party that when intrusted with federal power it will enact such tax laws as will produce sufficient revenue and framed for revenue only, levying necessary taxes only and impartially, and without bounties, bonuses, or favors; will reform the currency laws so as to maintain the standard of the world and furnish a sound, stable, and sufficient currency of gold and silver, interchangeable with each other at equal commercial value; will regain, with suitable revenue and navigation laws, the supremacy of the seas; enforce a proper Civil Service system; preserve the public order; maintain the public peace, and protect the rights, liberties and property of the citizens by such means as may be necessary, at home and abroad. We denounce the free and unlimited coinage of silver as inevitably producing silver monometallism, and we advocate a gold standard and the coinage of silver to the requirements of commerce as offering the only means of maintaining bimetalism, and denounce any attempt to fix the ratio between the metals arbitrarily by law without reference to their commercial value as unsafe and dangerous to public welfare and private interests. The Democrats of Kentucky renew their allegiance to the principles of true Democracy, as exemplified by the administration of Grover Cleveland, and as illustrated by his eminent Secretary of the Treasury, John G. Carlisle, and pledge themselves to renewed and unceasing efforts to embody and substantiate them in the National policy."

SILVER DEMOCRATS.

June 2, 1897.—The platform adopted, in part, was as follows:

"Resolved, That we hereby reaffirm our faith in the principles set forth and enumerated in the platform adopted by the Democratic party in National Convention held at Chicago, in July, 1896, and we adopt said platform as that of the Democracy in Kentucky. The principles adopted and set forth in that platform are the true principles of Democratic faith, and we urge upon all true Democrats to stand by them at all times and under all circumstances and conditions.

"We indorse the canvass made by William J. Bryan, the nominee of the Democratic party for the Presidency in the last election. We commend its wisdom and approve it as just and fair to all parties and all interests of our common country. We recognize in him the fearless orator and statesman and the great champion of the people's rights against the moneyed power, the monopolists, the syndicates and trusts. We pledge him the support of a united Democracy in our State."

POPULISTS.

July 20, 1896.—The platform declared that "the People's party of Kentucky is unalterably opposed to the indorsement by the National Convention of the People's party at St. Louis of the Democratic platform and ticket nominated at Chicago. . . . We favor a union of all reform forces on an honorable basis if one preserving intact the organization and principles of the People's party can be devised. This may be done by an equitable division of electors, and not by surrender or fusion."

LOUISIANA. DEMOCRATIC.

June 15, 1896.—The money plank adopted was as follows:

"Resolved, That we are in favor of the soundest and best money the ingenuity of man can invent. And that as experience has demonstrated that this money consists of both gold and silver, with equal rights of coinage and full equal legal-tender power on the basis of sixteen ounces of silver to one of gold, the delegates from this convention to the Chicago Convention are hereby instructed to support a plank in the National platform declaring for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at said ratio, with full legal-tender power, and without reference to the action of other nations, and to support the candidacy before said Convention of such men only as are in full and pronounced sympathy with said plank, and in order that our views may be more effectually enforced, the said delegates are hereby instructed to vote as a unit."

Other planks declared for tariff for revenue only, and urged that "sugar, rice and lumber, a part of Louisiana's industry, be included in any tariff schedule that may be adopted by the general Government;" denounced the American Protective Association, and advocated the improvement of the Mississippi River.

A minority report in favor of the use of both gold and silver as the standard money of the country, and to the coinage of both metals without discriminating against either, was voted down.

SOUND MONEY DEMOCRATS.

August 27, 1896.—The platform reaffirmed the declarations and principles of the Democratic Convention at Chicago in 1892 as the true expressions of sound Democratic doctrine; denounced the action of the Chicago Convention of 1896 as an attempted betrayal of the party to the Anarchists, Socialists, and Populists, and affirmed that its declaration of principles is not binding upon any true Democrat. They favored the organization of some financial plan whereby the Government will redeem all its outstanding circulating notes in gold coin and retire from the banking business and oppose the free coinage of silver except by international agreement that will maintain its parity with gold.

POPULISTS.

August 5, 1896.—The platform denounced both the Democrat and Republican platforms, put a full Bryan and Watson electoral ticket in the field, and refused to consider fusion.

MAINE. REPUBLICAN.

April 16, 1896.—The platform declared the policy of the party in its indorsement of Thomas B. Reed for the Presidency. It presented Mr. Reed's name "because he stands for Protection as taught by Lincoln, illustrated by the signal prosperity of the country for thirty years and rounded out by the Reciprocity of Blaine; he is opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver, except by international agreement, until which he believes that the present gold standard should be maintained; he favors measures for the restriction of immigration, also a just administration of all pension legislation, and is an earnest friend of American shipping and its returning to its former rank in the world; he also stands for the preservation of the National honor at home and abroad."

June 2, 1896.—"We are opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver, except by international agreement, and until such agreement can be obtained we believe that the present gold standard should be maintained."

"We believe in the maintenance of the highest National credit by the utmost faith toward the public creditor—not for the creditor's sake, but for the Nation's sake, for the sound reason that the most valuable possession of any nation in time of war or distress, next to the courage of its people, is an honorable reputation. Whoever pays with honor borrows with ease. Sound finance and certainty at the Treasury and protection for the producers will mean prosperity and peace."

"We are in favor of a foreign policy which shall be at all times and with all nations firm, vigorous and dignified, which will preserve the National honor at home and abroad."

"We are in favor of measures for the restriction of immigration."

"We are in favor of a just administration of all pension legislation."

"We congratulate our delegation in Congress that their long-continued efforts in behalf of American shipping have at last aroused an interest throughout the country that promises to restore this great industry, so important to National defence, to its former prominence. We join our fellow-Republicans of the thirteen States in the advocacy of discriminating duties in favor of American ships, a policy approved by Hamilton, the father of American protection, and which gave us our carrying trade in the early days of the Republic."

DEMOCRATIC.

June 12, 1896.—The following plank was adopted:

"We oppose the free coinage of silver and favor the single gold standard, unless a different standard is adopted through international agreement."

The minority of the committee, lacking two votes of a majority, reported a resolution favoring the use of both gold and silver, and the coinage of both without discrimination against either, but it was defeated by 193 to 101. Other planks indorsed President Cleveland's Administration, expressed sympathy for the Cubans, and asked for a resubmission of the prohibitory liquor law to the people.

August 6, 1896.—The platform declared that "we take from our State platform the following declaration: 'We oppose free coinage and favor the single gold standard, unless a different standard is adopted through international agreement'; and that we indorse the National Democratic platform with Bryan and Sewall."

POPULISTS.

June 4, 1896.—"We demand the coinage of both silver and gold in a ratio of 16 to 1, without asking the consent of any other nation. We demand the payment of our bonded debt, and that hereafter no bonds shall be issued under any circumstances, that Congress shall assume its Constitutional right to issue a greenback currency, which shall be a full legal tender for all debts, public and private, until the sum total of the money in circulation shall reach $50 per capita."

Other planks demanded that all railroad, telegraph and telephone systems should be owned and operated by the Government; that all undesirable foreign immigration shall be absolutely prohibited; that all trusts and combinations founded for the purpose of speculating in the necessities of life shall be forever prohibited and their promoters treated as public outlaws; that all land held for speculative purposes shall be taxed to the full extent of its rental value; the initiative and referendum, so that all laws can be referred back to the people for their approval before they become statutory enactments, and that all persons, firms or corporations in this State employing the labor of unnaturalized foreigners shall pay into the city or town treasury where such persons, firms or corporations are located the sum of 50 cents a day for each foreigner thus employed.

MARYLAND. REPUBLICAN.

September 15, 1897.—That part of the platform relating to National affairs read:

"The Republicans of Maryland, in State Convention assembled, view with the utmost satisfaction the beneficent results so lately achieved under Republican administration in State and Nation, and we regard a continuance of the Republican party in power as essential for still further enlarged public service and greater public benefit."

"We congratulate the people of this country on the revival of business and the return of prosperity, through the principles and policies of the National Republican party. Therefore, be it

"Resolved, That, first—In reaffirming our devotion to the principles espoused in both State and National Republican platforms, we extend to President McKinley, Senator Wellington, the Congressmen and Governor of our State, and all who have aided them in the National and State administrations, our hearty congratulations for the wisdom, courage and fidelity displayed by their strict adherence to our party platform pledges.

"Second—That the supreme duty of maintaining inviolate the National honor and credit renders it imperative that Maryland at this juncture should elect to the United States Senate an advocate and supporter of sound money and one whose past conduct is a guarantee of his future faithfulness.

"Third—That the action of the Republican House of Representatives, under the able leadership of Speaker Reed, in promptly seconding the efforts of President McKinley to secure a non-partisan Currency Commission meets with our hearty approval."

The resolutions concerning State matters praised the present Election and Assessment laws, indorsed the laws relating to public schools, and pledged the party to maintain separate schools for blacks and whites. Free and fair primary elections were demanded, and the present system of permitting continuous racing was condemned, and legislation to suppress it was demanded.

DEMOCRATIC.

July 28, 1897.—The money planks declared that "the Democracy of Maryland, in common with the Democracy of the Union, believe now, as they always have believed, in honest money, the gold and silver money of the Constitution and the coinage of both metals without discrimination against either into standard dollars of final payment and redemption;" that "while many Democrats have not approved all the expressions of their party in National Convention bimetalism will surely come. It may come through the instrumentalities set in motion by the present Administration, though in truth inspired by the intrepid action of the Democratic voters; but it will come, and the prosperity and happiness that follow in its train will be due to the courage, the undaunted fidelity and the intelligent patriotism of the Democracy."

On tariff, the platform declared that "Congress has adjourned without giving the people the smallest measure of relief and with the sole result of imposing upon them a tariff law more oppressive and iniquitous than has ever disgraced our statute books—a law which taxes the masses for the benefit of the classes, which narrows the field of individual opportunity, which forbids the expansion of our commerce, and which has not even the merit of providing a sufficient revenue for the proper conduct of the Government. It is in all respects a more odious and abhorrent measure than the McKinley act of 1890. That act was overwhelmingly repudiated and rebuked by the people in 1892. The Dingley act will be still more signally condemned in 1898."

On Cuban affairs the platform said: "The appalling atrocities committed in the war now being waged on that island merit the execration of all civilized people, and we demand that the American Government, while observing every treaty obligation, shall take such proper and effective action as will ameliorate the atrocities now being committed and fully protect every American citizen in his life and property."

The other planks dwelt upon State affairs. They condemned the Republican Administration; promised a modification of the existing assessment law if the Democratic party should be restored to power; denounced the appropriations made by the Legislature; decried the existing election law; pledged to improve the public school system and jealously guard the school fund.

SOUND MONEY DEMOCRATS.

August 26, 1896.—The resolutions adopted condemned the financial policy of the Chicago platform, stated that unlimited coinage of silver is simply a synonyme for repudiation; indorsed in every detail the platform promulgated by the recent Democratic State Convention; denounced the "assault" by the Chicago Convention upon President Cleveland, and heartily commended his Administration. The resolutions also denounced the Chicago nominee as being undemocratic, and demanded a Democratic platform and candidates "in opposition to the Populist platform and candidates" adopted and named by the Chicago Convention.

PROHIBITION.

June 28, 1896.—The platform confined itself to the liquor question, and held that it overshadowed "all other pending public questions, and should therefore be made the dominant issue before the American people in the National contest of 1896. If it be the supreme issue, as we contend it is, we should bend our every patriotic endeavor to secure its enactment into the organic law of our land by adopting the wise counsel of the great Lincoln of 'fighting one great battle at a time.'"

MASSACHUSETTS.

REPUBLICAN.

September 29, 1897.—"Twelve months ago a party once great put forward a platform of devastation and destruction. Upon it, under a new and strange leadership, stood candidates who violently advocated its purposes of disorder—disorder in our revenue, in our financial system, in the execution of law and the administration of justice. Confidence fled, business cowered and shrank away, doubt and danger alarmed the land. To-day that mass of dream and delusion is spurned even by the Nebraska farmers, who voted for it and who now know the fallacy of the deadly parallel between wheat and the white metal. Calked with free silver heresies, that same platform floats an abandoned derelict upon a turbulent sea, sighted now and then from some volcanic rock, by a Debs, an Altgeld, or even as on yesterday, by somebody or other in our own State, but never again to enter the haven of American confidence, to threaten and affright. To that creed of Bryanism and disorder, the St. Louis platform stood opposed. It won the fight in behalf of principle and National honor. But the Republican party has done more than win; it has scrupulously kept and promptly performed its promises. It has maintained the gold standard. It has given what the people wanted and believed in—a tariff, to protect our labor and our industries; to furnish adequate revenue to our Treasury—an American policy for the American people. We see a Republican President instituting an honest search for honest bimetalism, which an international agreement alone can effect; under severe pressure for place, not merely maintaining, but wisely extending the merit system in our Civil Service; declaring to other nations a policy dignified and firm without arrogance, patriotic always.

"To the Republicans of Massachusetts State control is not new, but never has the sense of their responsibility been more alert. They maintain their fundamental belief in the unsectarian free public school; they dare insist upon a full enforcement of the liquor law. They believe that the frequent approval of loans outside the debt limit is against wise municipal economy. They think the time has come to restrain the further extension of boards and commissions, and to promote the rational simplification of many now existing. They demand strict enforcement of all statutes and thereby a leaner blue book.

"Recognizing the importance of extending our commercial relations, they recommend the careful study of our consular service so that its efficiency and dignity may be increased. They would secure a safe and high citizenship, and they therefore urge that the laws of naturalization and immigration be so improved that our gates shall be promptly and tightly closed against all who are too ignorant to understand or too vicious to appreciate our institutions and laws. They declare that any man who is capable of assailing the foundations of credit and commerce by an adherence to Bryanism and the Chicago platform, or who maintains a vociferous silence when they are so assailed, should be considered as unfit to hold high municipal office or to administer State or federal functions.

"Fortunate, twice fortunate, does the Republican party find itself to-day in State and Nation. Surrounded by a cabinet, in which Massachusetts has the right to feel especial pride, having an invincible patriotism which obliterates sections and ignores creeds and conditions, stands the President of the whole nation, William McKinley. With a manhood unstained by fear or bravado, by insincerity or selfish ambition, with wisdom in the councils of State, with dignity for the assemblies of men, with a gracious geniality which makes him the friend at every fireside in the commonwealth, stands the man, fit to rank with the great historic Governors of Massachusetts, Roger Wolcott.

DEMOCRAT.

September 28, 1897.—The platform reaffirmed "allegiance to the great principles of Democracy as enunciated in the party's National Convention at Chicago; and we take special pleasure in recording our appreciation and indorsement of the splendid campaign waged in behalf of the people's right by their intrepid champion, who stands in merit and esteem with the historic leaders of the Democracy, the Hon. William Jennings Bryan."

On the money question it said: "Whether it is judicious to abandon half the money in the world is the supreme question. The demonetization of silver, begun in 1873 with little or no thought in Europe and America, has been a potent and increasing factor in the disastrous depression of the last twenty years, not uniform, but with ups and downs, each level being lower than the last. Gold has appreciated in purchasing power more than 3 per cent a year, demonetizing the producing classes with paralysis of trade through falling prices, and causing cruel unemployment of labor and reduction of the wage fund. The destruction of silver money already in process will, if completed, have doubled the demand for gold, its price and its purchasing power, while all other prices will have suffered a ruinous decline, with burden of debts doubled, debtors bankrupted, and a vast share of the world's wealth transferred from debtors to creditors by the malignant magic of an appreciating standard of value. The Democratic party opposes the attempt to fasten on the country gold monometallism and demands the remonetization of silver at the ratio to gold of 16 to 1. The demand for silver would be so enormous and the demand for gold so reduced that the two would meet and remain at parity, and the paralyzing battle of the standards would cease and the world enter upon a period of assured prosperity. Just now a shortage of the world's food crops, culminating in widespread and ghastly Asiatic famine, has raised prices for our products. These abnormal conditions have largely eliminated the competition of silver-using countries. But a recurrence of good crops will renew the fierce competition of these countries, which will again underbid the American farmer and reduce the world's prices of agricultural products. While Republicans may place their reliance upon temporary distress abroad, Democrats demand such just and broad basis of standard money as will maintain a stable standard of value and stable prices, with steady employment of labor and capital. The greenbacks issued by the Government have proved the country's best paper money and should not be cancelled. There can be no privilege more dangerous than the control of our currency supply by private bankers, and we stoutly oppose their attempt to strengthen such a monopoly by the substitution of banknotes for our National notes."

On the tariff question the platform declared: "Democracy means equality. It abhors legislation which builds up the vast wealth of the trusts and syndicates which overshadow the land and dictate laws to Congress for their own excessive gain. We condemn the Dingley law as a measure enacted on the imperious demands of the corporations which contributed to the scandalous Republican campaign fund and which, against the public welfare and in violation of the common law, use the favors of the Government to crush out all competition and establish industrial monopoly. The Republican party, under bondage to the trusts, has become the political agent of millionaires and taxes all the people for the benefit of these syndicates, enriching the sugar trust alone with an increased market value of $15,000,000. We demand as a partial measure of instant relief that all duties by which trusts are fostered shall be forthwith abolished."

The platform favored an income tax; the popular election of United States Senators; the adoption of the initiative and referendum; expressed sympathy for the Cuban insurgents; favored the settlement of all international disputes by arbitration; favored public ownership of water supply, gas and electric lighting, street railways and other service of like character, and the establishment and maintenance by the Government of postal savings banks; favored State taxation of personal property, and a tax on inheritance and successions, and expressed sympathy for the strikers in the coal mining regions.

NATIONAL DEMOCRATS.

September 30, 1897.—On the money question the platform read: "We adhere to and insist upon the maintenance of the present gold standard. We believe that the free coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1, when the present commercial ratio is nearly 40 to 1, would be destructive to the interests of wage-earners, of depositors in savings banks, of the insured, of the veterans, and of the whole people. We believe that the payment of debts, public or private, in dollars of less intrinsic value than those in which they were contracted, is dishonorable and dishonest.

"Therefore, we affirm our allegiance to the great financial principle which guided Jefferson, Jackson and Cleveland, that it is the sole function of the Federal Government in monetary matters to provide a standard of value and to coin metallic money, every dollar of which shall be of equal intrinsic value; that nothing but this coined money shall be legal tender; and that the Government shall not carry on a banking business.

"We demand that some safe plan be adopted whereby our legal-tender paper, silver and silver certificates shall be withdrawn, and a banking system under proper control be established through which adequate banking facilities may be furnished to all sections of the country.

"We believe that a currency based upon business assets and issued under proper safeguard responds automatically to the necessities of commerce and permits the issue of an elastic medium of exchange in those sections where it is most needed for the creation of new enterprises and the employment of American labor."

Upon the tariff it reaffirmed the "historic Democratic doctrine of tariff for revenue only." It declared that raw materials should be free of duty in the interest of consumers; in the interest of manufacturers that they may be able to compete in foreign markets, and in the interest of the laborers that they may find added employment.

The platform also demanded the extension of Civil Service reform to all postoffices, to the Consular service, and within the State to municipal offices; it opposed all attacks on the integrity of the United States Supreme Court and all efforts to make it dependent upon party success; favored arbitration for the settlement of international disputes; opposed all extensions of the boundaries of the United States which would bring under its Government masses of people unfitted for American citizenship and territories difficult to defend in case of war, and requiring burdensome taxation of our own people to maintain increased armies and navies.

MICHIGAN. REPUBLICAN.

February 23, 1897.—The Republican party of Michigan, in convention assembled, congratulates the country on the magnificent victory of November last and on the return of the Republican party to power. We reaffirm the principles laid down in the last National platform, and we believe that the triumph of Republican principles will restore the country to that condition of prosperity which it has always enjoyed under Republican supremacy.

MINNESOTA. REPUBLICAN.

March 24, 1896.—The platform advocated a good system of coast defenses and a strong army and navy; declared the conviction that the people of Cuba ought to be recognized as belligerents, and urged the preference of William McKinley for President. The financial plank read as follows: "We favor the use of both gold and silver to the extent to which they can be maintained in circulation at the parity in purchasing and debt-paying powers; we are earnestly opposed, under the present restrictions, to the free and unlimited coinage of silver, for the manifest reasons that it would destroy such parity, enormously contract the volume of currency by forcing gold out of circulation and immediately place us on a silver basis. Believing that it is a self-evident fact that the effect of the international demonetization of silver can be overcome only by international remonetization of that metal, the Republican party of Minnesota most heartily favors an international conference of the foreign Powers for that purpose."

It also declared "we are in favor of a tariff duty on foreign importations producing sufficient revenue for the support of the Government, and so adjusted as to protect American industries. We demand the restoration of the principle of reciprocity as a natural policy, and favor, as the logical correlative of our protective tariff laws, such treaty stipulations with foreign countries as will provide a profitable market for our surplus products, and enable us to buy from them on terms mutually advantageous."

Resolutions also declared that the Monroe Doctrine should be upheld; that the Cuban insurgents should be recognized as belligerents, and favored the doctrine of arbitration and a system of stronger coast defence and the development of the Navy.

July 1, 1896.—The platform indorsed that adopted by the National Convention of 1896, also the National ticket; advocated the construction of good roads and pledged to promote the enactment of suitable legislation to that end; favored the taxation of unused railroad lands; recognized the just claims of the laboring people of the State and their equal right to the benefit and protection of its laws. The closing plank read:

"We call upon all citizens of this commonwealth to unite with us in restoring to our country the blessings of prosperity which we so long enjoyed under Republican rule and to the upholding of the credit of our State and Nation at home and abroad by the wise, patriotic and vigorous measures and principles by which the Republican party has ever been guided."

DEMOCRATIC.

June 11, 1896.—The Committee on Platform made a majority and minority report, one declaring for gold and the other for the free coinage of silver. The former was adopted by a vote of 420 to 323, and the money plank was as follows:

"We are unqualifiedly in favor of the present gold standard of value. We favor the use of both gold and silver as money and believe our Government should coin and keep in circulation as a part of the circulating medium as large an amount of silver as can be employed without destroying or threatening to destroy the existing parity of value between the unit in gold and the unit in silver. We oppose the free coinage of silver by our Government at the ratio of 16 to 1 without co-operation on the part of the other commercial nations of the world."

August 4, 1896.—The platform declared in favor of the proceedings of the National Convention of 1896, denounced the National Republican platform, and demanded an amendment to the Federal Constitution providing for the election of the President and Vice-President and United States Senators by the direct vote of the people.

MISSISSIPPI. REPUBLICAN.

March 4, 1896.—The resolutions reaffirmed faith in and all allegiance to the time-honored principles of the Republican party, as set forth in the platform adopted at the last Republican Convention; they hailed with delight recent Republican victories, and accepted them as evidence of a lack of public confidence in the administrative ability of the Democratic party, and the results of the elections in Maryland, Kentucky, West Virginia, Tennessee, Missouri and North Carolina were declared as harbingers of the approach of the dawn that shall ere long usher Mississippi into the light of true political liberty; also urged upon all Republicans to qualify themselves in every particular for citizenship.

A faction, headed by John R. Lynch, bolted the convention and held a convention of its own, at which resolutions were adopted swearing allegiance to Republican principles.

DEMOCRATIC.

April 29, 1896.—"Resolved, By the Democrats of Mississippi in convention assembled, that we favor the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at the ratio of 16 to 1 without waiting for the action or co-operation of any other Nation, and we hereby instruct our delegates to the National Democratic Convention to be held in Chicago in July next to vote for a platform embodying these principles; and we further instruct said delegates to vote for no man for President or Vice-President who is not fully and unequivocally in favor of the principles above expressed.

"Resolved, That the delegates to the National Convention from this State be instructed to vote as a unit on all questions."

A resolution instructing the delegates to present the name of Senator Waltham for Vice-President was adopted with a yell.

A resolution to indorse President Cleveland's foreign policy was referred to the next State Convention.

MISSOURI. REPUBLICAN.

May 12, 1896.—The platform began by referring to the tariff, noting that under a Democratic schedule labor and capital are idle and the home market largely destroyed, and continued:

"We demand a return to the sound Republican policy of protection and reciprocity under the reign of reciprocity as advocated by Blaine and enforced by Harrison's Administration. . . . We are firm and emphatic in our demand for honest money. We believe that our money should not be inferior to the money of the most enlightened nation of the earth. We are unalterably opposed to any scheme that threatens to debase or deprecate our currency. We favor the use of silver as currency, but to the extent only and under such regulations that its parity with the present gold standard can be maintained; and, in consequence, we are opposed to the free, unlimited and independent coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1."

It also declared that William McKinley was the choice for President.

July 23, 1896.—The platform was a short one and indorsed every plank in the St. Louis platform. Indorsed the nomination of McKinley and Hobart, deplored the communistic tendencies of the Democratic party and its reflections on the highest judicial authority, and its censure of the Federal Government. "It should be disowned by all friends of law and order," says the platform. Tampering with the ballot and the gerrymandering of Congress and Senate districts were denounced as vicious and unjust.

DEMOCRATIC.

April 15, 1896.—On money the platform said:

"We demand the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold into primary or redemption money at the ratio of 16 to 1, without waiting for the action or approval of any other government; we are irrevocably opposed to the substitution for metallic money of a panic-breeding corporation credit currency based on a single metal, the supply of which is so limited that it can be cornered at any time by a few banking institutions in Europe and America; we are opposed to the policy and practice of surrendering to the holders of the obligations of the United States the option reserved by the law to the Government of redeeming such obligations in either silver coin or gold coin; we are opposed to the issuing of interest-bearing bonds of the United States in time of peace, and especially are we opposed to placing the Treasury of the Government under the control of any syndicate of bankers and the issuance of bonds to be sold by them at an enormous profit for the purpose of supplying the Federal Treasury with gold to maintain the policy of gold monometallism."

The platform also declared for a tariff for revenue only; condemned the use of Federal troops in the States by the Federal Government for the suppression of domestic riot, no call being made for such troops by the regularly constituted State authority; and unalterably opposed a government by injunction by the Federal courts; favored the imposition of an income tax.

August 5, 1896.—The platform indorsed the nominations and platform of the National Democratic Convention of 1896, and had this plank on silver:

"We demand the immediate restoration of the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1, without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation. We demand that the standard silver dollar shall be a full legal tender, equally with gold, for all debts, public or private, and we favor such legislation as will prevent the demonetization of any kind of legal-tender money by private contract."

It also favored liberal appropriations for the public schools, State University and State normals; an efficient road law that will encourage the improvement of the public roads throughout the State; also laws to protect the free labor of the State from competition with prison labor.

SOUND MONEY DEMOCRATS.

February 29, 1896.—The platform denounced the attempt of the free-silver advocates to commit the Democratic party of the several States to the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 of gold, regardless of the commercial value of the two metals, and regardless of the action of the other commercial nations of the world; and criticised as selfish and undemocratic any move to the debasement of the National currency. It added:

"Public credit is private security. Faith in the integrity of Government is essential to business prosperity. Debasement of the currency means an impairment of all past obligations and uncertainty, as to those of the future. Under such conditions, financial panics and industrial depressions are inevitable. And the people are not blind to the teaching of experience. No party in this country has ever succeeded to power by an attack upon the public credit, and no party ever will. The experiment was tried in 1894, with what success we know too well."

MONTANA. REPUBLICAN.

May 11, 1896.—The platform demanded the restoration of silver to its ancient money function as a means of equalizing the difference in exchange, and the re-establishment of the protective tariff policy as a necessary means of equalizing the differences in wages and the cost of living.

Bimetallism, Protection and Reciprocity were the three cardinal principles of Republican faith, and a declaration was made for the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at a ratio of 16 to 1, independently by the United States. The Democratic Administration was denounced for its efforts to foist upon the country its twin factors of cheapness, free trade and the gold standard, and for dishonoring the National flag in Hawaii, refusing to recognize Cuba and increasing the National debt.

September 11, 1896.—The resolutions indorsed the National platform, save as to the financial plank. The convention then split, the Silver Republicans indorsing Bryan and Sewall, and the Sound Money Republicans indorsing the McKinley ticket.

DEMOCRATIC.

June 20, 1896.—"As a question overshadowing all others which to-day engages the thoughts and affects the welfare of the people of the United States we are in favor of the restoration of silver as money as it existed prior to its covert demonetization in 1873. For this purpose we demand that the mints of the United States be opened to the free coinage of silver as well as gold at the ratio of 16 to 1 without waiting the action of other nations. We declare it our belief that the demonetization of silver is the prime cause of its depreciation, and also of the general stagnation that exists in all branches of industry and trade throughout the United States, and that permanent prosperity can be restored only by the restoration of silver to its former place of money equality with gold. We believe the free coinage of silver will not only revive the drooping industries of the country, but the natural and inevitable result of free coinage will be to enlarge and extend the foreign commerce of the country, particularly with all nations having a like system of currency as our own. We believe that the use of both gold and silver as money will put it beyond the power of any combination of capitalists, whether at home or abroad, to so concentrate money as to be able to raise or depress at will the products of labor throughout the world, a condition not only possible, but probable, if gold is the only money by which values are measured."

The platform also declares for a tariff for revenue, and opposes the issuance of bonds in time of peace.

POPULIST.

June 24, 1896.—The platform declared for free silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, and for the initiative and referendum; they denounced the Cleveland Administration for its action in Chicago during the A. R. U. strike, and denounced the imprisonment of Eugene V. Debs as an outrage. The question of fusion on the silver question with some other National party in the Presidential election was left to the judgment of the delegates, and they went uninstructed, but a majority personally favored a union of silver forces.

NEBRASKA. REPUBLICAN.

August 26, 1897.—The platform adopted is essentially a reiteration of the St. Louis declarations. It congratulates President McKinley on his successful Administration, indorses the new tariff law, and hails with joy the return of business confidence and financial health. It expresses abhorrence of the crimes committed by defaulting ex-State officials and criticizes Governor Holcomb for alleged neglect in allowing such crimes. It also charges the Governor with attempting to array class against class and with discrediting the State in the Eastern press. Sympathy with Cuba is expressed.

FREE SILVER REPUBLICANS.

September 1, 1897.—The platform adopted by the Silver Republicans declared loyalty to the money of the Constitution, and favored free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at 16 to 1.

FREE SILVER DEMOCRATS.

September 1, 1897.—The platform adopted indorsed the Chicago platform; denounced the attempt made to secure the retirement of greenbacks; deplored the delay in settling the Hawaiian question, and extended sympathy to the striking coal miners.

POPULISTS.

September 1, 1897.—The platform reaffirmed the principles of the National platform adopted at St. Louis in 1896. It reiterated the loyalty of the party to the free coinage of silver at a ratio 16 to 1. The money plank was:

"We pledge the people that there shall be no faltering until private corporations are stripped of the privilege of issuing money and until all our currency, whether coin or paper, shall be issued by the Government and shall all be standard money of the United States."

The platform congratulated William J. Bryan, "who, though defeated, is still triumphant; who, having neither rank nor riches, is still the most popular citizen in the Republic."

Regarding prosperity the platform said: "We are thankful to Providence rather than to any man for the measure of prosperity with which our State has been blessed, and we attribute the rise in wheat to foreign scarcity rather than suppose it to be the result of dear sugar or an increased tariff on straw."

It favored the independence of Cuba, and condemned the Republican party "for having failed to carry out the specific pledge of their National platform on this question."

It viewed with alarm the settled policy of the present National Administration to retire greenback currency and issue gold interest-bearing bonds; it denounced such a course as a betrayal of the interest of the people; commended the striking coal miners in their fight; condemned the examples of "government by injunction"; congratulated Nebraska on her splendid crops and on the "great exposition soon to be held at Omaha"; commended the administration of Governor Holcomb; commended the action of the Legislature in reducing appropriations half a million dollars; pledged the efforts of the party to secure reduced freight rates; pledged the power of the party to endeavor to rescue the Supreme Court from partisanship, and denounced as un-American the attempt of organized wealth to banish able men from educational institutions because of personal views on social or economic questions.

NEVADA.

REPUBLICAN.

May 9, 1896.—The platform favored the restoration of the currency to the basis existing prior to 1873, with the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1; recommended the displacement of Nevada's Senators and Representatives as non-residents and favored tariff protection.

September 11, 1896.—"We pledge anew our faith at the altar of protection to American industries and appeal to the history of our country to sustain us in declaring that the protective tariff principle has been the very keystone in every arch of prosperity which has spanned the boundaries of our Nation, that in every instance of its displacement from our revenue system havoc and ruin have been a certain result. We denounce the threatened Democratic and Populist free trade alliance with England and the cheap labor countries of Europe and Asia as a contemplated federation against well-paid American labor. We insist that many of the languishing industries of Nevada can be revived only by returning to the great Republican doctrine of Protection and to the accomplishment of that result we earnestly invite the cooperation of all earnest citizens."

"We declare that the free coinage of silver by international agreement would satisfactorily adjust the monetary relations between the precious metals. As a feasible measure to lead to an international agreement for the free coinage of silver, to the promotion of which the National Republican party is firmly pledged by its platform, we declare ourselves in favor of the free coinage of the silver product of American mines, at the ratio of 16 to 1, and of accompanying legislation imposing a prohibitive duty upon foreign silver bullion and coins, and a discriminating tariff schedule against all imports from gold standard countries, until an agreement shall be effected between the great commercial nations providing for the free coinage of the precious metals, or until it shall be practicably demonstrated that the volume of coined silver of American production can no longer be increased and maintained in circulation upon an equality in business transactions with our other forms of National currency."

Other planks declared in favor of a non-sectarian system of public instruction; demanded that no one should be elected a United States Senator or Representative in Congress from Nevada, and that no person should be given a Federal appointment in the State, except such person elected or appointed is an actual resident thereof; demanded that there should be the most thorough enforcement of the "Purity of Election Law"; favored the exclusion of immigrant paupers and criminals; also equal settlement of international differences.

DEMOCRATIC.

June 10, 1896.—The platform indorsed the Administration of President Cleveland in everything except its financial policy; commended its course upon the tariff question and the Monroe Doctrine; favored "Home Rule" everywhere, and insisted that it should prevail in Nevada; opposed for public office in the State every person not an actual resident, and whose interests are not identified with the commonwealth; denounced all societies, secret or otherwise, organized for the purpose of interfering with the rights or privileges of any religious sect or denomination; favored the election of United States Senators by popular vote. The money plank reads: "We most emphatically declare for the free and unlimited coinage and use of silver and gold as money at the established ratio of 16 to 1, without asking permission or waiting for the co-operation of any foreign Government, each to be receivable for all public dues and to be a full legal tender in payment for all debts, public and private. This result, we are confident, can only be secured through the direct instrumentality of the National Democratic party. Metallic money has ever been a cardinal principal of the Democracy, and with the Democracy rests the only hope for the restoration of silver to its former position in the currency volume of the Nation, from which it was displaced by a Republican Congress and President in 1873."

NEW-HAMPSHIRE. REPUBLICAN.

March 31, 1896.—"The Republicans of New-Hampshire congratulate their fellow-citizens of all parties on the near approach of an opportunity to rescue their country from the misrule of the Democratic party, which for three years has by its incompetence and wickedness paralyzed their productive industries and crippled their mercantile and commercial enterprise, destroyed much of the value of their property, deprived them of profitable employment and spread among them disappointment, privation and distress; which has added constantly and rapidly to the National debt, impaired the National credit, cast suspicion on the National currency and sullied the National reputation at home and abroad; which has profited none of our people, except sheriffs, assignees and the favored speculators in Government bonds, and which, though rebuked by the voters in 1894 and 1895 with an emphasis never equalled, doggedly refuses to be corrected by its chastisement and persists in using the power it retains to perpetuate and intensify the misery and disgrace it has brought upon us.

"To the end that this great deliverance may be fully accomplished, and our Nation may be restored to the honor, glory and material prosperity to which it attained under a Republican policy, and continue the wonderful development which was brought to a stop by the incoming of President Cleveland and his Congress, we demand of the National Convention soon to assemble at St. Louis the nomination of candidates whose election will mean the speedy repeal of the infamous and ruinous Democratic tariff and the substitution thereof of one based on the principles of the McKinley act for the protection of our domestic industries, the promotion of reciprocal trade with other countries, and the procurement of abundant revenues as far as is possible at the expense of foreigners who market their merchandise in competition with our own productions; the enactment of currency laws that will provide a circulation medium in gold, silver and paper, which will always be interchangeable at its face value because each and every dollar of it is of the same purchasing power as a gold dollar; liberal appropriations for an adequate Navy and coast and harbor defence and internal improvement; fair, generous treatment of the Union veteran; a foreign policy characterized by sturdy Americanism, including the assertion of the Monroe Doctrine, and the moral and material support of the Cuban patriots if they have not already achieved their independence; and an immediate return to all policies in which the Republican party has so successfully illustrated the soundness of its principles and to the methods by which it has demonstrated its ability, and application of those principles in the administration of the Government."

September 3, 1896.—The platform in part read:

"We accept and indorse the platform of the National Republican party because, among other reasons, it stands for honest money, of which every dollar, at all times, shall be as good as gold; because it stands for reciprocity; because it stands for a vigorous and dignified foreign policy, and for the protection of American citizens and American property everywhere, at all hazards, and at any cost; because it stands for a generous recognition of the veterans of the Union Army and for a reform in the administration of pensions; because it stands for a strict enforcement of our immigration laws, and because it stands for all wise and legitimate efforts to lessen and prevent the evils of intemperance, and on this subject is consistent with the settled legislative policy of the Republican party of this State.

"We unite with all patriotic citizens in denouncing the so-called Democratic National platform for its position upon almost every question vitally affecting the interest of the people and the stability of the Republic; for its approval of government by mob rather than by law; for its cowardly assault upon our courts; for its proposition to pack the Supreme Bench of the United States for its partisan purposes; for its seditious attempts to promote sectional jealousies; for its treasonable purpose to incite social war and provoke contests between classes; for its sympathy with Anarchism; for its undertaking to repudiate public and private debts; for its avowed intention to uproot and overturn our existing monetary system, under which, prior to the Chicago Convention, every dollar, whether gold, silver or paper, bearing the stamp of the United States Government, was worth one dollar in gold in every market in the world, and in place thereof to substitute money based on silver monometallism, depreciated and unstable, the purchasing value of which will destroy our industries, endanger every business enterprise and lessen the value of wages of labor."

DEMOCRATIC.

May 20, 1896.—The platform contained these planks, declaring "that under present conditions there can be but one standard of value, and that every kind of currency should rest upon a gold basis so long as gold is the standard recognized by the great commercial nations of the world, and we heartily commend the action of President Cleveland in so firmly maintaining our public credit and faith in the face of formidable opposition.

"That we favor a system of tariff taxation so adjusted as to produce the necessary revenues to meet the present expenses of honest government, with the least possible burden upon the people, and afford such incidental protection as will meet the requirements of American capital and labor.

"That the Monroe Doctrine embodies our idea of National self-defence, and should be vigorously maintained.

"That the civil and religious rights of all our people, as guaranteed them under the Constitution, should be sedulously guarded, and that no proscription on account of religious opinions should be countenanced or tolerated."

September 2, 1896.—The principal plank in the platform was:

"We, the Democracy of New-Hampshire, in delegate convention assembled, recognizing the action of the National Convention held in Chicago on the seventh day of July last as authority for party action on all political subjects therein stated, hereby adopt the platform of said convention and pledge ourselves to the earnest support of William J. Bryan and Arthur Sewall, candidates for President and Vice-President."

Other planks demanded a "well regulated license law, based upon the principle of local option," and denounced the Republican State administration. A resolution indorsing the Cleveland Administration was greeted with cheers and hisses, but was rejected by only 21 votes in the affirmative. Judge Bingham and other gold Democrats bolted the convention.

NEW-JERSEY. REPUBLICAN.

April 16, 1896.—"The Republicans of New-Jersey affirm their adherence to the Republican policy of protection to American labor. Such a tariff should be imposed upon imports as will afford adequate income for the expenses of the Government, avoid increase of the National debt, revive American industries, restore American wages and re-establish the National prosperity on a sound and stable basis.

"The reciprocity policy adopted by a Republican Administration and destroyed by the Democratic party should be restored.

"We believe that the Monroe Doctrine should be maintained, and that no extension of monarchical institutions should be permitted on this continent on any pretext.

"The honor of the American flag and the influence of the Nation in its relations with other people must be vigorously and fearlessly maintained. In our diplomacy there should be more of the virile force and emphasis which command respect. Our Navy should be enlarged so that it may be made an effective factor in any controversies which may arise, and our harbors and seacoasts (especially the exposed seacoasts of our own State) should be protected by an adequate system of defences.

"Recalling the struggles and the suffering of our forefathers to secure liberty and Independence, we believe that the practical sympathy of this Nation should be extended to all peoples who have been driven, by oppression and wrong, to take up arms in behalf of the right of self-government.

"The welfare of the country demands that our immigration laws should be amended so as to prevent the admission of all persons whose presence here endangers the social order and disastrously affects the interests of the workingmen.

"We have always given protection to our shipbuilders. In late years we have neglected to protect our ship-owners. We believe the time has come to return to the policy of Washington and Hamilton, which, by discriminating duties in favor of American bottoms, secured 90 per cent of our carrying trade to American ships, and which, if now restored, would again revive our shipping and cause American freights to be paid to Americans.

"The standard value in this country and in the other principal commercial nations of the world is gold. Wages and prices have been made and fixed in accordance with this standard, and the welfare of the people demands that it should be maintained. We regard the agitation of the free coinage of silver as a serious obstacle to our country's prosperity."

August 27, 1896.—"The Republicans of New-Jersey reaffirm their devotion to the principles and policy which have controlled the party since it came into existence. We indorse and approve in its entirety the platform adopted by the National Convention at St. Louis, and we especially declare our adherence to the principles of protection to American industries and the preservation of the integrity of our currency. We believe that the debasement of the currency by the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 would work irreparable injury to every class of our citizens. It means a practical repudiation of public and private debts and the destruction of public confidence, abandonment of enterprises, and a general stagnation of business. It means idle factories, low wages and financial ruin and distress, especially and first of all to the great mass of our people who belong to the wage-earning class. It is to the interest of every voter, and it is the duty of every believer in personal and National honor, to oppose by voice and vote this political and financial heresy. We are unalterably opposed to the proposition to destroy the protection we now enjoy under the Supreme Court of the United States, the most honored and in the last resort the most necessary institution, and the proposition to restrain the arm of the National Executive from the repression of lawless violence, and we call upon all voters of the State, of whatever political party, to aid in repelling the most violent assault that has ever been made upon the interests of the people and the honor of the Nation.

"We extend a cordial welcome to those of our citizens who, while still identified with the Democratic party, intend to vote for McKinley and Hobart. We acknowledge their assistance, their unselfish patriotism and confidently believe their action will not only merit the approval of their conscience, but that the future will show the wisdom of the same.

"We especially commend the fitness and ability of the candidates presented by the Republican National Convention. We recognize them as the representatives of honesty and integrity of the Republican party; as citizens to whose care our National affairs may safely be intrusted, and we pledge ourselves to the support of William McKinley and Garret A. Hobart for President and Vice-President."

DEMOCRATIC.

May 7, 1896.—Money—"We are in favor of a firm, unvarying maintenance of the present gold standard. We are opposed to the free coinage of silver at any ratio and to the compulsory purchase of silver bullion by the Government. We believe that the interests of the people demand that the earnings of trade, agriculture, manufacture and commerce, and especially the wages of labor, should be paid in money of the greatest intrinsic value and of the highest standard adopted by the civilized nations of the world. We are, therefore, unalterably opposed to all devices and schemes for the debasement of our currency."

Bond Issues—"We believe that the Federal Government should be divorced from the business of banking; we, therefore, demand the repeal of all laws authorizing the issue or reissue of legal-tender or Treasury notes by the Government; they should form no part of the currency of the people. We favor the enactment by Congress of such legislation as will insure a banking currency ample in volume for all the needs of business, absolutely secure in every contingency and at all times redeemable in gold."

Tariff—"We are opposed to any effort to alter materially the present just and conservative tariff: 1. Because such tariff is sufficient to provide adequate revenue for an economically administered Government. 2. Because it is ample to protect American workmen from the competition of foreign labor. 3. Because an attempt to alter the present tariff would tend to unsettle the business of the country."

The platform favored liberal expenditures for coast defence and the Navy; indorsed President Cleveland and his stand on the Monroe Doctrine, and advocated recognizing the Cubans as belligerents.

September 9, 1896.—The platform indorsed the candidates and the platform adopted by the National Convention at Chicago, insisting that the latter is "thoroughly Democratic and purely American, and with its enforcement we firmly believe that relief will come to the toiling masses and will advance the general prosperity of our country"; opposed combines and trusts; demanded that the tax laws of the State be amended so as to provide for equal taxation for property not used for religious, charitable or educational purposes; favored the abolition of grade-crossings, and denounced the interference of any employer of labor, private or corporate, to coerce or intimidate the voter in the free exercise of the right of suffrage.

SOUND MONEY DEMOCRATS.

August 26, 1896.—The platform reaffirmed the policy and principles adopted by the convention on May 7, 1896, and added:

"Since the Democratic party of New-Jersey announced these sound principles, an attempt has been made to commit the Democratic party of the Nation to the policy of free, unlimited coinage of legal-tender silver dollars at the legal ratio of 16 to 1, and to make such silver dollars the money in which shall be paid all debts, public and private, present and future. Such dollars would be worth about half such coinage ratio. We reject the proposed repudiation and spoliation."

"We condemn the assault upon and the threatened degradation of the Supreme Court of the United States."

"We condemn the approval of mob violence, contained in the censure of a Democratic Administration for suppressing mob violence."

"We condemn all appeals to sectional prejudice and passion, and all attempts to excite and array any part of the people against others."

"The principles announced by the Chicago Convention and advocated by the candidates that convention nominated are not the principles of the Democratic party. Such principles, carried into effect, would dishonor and revolutionize the Government. We refuse to support either the platform or the nominees of that convention."

"We approve the call for a convention to nominate Democratic candidates for President and Vice-President who adhere to and will represent the traditional and time-honored principles of the Democratic party."

SILVERITES.

July 6, 1896.—"Resolved, That this convention demands the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, without the concerted action of other countries"

"Resolved, That we denounce the attempt to retire the greenbacks and Treasury notes, together with silver, and in their place to substitute interest-bearing bonds to the amount of over $800,000,000, upon which to base a National bank currency, as class legislation of the most infamous nature."

"Resolved, That we denounce the establishment by Congress of the National banking system as an unwarranted and unpatriotic usurpation of authority of the Constitution and the privileges of the people delegated to their Government alone. The bimetalists of New-Jersey are of all parties, and in order to unify and make potent our effort we therefore pledge our untiring efforts and support to the election of any candidate whose reputation is a guarantee, if elected to the Presidency, to carry out the principles herein involved. Believing in the sovereignty of the common people, and that all men are created free and equal, we extend our sympathy to the Cubans in their heroic efforts for freedom."

POPULISTS.

May 30, 1896.—The platform reaffirmed the National platform of 1892 and called upon the National Convention to insert a plank in the platform of 1896 favoring the "initiative and referendum," the system of legislation which is initiated by the people, acted upon by legislators and then referred back to the people for their approval or rejection.

SOCIALIST-LABOR.

August 1, 1896.—The platform affirmed that of the National Convention and added a solemn warning to all Socialists to avoid the Republican, Democratic and Populist parties, with their snares of protection, free trade, free silver and gold standard.

PROHIBITION.

May 6, 1896.—The platform adopted was a sweeping document. After acknowledging allegiance to God and enmity toward rum, it declared the traffic in intoxicating drinks "the prime evil of the day," demanded its total suppression by law, to the end that men may not be led into temptation, and that this "great promoter of unhappiness and poverty may cease to oppress our people." After expressing confidence in the stability of the Prohibition party, the platform declared for women's suffrage and civil service for all branches of the Government. The Democratic party of New-Jersey was arraigned because of its flagrant advocacy of the liquor traffic, and the Republican party because of its continued duplicity to the temperance people. Church members who vote in favor of any party which recognizes, advocates or upholds the license system are jointly held responsible for the evil results of the liquor traffic with those who are directly engaged in the business. The platform concluded by declaring for the referendum.

NEW-MEXICO. DEMOCRATIC.

June 15, 1896.—The platform favored free coinage of silver at 16 to 1 and an income tax, and indorsed Richard P. Bland for the Presidency.

NEW-YORK. REPUBLICAN.

March 24, 1896.—"The Republicans of New-York, in convention assembled, again declare their firm and unyielding adherence to the doctrine of protection to American industries, protection to the products of the American farm, and protection to American labor. We are in favor of a tariff which, while providing an income sufficient to meet the expenses of government honestly and economically administered, at the same time secures home labor and home capital from unequal foreign competition. We believe in a reciprocity with other nations which shall give our producers and manufacturers an opportunity to dispose of their surplus products and to obtain articles we desire from those countries on the most advantageous terms.

"The agitation for the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 seriously disturbs all industrial interests, and calls for a clear statement of the Republican party's attitude upon this question, to the end that the trade of this country at home and abroad may again be placed upon a sound and stable foundation. We recognize in the movement for the free coinage of silver an attempt to degrade the long-established standard of our monetary system, and hence a blow to public and private credit at once costly to the National Government and harmful to our domestic and foreign commerce. Until there is a prospect of international agreement as to silver coinage, and while gold remains the standard of the United States and of the civilized world, the Republican party of New-York declares itself in favor of the firm and honorable maintenance of that standard.

"We believe in a business administration of the Government by business men on business principles, for the benefit of the suffering business interests of this great people. For nearly four years the material progress of the Nation has been blocked; all branches of trade have suffered, and the workmen have been deprived of reasonable and living wages by the utter lack of business common sense among our Democratic rulers. It is the duty and privilege of the Republican party to promptly mend this unhappy state of affairs by nominating and electing a business man for the Presidency, and we ask the aid of thoughtful Republicans everywhere in this great and meritorious work. On this platform we present Governor Levl Parsons Morton as New-York's Republican candidate for President. He is in every way fit for the high honor, and he is peculiarly the man for the hour. He has been a business man with business men. He would prove a business President for the good of all interests of the people. He has been Representative in Congress, Minister to France, Vice-President of the United States, Governor of New-York, and each of these positions he has filled with an ability which has never been surpassed, with lasting credit to himself and great benefit to his State and to his country. His grasp of public affairs was never so clear and comprehensive as it is to-day, and his ability to labor earnestly for the welfare of the Nation was never so distinctly marked as now. Governor Morton's long and varied public career offers proof positive that he is a sincere and earnest Republican, and that fidelity to the principles of his party is with him a second nature. He stands for honesty in public office. There is no shadow of doubt as to the high esteem in which he is held at home. Two years since he polled over 156,000 more votes than the most popular Democrat in the State, receiving by far the greatest majority ever given a Republican candidate for Governor. Governor Morton's long and honorable public service, his spotless character, his great executive ability, his devotion to his party and its principles, eminently fit him for the Presidency, and entitle him to our hearty and enthusiastic support. Therefore we instruct our delegates to the St. Louis Convention to present him as our candidate for President, and urge upon them to use every honorable means to secure his nomination."

August 25, 1896.—The principal features of the platform were:

Silver.—"The allied Democratic and Populist parties say that their success will lead at once to the free coinage of silver. The Republican party says that the present gold standard must be maintained, and that the way to recover our lost prosperity is to return to the wise industrial policy by which, under Republican rule, prosperity was achieved. The attempt to make an ounce of gold equal in value to only sixteen ounces of silver when it is now worth thirty ounces is hopeless and absurd. The United States could neither take nor use one-half the silver that a free-coinage law would bring to its mints. This fact is so plain to the world of commerce and business that the mere announcement of the success of the Democratic ticket would send gold at once to a premium, drive debtors into cruel liquidation and cause a further withdrawal of capital from investment and a further suspension of industry. No injury could be inflicted upon trade and commerce, no fraud perpetrated upon labor, no shame visited upon the National reputation, more hurtful than would be the enactment of a law compelling the people to accept in the payment of debts a coin for $1 which they could spend for not much more than half that sum. To allege that our stock of money is not now sufficient for the transaction of business is mere assertion, but, if it were true, the evil it implies would not be cured by a law the first and instantaneous effect of which would be to drive out of circulation our entire supply of gold money, more than one-third of the whole. The employment of all the minting resources of the Government in the coinage of silver dollars only could not in a period of fifteen years make up for the deficiency of circulation that would result from the retirement of gold. The currency per capita is to-day greater than it ever has been. The people can take no more money than they can buy with their labor, and what they can buy is value and not mere denomination. To the maintenance of a pure circulation of dollars of full and equal value the Republican party is resolutely pledged, and for the firm establishment of that policy it asks the support of every citizen who wishes neither to cheat nor to be cheated."

Tariff.—"It must be constantly borne in mind that the conditions out of which this agitation for free silver has arisen were created by the Democratic assault on the country's manufacturing industries. If there had been no interruption of the protective policy there would have been no interruption of business, no failure of revenue and no lack of profitable employment for the people. The increase of $262,315,400 to the face of the bonded debt, which four years of Democratic rule has compelled, while in some measure due to the attacks in Congress upon the public credit by the pressure of free-silver bills, had its origin in a tariff act which converted a monthly surplus of revenue into a monthly deficit, and exposed domestic production to unjust competition. The Republican party is wedded to no set of rates and schedules, but its cardinal principle is the protection of American industry. A tariff must be enacted which will provide revenues sufficient to meet the ordinary and necessary expenses of the Government, and so adjusted as to place American labor, without the sacrifice of our high wage-system, on at least equal terms in our own market with the labor of other lands."

The platform and the ticket of the National Convention were emphatically indorsed; the administration of Governor Morton, and also the Legislature of 1896, were commended; the Raines Excise law was praised as a law in the interest of the taxpayer, and equally to the interest of morality, temperance and good government; a plank favored the improvement of the highways and the construction of good roads; and a plank reaffirmed the faith of the Republican party in the great benefits to result from the law establishing the municipality of the Greater New-York.

DEMOCRATIC.

June 24, 1896.—"It would be folly to ignore and impossible to exaggerate the gravity of the conditions under which this convention assembles. Most of the other States of the Union have selected and commissioned their delegates to the National Democratic Convention. By a movement evidently concerted, but, as we believe, ill-advised and ill-considered, instructions have been given to the delegations of a large number of States having for their aim and purpose the adoption of a new policy and a new platform for the Democratic party. No opportunity for a fair and deliberate consideration of such policy and platform has been afforded the Democracy of the State of New-York. Upon such new matter thus proposed to be incorporated among the tenets of the party it becomes the duty of the Democrats of New-York, representing their people, to speak in no equivocal terms.

"Gold and silver, the money of the Constitution and of our fathers—each at a parity with the other in purchasing power—has been the platform of principles proclaimed by every National Democratic Convention which has thus adopted and reaffirmed in each declaration of party faith for a century the wisdom of Thomas Jefferson, who said: 'The monetary unit must stand on both metals.' The action of a Republican Congress and a Republican President deprived silver of its equality with gold for the money and currency of the Nation. From this act (for which the Democratic party was in no-wise responsible), and from the action of other nations following in the same course, it has resulted that silver has greatly declined in commercial value, and there now exists a wide departure of the two metals from the coinage standard of value—bringing disturbance to the financial systems of European countries as well as to our own, and awakening there, as here, the earnest apprehension of statesmen and financiers. The restoration of the equilibrium of the two metals thus disturbed is a problem the solution of which is of the greatest consequence to the prosperity of both this country and of Europe, but is wholly beyond our power without the co-operation of other nations. Such co-operation, by the united efforts of statesmen and wage-earners here and elsewhere, is believed to be near at hand, and to be possible to secure by earnest and well-directed effort. Free coinage of silver by the United States alone can have no other effect than to change our present standard to one of silver—now a depreciated coin—and to retard, perhaps destroy forever, the success of the movement now general throughout civilized countries for the restoration of free bimetallic coinage in the principal mints of the world. The proposition to separate ourselves from the great nations of the world and adopt the monetary standard of Mexico and China does not comport with the pride and financial dignity of the State of New-York or the United States. It should be resisted with the fervor of both partisanship and patriotism by Democrats everywhere, when the adoption of such a course threatens, as it does, untold evils to our Nation's commerce and industry."

Money.—"For these reasons, and with these convictions, the Democrats of New-York, in convention assembled, make the following declaration of their principles and appeal to the Democrats of other States to join with them in incorporating these principles in the party platform to be adopted at Chicago:

"1. We are in favor of gold and silver as the standard money of the country. We are opposed, as a permanent financial policy, to gold monometallism on the one hand, or to silver monometallism on the other hand. The pledge contained in the repeal of the Sherman law, which repealing act was passed by a Democratic Congress and approved by a Democratic President, should be faithfully carried out, wherein it was declared that 'the efforts of the Government should be steadily directed to the establishment of such a safe system of bimetalism as will maintain at all times the equal power of every dollar coined or issued by the United States in the markets and in the payment of debts.' We believe that such bimetalism, to which the Nation is solemnly pledged, can only be safely secured and permanently maintained through the concurrent action of the leading nations of the world. Neither this country, nor any other country, independent and alone, is able to maintain it, and it would be folly to attempt it. Being so convinced, we are opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver in the absence of the co-operation of other great nations. We declare our belief that any attempt upon the part of the United States alone to enter upon the experiment of free-silver coinage would not only prove disastrous to our finances, but would retard, or entirely prevent, the establishment of international bimetalism. Until international co-operation for bimetalism can be secured—to which end all our efforts as a Government and as a people should be in good faith directed—we favor the rigid maintenance of the present gold standard as essential to the preservation of our National credit, the redemption of our public pledges and the keeping inviolate of our country's honor. We insist that all our paper and silver currency shall be kept absolutely at a parity with gold.

2. The Democratic party has ever been and still is the hard-money party, and it will preserve that record. It is opposed to legal-tender paper money as a part of our permanent financial system, and it refuses to sanction any paper currency inconvertible with coin. The United States notes and Treasury notes being, in fact, debts of the Government, should be gradually paid off, retired and cancelled. This should and must be done in such a manner as to cause no contraction of the circulating money of the country. So long as such paper currency exists, however, and is permitted to circulate as money, it should be redeemable at all times upon demand in the standard money of the country. The Democratic party is pledged to the resolute maintenance of the public credit at all times and under all circumstances, and it is therefore opposed to the repeal of any existing statute which enables the Secretary of the Treasury, by the issue of bonds or otherwise, to provide adequate funds for the redemption in gold of our paper obligations whenever necessary."

Tariff.—"We reiterate our adherence to the principle of a tariff for revenue only. We are opposed to Government partnership with protected monopolies, and we demand that import duties, like other taxes, should be impartially laid and their imposition limited to the necessities of the Government economically administered. Federal taxation should not be imposed to benefit individual interests at the expense of the general welfare. We repudiate the doctrine that it is the province of the Government, by the exercise or abuse of the power of taxation, to build up one man's business at the expense of another's, or to impose burdens upon one class of citizens for the benefit of other classes, and we insist that 'no public taxation except for public purposes' is the true theory upon which our system of government is based, and upon which it should be honestly and impartially administered. Upon this principle of revenue reform the Democratic party takes no step backward."

Other planks indorsed the Administration of President Cleveland; appealed to the Democrats of the South "to avert the possibility of a Force bill by uniting with the Democrats of the East and the West in framing a platform on which all Democrats can stand and the united support of which will lead to a glorious Democratic victory"; also sympathizing with the Cubans in their struggles to achieve their freedom and independence.

September 17, 1896.—The first plank read: "The Democratic party of the State of New-York, in convention assembled, unreservedly indorses the platform adopted by the Democratic party at the National Convention held in Chicago on July 7, 1896; cordially approves the nomination there made, pledges to William J. Bryan and Arthur Sewall its hearty and active support, and declares as its deliberate judgment that never in the history of the Democratic party has a platform been written which embodied more completely the interests of the whole people, as distinguished from those who seek legislation for private benefit, than that given to the country by the National Democratic Convention of 1896."

The platform also denounced the Raines Liquor law and pledged the representatives, if elected, "to enact a just and reasonable excise law, restoring the principle of local supervision and regulation," etc.; it arraigned the administration of Governor Morton and the Republican Legislatures; charged that "the administration of the office of Superintendent of Public Works by the present incumbent has been notoriously extravagant, corrupt, regardless of law and defiant of public decency"; reaffirmed adherence to the principle of home rule for municipalities; demanded the strict and honest enforcement of the laws relative to the employment of the war veterans; recommended the building and maintenance of a uniform system of good roads throughout the State, and recommended such a modification and revision of the Employers' Liability and Anti-Conspiracy laws as will offer equal opportunity and secure exact justice to employes and employers.

SOUND MONEY DEMOCRATS.

August 31, 1896.—The platform repudiated the platform and ticket of the National Democratic Convention at Chicago, and on the nomination of William J. Bryan it said:

"Its candidate for President stands as such upon the Populist platform, with its demands for unlimited paper money, distributed direct to the people, and its Socialistic and anti-American demands for the extension of paternal government, as he does upon the platform adopted at Chicago. He actively sought the Populist nomination. Having obtained it, he has never rejected it, and he has never repudiated the declarations of the Populist platform. More than all we deplore the outburst of sectional hate which attended the adoption of the Chicago platform, and the detestable attempt to divide a democratic people, all standing with equal rights and opportunities before the law, into rich and poor, and under the stimulus of the class prejudice thus aroused to treat with reckless contempt the views of the large and earnest minority in the Convention who sought to confine its utterance to a declaration of Democratic principles. This platform is accepted by the Presidential nominee of the Convention in the spirit in which it was adopted. Every speech he delivers is fired with inflammatory appeals to the poor against the rich in a base, un-American effort to obtain votes by creating and stimulating a passionate class hatred among our people. We appeal to our Democratic fellow-citizens seriously to consider this, which is the gravest feature of the pending elections. How long can our Democratic institutions endure if this assault upon them succeeds?"

As to the Chicago platform, it said:

"The Chicago platform attacks the Constitution both in its letter and spirit. It threatens to overcome decisions of the Supreme Court displeasing to the party caucus by packing the court through an increase of the number of judges, thus striking a deadly blow at the vital constitutional principle of the independence of the judiciary. Under the guise of resenting Federal interference in local affairs, it impliedly condemns the exercise of the constitutional powers of the Federal Executive to protect the transportation of the mails, to insure freedom of commerce among the several States and to enforce the decrees of the Federal courts when resisted by force and riot. In proposing to open the mints of the United States to the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, when the relative market values of silver and gold are now in the proportion of 32 to 1, the Chicago platform threatens a partial repudiation of that public debt, the validity of which the Constitution declares 'shall not be questioned.' It reaches a climax of arbitrary interference with individual rights when it seeks to force its debased money upon the public by forbidding contracts which provide for payment in any medium more valuable than the depreciated legal tender which it proposes to establish.

"We repudiate the Chicago platform because it proposes to substitute for our present standard of value, which is equal to the best in the world, an unstable and depreciated standard, which has been rejected by every civilized and prosperous and commercial nation, and which would put us on a monetary level with China, Mexico and other countries where labor is notoriously underpaid. The Chicago platform declares against gold monometallism and advocates legislation which must inevitably lead to silver monometallism; it advocates a monetary system which would offer an unlimited field of speculation to the capitalist, but would materially reduce the purchasing power of every dollar paid to the wage-earner, and punish honest thrift by depreciating the value of every savings-bank deposit and every life insurance policy. It advocates liberal pensions, and at the same time seeks to impair the value of every pension paid by the Government; it condemns the only method provided for keeping inviolate the National credit and favors a policy which must result in partial repudiation of the public debt; it disapproves of the issue of National bank notes secured by the pledge of Government bonds, and suggests no substitute therefor except unlimited paper money, redeemable in debased and fluctuating coin. It covertly attacks the existing Civil Service laws, upon the preservation and extension of which the efficiency of the public service depends. It contemptuously omits all reference to the Administration of the only Democrat who in this generation has had the Presidential office and whose integrity of purpose and firm determination to maintain the National honor have been acknowledged by all classes of his fellow-citizens."

On money, the platform said:

"We hold that it is the duty of the Government of the United States in the exercise of its constitutional functions in respect to coinage and currency to follow and not to force the preferences of the people. The gold standard is a monetary fact which cannot be changed by act of Congress. In the face of the long-continued existence of that standard in the United States and the unmistakable world-wide selection of gold in preference to silver as a monetary standard, any attempt to tamper with that standard is vicious in principle, dishonest in practice, destructive of confidence and thoroughly undemocratic. We are, therefore, in favor of a firm and unvarying maintenance of the present gold standard of value so long as that standard continues to be a monetary fact. We believe that the Federal Government should be directly divorced from the business of banking, and therefore demand the repeal of all laws authorizing the issue of legal-tender or Treasury notes by the Government, or the reissuing of such notes when they have only been redeemed in gold. We favor the enactment by Congress of such legislation as will permit the establishment of a banking currency ample in volume for the needs of business, readily adjusting itself to such needs, absolutely secure in every contingency and at all times redeemable in gold. The silver agitation began in the efforts of the producers of silver to obtain a higher price for their product, and they have as much right to seek the interference of the Government in their behalf (however fruitless it may be) as have the manufacturers of steel or cottons. The Bland-Allison act of 1878 and the so-called Sherman act of 1890 were measures largely designed to afford protection to the producers of silver, and the latter act, under which from 1890 to 1893 the Government of the United States purchased monthly 4,500,000 ounces of silver—nearly six tons daily—and issued Treasury notes therefor, so threatened the National credit and produced such distrust of the power of the Government to maintain the standard of value that to it far more than to any other influence is due the business depression of the last three years, and the consequent free-silver agitation which finds in that depression its only hope of success."

The platform opposed Republican Protection, adding: "We recognize in Protection, by which the Federal power of taxation on imports is exercised for the benefit of a class, the mainstay of trusts, the parent of monopoly, the fruitful source of the present political dangers which threaten the Nation."

The Cleveland Administration was declared to have been "efficient, honorable and economical"; Civil Service was commended, and it was declared that it was impossible to "indorse candidates nominated at Chicago, or the champion of Republican prohibitory protection nominated at St. Louis."

POPULISTS.

September 2, 1896.—The platform was the Omaha platform of 1892 in condensed form. It favored the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1; indorsed Bryan and Watson; condemned the sentence of Eugene V. Debs; favored an income tax, Government ownership of railways, abolishment of National banks, distribution of money by the Government, and the referendum.

PROHIBITION.

September 8, 1897.—The platform confined itself to the liquor question, declaring that the traffic "debases manhood, curses womanhood, menaces childhood, begets immorality and vice, breeds political corruption, blights and oppresses the people, fosters crimes, makes criminals, multiplies the idiotic and insane; is a leech upon wealth, a prime cause of waste, and the chief source of want; is the enemy of the home, the foe of the Church, a parasite upon Christian civilization and a crime against human progress." It protested against the liquor traffic, whether licensed or unlicensed; denounced the Ralnes law and declared it to be the only issue between the political parties of the State, and that its best feature was the local option provision. The final plank read:

"That as the greater includes the less; as prohibition of the liquor traffic is the largest moral, financial and political issue now before the people of this State and Nation; as the establishment of prohibition in State and Nation would be the first and longest step toward all the other reforms proposed or needed, removing the most active and powerful agent and ally of all public evils, we will stand in solid phalanx for this one dominant issue, inviting to our fellowship all who hold with us in condemnation of the saloon and its allied ungodly forces, and in defence of the home, the school, the church and the commonwealth."

NORTH CAROLINA. REPUBLICAN.

May 15, 1896.—The money plank of the platform was as follows: "We favor the use of gold and silver as standard money, and the restoration of silver to its function and dignity as a money metal. We are opposed to retiring greenbacks, the money of the people, the money favored by Lincoln. We are opposed to the issue of interest-bearing bonds in time of peace, and we condemn the policy of Cleveland and Carlisle in contracting the sale of Government bonds to a foreign syndicate on such terms as to enable it to realize the enormous profit of $10,000,000 at the expense of the people. We reaffirm our allegiance to the principles of Republicanism, and pledge our united support to the nominees of the National Republican Convention."

The platform also denounced "the policy of the Democratic party in placing on the free list the great bulk of raw materials for the South and agricultural products of the country;" it favored such a rate of duty on raw materials and agricultural products as will insure ample protection to the American people; it favored such protection to shipowners as would revive the shipping and cause American freights to be paid to America.

DEMOCRATIC.

June 25, 1896.—Money.—"That the Constitution recognizes gold and silver as the primary or redemption money of these States, and that, in the words of the National Democratic platform of 1884, 'we believe in honest money, the gold and silver coinage of the Constitution, and a circulating medium convertible into such money without loss.' We favor, independently of other nations, the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold, without discrimination against either, at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1, and we condemn the system which in time of peace, with millions of silver bullion lying idle in the Treasury, has forced the Government within two years to issue nearly $212,000,000 in bonds. We condemn the action of the Secretary of the Treasury in following the Republican precedent of paying the obligations of the Government in gold, which were specifically made payable in coin. We hereby instruct our delegates to the National Convention, both as to platform and candidates, to advocate and vote as a unit unflinchingly and at all hazards for the restoration of silver and otherwise, in obedience to the letter and spirit of the principles herein enunciated."

Tariff.—"We warn the people against the combined evils of the gold standard and the McKinley tariff. These twin monsters go hand in hand in their mission of destruction, drawing the very sustenance from the body of the people and concentrating all wealth and power in the hands of a few. We denounce the McKinley tariff and all other forms of protective tariff legislation, and favor the constitutional tariff for revenue only."

State Banks.—"We favor the repeal of the unconstitutional tax of 10 per cent on State banks of issue."

Income Tax.—"We declare ourselves in favor of a graduated income tax in order that wealth may bear its due proportion of the burden of supporting the Government, and we favor an immediate amendment of the Constitution of the United States authorizing its levy and collection in express terms, leaving nothing for judicial construction."

POPULIST.

August 13, 1896.—Approved of the platform of the National Convention, 1896; demanded a free ballot and fair count in all elections held in North Carolina; favored the exercise by the State of the reserved constitutional power to make all gold and silver coin of the United States (including the trade dollar) a legal tender for the payment of debts, and that this right be enforced by the passage of an appropriate act by the General Assembly; declared that all money demands should be payable in the lawful money of the United States, without preference or discrimination, and therefore favored the passage by the General Assembly of a law to prohibit the taking or giving of gold notes, bonds and mortgages in this State, and the making of all money demands solvable in any kind of lawful money of the United States; pledged to maintain the 6 per cent interest law enacted by the Legislature; declared in favor of improving and broadening the public school system; condemned the Democratic State Administration for its failure to execute the anti-trust laws; favored the establishment of equitable and low railroad freight rates; recommended a constitutional prohibition of the purchase, lease or rental of parallel or competing railway lines; condemned the lease of the North Carolina Railroad to the Southern Railway Company, and favored a law forbidding the giving of free passes to public officials, and forbidding their receiving the same.

NORTH DAKOTA.

REPUBLICAN.

April 15, 1896.—The platform instructs its delegates for McKinley, declares in favor of Protection and Reciprocity, in favor of the election of Senators by direct vote of the people, denounces the Democrats for increasing the public debt, expresses sympathy for Cuba, and on the financial question says:

"The Republicans of North Dakota are united in their demand for honest money. We are unalterably opposed to any scheme that will give to this country a depreciated or debased currency. We favor the use of silver as currency, but to the extent only and under such restrictions that its parity with gold can be maintained. We are, therefore, opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver until it can be arranged by international agreement."

DEMOCRATIC.

June 4, 1896.—The resolutions adopted indorsed the Wilson Tariff bill, favored the election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people, and approved the utterances of Senator Roach on currency questions, and demanded legislation that will admit silver and gold to free coinage at a ratio of 16 to 1.

OHIO.

REPUBLICAN.

June 23, 1897.—"The Republicans of Ohio rejoice in the magnificent victory of last year, whereby the people of the United States overwhelmingly decided in favor of an honest dollar and a chance to earn it, and elected as President that splendid son of Ohio, William McKinley.

"The platform upon which that victory was won declares the true principles and policy of the Republican party. To all the declarations of that platform we pledge anew our allegiance, and unqualifiedly commend the President and Congress for their wise and statesmanlike execution of its pledges.

"The Republican party has always been the friend of the downtrodden and oppressed, and has always deeply sympathized with the struggle of any people for independence. We extend our sympathy to the patriots of Cuba in their efforts to achieve freedom from Spanish cruelty and oppression, and hope that the day of their deliverance is near at hand. We commend the course of the President, and express our confidence in his speedy and patriotic disposition of the Cuban question in accordance with wise statesmanship and a firm and vigorous foreign policy.

"We believe that the Administration in negotiating the treaty for the annexation of Hawaii has acted wisely, and we express the hope that the Senate will ratify the same.

"We denounce the violation of the spirit of the Civil Service act by President Cleveland in those orders which extended its operation beyond its purpose and intent, and demand such revocation of orders or modification of the law as will accomplish its manifest purpose.

"We commend reforms inaugurated in the Pension Bureau under the present Administration, and regard them an earnest of the sincerity of our pledges to the veterans of the Republic, which we here renew, of a watchful care and recognition and enforcement of their just claims upon a grateful people.

"We favor the passage by Congress of such a law as will provide a National Board of Arbitration to secure, as far as possible, the adjustment and settlement of such differences as may arise between corporations engaged in interstate commerce and their employees.

"Faithfully wedded to the principle of protection, we demand for the wool-growers of Ohio such ample protection for wool as shall speedily increase American flocks sufficiently to supply all American needs.

"We indorse the wise, faithful and satisfactory administration of Governor Bushnell, and congratulate the people of this State upon the financial condition of their commonwealth, which demonstrates that the legislative power of the State was economically and honestly exercised by a Republican Legislature. We promise a continuance of biennial sessions; such legislation as may be necessary to remedy the present inequalities of taxation; the making of only such appropriations as may properly be required for the needs of our rapidly growing State; and the avoidance of unnecessary special legislation, believing that the Republican idea of home rule is best subserved by leaving the broadest possible powers of local government with the people. The success of the Republican party will insure the advantages of better schools, better roads, and all those progressive ideas which keep Ohio at the head of the sisterhood of States.

"The thanks of the people of this State are due to Senators Foraker and Hanna for their splendid efforts during the present session of Congress, and we congratulate the people on their representation in the United States Senate.

"Desiring to continue such representation, and appreciative of his services to the party and to the people of the State and Nation, and his eminent and proved fitness for the place, we indorse the candidacy of the Hon. Marcus A. Hanna for United States Senator to succeed himself, and pledge the support of the party in the next General Assembly to his election to both the short and long terms."

DEMOCRATIC.

June 30, 1897.—The platform reaffirmed and indorsed the declaration of principles contained in the Democratic National platform at Chicago in 1896, "in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, as legal-tender money, without waiting for the consent of any other nation"; it opposed the retirement of non-interest-bearing legal-tender notes of the United States, either by the substitution of National bank notes or by the accumulation of a surplus in the Treasury to enable the Secretary to impound them; declared that a surplus is not only an evidence of excessive, and therefore unconstitutional, taxation, but is a self-evident contraction of the already insufficient volume of the currency; favored a tariff for revenue sufficient to meet the demands of the Government economically administered, and declared that the existing Democratic tariff laws were sufficient; declared all trusts and monopolies hostile and dangerous to the people's interest and a standing menace to the perpetuity of our free institutions; demanded the rigorous enforcement of all anti-trust laws and such additional legislation as may be necessary for their immediate and final suppression; demanded the recognition of the belligerent rights of the Republic of Cuba as an act of justice to an American nation struggling for liberty against foreign oppressors, and denounced and protested against the election of Senator Hanna.

NATIONAL DEMOCRATS.

September 9, 1897.—The platform reaffirmed allegiance to the principles of the party as set forth in the platform adopted at Indianapolis in 1896; and declared that the criticism and attack upon the platform have vindicated its strength and wisdom. So declared for the maintenance of the gold standard, for the retirement of the greenback, and for the extension of the Civil Service merit system wherever possible in the Nation and State. It demanded retrenchment of expenses and scope of Government, so that there be left the utmost freedom of individual effort consistent with safety and peace; denounced the recent tariff legislation as an encouragement of extravagance and an infringement of private right, an unfair tax on all for the benefit of some of the people, and an arbitrary interference by legislation with the natural laws of trade; denounced in the Dingley bill the heavier duties on lumber, wool and hides as increasing the cost of clothing and shelter to the people; condemned the proposed annexation of the Hawaiian Islands as introducing into our Union a large Asiatic and tropical population utterly unfitted for American citizenship, as the beginning of a policy of territorial expansion certain to entail upon our country large taxation to sustain strong armies and navies in distant lands and on distant seas, and as constituting a menace to peaceful industry by exposing our country to foreign wars; and disapproved the hostile action of the Republican party of Ohio in its attack on Civil Service Reform, and expressed thanks to President McKinley for his support and extension of the merit system.

POPULIST.

August 11, 1897.—The preamble declared the party's purposes to be identical with those of the National Constitution; that the Republic can only endure as a free Government while built upon the love of the whole people for each other and for the Nation; that it is the duty of the whole people, acting through National, State and municipal administrations, to see that opportunities for employment are open to all who are in enforced idleness by reason of closing of shops, factories and mines, and because of the improvement of labor-saving machinery. It continued: "It is the crime of the nineteenth century that three millions of our fellow-citizens are in involuntary idleness, thus causing an irretrievable loss of millions of dollars daily, hence we demand that whenever any State, Territory, township, municipality or incorporated town or village deems it necessary to make public improvements they shall be permitted to deposit with the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States a non-interest-bearing bond, not to exceed one-tenth the assessed valuation of the property of the State, Territory, county, township, municipality or incorporated town or village, and said bond to be retired at the rate of 4 per cent per annum. Corporations are creatures of statutes and have no vested rights which may not be altered or abolished by the lawmaking power. When corporations combine to control prices or restrict production, the State is in duty bound to annul their charters, or, if foreign corporations, to deprive them of their privileges of doing business in the State."

The platform reaffirmed adherence to the principles of the People's party as enunciated in the Omaha and St. Louis platforms; denounced the methods of election of United States Senator; also the Republican party for passing the Fifty-Year Franchise bill, and the Democratic party for not having the courage to brand it as an infamous robbery and pledging its repeal. It demanded home rule for counties, cities and municipalities in all things without the interference of the Legislature; the repeal of the Dana law, which denies the citizens of Ohio the right to nominate whom they will and have their nominees printed upon the official ballot; that the several political parties be represented in legislative bodies in proportion to the number of votes each party shall cast; a reduction of all official salaries to conform to reduction in wages of the wealth creators and the price of farm products; that the Constitution of the State of Ohio be so amended that when 10 per centum of the qualified electors of the State, the county or the municipality shall have initiated a movement for an act or proposition it shall be mandatory on the Secretary of the State to refer the act or proposition to the people affected for their acceptance or rejection at the next general election, and if it shall be approved by a majority of the electors voting upon the same it shall become valid and operative from and after the official canvass and declaration of each vote.

Resolutions extending sympathy to the striking miners and extending sympathy to Cuba and denouncing the National Administrations for their action in the Cuban matter, and demanding a service pension of $8 per month to all soldiers and one cent a day for each day of actual service, were adopted.

OKLAHOMA.

REPUBLICAN.

March 28, 1896.—"We contend for honest money, for a currency of gold, silver and paper with which to measure our exchange that shall be as sound as the Government and as untarnished as its honor, and to that end we favor bimetalism and den. and the use of both gold and silver as standard money, under such restrictions to be determined by legislation as will secure the maintenance of the parities of the values of the two metals; also, that the purchasing and debt-paying power of the dollar, whether of silver, gold or paper, shall be at all times equal, and we believe the best way to continue the parity of our dollars, and at the same time enlarge the circulating medium, commensurate with the growth of the population, is the unlimited use of the domestic silver product in our monetary system and the prohibition of foreign silver, modified by financial reciprocity."

DEMOCRATIC.

May 26, 1896.—Resolutions were passed in favor of the unlimited coinage of gold and silver at a ratio of 16 to 1. The delegates to the National Convention were instructed to stand individually in favor of free coinage.

POPULIST.

August 5, 1896.—The platform declared the financial question to be paramount, and demanded the immediate free coinage of silver. It asked immediate Statehood, and that the Indian Territory be attached later.

OREGON.

REPUBLICAN.

April 10, 1896.—By a vote of 129 to 8 the platform of the National Convention of 1892 was indorsed. The platform reasserted the doctrine of "Reciprocity, Protection, Sound Money and Prosperity." The following is the financial plank: "The American people from tradition and interest favor bimetalism, and the Republican party demands the use of both gold and silver as standard money, with such restrictions and under such provisions, to be determined by legislation, as will secure the maintenance of the parity of the values of the metals, so that the purchasing and debt-paying power of the dollar, whether of silver, gold or paper, shall be at all times equal. The interests of the producers of the country—its farmers and its workmen—demand that every dollar, paper or coin, issued by the Government shall be as good as any other dollar."

PENNSYLVANIA.

REPUBLICAN.

August 26, 1897.—The Republicans of Pennsylvania ratify and reaffirm the doctrines enunciated in the National platform adopted at St. Louis in 1896, and approved by the people at the last Presidential election.

We rejoice with the people of the Nation upon the passage of the Dingley Tariff bill. Its enactment redeems the pledges made by the Republican party to our prostrate manufacturing, commercial and business interests, and holds out to them the bright promise of prosperity and material development, such as has ever attended upon legislation designed for the protection of home industries and the preservation of home markets. Already the hum of reviving industry is heard throughout the land, and the business interests are responding eagerly to the encouraging influence of this legislation.

"Dollar wheat" has sounded the death-knell of the "free coinage" heresy. In the late Presidential campaign the strongest bid made for the agricultural vote by the Democratic party was the promise that their success in that election would raise the market price of wheat to $1 a bushel—payable in silver. They were overwhelmingly defeated at the polls, and the farmer now receives for his wheat $1 a bushel, payable in gold. The dollar he thus receives will buy in the market $2 35 worth of silver, as measured by the coinage value of that metal. We pledge ourselves anew to the Republican doctrine of

We adhere to and renew again the pledges of the Republican party to maintain a just, reasonable and equitable system of Civil Service, but we censure President Cleveland for his partisan abuse of its powers and his manipulation and unjust extension of its provisions beyond that which was originally contemplated by the law or required in the interest of good government, so as to protect the unfit appointees of his own party from threatening non-partisan competition. By his violation of the spirit and intent of the law the offices of the Federal Government have been filled with representatives of a single party; the standard of efficiency has been degraded; veterans of the late war have been dismissed to make places for political favorites without just or reasonable cause; promotions and transfers have been made for partisan reasons, regardless of merit and in disregard of the spirit of the Civil Service law. With an earnest desire to sustain the principles of the law and secure an honest, economical and efficient administration of the affairs of the Government, we demand that the President of the United States, by executive order, and Congress, by legislative enactment at the approaching session, shall establish a Civil Service system that shall meet the approval of the better judgment and common-sense of the American people.

We heartily and cordially indorse the Administration of President McKinley. Although but a few months have passed since his induction into the high office for which he was chosen, he has proved himself worthy of the confidence reposed in him by the American people. Firm as an executive officer; diplomatic and dignified in his official relations with other countries; wise and conservative in council; unyielding and immovable in his devotion to the principles of good government; determined and uncompromising in the advocacy of a party policy that is restoring prosperity to our country; constant and faithful to the doctrines of his party; demanding that the integrity of our monetary system shall be maintained, he has met the highest expectations of the Republican party and the American people.

Upon State matters the platform declared in favor of reform in State and municipal government; purification of elections, and the free exercise of the elective franchise. It commended the Legislature for its enactment of laws for the betterment of the condition of the laboring classes; for making up the deficit in the Treasury, thus enabling the State to appropriate $5,500,000 annually for the public schools, and for the passage of laws requiring the payment of interest on deposits of moneys belonging to the State by the various banking institutions.

DEMOCRATIC.

August 31, 1897.—Reaffirmed and reiterated the principles of the Democratic party as expressed in the platform adopted by the National Convention at Chicago in 1896.

"We are firmly and unalterably opposed to the single gold standard, which has been the direct cause of the financial distress that has followed upon our people since its adoption, and we are in favor of a complete and immediate return to our original specie basis as it existed prior to the demonetization act of 1873. We congratulate William J. Bryan, the glorious champion of a righteous cause, for his masterly leadership in support of these principles.

"We denounce the Dingley tariff law as a measure designed and passed in answer to the demands of trusts and monopolies, every important feature of which is a refuge for the protection of some trust or combination existing in opposition to the public good and in violation of the common law. The schedule is in brief an assessment upon the individual citizens of the country for the benefit of trusts in return for money advanced to carry the recent election and add enormously to the burdens of labor by increasing the cost of the necessities of life without enhancing in the least respect the wages of labor.

"We abhor the character of the warfare waged by the Government of Spain against the inhabitants of the hapless island of Cuba, in which the humane methods of civilized warfare have given place to savage atrocities committed upon unarmed civilians and defenceless women and children. The ruthless nature of the conflict waged, as well as the danger to our own peace inevitably resulting from the further continuance of such a system of anarchy so near our border, renders immediate armed intervention by our Government imperative.

"We sympathize with the miners of the Commonwealth in their unequal struggle to obtain a fair compensation for their daily toil, and declare that the ancient and Anglo-Saxon right of trial by jury ought to be preserved; and we deplore the tendency of certain Federal and State Courts to detract from this right by an unwarranted extension and abuse of the remedy of injunction in differences between capital and labor."

RHODE ISLAND.

REPUBLICAN.

March 16, 1897.—Congratulates the entire country on the election of a Republican President and Congress—on the happy deliverance of a great people from Governmental misrule and helplessness—and on their return to the principles of the Republican party, as set forth in its platform of 1896.

Pledges to President McKinley unswerving loyalty and support, and awaits the action of Congress in the revision of the tariff laws, to the end that sufficient revenue may be obtained to pay the expenses of Government; that the National indebtedness may be decreased; that labor and capital may be protected; and that the varied industries may again become the active evidences of increasing wealth and prosperity.

Appreciates the assistance rendered to the Republican party in the Presidential campaign by those who severed their connection with the Democratic party, and, placing principles above party name, supported with intelligence, patriotism and honesty, the cause of sound money and national honor. Reaffirmed as a cardinal doctrine of the Republican party that the gold standard of value must be maintained. It is the recognized standard of civilization; the only standard of national and commercial honesty.

Sympathized with the people of Cuba and favored such intervention in Cuban affairs by the National Government as the law of nations permits and the law of humanity demands.

"We believe in the protection of all American citizens, native born and naturalized, at home and abroad, and in such conduct of our foreign affairs as shall most emphatically distinguish it from the inefficient and unpatriotic foreign policy of the last four years."

The platform also advocated liberal National and State appropriations for needed public improvements.

DEMOCRATIC.

March 10, 1897.—The platform charged "the Republican Legislature with cowardice in that it has three times refused to legislate before election so that the people before re-electing them could judge of its acts, and after election has passed bills in the interests of the monopolistic corporations and inimical to the rights of the people of this State, and we invite the close attention of the citizens of this State to the character of the legislation which will be attempted after the present election is past"; also that it had disregarded the desires and rights of the people of the city of Providence and passed an act increasing the burdens upon the taxpayers, by augmenting the salaries of the Board of Canvassers and Registration, against the earnest protest of the City Council and the citizens of the city; that it is a tribunal for special legislation merely; that it has been recklessly extravagant, not only directly, but through the many commissions appointed by it.

The platform invited the co-operation of the men of all parties to assist in "remedying these abuses"; pledged the nominees of the convention and the nominees of the legislative tickets throughout the State, so to legislate and administer that the laws will give equal justice to all and special favors to none; to so amend and adjust the tax laws of this State that it will be no longer possible for the very rich to escape taxation; to grant home rule to the various cities and towns as far as it is possible; to regulate and control all quasi-public corporations that, without taking from said corporations their just rights, the rights of the people shall neither be infringed upon nor taken away; and so to legislate and administer that no corporation, public or private, can be established nor prosecute its business under the laws of the State, unless its capital stock is represented by absolute cash, or property of the cash value.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

REPUBLICAN.

April, 9, 1896.—On the money question the platform said: "We stand with our party in the reiterations of its demands for both gold and silver as standard money. We believe that legislation should secure and maintain the parity of values of the two metals, to the end that the purchasing and debt-paying power of the American dollar, silver, gold, or paper, shall be the same any and everywhere. We believe that bimetalism alone can secure this result."

REPUBLICAN (BLACK AND TAN).

September 17, 1896.—The platform indorsed that of the National Convention; renewed allegiance to the policy of protection; declared unreservedly for sound money and unalterable opposition to any measure calculated to debase the currency or impair the credit of the country; opposed the free coinage of silver, except by international agreement with the leading nations of the world; condemned the practice of lynching; denounced the frauds in the State elections; demanded that the Republican party be given representation on the boards of Election Commissioners and managers, and demanded searching investigation of the charges of fraud in the affairs of the dispensary and the bond deal.

REPUBLICAN (LILY WHITE).

September 17, 1896.—The platform indorsed the National Republican platform and the ticket, etc.; opposed the continuance of frauds in the elections; the dispensary and all its accompanying evils, the State judiciary prostituted to partisan purposes, the police system, and Tillmanism with its innumerable evils; denounced the brutal and inhuman practice of lynching, and invoked the aid of the pulpit, the press and the people in cultivating a sentiment to crush it out.

DEMOCRATIC.

May 20, 1896.—The platform denounced President Cleveland's Administration, declaring that he had subsidized the press; declared the Federal courts as now organized a menace to the public; demanded that a Constitutional Convention be called to form an organic law suitable to the whole country, and contained this financial plank.

"A sound and just system of finance is the most potent factor in a nation's prosperity, and we demand the restoration of the money of the Constitution by giving silver the same rights and privileges now given to gold. We demand the free and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1, regardless of the action of any and all other nations, and that such coinage be a legal tender for all debts, public and private. Congress alone has the power to coin and issue money, and President Jackson declared that this power could not be delegated to a corporation. Therefore we demand the national banking system be abolished."

Another plank was on interstate commerce, as follows:

"The absorption of wealth by a few, the consolidation of our leading railroad systems, and the formation of trusts and pools require a stricter control by the Federal Government of those arteries of commerce. We demand the enlargement of the powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission."

SOUTH DAKOTA. REPUBLICAN.

March 25, 1896.—"The American people, from tradition and interest, favor bimetalism, and the Republican party demands the use of both gold and silver as standard money, with restriction, and under such provisions, to be determined by legislation, as will secure the maintenance of the parity of values of the two metals, so that the purchasing and debt-paying power of the dollar, whether of silver, gold or paper, shall be at all times equal. The interests of the producers of the country, its farmers and its workmen, demand that every dollar, paper or coin, issued by the Government, shall be as good as any other. We commend the wise and patriotic steps already taken by our Government to secure an international conference, to adopt such measures as will insure a parity of value between gold and silver for use as money throughout the world."

DEMOCRATIC.

May 20, 1896.—The money question was covered by this resolution: "The Democratic party of South Dakota is in favor of the present standard of value in our money system and the use of full legal tender silver, coins and paper, convertible into coin on demand, in such quantities as can be maintained without impairing or endangering the credit of the Government or diminishing the purchasing or debt-paying power of the money in the hands of the people, and it is not in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1."

TENNESSEE. REPUBLICAN.

April 22, 1896.—The platform favored protection to American industries and the doctrine of reciprocity; condemned the administration of Grover Cleveland; favored the completion of the Nicaragua Canal; expressed the belief that the material and commercial interests of both the United States and Cuba demand an early cessation of the present war; condemned the action of a majority of the Democratic party in the Tennessee Legislature, by which Henry Clay Evans was counted out in the gubernatorial contest; appealed for reform of the fee system, and endorsed the Tennessee Centennial Exposition. The financial plank of the platform was:

"We are unalterably opposed to any scheme that will give to this country a depreciated and debased currency. We favor the use of silver as currency, but to the extent only that its parity with gold will be maintained, and in consequence are opposed to a free and unlimited and independent coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1. We believe that every American dollar should be an honest 100-cent dollar, always and everywhere."

DEMOCRATIC.

May 7, 1896.—The platform urged an income tax law; commended the action of the Legislature in seating Mr. Turney over H. Clay Evans as Governor; urged the reduction of costs in criminal prosecutions. It also adopted the following money plank: "We hold that it is the high duty and honor of the Democratic party to call back the Government to the old paths, to restore it to purity and virtue, and to root out all the pernicious influences that have corrupted its legislators and the administration of its laws. As a first and most necessary step to this end, we demand the restoration of the money of the Constitution by a law providing for the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver as full legal-tender money at the ratio of 16 to 1, regardless of the action of any other nation."

PROHIBITION.

April 29, 1896.—The platform adopted denounced the liquor traffic and declared that men grown rich by it have paralyzed the Government against themselves; that the enemies of the saloon should be controlled by neither political party; affirmed belief in equal suffrage regardless of sex; demanded a graduated income tax on all incomes exceeding $2,000 and a graduated inheritance tax on all inheritances of $10,000 or more; wanted criminals worked on public roads in the counties; wanted undesirable immigrants excluded; extension of the naturalization period; abolition of the free system; local option for municipalities; favored a constitutional convention. A free silver resolution was knocked out almost unanimously.

TEXAS.

REPUBLICAN (BLACK AND TAN).

March 28, 1896.—"We reaffirm the historic adherence of the Republican party to sound finance. We demand an honest dollar of greatest purchasing power for every class alike; the largest issue of gold, silver, and paper compatible with security and the requirements of trade, all of equal value, interchangeable one for the other, every dollar resting on gold as money of final redemption."

REPUBLICAN (LILY WHITE).

April 20, 1896.—"We favor bimetalism, the use of gold and silver coin as money of mutual redemption. We favor the immediate calling of an international monetary and reciprocity conference for the adoption of an international agreement, with such reciprocal clauses as to trade between countries that ratify the action of the conference as will force every country, through self-interest, to adopt the basis thus established."

DEMOCRATIC.

July 30, 1897.—The Blake Conference, at Waco, adopted a platform which said: "We hail as an advance sign of the return to the principles upon which the prosperity of the country can alone be achieved the disposition of the people in other States, as expressed in the recent elections, to turn to the time-honored doctrine of bimetalism and to the use of both gold and silver as the standard money metals of the country and to a system of just and fair taxation, opposed to trusts and monopolies, and to the principles contained in the last National Democratic platform adopted at Chicago in 1896."

"We denounce the hypocrisy and false pretences of the Republican party, which gave the promise of restoring prosperity as a means to deceive the voters of the country and to further fasten on the industries of America all the calamities of the single gold standard and excessive and unjust taxation."

SOUND MONEY DEMOCRATS.

June 23, 1896.—"Holding it to be as impossible for man to measure value by more than one standard as it is to so measure any other quantity, and being firmly convinced that a change in the standard for the measure of value at this time would result in a financial panic to which the history of the world furnishes no parallel, and believing that every Government owes it to its own honor and to its citizens that it shall so order its laws as to require all debts to be paid in money as nearly as possible equal in value to the money in circulation at the time of the creation of the debt, we declare that it is the duty of the United States to maintain the present single gold standard of the measure of value, to the end that justice shall be done to all men and the honor of the Nation preserved. We believe in the use of silver as current money, and the coinage and circulation of such amount thereof as can be kept at a parity with gold, but we oppose the free and unlimited coinage of silver by this Government alone as a measure borrowed from Populism and fraught, if successful, with dishonor and disgrace to the Nation and destruction to the people.

"We favor a tariff for revenue only, sufficient in amount to support the Government economically administered. . . . We demand the immediate retirement of this Government from the banking business, and that the law authorizing the re-issuance of the Treasury notes shall be repealed and such promises be retired and cancelled. We favor the establishment of a safe system of banking under rigid governmental supervision in order that the people of this country may have at all times a sound, safe and elastic currency amply sufficient for the transaction of their business."

POPULISTS.

August 6, 1896.—The features of the platform were as follows: Notes and securities not rendered for taxation shall be void, the object being to shift the burden of taxation on the holders of vendors' lien notes and relieve the land-owners; limiting salaries of county officers to $2,000; asking Federal appropriation for improvement of Texan waterways and harbors; an eight-hour day for workmen, and that the legal cotton tax and sugar bounty should be devoted to the support of ex-Confederate soldiers.

UTAH. REPUBLICAN.

April 7, 1896.—"We believe in a protective tariff; we believe in reciprocity; we believe in bimetalism, which is the full recognition alike of gold and silver and their free coinage in the mints of the Nation at the ratio of 16 to 1. We hold that as a tariff for revenue has failed to restore prosperity, so a protective tariff, as long as the money of the country is held, ounce for ounce, 100 per cent higher than the money of the Orient and of Spanish-America, is impotent to save our farmers and manufacturers against a competition which they are helpless to meet, and we repudiate the belief that protection without bimetalism can restore prosperity.

"We ask our delegates to St. Louis to do their utmost to secure in the National Republican platform a full acknowledgment of the imperative need of a return to real bimetalism, and a promise of its swift adoption without regard to other nations, by opening our mints to the free coinage of gold and silver at a ratio of 16 to 1."

September 24, 1896.—The majority report indorsed the platform of the National Convention with the exception of the financial plank. It said: "We renew the promises which have been made in former platforms of the Republicans in Utah. We believe in bimetalism, and thereby we mean the use of both gold and silver as standard money and the free and unlimited coinage of both metals at the ratio of 16 to 1. We believe the Republican doctrine of protection is necessary to the return to bimetalism, and as an essential part of it, we believe by a protective tariff and other wise legislation the United States alone, without the aid of other nations, will be able to return to the free coinage of silver at the old ratio of 16 to 1, and we denounce as impossible the present claim of Democrats that free trade and free silver can exist together."

The minority report indorsed the St. Louis platform in its entirety and made no mention of silver. A hot debate ensued, resulting in the adoption of the majority report overwhelmingly.

DEMOCRATIC.

June 6, 1896.—The platform contained this plank:

"The Democratic party of Utah, in convention assembled, reposing its trust in the honesty, intelligence, independence and patriotism of the people, standing upon the great essential principles of justice and liberty, upon which our institutions are founded, while reaffirming its devotion to these principles as declared from time to time in the party platforms and especially those principles announced by the Democrats of Utah in the reconvened convention of 1895, now believing that the restoration of the money of the Constitution is of paramount importance, declares in favor of the immediate restoration of the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1, as such coinage existed prior to 1873, regardless of the action or policy of other nations, gold and silver coin to be a full legal tender for all debts, public and private."

The platform also declared for the divorce of Church and State. The delegates were instructed to vote as a unit for candidates for President and Vice-President known to be in favor of the money plank.

September 24, 1896.—The platform declared for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1, without regard to other nations; a tariff for revenue only, and the reopening of the Indian reservations to settlement.

VERMONT. REPUBLICAN.

April 29, 1896.—"We believe in a tariff which shall raise sufficient revenue to meet the necessity of the Government, economically administered, and at the same time furnish reasonable protection to American industries, American labor and the product of American farms. We believe in the policy of reciprocity established under the last Republican Administration, which affords us a market for our surplus products and manufactures, and enables us to obtain from other countries, under the most advantageous terms, articles which we desire and do not produce.

"We believe in a consistent and dignified foreign policy, based upon the traditional doctrine of non-intervention in the affairs of the Old World and the maintenance of the Monroe Doctrine in this. We favor a just but liberal administration of the pension laws, an adequate system of coast defence and a reasonable regulation and restriction of immigration.

"The Republicans of Vermont are unalterably opposed to any scheme to give the country a depreciated or debased currency. We are, therefore, opposed to the free coinage of silver, except by international agreement, and until re-established we believe the present monetary standard should be honorably maintained. The continual agitation of the free coinage of silver retards the return of our confidence and prosperity, and stands in the way of beneficial legislation, and is in every respect harmful to the best interests of the whole country.

"We believe that the credit of the Government should be maintained, not by the issue of bonds and the increase of the National debt, but by a return to a system of duties which shall replenish the public treasury, put in motion the now silent wheels of business, and insure living prices to American farms and workshops."

June 17, 1896.—"We denounce and condemn the attempt to establish the free and unlimited coinage of silver as destructive to the best interests of the people, and if successful sure to injure and debase the credit of this country.

"We demand a currency that shall be worth a hundred cents on the dollar throughout the civilized world, and we pledge ourselves to do all in our power to prevent the issue by the Government of any other.

"We demand that sufficient revenue be raised by the Government to pay its expenses, and we declare it pernicious and wrong for the Government in time of peace to increase its debt for the purpose of obtaining money for its ordinary expenses.

"We adhere to the doctrine of protection as held by the Republican party, and demand that the needs of the Government be supplied by duties so laid as to protect the laboring classes of our people from competition with the pauper labor of the Old World, and to promote the business interests of our people.

"Our watchword shall be an honest dollar, good the world over, protection to American labor and industries, and revenue sufficient to maintain the Government without further increasing its debt."

Other planks denounced President Cleveland's Administration, pledged earnest support to the Republican nominee for President, and demanded the strictest economy in the affairs of the State.

DEMOCRATIC.

May 27, 1896.—The platform commended the Administration of President Cleveland and his Venezuelan message, expressed sympathy for the Cubans in their struggle for independence, and denounced the American Protective Association. It added:

"We demand the maintenance of a gold standard of value as being in the true interests of all our people, especially those obliged to labor for what they receive, and we are opposed to free coinage of silver, except by international agreement.

"We are opposed to the Republican theory and methods of a protective tariff as being a criminal misapplication of the taxing power of the Nation, producing monopoly, corruption and business stagnation. We therefore demand tariff legislation for the constitutional purpose of providing revenues for the Government, not for the fostering of trusts, keeping always in mind that unnecessary interference with business interests should be avoided."

The platform also demanded the replacement of the Prohibitory law with a stringent license local-option system, and denounced the Republicans for "increasing the State expenses from $279,000 just after the war to well toward $600,000 now."

POPULIST.

July 28, 1896.—The platform called for fiat money and free silver, and contained also the following plank:

"The resort to bribery as an instrumentality for carrying elections and for securing legislation or court decisions being a direct thrust at the very life of free government and no less an act of treason than firing on our country's flag, we therefore demand an act of Congress making it, in law as it is in fact, a capital crime for both the receiver and giver of bribes in any form and punishable as such."

VIRGINIA. REPUBLICAN.

April 24, 1896.—The platform reaffirmed its allegiance to the principles of the Republican party, as enunciated in the National platform, and expressed its "pride in being a part of an organization which faithfully adheres to the principles of protection, in which no furnace fires have ever been put out, no factories closed, and no army of workers upon the streets and highways in enforced idleness." It also condemned the Democratic attempt to call a convention to revise the Constitution as "being the first movement of the enemies of our public free schools. Its manifest purpose is to stem the swelling tide of Republican progress in our State by an effort to disfranchise our illiterate voters, both white and colored, to set up a fraudulent and pretended educational qualification, and to so amend the present free school provision as to place it in the power of future Legislatures to practically destroy the beneficent system of education engrafted in the present Constitution of the State by the Republican party."

October 5, 1897.—The platform reaffirmed allegiance to the Republican party and indorsed in its entirety the platform of the party adopted at St. Louis in 1896. It indorsed the "wise and statesmanlike administration of President McKinley, and congratulated the country upon the return of a widespread prosperity, as a result of a restoration of confidence and the legislation of a Republican Congress." It demanded for the State of Virginia, through the Legislature to be elected, a fair election law under which every legal voter shall have the privilege of casting one vote and having it counted as cast. It recognized the people as the source of all power, "and that any action or device tending to restrain or repress their voice or right is flagrantly violative of the spirit and intent of republican institutions and government." It disapproved the action of the State Committee in refusing to call a convention for the purpose of determining all questions legitimately pertaining to convention action and affecting the dignity and the right of the constituent body. It demanded greater economy in State expenses; a reduction in the number of officers; an extension and improvement of the public school system; the improvement of the public highways, and as liberal a pension policy in behalf of disabled Confederate soldiers as the finances of the State will permit.

DEMOCRATIC.

August 12, 1897.—The platform treated exhaustively of State affairs, reminding the people that the November election was of special significance because of the election of State officials; pledging the party a loyal and generous support of the educational system; commending the disabled soldiers of the State and their widows and orphans to the most generous and favorable consideration that it is possible for the Legislature to extend; and promising loyal consideration to the eleemosynary institutions, the agricultural interests, etc.

Upon National affairs the platform reaffirmed the Chicago platform of 1896, "and upon which William Jennings Bryan was nominated for the Presidency of the United States, and we extend our congratulations to our noble champion upon the able and brilliant manner in which he discharged the trust reposed in him. The fact that he received more votes than any previous Democratic candidate for the Presidency and more than any candidate of any party saving alone his successful opponent, is evidence that Democratic principles are still dear to a vast mass of the American people, and that Democracy is living in the hope of an early and complete triumph."

It indorses the doctrines of the National Democratic party upon the tariff, the income tax and regulating of trusts and the currency; declaring that tariff duty should be levied for revenue purposes and only for so much revenue as may be needed for an economic administration of the Government, and denouncing the Republican tariff bill.

It favored an income tax for the support of the Federal Government, and favored a constitutional amendment that such taxes may be levied. It declared against trusts and favored such Congressional action as would curb them. Upon the subject of the currency it opposed the British system of monometallism, and demanded the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, without waiting for the aid or consent of any nation. It also demanded the repeal of 10 per cent taxes on the issues of State banks.

Upon the question of United States Senators the platform said this: "Recognizing both the right of the individual voter to express directly his choice for United States Senator, and the importance to our country and our party of providing in the best manner practicable for the exercise of such right, and believing that for the present the best means to the end is to be found in the properly directed primary elections, we so now declare that the Democracy of Virginia favor and adopt as our party policy that method of determining fully and freely the choice of the masses of the party for the high office of the United States Senator, and we further declare that every member of the Legislature hereafter elected as a Democrat shall be bound in honor to adopt and make effective the decision of the people at such primary elections. We further declare and direct that the first of such primary elections shall be held upon the day of the election of members to the General Assembly in 1899, and that if no person voted for shall have a majority of all votes cast therein, a second primary shall be held upon the day to be fixed by our State Central Committee, which shall not be more than thirty days after the former primary, and that at such second primary the choice shall be between the two who shall have received the most votes in such former primary."

WASHINGTON.

REPUBLICAN.

May 14, 1896.—The platform had this money plank:

"Resolved, That we favor the maintenance of the present gold standard, and are opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. We are, however, favorable to an international agreement looking to the general use of both metals as money at a fixed ratio, and commend the efforts in that behalf of the last Republican Administration." A free-silver plank, offered as a substitute, was defeated by a vote of 112 to 290.

DEMOCRATIC.

April 15, 1896.—The platform indorsed the Administration of President Cleveland, but differed from it upon the financial question. The Monroe Doctrine was also unqualifiedly indorsed. The free and unlimited coinage of silver, at the ratio of 16 to 1, was demanded, without waiting for the action of any other nation; and the eight delegates to the National Convention were instructed to work for a free coinage plank, and for candidates known to be in favor of free coinage.

WEST VIRGINIA. REPUBLICAN.

May 14, 1896.—On the money question the platform contained this plank: "We demand a sound-money policy which shall maintain at an equality of purchasing power every dollar of American money. Every American dollar must be worth 100 cents. The monetary system of the United States must be as sound and safe as the soundest and safest in the world."

It also "denounced the unnecessary issue of Government bonds in time of peace, a transaction involved in a mystery which has surprised and pained every man who loves his country"; demanded liberal appropriations for internal improvements; and declared for "the protection of American industries as taught and maintained for thirty years by the Republican party."

DEMOCRATIC.

June 17, 1896.—The platform indorsed the tariff policy of President Cleveland and reaffirmed the platform of the last Democratic National Convention on the tariff issue. It demanded the restoration by law of the money of the Constitution providing the free coinage of both gold and silver as full legal tender and redemption money at the ratio of 16 to 1 regardless of the financial policy of England or any other nation. The delegation was instructed to vote for no candidate for President or Vice-President who is not an avowed advocate of the policy expressed in the resolution.

POPULIST.

August 3, 1896.—The platform indorsed that of the National Convention of 1896, and the Bryan and Watson ticket.

WISCONSIN. REPUBLICAN.

March 18, 1896.—"The Republicans of Wisconsin, in convention assembled, renew their devotion to the doctrine of protection. We believe in an adjustment of tariff duties for the twofold purpose of providing sufficient revenue to meet the requirements of the Government and to furnish reasonable and adequate protection to American industries and labor, a tariff both for revenue and protection.

"We also renew our allegiance to the doctrine of reciprocity. We favor as a logical and beneficial result of protective tariff laws mutual trade arrangements with foreign countries that will provide for our manufacturers and producers a market for their surplus product, and at the same time enable us to buy from them under advantageous conditions such articles as they produce and we need to purchase.

"The Republicans of Wisconsin are unyielding in their demand for honest money. We are unalterably opposed to any scheme that will give to this country a depreciated or debased currency. We favor the use of silver as currency, hut to the extent only and under such restrictions that its parity with gold can be maintained."

August 5, 1896.—"The Republicans of Wisconsin, in convention assembled, announce their hearty indorsement of the platform of principles adopted by the late National Convention at St. Louis, and pledge a loyal, united and vigorous support of the principles and policies announced and defined. We believe in the restoration to power in National affairs of the party that stands for a sound and stable currency, honest money which to pay the wages of labor, buy the products of the farm and factory and carry on the business of this great country, and for a fair and equitable protective tariff that will protect all the people and every section of the country, give employment to American labor, preserve to American producers the first charge on our great home market and at the same time give us enough revenue to pay the necessary expenses of carrying on the Government, lies the only hope of a return to our former prosperity."

The platform then indorses the nominations of McKinley and Hohart, condemns the utterings of the late Chicago Convention upon questions of National policy, declares for the restriction of undesirable immigration, and concludes with a deliverance upon State issues.

DEMOCRATIC.

June 23, 1896.—"We believe that a tariff for revenue only would extend American commerce to the uttermost parts of the earth, and untrammelled industry would advance our country to the foremost place among nations. We are therefore firm in our adherence to the doctrine enunciated by the last National Democratic Convention that this Government should impose no tariff taxes except for revenue.

"We believe that the demands of a commerce built upon the broad and enlightened doctrine of free trade require a currency that cannot be discredited in any civilized country. Realizing this logical demand for the best money for international trade; realizing also the dangers of a fiat currency in domestic use, and aware that the present condition of commercial distress calls for the patriotic and sturdy maintenance of National honor and financial integrity, we declare ourselves opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver, and in favor of gold, the highest monetary standard of the world."

The money plank in the minority report, which was rejected by 271 to 219, read as follows:

"Resolved, That we reaffirm the platform of the last National Democratic Convention, and particularly upon the subject of coinage, believing that a fair interpretation of the same favors free and unlimited coinage of both silver and gold as legal-tender money of the country."

SILVER DEMOCRATS.

September 2, 1896.—The platform declared for free silver; condemned the State administration for releasing the ex-Treasurers from the judgments which were obtained against them; demanded a coemployed act, and protested against the moneyed and corporate interests in their attempt to control elections by intimidation and corruption.

SOUND MONEY DEMOCRATS.

August 26, 1896.—The platform denounced the action of the National Democratic Convention at Chicago, and declared that the majority who controlled it were "men whose names are unknown in Democratic councils and whose declarations and action prove them to be strangers as well to Democratic principles and traditions." The money plank read: "In the words of the National Democratic platform of 1892, 'We hold to the use of both gold and silver without discrimination against either metal or charge for mintage, but the dollar unit of coinage of both metals must be of equal intrinsic and exchangeable value, or be adjusted through international agreement or by such safeguards of legislation as shall insure the maintenance of the parity of the two metals, and the equal power of every dollar at all times in the markets and in the payment of debt; and we demand that all paper currency shall be kept at par with and redeemable in such coin. We insist upon this policy as especially necessary for the protection of the farmer and laboring classes, the first and most defenceless victims of unstable money and a fluctuating currency.' And to create and maintain the integrity of that dollar we adopt the words of the Democratic party of Wisconsin, assembled in convention, in June, 1896, in favor of gold, as the true measure of unfluctuating value."

POPULIST.

September 2, 1896.—Resolutions were adopted indorsing the National platform and all of the usual isms of the Populists.

WYOMING.

REPUBLICAN.

May 15, 1896.—The platform contained this money plank: "We reaffirm our allegiance to the principles of bimetalism as enunciated in the Republican State platform adopted at Casper in 1894, and we commend the record of our Senators and Representatives in Congress in maintaining this principle, and we instruct our delegates to the St. Louis Convention to take like action when the financial plank of the platform of the Convention is being made."

The 1894 State platform declared for the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. The delegates to St. Louis were instructed to vote for McKinley, but the Convention pledged its support to any candidate nominated at St. Louis.

August 13, 1896.—"We favor the free coinage of gold and silver into standard money, as expressed in our former platforms, under such legislation as will guarantee that all our money shall remain on an equality."

DEMOCRATIC.

May 21, 1896.—The platform had this one plank only:

"Whereas, The paramount issue before the American people is the currency question; therefore,

"Resolved, That we, the Democracy of Wyoming, demand the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold into primary redemption money at the ratio of 16 to 1 without waiting for the action or approval of any other Government."

No mention was made of President Cleveland nor his Administration.

ANALYSIS OF MORE IMPORTANT ACTS OF CONGRESS.

TENNESSEE EXPOSITION.

An act was approved on December 22, 1896, providing for a Government exhibit, etc., at the Tennessee Centennial Exposition. Section 1 authorized that the exhibit should be such articles from the executive departments, the Smithsonian Institution and National Museum, and the Fish Commission, as would illustrate the function and administrative faculty of the Government in time of peace and its resources as a war power, tending to demonstrate the nature of the institutions of the United States and their adaptation to the wants of the people; also authorizing the appointment of a board of managers for such exhibit.

Section 2 appropriated $30,000 for the construction of a building or buildings for the Government exhibit, and for the disposition of such buildings at the close of the exposition, giving preference to Nashville or to the exposition company to purchase the same at an appraised value.

Section 3 appropriated $100,000 for the expenses of the Government exhibit, including salaries of persons employed and contingent expenses.

Section 4 provided that "all articles which shall be imported from foreign countries for the sole purpose of exhibition, upon which there shall be a tariff or customs duty, shall be admitted free of payment of duty, customs fees or charges, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe; but it shall be lawful at any time during the exhibition to sell, for delivery at the close of the exposition, any goods or property imported for and actually on exhibition in the exposition buildings or on its grounds, subject to such regulations for the security of the revenue and for the collection of import duties as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe: Provided, That all such articles, when sold or withdrawn for consumption in the United States, shall be subject to the duty, if any, imposed upon such articles by the revenue laws in force at the date of importation, and all penalties prescribed by law shall be applied and enforced against such articles and against the persons who may be guilty of any illegal sale or withdrawal."

Section 5 provided that such medals as the exposition company desired for award to exhibitors could be prepared at some mint of the United States upon the payment of a sum not less than the cost thereof.

Section 6 provided that the United States should in no manner and under no circumstances be liable for any bond, debt, contract, expenditure, expense or liability of any kind whatever of the exposition company, or any one connected with it, nor for any amount in excess of the $130,000 appropriated.

ALIEN LAND OWNERSHIP.

An act of March 2, 1897, defines and regulates the rights of aliens to hold and own real estate in the Territories. The first section reads: "That no alien or person who is not a citizen of the United States, or who has not declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States in the manner provided by law, shall acquire title to or own any land in any of the Territories of the United States except as hereinafter provided: Provided, That the prohibition of this section shall not apply to cases in which the right to hold or dispose of lands in the United States is secured by existing treaties to citizens or subjects of foreign countries, which rights, so far as they may exist by force of any such treaty, shall continue to exist so long as such treaties are in force, and no longer."

Section 2 provides that the above shall not apply to land then owned in any of the Territories by aliens, which was acquired on or before March 3, 1887, so long as it is held by their then owners, heirs or representatives, nor to any alien who shall become a bona-fide resident of the United States; and any alien who shall become a bona-fide resident or shall have declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States shall have the right to acquire and hold lands upon the same terms as citizens of the United States. It is provided, however, that if any such resident alien shall cease to be a bona-fide resident of the United States, then such alien shall have ten years from the time he ceases to be such bona-fide resident in which to alienate his lands. This act does not prevent aliens from acquiring lands or any interests therein by inheritance or in the ordinary course of justice in the collection of debts, nor from acquiring liens on real estate or any interest therein, nor from lending money and securing the same upon real estate or any interest therein, nor from enforcing any such lien, nor from acquiring and holding title to such real estate, or any interest therein, upon which a lien may have heretofore or may hereafter be fixed, or upon which a loan may have been or may be made and secured, provided that all lands so acquired shall be sold within ten years after title shall be perfected in him under said sale, or the same shall escheat to the United States and be forfeited, as other parts of the act provide. This act is not in any manner to be construed to refer to the District of Columbia.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT.

An act approved January 15, 1897, to reduce the cases in which the death penalty may be inflicted, provides that in all cases where the accused is found guilty of murder or of rape under sections 5,339 and 5,345, Revised Statutes, the jury may qualify their verdict by adding thereto "without capital punishment," and whenever the jury shall return a verdict so qualified the person convicted shall be sentenced to imprisonment at hard labor for life. That except offences mentioned in sections 5,332, 1,342, 1,624, 5,359 and 5,345, when a person is convicted of any offence to which the punishment of death was (on January 15, 1897) affixed by the laws of the United States, he shall be imprisoned at hard labor for life; and when any person is convicted of an offence to which the punishment of death, or a lesser punishment, in the discretion of the court, is affixed, the maximum punishment shall be imprisonment at hard labor for life. The punishment of death prescribed for any offence specified by the statutes of the United States, except in sections 5,332, 1,342, 1,621, 5,329 and 5,345, is abolished. Any Indian found guilty of rape within the limits of any Indian reservation shall be punished by imprisonment at the discretion of the court.

COPYRIGHT.

The act of January 6, 1897, amends section 4,966, Revised Statutes, to read as follows:

"Sec. 4,966. Any person publicly performing or representing any dramatic or musical composition for which a copyright has been obtained, without the consent of the proprietor of said dramatic or musical composition, or his heirs or assigns, shall be liable for damages therefor, such damages in all cases to be assessed at such sum, not less than $100 for the first and $50 for every subsequent performance, as to the court shall appear to be just. If the unlawful performance and representation be wilful and for profit, such person or persons shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction be imprisoned for a period not exceeding one year. Any injunction that may be granted upon hearing after notice to the defendant by any circuit court of the United States, or by a judge thereof, restraining and enjoining the performance or representation of any such dramatic or musical composition, may be served on the parties against whom such injunction may be granted anywhere in the United States, and shall be operative and may be enforced by proceedings to punish for contempt or otherwise by any other circuit court or judge in the United States; but the defendants in said action, or any or either of them, may make a motion in any other circuit in which he or they may be engaged in performing or representing said dramatic or musical composition to dissolve or set aside the said injunction upon such reasonable notice to the plaintiff as the circuit court or the judge before whom said motions shall be made shall deem proper; service of said motion to be made on the plaintiff in person or on his attorneys in the action. The circuit courts or judges thereof shall have jurisdiction to enforce said injunction and to hear and determine a motion to dissolve the same, as herein provided, as fully as if the action were pending or brought in the circuit in which said motion is made."

An act of March 3, 1897, amends section 4,963 to read:

"Sec. 4,963. Every person who shall insert or impress such notice, or words of the same purport, in or upon any book, map, chart, dramatic or musical composition, print, cut, engraving, or photograph, or other article, whether such article be subject to copyright or otherwise, for which he has not obtained a copyright, or shall knowingly issue or sell any article bearing a notice of United States copyright which has not been copyrighted in this country, or shall import any book, photograph, chromo or lithograph or other article bearing such notice of copyright or words of the same purport, which is not copyrighted in this country, shall be liable to a penalty of $100, recoverable one-half for the person who shall sue for such penalty and one-half to the use of the United States; and the importation into the United States of any book, chromo, lithograph or photograph, or other article bearing such notice of copyright, when there is no existing copyright thereon in the United States, is prohibited; and the circuit courts of the United States sitting in equity are hereby authorized to enjoin the issuing, publishing or selling of any article marked or imported in violation of the United States copyright laws, at the suit of any person complaining of such violation: Provided, That this act shall not apply to any importation of or sale of such goods or articles brought into the United States prior to the passage hereof."

NATIONAL MILITARY PARKS.

An act approved March 3, 1897, provides that every person who wilfully destroys, mutilates, defaces, injures or removes any monument, statue, marker, guidepost or other structure, or who wilfully destroys, cuts, breaks, injures or removes any tree, shrub or plant within the limits of any National park, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $1,000 for each monument, statue, marker, guidepost or other structure, tree, shrub or plant destroyed, defaced, injured, cut or removed, or by imprisonment for not less than 15 days and not more than one year, or by both fine and imprisonment.

Sec. 2. That every person who shall trespass upon any National park for the purpose of hunting or shooting, or who shall hunt any kind of game thereon with gun or dog, or shall set trap or net or other device whatsoever thereon for the purpose of hunting or catching game of any kind, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not less than five days or more than thirty days, or by both fine and imprisonment. The superintendent or any guardian of such park is authorized to arrest any person who violates the above in any way and bring him to trial.

That any person to whom land lying within any National park may have been leased, who refuses to give up possession of the same to the United States after the termination of said lease, and after possession has been demanded for the United States by any park commissioner or the park superintendent, or any person retaining possession of land lying within the boundary of said park which he or she may have sold to the United States for park purposes and have received payment therefor, after possession of the same has been demanded for the United States by any park commissioner or the park superintendent, shall be deemed guilty of trespass, and the United States may maintain an action for the recovery of the possession of the premises so withheld in the courts of the United States, according to the statutes or code of practice of the State in which the park may be situated.

TEA STANDARDS.

An act of March 2, 1897, provided that from and after May 1, 1897, it shall be unlawful for any person or persons or corporation to import or bring into the United States any merchandise as tea which is inferior in purity, quality and fitness for consumption of the standards provided. It further provided that the Secretary of the Treasury should appoint a board of seven experts, for the term of one year, with a salary of $50 a year, who shall prepare and submit samples of tea. The Secretary of the Treasury was required to fix and establish uniform standards of teas, and deposit duplicate samples in the custom-houses at New-York, Chicago, San Francisco and such other ports as he should deem necessary. All teas or merchandise described as tea of inferior quality, purity and fitness for consumption are prohibited to be imported. On making entry at the custom-house of all teas the importer or consignee is required to give a bond to the collector of the port that such merchandise shall not be removed from the warehouse until released by the collector after it has been examined. In case of protest against the report of the examiner, the matter shall be referred for decision to a board of three United States general appraisers. No imported tea which shall have been rejected and exported shall be reimported into the United States under the penalty of forfeiture.

LVTH CONGRESS CALLED IN EXTRA SESSION.

The Senate of the LVth Congress met to act upon the nominations for President McKinley's Cabinet on March 5, 1897. On March 15 both Houses were convened in special session under the proclamation of the President. Thomas B. Reed was re-elected Speaker of the House. The President's first message, of which the following is the full text, was read:

"To the Congress of the United States: Regretting the necessity which has required me to call you together, I feel that your assembling in extraordinary session is indispensable because of the condition in which we find the revenues of the Government.

"It is conceded that its current expenditures are greater than its receipts, and that such a condition has existed for now more than three years. With unlimited means at our command, we are presenting the remarkable spectacle of increasing our public debt by borrowing money to meet the ordinary outlays incident upon even an economical and prudent administration of the Government. An examination of the subject discloses this fact in every detail, and leads inevitably to the conclusion that the condition of the revenue which allows it is unjustifiable and should be corrected.

"We find by the reports of the Secretary of the Treasury that the revenues for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1892, from all sources, were $425,868,240 22, and the expenditures for all purposes were $415,953,806 56, leaving an excess of receipts over expenditures of $9,914,433 56. During that fiscal year $40,570,467 98 were paid upon the public debt, which had been reduced since March 1, 1889, $239,076,890, and the annual interest charge decreased $11,684,576 60. The receipts of the Government from all sources during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1893, amounted to $471,716,561 94, and its expenditures to $469,374,887 65, showing an excess of receipts over expenditures of $2,341,674 39.

"Since that time the receipts of no fiscal year, and with but few exceptions of no month of any fiscal year, have exceeded the expenditures. The receipts of the Government from all sources during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1894, were $372,802,498 20, and its expenditures $442,695,758 87, leaving a deficit, the first since the resumption of specie payments, of $69,893,260 58. Notwithstanding there was a decrease of $16,769,128 78 in the ordinary expenses of the Government, as compared with the previous fiscal year, its income was still not sufficient to provide for its daily necessities, and the gold reserve in the Treasury for the redemption of greenbacks was drawn upon to meet them. But this did not suffice, and the Government then resorted to loans to replenish the reserve.

"In February, 1894, $50,000,000 in bonds were issued, and in November following a second issue of $50,000,000 was deemed necessary. The sum of $117,171,795 was realized by the sale of these bonds, but the reserve was steadily decreased until on February 8, 1895, a third sale of $62,315,400 in bonds, for $65,116,244, was announced to Congress.

"The receipts of the Government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1895, were $390,373,203 30, and the expenditures $433,178,426 48, showing a deficit of $42,805,223 19. A further loan of $100,000,000 was negotiated by the Government in February, 1896, the sale netting $111,166,246, and swelling the aggregate of bonds issued within three years to $262,315,400. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1896, the revenues of the Government from all sources amounted to $409,475,408 78, while its expenditures were $434,678,654 48, or an excess of expenditures over receipts of $25,203,245 70. In other words, the total receipts for the three fiscal years ending June 30, 1895, were insufficient by $137,811,729 46 to meet the total expenditures.

"Nor has this condition since improved. For the first half of the present fiscal year the receipts of the Government, exclusive of postal revenue, were $157,507,603 76, and its expenditures, exclusive of postal service, $195,410,000 22, or an excess of expenditures over receipts of $37,902,396 46. In January of this year the receipts, exclusive of postal revenues, were $24,316,594 05, and the expenditures, exclusive of postal service, $30,269,289 29, a deficit of $5,952,395 24 for the month. In February of this year the receipts, exclusive of postal revenues, were $24,400,397 38, and expenditures, exclusive of postal service, $28,796,056 66, a deficit of $4,395,659 28, or a total deficiency of $186,081,580 44 for the three years and eight months ending March 1, 1897. Not only are we without a surplus in the Treasury, but, with an increase in the public debt, there has been a corresponding increase in the annual interest charge from $22,893,883 20 in 1892, the lowest of any year since 1862, to $34,387,297 60 in 1896, or an increase of $11,493,414 40.

"It may be urged that even if the revenues of the Government had been sufficient to meet all its ordinary expenses during the last three years, the gold reserve would still have been insufficient to meet the demands upon it, and that bonds would necessarily have been issued for its repletion. Be this as it may, it is clearly manifest, without denying or affirming the correctness of such a conclusion, that the debt would have been decreased in at least the amount of the deficiency, and business confidence immeasurably strengthened throughout the country.

"Congress should promptly correct the existing condition. Ample revenues must be supplied not only for the ordinary expenses of the Government, but for the prompt payment of liberal pensions and the liquidation of the principal and interest of the public debt. In raising revenue, duties should be so levied upon foreign products as to preserve the home market, so far as possible, to our own producers; to revive and increase manufactures; to relieve and encourage agriculture; to increase our domestic and foreign commerce; to aid and develop mining and building, and to render to labor in every field of useful occupation the liberal wages and adequate rewards to which skill and industry are justly entitled. The necessity of the passage of a tariff law which shall provide ample revenue need not be further urged. The imperative demand of the hour is the prompt enactment of such a measure, and to this object I earnestly recommend that Congress shall make every endeavor. Before other business is transacted, let us first provide sufficient revenue to faithfully administer the Government without the contracting of further debt or the continued disturbance of our finances."

LAWS ENACTED BY THE SPECIAL SESSION OF THE LVTH CONGRESS.

Appropriating $50,000 for the relief of destitute citizens of the United States in Cuba, said money to be expended at the discretion and under the direction of the President in the purchase and furnishing of food, clothing and medicines, and for the transportation to the United States of such of them as so desire, and who are without means to transport themselves. The boundary line was fixed as follows, on June 3, 1897: Between a point in the centre of the channel of the Missouri River directly north of the west line of Dixon County, Nebraska, and a point in the centre of said channel directly south of the east line of Clay County, South Dakota.

Authorizing foreign exhibitors at the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition, to be held in Omaha, Neb., in 1898, to bring to the United States foreign laborers from their countries, respectively, for the purpose of preparing for and making exhibits. June 30, 1897.

Adopting regulations for preventing collisions upon certain harbors, rivers and inland waters of the United States. June 7, 1897.

Complete revision of the Tariff Law. July 24, 1897. See pages 94 to 121 for provisions of the law.

ARBITRATION.

The preliminary steps toward a treaty of general arbitration between the United States and Great Britain consisted of a protracted correspondence between the Marquis of Salisbury, Prime Minister of Great Britain, and Richard Olney, the American Secretary of State. The treaty itself was signed by Mr. Olney and Sir Julian Pauncefote, British Ambassador, January 11, 1897. On the same day it was sent to the Senate by President Cleveland for ratification, the President accompanying it with a letter expressing strong approval of the spirit and scope of the treaty, and the hope that it would meet with the speedy sanction of the Senate.

The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, to which it was referred, reported it back to the Senate on February 1, and it was debated from time to time until the close of the LIVth Congress. On March 8 the Senate of the LVth Congress sent the bill back to the committee, and it was reported back to the Senate, with several amendments, on March 17. It was debated by the Senate at various times until May 5, when a vote was taken and the treaty failed of ratification, the vote being 43 for and 26 against, or four more than the necessary one-third to defeat it. The vote in detail was as follows:

Yeas—Messrs. Allison, Bacon, Burrows, Caffery, Clay, Cullom, Davis, Deboe, Fairbanks, Faulkner, Foraker, Frye, Gallinger, Gear, Gray, Hale, Hanna, Hawley, Hoar, Lindsay, Lodge, McBride, McEnery, McMillin, Mitchell, Morrill, Nelson, Pasco, Perkins, Platt, of Connecticut; Platt, of New-York; Pritchard, Proctor, Smith, Spooner, Thurston, Turpie, Vest, Walball, Warren, Wellington, Wetmore and Wilson. Total, 43.

Nays—Messrs. Baker, Bate, Butler, Carter, Cockrell, Daniel, Hansbrough, Harris, of Kansas; Harris, of Tennessee; Helffeld, Jones, of Arkansas; Jones, of Nevada; Kyle, Martin, Mason, Mills, Morgan, Penrose, Pettigrew, Pettus, Quay, Rawlins, Roach, Shoup, Stewart and White. Total, 26.

There were twenty-one Senators absent at the time the vote was taken, including the successor to John H. Mitchell, of Oregon, and the successor to Wilkinson Call, of Florida, who had not yet been elected.

FOREIGN MISCELLANY.

GREECE—TURKEY WAR.

The Cretan troubles resulted in an open rupture between Turkey and Greece. A few days after the insurgent Christians at Halepa (on February 7, 1897) proclaimed the union of Crete and Greece, a Greek fleet of torpedo boats, under command of Prince George, sailed for Crete, and the Greek Government formulated a note to the Powers, which set forth that it could no longer remain a passive spectator of the progress of events in Crete, and that the ties of race and religion compelled Greece to intervene in behalf of the outraged Christians in that island. This was followed on February 14 by sending to Crete an "army of occupation," under Colonel Vassos, with instructions to protect the Christian families in Crete and restore order. In response to a protest from the Turkish Government against the action of Greece, under threat of retaliation on the Thessalian border, the Powers immediately determined to restrain further hostile action on the part of Greece in Crete. Turkey then assembled an army of about 150,000 along the extended Macedonian frontier and for several miles on the Greek side of the boundary agreed to by the Powers in the treaty of 1878. The Greek army, to the extent of 80,000, was concentrated chiefly between Larissa and Trikala. This attitude of both Turkey and Greece was so threatening that on April 6 the foreign Powers served notice on the Greek Minister of Foreign Affairs and the Sublime Porte of Turkey that in case of armed conflict on the Greco-Turkish frontier all responsibility would rest with the aggressors, and that whatever results might arise from such a conflict, the Powers were firmly resolved to maintain the general peace and would not allow the aggressor, in any event, to reap the slightest benefit from his action.

April 8.—Greek troops crossed the frontier into Turkey, between Metsovo and Diskata, and opened fire upon the Turks. Skirmishes continued day after day until, on April 17, the Council of Ministers of Turkey issued a declaration of war, recalled the Turkish Minister in Greece and gave passports to the Greek Minister at Constantinople.

April 18.—Delyannis, Premier of Greece, declared the acceptance of Turkey's challenge and was sustained by the Legislative Assembly. Battle of Milouna Pass and destruction of Turkish fort at Prevcsa.

April 20.—Greeks capture and burn Damasi.

April 25.—Osman Pacha takes command of the Turkish army in the field, and the Sublime Porte calls out the 50,000 reserves. Saad Eddin Pacha sent to command the Turkish forces in Epirus. Powers give adhesion to the note of the Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs, Count Muravieff, assuring the Greeks and Turks of their friendly intervention so soon as it should be asked by either side.

April 24.—Desperate battle at Mati, a town near the southern end of Milouna Pass, at which the Greeks met with a disastrous defeat and were forced to abandon Tyrnavo and Larissa and fall back to Pharsalos, twenty-four miles south.

April 29.—The Delyannis Ministry of Greece resigned upon command of King George, and M. Ralli, the leader of the Opposition, formed a new Cabinet.

May 6.—The Turks capture Pharsalos, the Greeks losing about a thousand killed and wounded, and the Turks about six times as many.

May 9.—Greek Government made written application to the Powers, through the Ministers at Athens, with a view of obtaining mediation.

May 11.—The Powers sent the following to the Greek Government: "The representatives of France, Italy, Great Britain, Germany and Austria charge M. Onou, the representative of Russia and the Doyen of the Diplomatic Corps, to declare in the name of their respective Governments that the Powers are ready to offer mediation with the view to obtain an armistice and smooth the difficulties actually existing between Greece and Turkey, on condition that the Hellenic Government declares that it will proceed to recall its troops from Crete, adhere formally to autonomy for Crete and accept unreservedly the counsels which the Powers give in the interests of peace."

The reply of the Greek Government was as follows: "The royal Government, in taking the note and declaration of the Russian representative, acting in the name of the Ministers of the Powers, declares that it will proceed to recall the royal troops from Crete, adheres formally to autonomy for Crete, and confides the interests of Greece to the hands of the Powers."

May 12.—The Ambassadors of the Powers, at a conference in Constantinople, sent a collective memorandum proposing an armistice between Turkey and Greece on the basis of negotiations for peace.

May 16.—The Porte replied to the note of the Powers declining to agree to an armistice until the following conditions should be accepted: The annexation of Thessaly, an indemnity of $10,000,000 Turkish ($43,960,000); the abolition of the capitulations, and that the plenipotentiaries of the Powers should meet at Pharsalos to discuss terms of peace.

May 20.—An armistice to extend over a period of seventeen days was formally concluded between Turkey and Greece, which armistice included the land and sea forces of both combatants. The armistice agreement stipulated that a mixed commission of officers of superior rank should establish a neutral zone between the two combatants, and that no advance on either flank should be permitted.

May 21.—Turks violated armistice by advancing to Daitza and occupying and fortifying several positions; also pillaged estate of the late Christian Governor of Crete, burned dwellings, violated women and committed other acts of pillage and outrage.

May 31.—Premier Ralli and his colleagues in the Cabinet were charged with being implicated in a conspiracy against King George.

June 3.—The peace negotiators held their first conference at Constantinople. The commanders of the Greek and Turkish military forces in Thessaly and Epirus signed an armistice.

June 4.—The Turkish and Greek delegates signed the sea armistice, which provided that "the Greek fleet will quit Ottoman waters. Vessels under Turkish or neutral flags, bound to or returning from Turkish ports, and vessels north of the armistice line will not be examined. Vessels carrying troops and munitions for the Turkish Army will not be allowed to enter ports north of the line. The Turkish fleet must not leave the Dardanelles. The dispatch of reinforcements to garrison towns in the Archipelago is prohibited."

July 7.—The peace negotiations were carried on from time to time, but were obstructed by Turkey declining to consider any frontier line in Thessaly north of the river Peneios, which it regarded as a natural boundary. The Sultan on July 7 declared that the war had been forced upon Turkey, and that if no concessions were made by the Powers he would in a few days give the order to advance, and that terms would thereafter be dictated from the Acropolis. On the same day Russia sent a circular note to the Powers suggesting that steps be taken to expedite the conclusion of peace between Greece and Turkey. The German Ambassador at Constantinople was also instructed to insist upon Turkey's acceptance of the strategic frontier as proposed by the Powers. The Sultan declared that he would resist coercion and was entirely ready to meet both Russia and Germany.

July 9.—The Ambassadors of the Powers presented a collective note to the Turkish Government, under instructions from their respective Governments, demanding a cessation of the obstruction of the peace negotiations. On the same day Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, in reply to an appeal from the Sultan, assured him of his "sincere friendship" and urged him to "conclude peace with Greece on the basis of the conditions the Ambassadors have formulated, which are the maximum concessions recognized as equitable by the concert." The telegram closed as follows: "The concert of the Powers is firm and united in its decisions. Therefore I request Your Majesty to take my advice into earnest consideration."

July 12.—The following is the text of the collective note of the Powers to Turkey, sent July 11: "The great Powers have adopted the project of strategical rectification as it has been worked out by the military attachés and communicated to the Sublime Porte. In consequence they have agreed to assure the Ottoman Government that they have arrived at a firm determination to put an end to the obstruction, the only effect of which is the prevention of the conclusion of a peace eminently in the interest of Europe."

An important Ministerial council was held at Constantinople, at which an indemnity of £6,000,000 was agreed on as the extreme limit of Turkish concession.

July 14.—The Sultan, after considering the report of the Council, answered by the following irade: "I am convinced that the efforts and energies of the Powers are directed entirely toward the maintenance of peace and the prevention of fresh complications. In these circumstances, it is the plain duty of Turkey, whose sentiments are likewise pacific, to put an end to the present abnormal situation. Consequently, I command the Ministers, if possible, to find the necessary means for concluding the negotiations and to sign the preliminaries for peace by Thursday."

The terms of the Turkish Government, submitted to the foreign Ambassadors, proposed a change of frontier and fixed the amount of indemnity at £4,000,000 (Turkish) and renewed the demand for the abolition of the capitulations granted to the Greek subjects in the Ottoman Empire. Later the Marquis of Salisbury proposed this plan: The constitution of an international commission, representing the six Powers, to assume control of the revenues with which Greece would guarantee the payment of interest for the holders of old bonds, which interest was stopped in 1893, as well as payment for the indemnity loan. This plan was accepted by the Powers, and the treaty of peace was signed on September 18. The new frontier comprehends from the line of the Peneios River, the famous Milouna Pass, and the whole district around Zarkos and Gounitsa.

COREA.

On October 15 1897, the Kingdom became an Empire, the King proclaiming himself Emperor from that date.

DENMARK.

May 10.—The Thott Ministry resigned.

May 23.—New Ministry formed, with Herr H. E. Hoerring as Premier.

JAPAN.

The Diet adopted a national coinage measure in March, which went into effect on October 1, 1897, providing for the following nine kinds of money: Gold, 20-yen, 10-yen and 5-yen pieces; silver, 50-sen, 20-sen and 10-sen pieces; nickel, 5-sen piece; copper, 1-sen and 5-rin pieces. The values are reckoned on the decimal system, the hundredth part of a yen to be called a sen, and the tenth part of a sen to be called a rin. The standard of the coins is fixed as follows:

Gold coin—Pure gold, 900 parts; copper alloy, 100 parts.

The weight of the 5-yen gold piece (equal to $2.50 in United States gold) is 1.111 momme (4.1666 grammes), the other gold coins being of the same proportionate weight. That of the 50-sen silver piece is 13.4783 grammes, of the 5-sen nickel piece 4.6654 grammes, and of the 1-sen copper piece 7.128 grammes. Gold coins are legal tender to any amount; silver coins are legal tender to the amount of 10 yen; nickel and copper coins are legal tender to the amount of 1 yen. The legal requirement of fineness is 1-1,000th in the case of gold coins and 3-1,000ths in the case of silver coins. The minimum circulating weights of the gold coins are fixed as follows: Twenty-yen pieces, 16.575 grammes; 10-yen pieces, 8.2875 grammes; 5-yen pieces, 4.1438 grammes. If, in consequence of friction from circulation, any of the gold coins fall below the minimum circulating weight, or if any of the silver, nickel and copper coins become visibly reduced owing to the same cause, or if any coins become inconvenient for purposes of circulation, it is provided that the Government shall exchange such coins for others of the same face values, without making any charge. It is also provided that should any person import gold bullion and apply to have it minted into coin the Government shall grant the application.

MADAGASCAR.

March 7.—Ranavalona III, Queen of Madagascar, who had only been the nominal ruler of the island since it was made a French colony in June, 1896, was exiled to the island of Reunion by the French authorities. She is only thirty-seven years of age, and was regarded by her people with more than ordinary love.

NICARAGUA.

The law abolishing capital punishment on and after July 1, 1897, was signed by President Zelaya on May 9.

PERU.

April 9.—The Government suspended the coinage of silver at the mint and issued an edict prohibiting the importation of silver coins after May 10, 1897.

SAMOA.

February 23.—King Malietoa was menaced by a strong force of natives led by ex-King Tamasese, who took advantage of the absence of foreign warships to attack the capital.

February 24.—The rebels attacked the loyal islands of Maueno and Apolina, driving out all the inhabitants and sacking the Mormon mission.

SOCIETY ISLANDS.

On February 17, 1897, a rebellion broke out on the islands of Raiatea and Huahine as a result of the defiance of the French by Queen Mamai for about seven years. The natives carried on a bush warfare until February 28, when the rebellion was subdued by the capture of the Queen and her chief men. The Queen and 136 of her subjects were sent to New-Caledonia, the French penal settlement, and condemned to remain there for life.

SPAIN.

June 3.—The Canovas Cabinet resigned, owing to the difficulty the Ministers had experienced in carrying on the Government in view of the Parliamentary situation caused by the refusal of the Liberals to take part in the deliberations of the Cortes. This attitude of the Liberals was due to the personal encounter between the Duke of Tetuan, the Minister for Foreign Affairs, and Professor Comas, a Liberal Senator, on May 21, when the Duke slapped the face of the Senator after a heated debate on the Morgan helligerency resolution adopted by the United States Senate.

June 6.—The Queen Regent confirmed Señor Canovas in his Ministerial powers, and those of his Cabinet, and they remained in office with personnel and policy unchanged.

August 8.—Señor Canovas, the Prime Minister, was assassinated by an Anarchist, at Santa Agueda.

August 18.—General Azcarraga was appointed Prime Minister pro tem., and two days later the appointment was confirmed by the Queen Regent.

September 29.—The Cabinet resigned, but Azcarraga was requested to continue in office until a solution of the crisis could be found.

October 4.—Señor Praxedes Sagasta became Premier and formed a Cabinet.

November 27.—A decree tendering autonomy to Cuba and Porto Rico was published. See article on "Cuba Revolution" on another page, as indexed.

URUGUAY.—A revolutionary movement started in November, 1896, for the overthrow of President J. Idiarte Borda. General Saraiva, who a few years previous attained notoriety as commander of the insurgents in Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil, led the revolt. On November 29 Saraiva suffered defeat, and took prisoner General Muniz, the Uruguayan commander, and later won other victories. On December 4 Saraiva suffered defeat, and four days later the rebellion was said to have been suppressed. This statement proved untrue, for the insurgents still continued to hold the field, and in February, 1897, many prominent officers of the Uruguayan army were arrested charged with attending a conference of the enemies of the administration. On March 4 a state of siege was proclaimed at Montevideo, and orders were issued for the mobilization of the troops of the Republic. All telegraph wires into Montevideo were cut on the following day. Important towns were reported to be giving aid and comfort to the revolutionists, their number being given at 7,000 men. The rebels captured the town of Artigas, and began collecting duties on goods entering the country from Brazil. Other towns were captured by the rebels in April, and they obtained several victories afterward. On April 22 an unsuccessful attempt was made by a student named Rabocca to shoot the President at the gateway of the official residence at Montevideo, but the shot missed the mark. On July 22 a twenty-two day armistice was signed by Government troops and the rebels pending negotiations for a compromise. Affairs reached a climax on August 25, when, during the celebration of the independence of Uruguay, which was proclaimed on August 25, 1825, President Borda was shot and killed by a youth named Arredondo. Señor Cuestas, president of the Senate, became President ad interim. On September 10, through the mediation of Dr. Ramirez, terms of peace were concluded between the Government of Uruguay and the insurgents, and three days later both chambers of Congress ratified the terms. The treaty was signed on September 19.

ZANZIBAR.

April 6.—Slavery was abolished by a decree of the Sultan. It provides that existing rights over the concubines shall remain as before, unless the concubines claim their freedom on account of cruelty. In general terms the concubines will be regarded as wives. The decree also provides that the Government shall pay compensation for all slaves legally held.

POLITICAL MISCELLANY.

DELAWARE.

The Constitutional Convention decided on June 3, 1897, to promulgate the new State Constitution, and it went into effect on June 10. The following is the substance of the changes made: The State is divided into 35 Representative districts and 17 Senatorial districts, making the General Assembly consist of 52 members, or 22 more than last year. The next Legislature meets on January 11, 1898. The regular sessions are limited to sixty days and special sessions to thirty days. The members have heretofore been allowed $3 per day and the Speaker $5 per day. The new document increases the pay for members to $5 per day and the Speaker to $6 per day. Each member is to be allowed $25 for stationery and supplies at the regular session and $10 for any special session.

Lotteries, the sale of lottery tickets, pool-selling and other forms of gambling are prohibited. This was intended to effectually prevent the establishment of a racetrack in the State.

A Lieutenant-Governor is also provided for, who is to be the presiding officer of the Senate and a member of the Board of Pardons. He is to receive a salary of $6 per day when actually serving in the Legislature.

In case of a contest in the election of Governor the Chief Justice is to preside over the Joint Assembly, instead of the Speaker of the Senate. No man can be elected to the office of Governor more than once. The old Constitution provided that no member of Congress, nor person holding any office under the United States or the State, could exercise the office of Governor; this clause has been stricken out. In case of vacancy in any elective office, except that of Lieutenant-Governor and members of the General Assembly, it may be filled by the Governor appointing. The Governor is also given the veto power. The line of succession to vacancy in the Governorship is: Lieutenant-Governor, Secretary of State, President pro tem. of the Senate, and Speaker of the House.

The Attorney-General and Insurance Commissioner are to be elected for four years, and the State Treasurer and Auditor of Accounts for two years. Persons elected or appointed to State and county offices made elective by the new Constitution, and whose terms expire before the first Tuesday of 1899, are to hold to that day; expiring after January, 1899, and before the first Tuesday in 1901, to hold to that day; expiring after January, 1901, and before the first Tuesday in 1903, to hold to that day. Senators Pyle, Moore and Meredith are to continue to represent the districts in which they reside until the end of their terms.

The first general election under the new Constitution will take place on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November, 1898, when the even-numbered districts are to elect members of the Senate for two years and the odd-numbered districts will elect members for four years; afterward the terms of all Senators will be four years. This provision makes an exception in the cases of the three Senators above named.

There is also a provision for six State judges, one of whom shall be Chancellor and another Chief Justice, and no more than three in office shall be from the same political party. The bench was unanimously Democratic at the time the new Constitution was adopted. The appointments are to be for terms of twelve years.

A Board of Pardons is provided, to be composed of the Lieutenant-Governor, Chancellor, Secretary of State, State Treasurer and Auditor of Accounts. The article on revenue and taxation renders it impossible to pass any single-tax law for the State. Local option is provided by a clause which says that whenever a majority of all the members elected to each House in any one district requests the submission of the question of "license" or "no license" to a vote of the electors of the district, the General Assembly shall provide for the submission of such question at the next general election thereafter. For this purpose four districts are created: Kent County, Sussex County, rural New-Castle County, Sussex County, rural mington. The poll-tax is abolished and a registration fee of $1 is made the prerequisite for voting.

The provisions against bribery are stringent. Any one who shall receive, accept or offer to receive or accept, or shall pay, transfer, deliver, or shall contribute or offer or promise to contribute to another any money or other valuable thing as a compensation, inducement or reward, for registering or not registering, voting or withholding a vote, shall lose his own vote. Voters can be challenged for these offences, and must then swear or affirm that they are innocent before their vote can be received. The superior courts are empowered to recount the ballots in cases where fraud or mistake is charged. Bribery, fraud or intimidation is made a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $5,000, or imprisonment for not less than six months or more than five years, and with either sentence the loss of the franchise for ten years.

(NEW-JERSEY.

The following amendments to the State Constitution were voted upon by the people on September 28, 1897:

GAMBLING AND LOTTERY.—No lottery shall be authorized by the Legislature or otherwise in this State, and no ticket in any lottery shall be bought or sold within this State, nor shall pool-selling, hookmaking or gambling of any kind be authorized or allowed within this State, nor shall any gambling device, practice or game of chance now prohibited by law be legalized, or the remedy, penalty or punishment now provided therefor be in any way diminished. Carried by 70,444 for, and 69,642 against.

APPOINTMENTS TO OFFICE.—No person who shall have been nominated to the Senate by the Governor for any office of trust or profit under the government of this State, and shall not have been confirmed before the recess of the Legislature, shall be eligible for appointment to such office during the continuance of such recess. Carried by 73,732 for, and 66,296 against.

The Board of Canvassers made the official count on October 19, when the vote was declared as above given. The proposed amendment providing the right for women to vote, at any school meeting held in any of the school districts in which they might reside, for members of Boards of Education and other school officers, was defeated by a majority of 10,059.

NEW-YORK.

ANTI-SCALPING LAW.—The law of the Legislature relative to the sale of passenger tickets, approved May 18, 1897, provided that no person shall issue or offer to sell any passage ticket or berth or state-room ticket upon any vessel or railway train, unless he is an authorized agent of such company, or unless he has received authority in writing therefor, and then only at the office designated in his appointment. Every person who shall have purchased a passage ticket from an authorized agent of a railroad company, which shall have not been used or shall have been used only in part, may, within thirty days after the sale of said ticket, have the same redeemed at the office of the authorized agent or of the company. A wholly unused ticket shall be redeemed at the price paid therefor, and a partly used ticket shall be redeemed at a rate which shall be equal to the difference between the price paid for the whole ticket and the cost of a ticket of the same class between the points for which said ticket was actually used. Mileage books shall be redeemed within thirty days after the date of expiration thereof in the same manner.

ELECTION LAW.—The Governor, on April 15, 1897, approved of a law making it a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment for any person to vote or attempt to vote at a political caucus, primary or convention without being entitled to do so; or who by bribery, menace or other corrupt means, directly or indirectly, attempts to influence the vote of any person entitled to vote at such caucus, primary or convention, or obstructs such person in voting, or prevents him from voting thereat; or who fraudulently or wrongfully does any act tending to affect the result of an election at such caucus, primary or convention; or, who, being an officer, teller or canvasser thereof, willfully omits, refuses or neglects to do any act required by the election law, or refuses to permit any person to do any act authorized thereby, or makes or attempts to make any false canvass of the ballots cast at such caucus, primary or convention, or statement of the result of a canvass of the ballots cast thereat; or who induces or attempts to induce any officer, teller or canvasser of such caucus, primary or convention to do any act in violation of his duty; or, who directly or indirectly, by himself or through any other person, pays, or offers to pay, money or other valuable thing to any person to induce any voter or voters to vote or refrain from voting at such caucus, primary or convention for any particular person or persons; or, who directly or indirectly, by himself or through any other person, receives money or other valuable thing, before, at or after such caucus, primary or convention, for voting or refraining from voting for or against any person at such caucus, primary or convention.

Any person who causes his name to be placed upon any list or register of voters in more than one election district for the same election or upon a list or register of voters knowing that he will not be a qualified voter in the district at the election for which such list or register is made, or who causes his name to be placed upon the rolls of a party organization of one party while his name is by his consent or procurement upon the rolls of a party organization of another party, or aids or abets any such act, is punishable by a fine of five hundred dollars and imprisonment for not more than five years.

FOREST PRESERVE BOARD.—A law of the Legislature, approved April 8, 1897, authorized the appointment of "The Forest Preserve Board," to be composed of three persons, selected from the Commissioners of Fisheries, Game and Forest and the Commissioners of the Land Office. It was provided that the members of the Board should not receive any compensation for their services as such, but should receive actual and necessary expenses. The duties defined were to acquire for the State, by purchase or otherwise, land, structures or water, or such portion thereof in the territory embraced in the Adirondack Park, as the Board might deem advisable for the interests of the State.

Claims for the value of property taken and for damages caused by appropriation of land may be adjusted by the Forest Preserve Board if the amount thereof can be agreed upon with the owners of the land so appropriated. In case the Board is unable to agree with the owner for the value of the property so taken, or on the amount of damages resulting therefrom, such owner, within two years after the service upon him of notice of appropriation, may present to the Court of Claims a claim for the value of such land or for damages, and the Court of Claims shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine such claim and render judgment thereon. The owner of the land to be taken under the act may, at his option, reserve the spruce timber thereon ten inches or more in diameter at a height three feet above the ground. Such option must be exercised within six months after the service upon him of a notice of the appropriation of such land by the Forest Preserve Board, by serving upon such Board a written notice that he elects to reserve the spruce timber thereon. If such notice be not served by the owner within the time specified he shall be deemed to have waived his right to such reservation, and such timber shall thereupon become the property of the State. The reservation does not include or affect timber within twenty rods of a lake, pond or river, and such timber shall not be reserved. The timber reserved must be removed from the land within fifteen years after the service of notice of reservation in default of which it shall become the property of the State.

KNOCK-OUT DROPS.—On March 9, 1897, the Governor approved an amendment to the penal code relative to "knock-out drops." It provides that any person (other than a duly licensed physician or surgeon engaged in the lawful practice of his profession) who has in his possession any narcotic or anæsthetic substance, compound or preparation, capable of producing stupor or unconsciousness, with intent to administer the same or cause the same to be administered to another without the latter's consent, unless by direction of a duly licensed physician, is guilty of a felony, punishable by imprisonment in the State prison for not more than ten years. The possession of any such compound, concealed or furtively carried on the person, is declared to be presumptive evidence of an intent to violate the law.

MUNICIPAL BONDS.—An act of the Legislature, approved March 17, 1897, relative to the rate of interest on bonds refunding municipal indebtedness, provides that the bonded indebtedness of a municipal corporation, including interest due or unpaid, or any part thereof, may be paid up or retired by the issue of new substituted bonds for like amounts by the officers having in charge the payment of such bonds. The new bonds shall only be issued when the existing bonds can be retired by the substitution of the new bonds therefor, or can be paid by money realized by the sale of such new bonds. Where such bonded indebtedness shall become due within two years from the issue of the new bonds, such new bonds may be issued and sold to provide money in advance to pay up such existing bonds when they shall become due. The conditions are that the new bonds shall be made payable not less than one or more than thirty years from date; shall draw interest not exceeding 5 per cent; shall be sold and negotiated at the best price obtainable, not less than their par value; and until payment shall be exempt from taxation for town, county, municipal or State purposes.

NEW-YORK COUNTY REGISTER.—An act of the Legislature, approved March 16, 1897, provides that the Register of the County of New-York to be elected in 1897 shall hold office for four years, and that the term of such office shall be four years.

GREATER NEW-YORK LAW.

The Committee on Draft of Charter of the Greater New-York Commission made its report to the Commission on December 24, 1896, and on February 22, 1897, the Commission reported the charter to the Legislature. It was referred to the proper committees on the same day, and after back on March 18. On March 23 the bill was read in the Assembly and passed, without amendment, by a vote of 118 to 28. Of the majority there were 105 Republicans and 13 Democrats; and of the minority, 6 Republicans and 22 Democrats. Those who voted for the bill were:

Messrs. Abell, Addis, Adler, Allds, Anderson, H. T. Andrews, P. J. Andrews, Armstrong, Austin, Baker, Bates, Bayliss, Bedell, Bellen, Benhom, Blasdel, Bondy, Braun, Brennan, B. D. Brown, L. E. The absentees were Pratt, Lennon and E. L. Schmidt.

The Assembly also passed, by a vote of 81 to 21, the Constitutional amendment providing for the representation in the municipal Assembly of that part of Queens County taken into the Greater New-York territory; also, by a vote of 91 to 23, the Constitutional amendment abolishing boards of supervisors in the Greater New-York territory.

The Senate passed the bill on March 25 by the following vote:

Yeas—Brackett, Brown, Brush, Burns, Cantor, Chahoon, Coffey, Coggeshall, Daley, C. Davis, G. A. Davis, Ellsworth, Ford, Gallagher, Grant, Harrison, Higble, Higgins, Humphrey, Johnson, Koehler, Krum, Lamy, Lexow, Malby, McNulty, Page, Parsons, Pavey, Raines, Selbert, Sheppard, Stewart, Stranahan, Tibbits, White, Wieman, Wilcox, Wray—39.

Nays—Ahearn, Featherson, Foley, Grady, Guy, Martin, McCarren, Mullin, Munzinger—9.

The bill was then sent to the Mayors of the cities affected for their action, who held sessions to hear the citizens for and against it. Mayor P. J. Gleason of Long Island City returned the bill with his approval on April 1; Mayor F. W. Wurster of Brooklyn signed his approval on April 8, and Mayor W. L. Strong of New-York City forwarded his veto of the bill on April 7. The Assembly took up the bill several hearings they reported the bill again on April 12, and passed it over the veto by a vote of 106 to 32. The Senate acted upon it on April 14, and passed it by a vote of 34 to 10, Senator Pavey changing his vote from aye to no.

The following are some of the principal provisions of the Charter:

Chapter one relates to the boundaries, boroughs, powers, rights and obligations of the city of New-York. It provides that the new consolidation comprehends "all the municipal and public corporations and parts of municipal and public corporations, including cities, villages, towns and school districts, but not including counties, within the following territory, to wit: The county of Kings, the county of Richmond, the city of Long Island City, the towns of Flushing, Newtown and Jamaica, and that part of the town of Hempstead, in the county of Queens, which is westerly of a straight line drawn from the southeasterly point of the town of Flushing, through the middle of channel between Rockaway Beach and Shelter Island, in the county of Queens, to the Atlantic Ocean."

The corporate name is the "City of New-York," and it is divided into five boroughs, namely: Manhattan, the Bronx, Brooklyn, Queens and Richmond, as follows:

MANHATTAN—Manhattan Island, Nuttin or Governor's Island, Bedloe's Island, Bucking or Ellis Island, the Oyster Islands, Blackwell's Island, Randall's Island and Ward's Island.

BRONX—That portion of the City of New-York lying northerly or easterly of the Borough of Manhattan, between the Hudson River and the East River or Long Island Sound, including the several islands.

BROOKLYN—The City of Brooklyn.

QUEENS—That portion of Queens County as stated in the first paragraph of the principal provisions of the charter.

RICHMOND—Richmond County or Staten Island.

MUNICIPAL ASSEMBLY.

The legislative power of the city is vested in two houses to be known, respectively, as the Council and Board of Aldermen, together styled "The Municipal Assembly of the City of New-York." The Council consists of twenty-nine members, including the president, elected on a general ticket at the same time and for the same term as the Mayor. The salary of the president is $5,000 a year, and for other members $1,500 a year. The city is divided into ten Council districts, and each of the first eight (included in Manhattan, the Bronx and Brooklyn) is entitled to three members; that part of Queens, known as Long Island City and Newtown, one member; that part of Queens, known as Jamaica, Flushing and Hempstead, one member, and two members are allowed to the Borough of Richmond. The term of office of each member is four years. Every ex-Mayor of the city is, so long as he remains a resident of the city, entitled to a seat in the Council and to participate in its discussions, but not to a vote.

The Municipal Assembly must have at least one stated meeting a month, except, in the discretion of the Assembly, in August and September.

ALDERMEN—The Board consists of one member from each of the Assembly districts within the city; Queens County is entitled to the same number of representatives as in the Council, and those parts of the 1st and 11d Assembly districts of Westchester County included in the Bronx are entitled to one member. The term of office is two years, and the salary $1,000 a year. The president of the Board is elected from the members. Each head of an administrative department is entitled to a seat in the Board, with the right to participate in its discussions, but not the right to vote.

CITY CLERK—The Council, at its first meeting, must appoint a clerk, who is also the City Clerk; the term is six years, and the salary $7,000 a year. In addition to keeping the records, he is also to grant licenses to auctioneers.

EXECUTIVE AND OTHER DEPARTMENTS.

MAYOR—The term of office is fixed at four years; salary, $15,000, and he is ineligible for re-election. The Mayor may, within six months after the commencement of his term of office, remove from office any appointed official, except members of the Boards of Education and School boards, and except also judicial officers, for whose removal other provision is made by the Constitution. After the expiration of six months, appointed officers may be removed by the Mayor for cause, upon charges preferred and after opportunity to be heard, subject, however, to the approval of the Governor.

FINANCE DEPARTMENT—The head of the Department is the Controller; his term of office is four years, and the salary is $10,000. He may be removed from office by the Governor in the same manner as sheriffs. There are also five bureaus in this Department: Bureau for the collection of city revenue and markets rents; bureau for the collection of taxes; bureau of assessments and arrears; auditing bureau; bureau of City Chamberlain. It is provided that when bonds are issued they shall be in register form, in denominations of $10 or any multiple thereof, and that preference shall be given to applicants for the smallest amounts and smallest denominations.

CHAMBERLAIN—Appointed by the Mayor for four years, with a salary of $12,000.

COMMISSIONERS OF SINKING FUND—Composed of the Mayor, Controller, Chamberlain, president of the Council and chairman of the Finance Committee of the Board of Aldermen.

LAW DEPARTMENT—The head is the Corporation Counsel, appointed by the Mayor for four years, with a salary of $15,000.

POLICE DEPARTMENT—The Board is composed of four members, appointed by the Mayor for four years, no more than two of whom shall belong to the same political party, or be of the same political opinion on State and National politics. The salary of each is $5,000 a year. The department consists of a Chief of Police, five deputy chiefs, ten inspectors; captain, not exceeding one to each fifty patrolmen (except in the rural portion of the city); sergeants, not exceeding four to each fifty patrolmen; detective-sergeants; doormen, not exceeding two to each fifty patrolmen; forty surgeons and 6,382 patrolmen. This number may be increased by action of the Municipal Assembly, upon the recommendation of the Police Board. It is also provided that the police of Brooklyn, Long Island City and Richmond County shall be transferred to the general police force. The force is classified as follows: First grade, five years' service and upward; second grade, four and a half to five years' service; third grade, four years to four and a half years' service; fourth grade, three to four years' service; fifth grade, two to three years' service; sixth grade, one to two years' service; seventh grade, less than one year's service. The salary schedule is: Chief of Police, $6,000; deputies, $5,000; inspectors, $3,500; captains, $2,700; surgeon, $3,000; sergeants, $2,000; roundsmen, $1,500; doormen, $1,000; first grade patrolmen, $1,400; second grade, $1,350; third grade, $1,250; fourth grade, $1,150; fifth grade, $1,000; sixth grade, $900; seventh grade, $800.

BUREAU OF ELECTIONS—Under the control and supervision of the Police Department. Branches of the bureau are to be established in each of the boroughs. The head of the bureau is known as the Superintendent of Elections, is appointed for five years, with a salary of $6,000.

BOROUGH OFFICERS—In each borough there is to be a president and a local board, who are to be elected for a term of four years. The presidents of Manhattan, the Bronx, and Brooklyn, respectively, receive $5,000 a year, and the presidents of Queens and Richmond, respectively, $3,000 a year. There are also twenty-two districts of local improvements, each with a board to decide upon matters which may not be inconsistent with the powers of the Municipal Assembly, and to aid such assembly and departments in the discharge of the duties respecting the district governments.

BOARD OF PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS—Composed of the Mayor, Corporation Counsel, Controller, Commissioner of Water Supply, Commissioner of Highways, Commissioner of Street Cleaning, Commissioner of Sewers, Commissioner of Public Buildings, Lighting and Supplies, Commissioner of Bridges, the presidents of the several boroughs, and the president of the board. The latter is appointed by the Mayor at a salary of $8,000.

COMMISSIONER OF WATER SUPPLY—Appointed by the Mayor, with a salary of $7,500.

COMMISSIONER OF HIGHWAYS—Appointed by the Mayor, with a salary of $7,500.

COMMISSIONER OF STREET CLEANING—Appointed by the Mayor for six years; salary, $7,500.

COMMISSIONER OF SEWERS—Appointed by the Mayor; salary, $7,500; term, six years.

COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC BUILDINGS, LIGHTING AND SUPPLIES—Appointed by the Mayor for six years; salary, $7,500. He has cognizance and control of the construction, repairs, cleaning and maintenance of public buildings; of the contracts for street lighting by electricity or gas; the inspection and testing of gas and electricity for lighting, heating and power purposes; of the public baths; of the purchase of fuel, stationery, etc.

COMMISSIONER OF BRIDGES—Appointed by the Mayor for six years; salary, $7,500. He has cognizance and control of the management and maintenance of the New-York and Brooklyn Bridge, its railroads and collection of tolls and fares; the construction, repair, maintenance and management of all other bridges that may be constructed in whole or in part at the expense of the City of New-York, and of the construction, repair and maintenance of all other bridges that are or may be in whole or in part a public charge, not included in public parks, except the East River Bridge.

PARK DEPARTMENT—Three commissioners—one for Manhattan and Richmond, one for the Bronx, and the other for Brooklyn and Queens—salary of each, $5,000.

ART COMMISSION—Composed of the Mayor, the presidents of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, Public Library, and the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences, one painter, one sculptor, one architect, and three other residents of the city, none of whom shall be a painter, sculptor or architect or member of any other profession in the fine arts.

COMMISSIONERS OF BUILDINGS—Appointed by the Mayor from candidates who have had at least ten years' experience as architects or builders. Salary of the commissioner for Manhattan and the Bronx, and for Brooklyn, $7,000 a year, and for Queens and Richmond, $2,500.

COMMISSIONERS OF PUBLIC CHARITIES—Salary for the commissioner for Manhattan and the Bronx and of one for Brooklyn and Queens, is fixed at $7,500, and for the one for Richmond, $2,500.

COMMISSIONER OF CORRECTION—Appointed by the Mayor; salary, $7,500.

FIRE COMMISSIONER—Appointed by the Mayor; term, six years; salary, $7,500. He appoints a deputy commissioner for Brooklyn, one fire marshal for Manhattan, the Bronx and Richmond, and one for Brooklyn and Queens, at a salary of $3,000 each.

COMMISSIONERS OF DOCKS—Three appointed by the Mayor; terms, six years; salary, $5,000 each, with the exception of the president, elected from their number, to receive $6,000.

COMMISSIONERS OF TAXES AND ASSESSMENTS—Five, appointed by the Mayor; the president of the board, so designated in the appointment, to be for six years, and the others for four years. Salary of the president, $8,000; other members, $6,000.

BOARD OF ASSESSORS—The Mayor is authorized to appoint five persons, each with a salary of $3,000 a year.

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION—The charter provides for the following school boards: For Manhattan and the Bronx, twenty-one members; Brooklyn, forty-five members; Queens and Richmond, each to be of nine members. The members of the boards of education of New-York and Brooklyn are permitted to serve out their terms. The terms of all members of school boards is three years. A Board of Education for the entire city is provided, to consist of nineteen members, as follows: Of the chairman of each of the four school boards, ten elected by the board of Manhattan and the Bronx, and five elected by board of the Borough of Brooklyn, all from the membership of said boards, respectively.

BOARD OF HEALTH—President of the Police Board, Health Officer of the Port and three Commissioners of Health, appointed by the Mayor for six years. The annual salaries are: President, $7,500; commissioners, other than the president, $6,000; sanitary superintendent, $6,000; secretary, $5,000; assistant sanitary superintendents, $3,500; register of records, $4,000; assistant registers of records, $3,000; chief clerk, $3,000.

COURTS—The Justices' Courts and the office of the justices of the peace of Brooklyn and Long Island City are abolished and consolidated under the name of the Municipal Court of the City of New-York. For this court the Mayor is authorized to appoint seven additional justices. The boroughs are divided into districts, in each of which sessions of the Municipal Court are to be held. Manhattan has eleven districts; the Bronx, two districts; Brooklyn, five districts; Queens, two, and Richmond, three. The office of Police Justice of Manhattan and the Bronx, and the Court of Special Sessions of Brooklyn, are abolished. For the purposes of the administration of criminal justice, the new city is divided into two divisions. The first division embraces Manhattan and the Bronx, and the second division embraces Brooklyn, Queens and Richmond.

CORONERS—Four in Manhattan, and two each in the Bronx, Brooklyn, Queens and Richmond.

COUNTIES AND OFFICIALS—The wards of Manhattan, the Bronx, and Brooklyn are continued the same as before the consolidation. The five towns and all the incorporated villages within Richmond County are abolished, and the territory included within the towns of Castleton, Middletown, Northfield, Southfield and Westfield are to be known as Wards 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5, respectively, of Richmond. The towns and villages in that part of Queens County included within the City of New-York are abolished and are designated as follows: Long Island City, Ward 1 of Queens; Newtown, Ward 2; Flushing, Ward 3; Jamaica, Ward 4; Hempstead, Ward 5. The Mayor is to appoint the Corporation Counsel and all the administrative and executive officers of the city except the Controller. In addition to those heretofore enumerated, the Mayor appoints two Commissioners of Accounts, three Civil Service Commissioners and a Chief of the Bureau of Municipal Statistics. It is provided that all veterans, either of the Army or Navy or the Volunteer Fire Department who may be in the service of either the municipal or public corporation, shall be retained in the service.

The area of Greater New-York embraces 306 square miles, and contains (as estimated) nearly 3,500,000 people. In 1893, the year preceeding the passage of the act by the Legislature to submit the question of consolidation to the arbitrament of the electors, the assessed valuation of real estate and of personal property in the several counties now embraced in the municipality, was as follows:

County.	Real estate.	Personal.
New-York	$1,562,582,393	$370,936,136
Kings	518,501,441	19,704,920
Queens	50,672,499	2,377,860
Richmond	19,750,376	162,950
Westchester ...	82,802,083	2,277,956

Greater New-York will elect 58 Assemblymen, or eight more than one-third of the entire body. On January 1, 1898, it had 1,093 church edifices, two great universities and ninety-three other educational institutions, sixty-three libraries, thirty art galleries, fifty-four theatres, eighty-one clubs, 112 hotels and 218 banks. Its parks have an area of 73,336 acres; its cemeteries have a "silent population" of 4,000,000.

Carter, vice-president of the Chicago Board of Trade; vice-presidents for the Southern Republics—Brazil, Colonel Dr. Mendez; Mexico, Ferrari Perez; Argentina, Carlos Lix Klett; Uruguay, P. de Murgulondo; Chili, Carlos Rogers; Venezuela, Antonio E. Delino; Peru, Alejandro Garland; Costa Rica, Mauro Fernandez; Salvador, Federico Mejia; British Guiana, L. H. Richter. The objects were set forth in a series of resolutions which provided that each delegate should report such full detailed information, combined with such earnest practical suggestions as shall tend to make the organization which he represents an effective aid toward the international body; that the Executive Committee prepare a programme of business to send to each affiliated institution in the United States and in foreign countries within sixty days before the delegates start for the annual congress, recommending to the several nations the importance of securing complete selections to represent the raw and national products, and all other things which could find import to the United States, and send them to the Philadelphia Museum, which is designated as the depository and the instrumentality for placing it before the manufacturers; that the delegates shall obtain for the Philadelphia Museum the best information concerning the methods of packing and transportation, and all other information which might be of aid in the exportation of goods—it being especially desired that sample packages, photographs and everything be furnished to illustrate the methods of transportation and exhibition of goods.

TARIFF BILL.

The new tariff bill, popularly known as the "Dingley Bill," was introduced in the House of Representatives on March 15, 1897. The Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee of the preceding House had been at work throughout the short session which ended on March 4, giving hearings and preparing the bill for the new Congress. Debate upon it began on March 22, and was continued until March 31, when it was passed by a vote of 205 (199 Republicans, 5 Democrats and 1 Populist) to 121 (114 Democrats, 7 Populists). Twenty-one (18 Populists and 3 Silverites) declined to go on record, and six were recorded as not voting.

The Senate Finance Committee had hearings from day to day until May 4, when it reported the bill to the Senate with several amendments. Debate was begun in the Senate on May 25, and continued till July 7, when that body passed the bill, as amended from time to time, by the following vote: 38 ayes (35 Republicans, 2 Silverites, 1 Democrat); 28 nays (26 Democrats, 1 Silverite, 1 Populist); not voting, 7; paired, 16.

The bill was then sent to conference, the following being the committees of both Houses: Senate—Republicans—Messrs. Allison, Aldrich, Platt (Conn.), Burrows; Democrats—Messrs. Jones (Ark.), Vest, White; Populist—Jones (Nev.). House—Republicans—Messrs. Dingley, Payne, Dainzell, Hopkins and Grosvenor; Democrats—Bailey, McMillin, Wheeler. The Conference committees reported back the bill, as agreed to, on July 19, and the House confirmed the reported bill on the same day by a vote of: Ayes, 186; noes, 115; not voting, 41; answered present, 12; paired, 28.

The Senate took up the report on July 20 and debated it each day until July 24, when it was voted upon as follows: Ayes, 40; noes, 30; paired, 14.

The President signed the bill on the same day and it became a law. When the bill went to conference there were 872 amendments that had been made by the Senate. The Senate receded from 118 amendments and the House from 511. The others, 243 in number, were compromised.

The bill became a law on July 24, 1897, the following being the rates of duty—those of the Dingley law in the first column, and those of the Wilson law of 1891, which the one of 1897 supersedes, being in the second column, for the purpose of comparison by the reader. A "—" in a column of rates indicates that in that bill that item was put under some other head. An "*" indicates that unless specially provided in the act the duty levied is that given in the column. An "a" means that it was not in the old law. "b" Old law, 10 per cent. "c" Old law—Apples, 20 per cent; others free. "d" Old law, 20 per cent. "e" Old law—In packages, 8 cents per cubic foot; in bulk, $1 50 per 1,000.

The Tribune published a full text of the bill in pamphlet form in August, 1897.

FREE LIST.

All articles not elsewhere specified in the bill are put upon the "free list" and were included in the free list in the Wilson bill.

RECIPROCITY.

The Reciprocity part of the tariff law provides that the President may suspend the imposition and collection of duties specified with any foreign country or their colonies producing the articles mentioned below, whenever such country shall make concessions in favor of the products or manufactures of the United States, and fix the duties as hereinafter given:

Argols, or crude tartar, or wine lees, crude, 5 per cent ad valorem.

Brandies, or other spirits manufactured or distilled from grain or other materials, $1 75 per proof gallon.

Champagne and all other sparkling wines, in bottles containing not more than one quart and more than one pint, $6 per dozen; containing not more than one pint each and more than one-half pint, $3 per dozen; containing one-half pint each or less, $1 50 per dozen; in bottles or other vessels, containing more than one quart each, in addition to $6 per dozen bottles, on the quantities in excess of one quart, at the rate of $1 90 per gallon.

Still wines and vermouth in casks, 35 cents per gallon; in bottles or jugs, per case of one dozen bottles or jugs, containing each not more than one quart and more than one pint, or twenty-four bottles or jugs, containing each not more than one pint, $1 25 per case; and any excess beyond these quantities found in such bottles or jugs shall be subject to a duty of four cents per pint or fractional part thereof, but no separate or additional duty shall be assessed upon the bottles or jugs.

Paintings in oil or water colors, pastels, pen and ink drawings and statuary, 15 per cent ad valorem.

On coffee, 3 cents per pound.

On tea, 10 cents per pound.

On tonquin, tongqua or tonka beans, 50 cents per pound; vanilla beans, $2 per pound; vanilla beans, commercially known as cuts, $1 per pound.

That there shall be levied, collected and paid on the importation of all raw or unmanufactured articles, not enumerated or provided for in this act, a duty of 10 per cent ad valorem, and on all articles manufactured, in whole or in part, not provided for in this act, a duty of 20 per cent ad valorem.

It is also provided, That foreign materials for the construction, repairing or outfitting of American vessels, built for foreign account or the foreign trade, or used in their machinery, shall be free. But such vessels, built for foreign account, shall not be allowed in the coastwise trade, and when built on American account shall not be allowed in the coastwise trade over two months per year.

That the sixteenth section of an act, entitled "An act to remove certain burdens on the American merchant marine and encourage the American foreign carrying trade, and for other purposes," approved June, 26, 1884, be amended so as to read as follows:

"Section 16. That all articles of foreign or domestic production needed and actually withdrawn from bonded warehouses and bonded manufacturing warehouses for supplies (not including equipment) of vessels of the United States engaged in foreign trade, or in trade between the Atlantic and Pacific ports of the United States, may be so withdrawn from said bonded warehouses, free of duty or of internal revenue tax, as the case may be, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe; but no such articles shall be landed at any port of the United States."

That a discriminating duty of 10 per cent ad valorem, in addition to the duties imposed by law, shall be levied, collected and paid on all goods, wares or merchandise which shall be imported in vessels not of the United States; or which being the production or manufacture of any foreign country not contiguous to the United States, shall come into the United States from such contiguous country; but this discriminating duty shall not apply to goods, wares or merchandise which shall be imported in vessels not of the United States, entitled at the time of such importation, by treaty or convention, to be entered in the ports of the United States on payment of the same duties as shall then be payable on goods, wares and merchandise imported in vessels of the United States, nor to such foreign products or manufactures as shall be imported from such contiguous countries in the usual course of strictly retail trade.

*In the amount here stated as the outstanding principal of the public debt are included the certificates of deposit outstanding on June 30, issued under act of June 8, 1872, for which a like amount in United States notes was on special deposit in the Treasury for their redemption and added to the cash balance in the Treasury. These certificates, as a matter of accounts, are treated as a part of the public debt, but being offset by notes held on deposit for their redemption should properly be deducted from the principal of the public debt in making comparison with former years.

†Exclusive of gold, silver, currency certificates, and Treasury notes of 1890 held in the Treasurer's cash, and including $64,623,512 bonds issued to the several Pacific railroads.

VARIOUS MONEYS OF CIRCULATION.

There are ten different kinds of money in circulation in the United States, namely: Gold coins, standard silver dollars, subsidiary silver, gold certificates, silver certificates, Treasury notes issued under the Act of July 14, 1890; United States notes (also called greenbacks and legal tenders), National bank notes, and nickel and bronze coins. These forms of money are all available as circulation.

Gold coin is legal tender at its nominal or face value for all debts, public and private, when not below the standard weight and limit of tolerance prescribed by law; and when below such standard of tolerance it is legal tender in proportion to its weight.

Standard silver dollars are legal tender at their nominal or face value in payment of all debts, public and private, without regard to the amount, except where otherwise expressly stipulated in the contract.

Subsidiary silver is legal tender for amounts not exceeding $10 in any one payment.

Treasury notes of the Act of July 14, 1890, are legal tender for all debts, public and private, except where otherwise expressly stipulated in the contract.

United States notes are legal tender for all debts, public and private, except duties on imports and interest on the public debt.

Gold certificates, silver certificates and

National bank notes are not legal tender, but both classes of certificates are receivable for all public dues, while National bank notes are receivable for all public dues except duties on imports, and may be paid out by the Government for all salaries and other debts and demands owing by the United States to individuals, corporations and associations within the United States, except interest on the public debt, and in redemption of the National currency. All National banks are required by law to receive the notes of other National banks at par.

The minor coins of nickel and copper are legal tender to the extent of 25 cents.

The coinage of legal-tender gold was authorized by the first coinage act, passed by Congress April 2, 1792. The gold unit of value is the dollar, which contains 25.8 grains of standard gold 900 fine. The amount of fine gold in the dollar is 23.22 grains, and the remainder of the weight is an alloy of copper. The total coinage of gold by the mints of the United States from 1792 to June 30, 1897, was $1,886,338,958, of which it is estimated that $671,676,250 is still in existence as coin in the United States, while the remainder has been exported or consumed in the arts.

The silver unit is the dollar, which contains 412½ grains of standard silver 900 fine. The amount of fine silver in the dollar is 371¼ grains, and there are 41¼ grains of copper alloy. The standard silver dollar was first authorized by the Act of April 2, 1792. The coinage of the standard silver dollar was discontinued by the Act of February 12, 1873, and it was restored by the Act of February 28, 1878. The total amount coined from 1792 to 1873 was $8,031,238, and the amount coined from 1878 to June 30, 1897, was $451,993,742. The coinage ratio between gold and silver under the Act of 1792 was 15 to 1, but by the Act of 1837 it was changed to 15.988 to 1 (commonly called 16 to 1).

OCEAN MAIL SERVICE.

An act of the Congress of 1890-91 provided that vessels employed in the mail service under the provisions of the act shall be American built steamships, owned and officered by American citizens, in conformity with the existing laws, and upon each departure from the United States the following proportion of the crew shall be citizens of the United States, to wit: During the first two years of such contract for carrying the mails, one-fourth thereof; during the next three succeeding years, one-third thereof, and during the remaining time of the continuance of such contract at least one-half thereof; and said vessels must be constructed after the latest and most approved types, with all the modern improvements and appliances for ocean steamers. Said vessels shall take, as cadets or apprentices, one American-born boy under twenty-one years of age, for each 1,000 tons gross register, and one for each majority fraction thereof, who shall be educated in the duties of seaman-ship, rank as petty officers, and receive such pay for their services as may be reasonable.

The figures on the table are the highest cast for any one elector on each ticket.

*The figures on the Bryan and Sewall and the Bryan and Watson tickets are added together, thus giving the total vote cast for the head of the ticket. For separate vote for "Bryan and Sewall" and "Bryan and Watson" ticket in the several States was: Alabama, 24,089; California, 21,623; Colorado, 2,389; Florida, 1,977; Georgia, 440; Illinois, 1,090; Kansas, 46,194; Maine, 2,387; Massachusetts, 15,181; Mississippi, 7,517; Nevada, 575; New-Hampshire, 379; Ohio, 2,615; Pennsylvania, 6,103; Tennessee, 4,523; Texas, 76,926; Vermont, 461; Wyoming, 486. In the Electoral College [Sewall, for Vice-President, received 158 votes, and Watson, for Vice-President, received 18 votes. The votes cast for Watson were as follows: Arkansas, 3; Missouri, 4; Nebraska, 4; North Carolina, 5; Utah, 1; Wyoming, 1. California and Kentucky each elected one Bryan elector.

1888.—Crowder, United Labor, 3,073; Curtis, Am., 1,591; Soc., 2,068; scat., 7,777. All over Harrison, 506,544. 1892.—In the Harrison vote in Texas are included 3,969 votes cast for a Republican electoral ticket known as the "Lily White." In Alabama and Louisiana there were some Republican fusions with the People's party, and in Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, Nevada, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wyoming there were Democratic fusions with the People's party. In each case the "fusion" vote is counted for Weaver except in Louisiana, where it is equally divided between Harrison and Weaver. In Minnesota the Weaver electors who had Democratic indorsement received 107,074 votes. In Oregon the one Weaver elector who had Democratic indorsement was elected. Wad. LABOR LAWS OF THE U. S.

LABOR COMMISSIONER.—The U. S. Revised Statutes provide for a Commissioner of Labor at the seat of Government, who is specially charged to ascertain at as early a date as possible, and whenever industrial changes shall make it essential, the cost of producing articles at the time dutiable in the United States, in leading countries where such articles are produced, by fully specified units of production, and under a classification showing the different elements of cost, or approximate cost, of such articles of production, including the wages paid in such industries per day, week, month, or year, or by the piece; and hours employed per day; and the profits of the manufacturers and producers of such articles; and the comparative cost of living, and the kind of living. . . . what articles are controlled by trusts or other combinations of capital, business operations, or labor, and what effect said trusts or other combinations of capital, business operations, or labor have on production and prices. He shall also establish a system of reports by which, at intervals of not less than two years, he can report the general condition, so far as production is concerned, of the leading industries of the country. The Commissioner of Labor is also specially charged to investigate the causes of, and facts relating to, all controversies and disputes between employers and employees, as they may occur, and which may tend to interfere with the welfare of the people of the different States, and report thereon to Congress. The Commissioner of Labor shall also obtain such information upon the various subjects committed to him as he may deem desirable from different foreign nations, and what, if any, convict made goods are imported into this country, and if so from where.

ARBITRATION OF LABOR DISPUTES

—Chapter 1,063, of the United States Revised Statutes, provides that whenever differences or controversies arise between railroad or other transportation companies, engaged in the transportation of property or passengers between two or more States, and the employees of such companies; if, upon the written proposition of either party to the controversy to submit their differences to arbitration, the other party shall accept the proposition, then and in such event the company is authorized to select one person, and the employee or employees, as the case may be, to select another person, and the two persons thus selected to select a third person, all three of whom shall be citizens of the United States, and wholly impartial and disinterested in respect to such differences or controversy; and the three persons thus selected and appointed are created and constituted a board of arbitration, with the duties, powers and privileges set forth in the chapter. The board is clothed with power and authority to take testimony, the same as are United States Commissioners appointed by the United States Circuit Court; also to hold sessions at the nearest practicable point to the place of the origin of the difficulty or controversy. It is provided in Section 6 that the President may select two commissioners, one of whom at least must be a resident of the State or Territory in which the controversy arises; who, together with the Commissioner of Labor, shall constitute a temporary commission for the purpose of examining the causes of the controversy, the conditions accompanying, and the best means for adjusting it; the result of which examination shall be immediately reported to the President and Congress, and on the rendering of such report the services of the two commissioners shall cease. The services of the commission, so constituted by the President, may be tendered by him for the purpose of settling a controversy such as contemplated, either upon his own motion, or upon the application of one of the parties to the controversy, or upon the application of the Executive of the State. In either case, whatever it be, the action of the board of arbitration or the commission, any order, finding, conclusion or award made by a majority of such arbitrators shall be of the same force and effect as if all three of such arbitrators concurred therein or united in making the same.

BOYCOTTING.—The Federal Commission of Labor lays down this ruling as to boycotting:

"Every one has the right to work or to refuse to work for whom and on what terms he pleases, or to refuse to deal with whom he pleases; and a number of persons, if they have no unlawful object in view, have the right to agree that they will not work for or deal with certain persons, or that they will not work under a fixed price or without certain conditions. The right of employees to refuse to work, either singly or in combination, except upon terms and conditions satisfactory to themselves, is balanced by the right of employers to refuse to engage the services of any one for any reason they deem proper. The master may fix the wages, and other conditions not unlawful, upon which he will employ workmen, and has the right to refuse to employ them upon any other terms. In short, both employers and employees are entitled to exercise the fullest liberty in entering into contracts of service, and neither party can hold the other responsible for refusing to enter into such contracts. It has been held, however, that employers in separate, independent establishments have no right to combine for the purpose of preventing workmen who have incurred the hostility of one of them from securing employment upon any terms and by the method commonly known as blacklisting, debarring such workmen from exercising their vocation, such a combination being regarded as a criminal conspiracy. On the other hand, a combination of employees having for its purpose the accomplishment of an illegal object is unlawful; for instance, a conspiracy to extort money from an employer by inducing his workmen to leave him and deterring others from entering his service is illegal; and an association which undertakes to coerce workmen to become members thereof or to dictate to employers as to the methods or terms upon which their business shall be conducted by means of force, threats or intimidation, interfering with their traffic or lawful employment of other persons is, as to such purposes, an illegal combination. Unlawful interference by employees, or former employees, or persons acting in sympathy with them, with the business of a railroad company in the hands of a receiver renders the persons interfering liable to punishment for contempt of court."

HOURS OF LABOR.—The U. S. Revised Statutes provide that eight hours shall constitute a day's work for all laborers, workmen and mechanics who may be employed by or on behalf of the U. S. Government. This does not prevent the Government from making arrangements with its employees by which their labor may be more or less than eight hours a day. Nor does it prescribe the amount of compensation for that or any other hours of labor. When, therefore, a laborer in the habit of working for the Government 12 hours a day, for $2.50 per day, is informed by the proper authority that if he remains in the service at that compensation, he must continue to work 12 hours a day, and he does so continue, and is paid accordingly, he cannot afterward recover for the additional time over 8 hours a day's labor.

In 1887 Congress provided by act that eight hours should constitute a day's work for letter carriers in cities or postal districts connected therewith, and if any letter carrier should be employed a greater number of hours per day he shall be paid extra for the same.

HOLIDAY PAY.—All persons of the Government service as per diem employees are allowed the following holidays, for which they shall receive pay the same as on other days: January 1, February 22, May 30 (Memorial Day), July 4, December 25, and such days as the President may appoint as days for National thanksgiving.

CIVIL SERVICE.

The term "Civil Service Act" refers to an Act of Congress "to regulate and improve the Civil Service of the United States," approved January 16, 1883, which gave the power to the President to appoint by and with the advice and consent of the Senate three persons, not more than two of whom shall be adherents of the same party, as a Commission, with authority to prescribe regulations in pursuance of, and for the execution of, the provisions of the rules and of the Civil Service Act. The terms used in the regulations are: "Classified Service," referring to all that part of the executive Civil Service of the United States included within the provisions of the act; "Grade," referring to a group of employees or positions in the classified service arranged upon a basis of duties performed without regard to salaries received; "Class," referring to a group of employees or positions in any grade arranged upon the basis of salaries received, and "Excepted Position," referring to any position within the provisions of the Civil Service Act, but excepted from the requirement of competitive examination or registration for appointment thereto.

The rules published by the Commission on May 6, 1896, show that almost everything in the District of Columbia between the grade of mere laborer or workman and the grade of Presidential appointment is included in the classified service. The following places are brought into the classification outside the District of Columbia: All executive officers and employees who are serving in a clerical capacity, or whose duties are in whole or in part of a clerical nature; or in the capacity of a watchman or messenger, or physician, hospital steward, nurse, or whose duties are of a medical nature; or as draughtsman, civil engineer, steam engineer, electrical engineer, computer or fireman; or in the service of the Supervising Architect's office in the capacity of superintendent of construction or of repair, or foreman; or in the service of the Treasury Department in any capacity. The latter section shows that outside the District of Columbia, as well as within the District, everything in the Treasury Department is classified. In branches of the service outside the District of Columbia connected with other departments, the classification is somewhat more restricted. No person shall be appointed to, or be employed in, any position which has been, or may hereafter be, classified under the Civil Service Act, until he shall have passed the examination provided therefor, or unless he is especially exempt from examination by the provisions of the act or the rules made in pursuance thereof. It is provided that examinations shall be held at such places and on such dates as the Commission shall deem most practicable to subserve the convenience of applicants and the needs of the service. It is also provided that persons in the Government service may be appointed as Boards of Examiners, but the members of such boards are not all to be adherents of one political party when persons of other political parties are available and competent to serve.

On July 28, 1897, President McKinley promulgated this amendment to Rule II: "No removal shall be made from any position subject to competitive examination except for just cause and upon written charges filed with the head of the Department or other appointing officer, and of which the accused shall have full notice and an opportunity to make defence."

He also amended Rule III so as to include within the classified service the employes of all custom-houses, without regard to the number of employes. Hitherto the classification embraced customs offices where the number of employes was five or more. This order brings into the classified service sixty-five hitherto unclassified customs offices. All the employes of these sixty-five ports are by this order embraced in the classified service, with the exception of a deputy and a cashier at the principal ports, and of one deputy at each sub-port or station.

Every applicant for examination must be a citizen of the United States, must be of proper age, and must make his application under oath, upon a form prescribed by the Commission, to be accompanied by such certificates as may be required. The age limitations are fixed by the Commission, and vary for different branches of the service. The Commission may, in its discretion, refuse to examine an applicant, or to certify an eligible who may be physically disabled to perform the duties required; or who has been guilty of crime or infamous or disgraceful conduct; or who has been dismissed from the service for delinquency or misconduct within one year next preceding the date of his application; or has made a false statement or practised or attempted to practise deception in securing his registration or appointment. Every competitor who attains an average percentage of 70 or more shall be eligible for appointment to the position for which he has been examined. Competitors whose claims to preference under the law have been allowed, and who attain an average of 65, or over, shall be placed, in the order of their average percentages, at the head of the register of eligibles. Persons who served in the military or naval service in the Civil War and were honorably discharged therefrom, and persons who have been separated from positions through no delinquency or misconduct, shall be placed at the head of the register in the order of their fulfillments of requirements. The term of eligibility shall be one year from the date on which the name of the eligible is entered upon the register. When vacancies occur in classified positions the appointing or nominating officer shall request certification to him of the names of eligibles for the position vacant; the certification being of the three names at the head of the register of eligibles, and which names must not have been three times certified to the department or office in which the vacancy exists.

Certificates for appointments of persons in, or on direct detail from any department or office in Washington, D. C., shall be made so as to maintain, as nearly as possible, the apportionment of such appointments among the several States and Territories and District of Columbia upon the basis of population, except as to appointments in a few places.

LOCAL NOTES.

Massachusetts (in 1884) and New-York (in 1883) are the only States which have State Civil Service laws. In several cities the rules are, however, embodied in their respective charters. In Philadelphia a system of examinations is provided by the so-called "Bullitt bill." The persons admitted to competition must, however, be satisfactory to the appointing officer, and the examinations are conducted by boards within the departments, so that in practical operation the system amounts to nothing. In New-Orleans, La., and Seattle, Wash., rules have recently been adopted by popular vote, applying to all branches of the city service. A similar set of rules is provided for by the charter of Indianapolis. The system in that city was, however, temporarily set aside by the action of the Mayor in 1896. In Milwaukee, Wis., and in Portland, Ore., there are rules applying to certain departments, although not to all.

The New-York State act followed closely the form of the Federal act. It provided for the classification of all State offices, and for the various departments in cities of 50,000 inhabitants and over. In 1884 the provision relating to cities was amended to include all cities, and making the provision mandatory. Under the original act the promulgation of rules had been optional with the Mayor. The act has been reinforced very materially by an amendment to the State Constitution, prepared by the Constitutional Convention of 1894, and adopted by the people in November of that year. This provision, which has now been in force since January 1, 1895, is as follows:

"Appointments and promotions in the Civil Service of the State and of all the civil divisions thereof, including towns and villages, shall be made according to merit and fitness, to be ascertained, so far as practicable, by examinations, which, so far as practicable, shall be competitive; provided, however, that soldiers and sailors of the late Civil War shall be entitled to preference in appointment and promotion, without regard to their standing on any list from which appointments or promotions shall be made."

The courts of the State have construed this provision very broadly, and as a result all non-competitive examinations, except for positions in State hospitals and asylums, have been abolished. Prior to 1895 a great majority of the places in the entire service were non-competitive, and but slightly removed from political influence.

The original bill applied merely to the various State departments and to cities having 50,000 inhabitants or over. The promulgation of rules in any such city was optional with the Mayor. In 1884 the bill was amended to make the provision with regard to cities mandatory, and extending its operation to cities of every class. Before this had been done, however, rules had been adopted by the Mayors of New-York, Brooklyn and Buffalo. Mayor Edson in New-York City appointed as Civil Service Commissioners Messrs. Everett P. Wheeler, E. L. Godkin and E. Randolph Robinson, all of whom had been actively identified with the reform movement. The original rules were drawn under their supervision and the original classification perfected by them. After five years' service they were replaced in 1889 by Tammany Commissioners. During the five years following, the administration of the rules was more or less imperfect. Under Mayor Strong, however, the old Commission was restored, and the board increased to five members, the new members being Charles W. Watson and J. Van Vechten Olcott. Vacancies afterward occurred through the resignation of Mr. Godkin and the death of Mr. Robinson. In 1896 the application of the rules was greatly extended, until, excepting heads of departments, there were not more than sixty positions not filled through competition, either in the case of promotion or original appointment. The system of labor registration was also adopted. There are 20,000 positions in the municipal civil service, of which 5,000 in the educational department are subject to a separate system. Of those remaining 5,000 are laborers employed under the registration system. The competitive schedules embrace positions of every character, both clerical, technical and professional. Examinations are conducted by a board of nine examiners, who are themselves selected through examination. The examinations, without exception, are of the most practical character. Promotions are made after competition among those desiring to compete in the next lower grade. The higher places must be filled by promotion, unless the appointing officer certifies to the Civil Service Commission that there are none in the lower grade fit for the higher duties to be performed. There is no provision in the State act or in any of the local rules limiting the power of removal, excepting that removals may not be made for political reasons. In Brooklyn the right to a hearing is given in the city charter. In New-York City, in certain cases, similar rights are guaranteed by the Consolidation act.

FOREIGN RULES.

In all of the principal foreign countries an entrance examination, both mental and physical, is required before appointment in the civil service. The tenure of office is, as a rule, permanent, or during good behavior, and after the employee has become incapacitated by reason of age, length of service or physical infirmity, he is retired with a pension, the amount of which varies, in proportion to length of service, from one-sixth to four-fifths of actual salary. In some countries it is optional with the employee to retire after fifteen years of service, while in other countries from thirty to thirty-five years of service are required before retirement. The salaries paid to clerks and other subordinate employees are lower than those paid by the United States Government; but in the principal countries the salaries of higher officials—such as heads of bureaus and chiefs of divisions—are, as a rule, higher than those paid in the United States. The hours of labor vary in the different countries. In the far Northern as well as in the tropical and semi-tropical countries the hours of labor are short; in nearly all of the countries, as well as in the United States, the hours of postal employees are longer than those of other governmental employees. The time allowed for lunch, the amount of annual leave with pay, and the amount of sick leave with pay, vary in the different countries; in some the time for lunch or rest, or amount of annual leave, is fixed according to the grade of the employee, the higher grade of employees being allowed more time than those of inferior rank; many of the countries are more liberal in regard to sick leave than the United States. An unusually large number of holidays is allowed, especially in Oriental countries; these holidays are, as a rule, religious ones—Christmas and New Year's being generally observed in the European countries; in some countries, however, national events are also celebrated. In some countries females are not employed at all, while their employment in other countries is, as a rule, limited to work of teachers, telegraph operators and positions in the postal service. In Morocco salaries are made up from bribes and presents, and employees hold their places so long as they can squeeze enough money out of subordinates to satisfy their superiors.

NATURALIZATION LAWS.

DECLARATION OF INTENTION.—An alien seeking naturalization as a citizen of the United States must declare on oath before a Circuit or District Court of the United States, or a District or Supreme Court of the Territories, or a court of record of any of the States having common law jurisdiction and a seal and a clerk, at least two years before his admission, that it is, bona-fide, his intention to become a citizen of the United States, and to renounce forever all allegiance and fidelity to any foreign State or ruler, and particularly to the one of which he may be at the time a citizen or subject.

OATH ON APPLICATION FOR ADMISSION.—At the time of his application for admission he must also declare on oath, before some one of the courts above specified, "that he will support the Constitution of the United States, and that he absolutely and entirely renounces and abjures all allegiance and fidelity to every foreign prince, potentate, State or sovereignty, and particularly, by name, to the prince, potentate, State or sovereignty of which he was before a citizen or subject."

CONDITIONS OF CITIZENSHIP.—It must appear to the satisfaction of the court to which the alien has applied for final admission that he has resided continuously within the United States for at least five years, and in the State or Territory where the court is held at least one year, and that during that time "he has behaved as a man of good moral character, attached to the principles of the Constitution of the United States, and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the same."

TITLES OF NOBILITY.—If the applicant bears any hereditary title or belongs to any order of nobility, he must make an express renunciation at the time of his application.

SOLDIERS AND NAVY SAILORS.—Any alien twenty-one years old and upward who has been honorably discharged, having served five consecutive years, from the Army, Navy or Marine Corps of the United States, may become a citizen on his petition, without any previous declaration of intention, provided the court admitting such alien shall, in addition to proof of good moral character, be satisfied of the proof of the service and honorable discharge of such alien.

MINORS.—Any alien under the age of twenty-one, who has resided in the United States three years next preceding his twenty-first birthday, and has continued to reside therein up to the time he makes application to be admitted a citizen, may, after he arrives at the age of twenty-one, and after he has resided five years within the United States, including the three years of his minority, be admitted a citizen; but he must make a declaration on oath and prove to the satisfaction of the court that for the two years next preceding it has been his bona-fide intention to become a citizen.

CHILDREN OF NATURALIZED CITIZENS.—The children of persons who have been duly naturalized, being under twenty-one at the time of the naturalization of their parents, shall, if dwelling in the United States, be considered as citizens.

CITIZENS' CHILDREN BORN ABROAD.—The children of persons who now are or have been citizens of the United States are considered as citizens, though they may be born out of the limits and jurisdiction of the United States.

CHINESE.—The naturalization of Chinese is prohibited by Section 14, Chapter 126, Laws of 1882.

PROTECTION OF NATURALIZED CITIZENS.—Section 2,000 of the Revised Statutes of the United States expressly declares that "all naturalized citizens of the United States while in foreign countries are entitled to and shall receive from this Government the same protection of person and property which is accorded to native-born citizens."

THE RIGHT OF SUFFRAGE.—The right to vote is conferred by the State, naturalization by the United States. In several States aliens who have declared their intentions enjoy the right to vote equally with naturalized or native-born citizens. But the Federal Naturalization laws apply to the whole Union alike, and no alien may be naturalized until after five years' residence, except an honorably discharged soldier or a person whose parents have been naturalized while he was under twenty-one years of age, as above recited. Even after five years' residence and due naturalization he is not entitled to vote unless the laws of the State confer the privilege upon him.

TRADE-MARK LAWS.

The following classes may obtain registration:

1. (a) Any person, firm or corporation domiciled in the United States or located in any foreign country which, by treaty, convention or law, affords similar privileges to citizens of the United States, and who is entitled to the exclusive use of any trade-mark and uses the same in commerce with foreign nations or with Indian tribes.

(b) Any citizen or resident of this country wishing the protection of his trade-mark in any foreign country the laws of which require registration in the United States as a condition precedent.

2. Every applicant for registration of a trade-mark must cause to be recorded in the Patent Office—

(a) The name, domicile and place of business or location of the firm or corporation desiring the protection of the trade-mark, and the residence and citizenship of individual applicants.

(b) The class of merchandise and the particular description of goods comprised in such class to which the trade-mark has been appropriated.

(c) A description of the trade-mark itself, with fac-similes thereof, and the mode in which it has been applied and used.

(d) The length of time during which the trade-mark has been used by the applicant on the class of goods described.

3. A fee of $25 is required on filing each application.

An application will consist of a statement or specification, a declaration or oath, and the fac-simile. It shall contain a full and clear specification of the trade-mark, particularly discriminating between its essential and non-essential features. It should also state for what time the trade-mark has been used by the applicant, the class of merchandise, and the particular goods comprised in such class to which the trade-mark is appropriated, and the manner in which the trade-mark has been applied to the goods.

No trade-mark will be registered unless it shall be made to appear that the same is used as such by the applicant in commerce between the United States and some foreign nation or Indian tribe, or is within the provisions of a treaty, convention or declaration with a foreign Power, nor which is merely the name of the applicant nor which is identical with a known or registered trade-mark owned by another and appropriated to the same class of merchandise, or which so nearly resembles some other person's lawful trade-mark as to be likely to cause confusion in the mind of the public or to deceive purchasers, or which is merely descriptive in nature.

All letters should be addressed to the Commissioner of Patents, Washington, D. C.

INDIAN SERVICE.

The following table will show the different objects of the appropriations by Congress in the Indian acts for 1896 and 1897:

	1896.	1897.
Current and contingent expenses	$727,640 00	$738,540 00
Treaty obligations with Indians	2,982,147 19	2,933,378 17
Miscellaneous support gratuities	695,625 00	671,725 00
Incidental expenses	82,050 00	84,000 00
Miscellaneous	549,903 63	244,588 62
Support of schools	2,056,515 00	2,517,265 00
Trust funds, interest	$9,870 42	—
Payment for land	1,660,000 00	—
Totals	$8,763,751 24	$7,189,496 79

The education of Indian pupils during the fiscal year 1896-7 was conducted upon the same lines as those laid down during previous years—through the medium of non-reservation boarding schools, reservation boarding and day schools, contract boarding and day schools, and public schools carried on under State supervision. The enrolment and average attendance at the various Indian schools in 1897 is given in this table:

Kind of school.	1897.
	Atten- dance.	Enrol- ment.
Government schools:
Non-reservation training..	4,830	5,768
Reservation boarding.....	6,890	8,134

Totals	14,954	18,670
Contract schools:
Boarding	2,273	2,535

Public day schools.....	194	303
Mission schools assisted by the Government; boarding and day.....	717	833
Aggregate	18,625	22,940

These figures do not include schools among the Five Civilized Tribes, nor those which New-York provides for her Indians. The older Indians seem more favorably disposed toward education than hitherto, and agents and superintendents are not now encountering the unreasoning opposition to schools so common in the earlier history of this work.

PENSION LAWS, ETC.

To obtain a pension the applicant must file a claim with the Commissioner of Pensions, Washington, D. C. In a claim by the soldier he should set forth all his military or naval service, giving dates of enlistment and discharge. He should also set forth the name or nature of all disabilities for which pension is claimed, giving the time when, the place where and the circumstances under which each was contracted. The prime requirement to establish a claim under the act of July 14, 1862, usually termed the general law, is to show that the disability for which pension is claimed had its origin while in the service and line of duty; that it has existed as a disabling cause from date of discharge, and now exists in a degree pensionable under the law. In a claim under the act of June 27, 1890, the essential requirements are: A service of ninety days or more, an honorable discharge therefrom, and proof that the disability for which pension is claimed is not due to claimant's own vicious habits, but it need not necessarily be of service origin. In a widow's claim it is necessary to show her legal marriage to the soldier, the date of his death, and, under the general law, that it was due to some cause of service origin. She must also show that she has remained his widow. If there are children of the soldier under sixteen years of age at the date of his death, their names should be given and the date of birth of each clearly shown. If any have died the date should be proved. In a widow's claim under the act of June 27, 1890, the requirement as to service is the same as under an invalid claim, and in addition thereto she must show a legal marriage to the soldier prior to the passage of the act, the fact of soldier's death (but it need not be shown to be due to service), her continued widowhood and that she is without other means of support than her daily labor. A minor child's title to pension accrues only on the death or remarriage of the widow, which fact must be shown, in addition to the requirements in widow's claim. A dependent mother must show her relationship to the soldier, his celibacy, that he contributed to her support, that his death was due to some cause of service origin, the date of his death, and, under the general law, that she was dependent upon him at the date of his death. Under the act of June 27, 1890, it is only necessary to show dependence at date of filing claim and since then. A dependent father must show relationship by legal marriage to soldier's mother, the date of soldier's birth and of the mother's death, in addition to the requirements in the mother's claim.

Applications rejected by a Board of Pension Surgeons may be reconsidered on the evidence of two physicians that disability exists. Pensions for privates range from $2 to $30 a month in most cases, though $72 a month is granted to those who have lost both feet or both eyes, and $100 a month to those who have lost both hands.

The number of pensioners on the rolls June 30, 1897, in each State and Territory was as follows:

United States.	No.	Amount.
Alabama	3,966	$481,567 61
Alaska	26	3,609 73
Arizona	570	80,035 34
Arkansas	10,550	1,414,336 43
California	16,002	2,236,956 14
Colorado	6,902	965,456 49

The amounts paid last year for pensions to the survivors and widows of the War of 1812, the Mexican War and the Indian wars of 1832-'42 were: War of 1812, $389,731 95; Mexican War, $2,097,752 09; Indian wars, $669,663 17.

PASSPORT REGULATIONS.

The law forbids the granting of a passport to any person who is not a citizen of the United States. Passports are of three different forms: (1) For native citizen; (2) naturalized citizen; (3) for person claiming citizenship through the naturalization of husband or parent. Under the law passports can be issued in the United States only by the Secretary of State. In a foreign country they may be issued by the chief diplomatic representative of the United States; or, in the absence of a diplomatic representative, by a consul-general; or, in the absence of both, by a consul. A citizen of the United States desiring to procure a passport must make a written application, in the form of an affidavit, to the Secretary of State. If he is temporarily abroad, he must apply to the nearest diplomatic representative of the United States; or, in the absence of a diplomatic representative, to the highest consular officer of the United States. The necessary affidavit may be made before a consular officer of the United States. In this country the affidavit must be attested by an officer duly authorized to administer oaths. If he has no seal, his official character must be authenticated by certificate of the proper legal officer. If the applicant signs by mark, two attesting witnesses to his signature are required. Every applicant is required to state the date and place of his birth, his occupation, and the place of his permanent residence, and to declare that he goes abroad for temporary sojourn and intends to return to the United States with the purpose of residing and performing the duties of citizenship therein.

Every application must be accompanied by a description of the person applying, stating age, height, color of eyes, hair, etc.; and be accompanied by a certificate from at least one credible witness that the applicant is the person he represents himself to be, and that the facts stated in the affidavit are true to the best of the witness's knowledge and belief. Every applicant must also take the oath of allegiance to the Government of the United States. In the case of a naturalized citizen the certificate of naturalization, or a certified copy of the court record thereof, must accompany the application, together with a sworn statement from what port the person emigrated to this country, the name of the ship, and where the person has lived since arrival in the United States. If a widow or child of a naturalized citizen the naturalization certificate of husband or father must be forwarded for inspection, together with other facts as noted above.

A passport expires two years from the date of its issuance. A new one will be issued upon a new application, and, if the applicant be a naturalized citizen, the old passport will be accepted in lieu of a naturalization certificate, if the application upon which it was issued is found to contain sufficient information as to the emigration, residence, and naturalization of the applicant. Professional titles will not be inserted in passports. A fee of one dollar is required to be collected for every citizen's passport. That amount in currency or postal money order should accompany each application. Orders should be payable to the Disbursing Clerk of the Department of State. Drafts or checks will not be received. Blank forms of application will be furnished by the Department to persons who desire to apply for passports, upon their stating whether they are native or naturalized citizens or claim through the naturalization of husband or father.

No passports are required in the Argentine Republic, Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, Chili, Colombia, Costa Rica, Denmark, France and possessions, Great Britain and possessions, Guatemala, Hawaii, Honduras, Japan, Liberia, Mexico, Morocco, Nicaragua, Norway, Paraguay, Peru, Portugal and possessions, Salvador, Samoa, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland and Uruguay.

The laws of the following countries require that every foreigner entering must be provided with a passport: Austria-Hungary, China, Dominican Republic, Greece, Hayti, Netherlands and possessions, Persia, Porto Rico, Rumania, Russia, Servia, Transvaal (South African Republic), Turkey and possessions, and Venezuela.

Michigan, Minnesota (in favor of wife only), Nebraska, New-Jersey, New-York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania (in favor of wife only), Rhode Island, Tennessee (in favor of wife only), Virginia, West Virginia, Wisconsin.

ALABAMA.—Courts of Alabama have decided that the Legislature cannot grant divorces.

OKLAHOMA.—Divorces granted prior to 1895 by Probate Courts are made legal; thereafter divorces can be had only through the District Court.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

Women have equal suffrage with men at elections in Wyoming, Colorado, Utah and Idaho.

In Montana women who are taxpayers have the same voting privilege as men at elections.

In Kansas women have municipal suffrage.

Judge Dixon, of the Supreme Court of New-Jersey, on November 8, 1894, handed down a decision in the Vineland School case, which, in substance, declared that women can vote on all questions at school district meetings, but not for election of trustees. At the 1894 election the proposition to give women equal suffrage with men at elections was rejected by a vote of 130,129 against to 95,302 in favor.

In some form, mainly as to city school bonds and in school matters, women may vote in the following States and Territories: Arizona, Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Iowa, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, New-Hampshire, New-Jersey, New-York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Vermont, Washington and Wisconsin.

The Cape Colony, the Russian colonies in Siberia, North Australia, South Australia, Canada and Tasmania have municipal woman suffrage. Iceland, the Isle of Man, Pitcairn Island and New-Zealand have full woman suffrage.

The Federal Convention of Australia in 1897, by a vote of 23 to 12, rejected an amendment to allow women to vote for members of the House of Representatives.

EUROPE.—In England, Scotland and Wales women vote for all elective officers but members of Parliament. In France the women teachers elect women members of all boards of education. In Sweden women vote for all elective officers but Representatives; also, indirectly, for members of the House of Lords. In Norway they have school suffrage. In Ireland they vote for harbor boards, poor-law guardians, and in Belfast for municipal officers. In Russia women householders vote for all elective officers and on all local matters. In Finland for all elective officers. In Austria-Hungary they vote, by proxy, for all elective officers. In Croatia and Dalmatia they do so at local elections in person. In Italy widows vote for members of Parliament. In Prussia women vote, mainly by proxy, at local elections and for members of provincial Diets. In Belgium women taxpayers have municipal suffrage by proxy, and in Luxemburg for members of the Legislature also. In Switzerland women real estate owners have local suffrage in the canton of Berne. In Rumania women taxpayers have municipal suffrage by proxy.

ELECTION OF U. S. SENATORS.

ARKANSAS.—Each House of the Legislature voted separately on January 19, 1897, for a successor to Senator James K. Jones, whose term expired March 3, 1897. The Republicans voted for General Powell Clayton; the Populists voted for J. R. Sovereign, and the Democrats voted as a unit for James K. Jones. At the joint session of the Legislature on the following day, James K. Jones was re-elected, the vote standing: Jones, 114; Clayton, 10; Sovereign, 9.

CALIFORNIA.—The Legislature met on January 13, 1897, and re-elected George C. Perkins (Rep.) for the six years' term. The vote was as follows: Senate—Perkins, 27; W. W. Foote (Dem), 6; B. F. Langford (Dem), 3; J. J. Dwyer (Dem.), 2; Charles Lane (Dem.), 1; D. M. Burns (Dem.), 1. Assembly—Perkins, 47; Foote, 3; Dwyer, 8; J. G. Maguire (Dem.), 10; T. V. Cator (Pop.), 11.

COLORADO.—The joint session of the Legislature, on January 20, 1897, re-elected Henry M. Teller as United States Senator for six years from March 4, 1897.

He received 92 votes, cast by Democrats, Silver Republicans and Populists, and Judge Allen (McKinley Republican) received 6 votes.

CONNECTICUT.—Each House of the Legislature voted separately for a Senator for the six years' term, from March 4, 1897, on January 19, and with the following result: Senate—Orville H. Platt (Rep.), 24 (unanimous). House—Platt, 196; J. B. Sargent (Dem.), 24. At the joint session on the following day the election of Senator Platt to succeed himself was confirmed.

DELAWARE.—The Democratic Senators of the Legislature, on January 5, captured the Senate through the failure of the Republicans to stand together, and after unseating a Republican put a Democrat in his place. The seven Addicks Republican members of the House from Kent County (whose election was disputed on the ground that the returns of that county were not filed in compliance with the statutes) and the seven Union Republicans who were defeated in Sussex County, formed a "rump" House, and on January 20 declared the election of J. Edward Addicks as United States Senator. On January 19 the Legislature, in joint session, and the Democrats voted as a unit for Richard R. Kenney, Silver Democrat. The four Republicans of the Senate and the one Republican member of the House refused to vote for Senator, contending that Mr. Dupont, elected in 1896, but refused recognition by the United States Senate, was entitled to his seat. Mr. Addicks filed his credentials with the United States Senate on January 21. Mr. Kenney's certificate of election was signed by the Speakers and clerks of the Legislature and by Governor Tunnell on January 20, and his credentials were presented to the United States Senate and accepted as prima-facie evidence of his right to the seat, on February 5.

FLORIDA.—The President having called an extra session of the Senate to meet on March 5, and the term of Wilkinson Call (Dem.) having expired on March 4, and in view of the fact that the regular session of the State Legislature would not begin until April 6, the Governor appointed John A. Henderson (Dem.) ad interim on March 6. His credentials were presented to the Senate some days later and were referred to the Committee on Elections, which had not reported up to the election of a new Senator on May 14.

The first ballot of the Legislature to elect a successor to Wilkinson Call (Dem.), whose term expired on March 4, 1897, was taken on April 20. The roll of each House showed the following vote: Senate—W. D. Chipley (Sil. Dem.), 8; Call (Sil. Dem.), 6; George P. Raney (Dem.), 8; R. A. Burford (Sil. Dem.), 3; W. H. Hocker (Sil. Dem.), 2; M. H. Mabry (Sil. Dem.), 2; E. S. Crill (Sil. Dem.), 1. House—Call, 28; Chipley, 16; Hocker, 9; Raney, 6; Burford, 4; James McKay (Sil. Dem.), 2; Horatio Bisbee (Rep.), 1; J. E. Broome (Sil. Dem.), 1. On the following day the first joint ballot was taken, with the result as follows: Call, 34; Chipley, 21; Raney, 14; Hocker, 11; Burford, 7; Mabry, 2; McKay, 2; Bisbee, 1; Broome, 1; Crill, 1. The balloting continued from day to day with no material change in the vote until May 6, when Chipley took the lead with 36 votes. On the same day a resolution was offered, and laid on the table, that the Joint Assembly vote for no candidate who did not favor the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 prior to the Democratic National Convention of 1896. Chipley was announced to be "square on this platform." On the following day the silver resolution was beaten, after which Mr. Call's name was withdrawn and John A. C. Stockton was nominated in his stead, the understanding being that should Stockton fail to poll a larger vote than Call's, then other arrangements should be made. Call's lowest vote was 23, and his highest (on May 4) 37, and it had ranged from 33 on the first ballot to 35 on the last ballot. The first ballot on May 7 was as follows: Chipley, 37; Stockton, 33; Raney, 20; Hocker, 3; Burford, 1. There was very little change in the vote until May 13, when Raney withdrew from the race, and the ballot stood: Chipley, 47; Stockton, 41; Hocker, 9. A disgraceful scene occurred when one State Senator was brought into the meeting in an intoxicated condition. A caucus of anti-Chipley men was held at night, and at 2 a. m. on May 14 Stockton consented to withdraw, and S. R. Mallory, the ex-Congressman, was made the unanimous choice of the 45 members present. On the following day the contest ended by the election of Mallory, the vote being: Mallory, 53; Chipley, 45; Call, 1. The wildest disorder followed the announcement. This table shows the ballots on each day for the leading candidates:

IDAHO.—The Legislature took the first ballot for a successor to Frederick T. Dubois (Sil. Rep.), (from March 4, 1897, to March 3, 1903), on January 13, but it was not until January 28 that the contest ended and Henry Heitfeld (Pop.) was elected. The first ballot resulted as follows: Dubois, 26; Claggett (Pop), 30; Glenn (Pop.), 5; Nelson (Pop.), 3; Balantyne (Pop.), 1; Cooper (Pop.), 1; Angel (Pop.), 2; Cook (Pop.), 1; Heyburn (Rep.), 1. Three ballots were taken on January 19, when 28 of the Claggett men voted for Walton (Pop.). On January 22 the Populists switched back to Claggett, giving him 27 votes. On January 28 Claggett's vote went to Heitfeld and he was elected, the vote being: Dubois, 30; Heitfeld, 39; T. F. Nelson (Pop.), 1. Heitfeld's votes were cast by 25 Populists, 13 Democrats and 1 Republican. On March 1 a committee of the Legislature began an investigation of charges of bribery against Mr. Heitfeld and several members of the Legislature. It was charged that a fund of $40,000 had been sent from the East to defeat Dubois.

ILLINOIS—The Republican members of the Legislature met in caucus on January 18, and after two ballots adjourned till the next day. The second ballot stood: Wm. E. Mason, 45; Wm. Lorimer, 40; Robert R. Hitt, 16; A. J. Hopkins, 6; Joseph G. Cannon, 10; S. W. Allerton and — Adams, each 1. On the next day Lorimer and the others withdrew, and Mason was made the nominee by acclamation. At the joint session of the Legislature, January 20, Mr. Mason was elected to succeed John M. Palmer (Dem.), the following being the vote: Mason (Rep.), 125; Altgeld (Dem.), 77. Divided the vote was: Senate—Mason, 37; Altgeld, 13; House—Mason, 88; Altgeld, 64.

INDIANA—Charles W. Fairbanks (Rep.), Daniel W. Voorhees (Dem.) and Leroy Templeton (Pop.) were made the caucus nominees for the six-year term beginning March 4, 1897, to succeed Senator Voorhees (Dem.). Each House of the Legislature voted separately on January 19, and on the following day the Legislature, in joint session, elected Fairbanks, the vote being Fairbanks, 85; Voorhees, 58; Templeton, 6.

KANSAS—The Democrats and Populists of the Legislature met in caucus on January 21, 1897, to nominate a successor to Wm. A. Peffer (Pop.) for the six-year term from March 4, 1897. Thirty-four ballots were taken before a nomination was made, by the following vote: William A. Harris (Pop.), 57; Louis P. King (Pop.), 32. Each House of the Legislature, in special session, took a formal ballot, with the following result: Senate—Harris, 28; J. R. Burton (Rep.), 10; King, 1. House: Harris, 73; Burton, 43; J. C. Caldwell (Rep.), 2. Absentees, 4 Populists, 3 Republicans. On the following day the joint session formally declared the election of Wm. A. Harris.

KENTUCKY—The election of a United States Senator to succeed J. C. S. Blackburn (Dem.) for the full term from March 4, 1897, to March 4, 1903, will go into history as the most memorable that Kentucky has ever known. The struggle began on January 23, 1896, and ended on April 28, 1897, with the election of William J. Deboe (Rep.). When the Legislature met on January 7, 1896, the Senate contained 16 Republicans and 22 Democrats, and in the House there were 52 Republicans, 46 Democrats and 2 Populists. On joint ballot, therefore, there were 68 Republicans, 68 Democrats and 2 Populists. During the session of 1896 two Democrats (one of the Senate and one of the House) died, and then a Republican member of the House, Mr. Stege, refused to vote until the vacancy should be filled, thus preventing a Republican majority. A group of Sound Money Democrats refused to vote for Senator Blackburn because of his free-silver proclivities. There were fifty-two ballots taken before the term of the Legislature expired by limitation. J. C. S. Blackburn was the Democratic candidate to succeed himself, and J. G. Carlisle was also a candidate, and at one ballot received 7 votes. W. Godfrey Hunter was the Republican caucus candidate, and his vote ranged from 51 to 66. St. John Boyle (Rep.) received 64 votes on March 6, and the day before that Mr. Deboe, leader of the Hunter forces, received 40. The Legislature finally adjourned on March 17.

On March 5, 1897, Governor Bradley appointed Major A. T. Wood (Rep.), U. S. Senator ad interim, and called an extra session of the Legislature to convene on March 13 to ballot for U. S. Senator. The vacancies that had occurred in the Legislature in 1896 had been filled, so that when it convened on the day named the Senate stood 16 Republicans and 22 Democrats, and the House 54 Republicans, 44 Democrats and 2 Populists. At the caucus of the Republican members on March 13 W. Godfrey Hunter was made the choice, the vote standing: Hunter, 38; Holt, 15; Boyle, 5; Lewis, 5; Yerkes, 2. On March 23 the Senate and House took the first ballot, separately, as follows: Senate—Hunter, 13; Blackburn, 14; Geo. M. Davis (Gold Dem.), 6; St. John Boyle, 3. House—Hunter, 53; Blackburn, 34; Davis, 5; S. B. Buckner (Gold Dem.), 1; J. B. McCreary (Dem.), 1; Boyle, 3; R. T. Tyler (Dem.), 1; W. J. Stone (Dem.), 1. The first joint ballot was taken on March 24, which resulted as follows: Hunter, 67; Blackburn, 49; Davis, 11; Boyle, 6; Stone, Tyler and Buckner each got 1. Necessary to a choice, 69.

The balloting continued from day to day until April 5, when the Legislature became a deadlock—the bolting Republicans, Gold Democrats and Silver Democrats declining to answer to their names, thus preventing a quorum. On April 6 State Senator Henry L. Martin (Gold Dem.) was put in the field as a compromise candidate. Hunter had 59 votes when the first rollcall ended, and 70 votes, which constituted a quorum, had been cast. Had there been no call of absentees, and had not the Silver Democrats and bolting Republicans changed front and voted, Hunter would have been declared elected. The most exciting ballot up to date was on April 9. The Blackburn people tried to break a quorum on the call of the first ballot, but when they saw the Sound Money Democrats voted for Martin they had to call for absentees and vote in order to prevent Hunter's election. Baldwin (Rep.) cast his first vote for Hunter, and pandemonium and excitement reigned supreme. Gambill (Rep.) embraced Baldwin and kissed him on the cheek. Hunter had reached 63 votes, within two of an election, and Stege (Rep.) said to Hunter's managers that if they could get another vote he would cast his vote for Hunter and elect him. On April 20 a new Democratic Senator and a Democratic Senator who had been indisposed appeared, and for the first time since the session began the Senate was full with 138 members in a joint session—70 Republicans and 68 Democrats.

On April 21 Dr. Hunter sent a letter to the Republican caucus withdrawing his name from the list of candidates. The Republicans met in caucus, and on April 23 W. J. Deboe was nominated. The first ballot taken on the following day showed 66 votes for Deboe, four short of an election. A quorum was prevented by the Democrats and two Republicans. This huddledore and shuttlecock condition continued until April 28, when, on the sixtieth ballot of the session, or the 112th since the struggle began on January 23, 1896, Deboe was elected. The vote stood: Deboe, 71; Blackburn, 50; Martin, 13; Stone, 1. Deboe's 71 votes were made up of 69 Republicans and 2 Gold Democrats (Norman and Baird), one more than sufficient to elect.

Following are some of the ballots taken during the special session, when a quorum was recorded:

MISSOURI—The Republican caucus of the Legislature nominated Richard C. Kerens on January 15, 1897, he receiving 30 votes, against 26 for Chauncey I. Filley. The Democrats nominated George G. Vest to succeed himself in the U. S. Senate on March 4, 1897, for six years. Both houses voted separately on January 19, as follows: Senate—Kerens, 14; Vest 10. House—Kerens, 34; Vest 35; O. D. Jones (Pop.), 40. Both branches met in joint session on the following day and Senator Vest was declared re-elected, the vote being the same as recorded above.

NEVADA—The Legislature re-elected John P. Jones for the term of six years from March 4, 1897, on January 26. Each House voted separately, as follows: Senate—Jones (Sil. Rep.), 12; McMillan (Rep.), 2; Fitzgerald (Pop.), 1. House—Jones, 28; McMillan, 2.

NEW-HAMPSHIRE—The Republicans of the Legislature met in caucus on January 13, 1897, and made Jacob H. Gallinger their nominee for the six-year term from March 4 by unanimous vote. Each branch of the Legislature took a viva-voce vote on January 19, with this result: Senate—Gallinger (Rep.), 21; Hosea W. Parker (Dem.), 2. House—Gallinger, 267; Parker, 53. Twenty-eight Republicans and nine Democrats did not vote. On the following day the joint session of the Legislature ratified the re-election of Senator Gallinger.

NEW-YORK—The two Republican candidates for the seat to be vacated by David B. Hill March 3, 1897, were Thomas C. Platt and Joseph H. Choate. The Republican members of the Legislature met on January 14, 1897, and nominated Thomas C. Platt. There were 114

Assemblymen and 35 Senators present, and the vote cast was 142 for Platt and 7 for Joseph H. Choate (the latter receiving the votes of three of the Senators and four of the Assemblymen). On January 18 the Senate and the Assembly voted separately for Senator, with the following result: Senate—Thomas C. Platt (Rep.), 35; David B. Hill (Dem.), 11; Henry George (Lab.), 2. Absent—Rep., 1; Dem., 1. Assembly—Platt, 112; Hill, 31; George, 2. Absent—Rep., 3; Dem., 2. On the following day the Legislature met in joint session and confirmed the election of Mr. Platt.

NORTH CAROLINA—The Legislature, each House separately, began balloting for a successor to Jeter C. Pritchard (Rep.) on January 19, the following being the result of the first ballot: Senate—Pritchard, 24; Dr. Cyrus Thompson (Pop.), 18; Doughton (Dem.), 7. House—Pritchard, 62; Thompson, 24; Doughton, 27. The Legislature met on the following day in joint session and re-elected Senator Pritchard, the following being the vote: Pritchard, 88; Thompson, 43; Doughton, 33.

NORTH DAKOTA—The Democrats and Populists, on January 15, 1897, nominated W. A. Bentley (Pop.) as a candidate against H. C. Hansbrough (Rep.). The formal ballot was taken on January 19, and Senator Hansbrough was re-elected for the term of six years from March 4, 1897, the vote being: Hansbrough, 68; Bentley, 25. The Democrats and Populists voting as a unit for Bentley. On the following day the joint session formally confirmed the election.

OREGON—John H. Mitchell was the unanimous choice of the caucus of 44 of the 63 Republican members of the Legislature held January 15. A deadlock was caused, however, by a split in the Legislature known as the "Davis" and "Benson" houses, which prevented the organization of the Lower House. The Benson House took a vote on February 2, with this result: Mitchell, 29; G. H. Williams, 1. On the same day, in the Senate, the President declared a motion to proceed to ballot for United States Senator out of order, and was sustained by a vote of 16 to 12, the latter being conceded as Mitchell supporters. The voting was resumed at intervals, but without result until February 21, when the seats of twenty-seven members of the House were declared vacant. The Legislature subsequently adjourned without electing a Senator, and on March 6 Governor Lord appointed ex-Senator H. W. Corbett (Rep.) as Senator ad interim.

PENNSYLVANIA—The Republican members of the Assembly took a test vote in caucus on January 4, 1897, for a successor to J. Donald Cameron (Rep.) for the six years' term from March 4, 1897. The result was: P. M. Lytle (Penrose representative), 93; W. R. Bliss (Wanamaker representative), 71. At the joint Republican caucus on January 5 the vote was as follows: Boies Penrose, 133; John Wanamaker, 75; J. B. Robinson, 1; Cameron, 1. Penrose was then made the unanimous choice of the caucus. The Democratic caucus nominated Chauncey F. Black. Each house took a formal ballot on January 19, with the following result: Senate—Penrose (Rep.), 42; Black (Dem.), 6. House—Penrose, 168; Black, 33; Wanamaker, 1. At the joint session on January 20 Penrose was elected, the following being the vote: Penrose, 210; Wanamaker, 1; Black, 39.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—Judge Joseph H. Earle (Dem.) was elected for the six years' term, from March 4, 1897, to succeed John L. M. Irby, by unanimous vote of the Legislature on January 26. This was only carrying out the will of the people, as declared in the primary election in 1896. Mr. Earle died on May 20, and the Governor, on May 25, appointed John L. McLaurin to the vacancy.

SOUTH DAKOTA.—The Legislature, in joint session, began the ballot for a successor to James H. Kyle (Ind. Rep.) on January 20. The first ballot was: Pickler (Rep.), 53; Kyle, 33; Locke (Pop.), 14; Goody Koontz (Pop.), 11; Weeks (Pop.), 3; Kellar (Pop.), 2; Palmer and Bowler (Pop.), each 1. The balloting continued from day to day with no material difference in the vote until February 1, when 121 votes were cast, 19 of which were for Judge Plowman and 53 for Pickler, the others being scattered among the other candidates. At this time a protest against the legality of the votes for Plowman was made, and Pickler claimed to be elected. The protest was not entertained, and the balloting continued from day to day until February 18, when James H. Kyle was re-elected by the vote of the 55 Republicans and a few Populist who stayed by him from the beginning.

UTAH.—The first ballot in the Legislature for a successor to Arthur Brown (Rep.) was taken January 19 and resulted as follows: Arthur Brown, 3; Moses Thatcher (Dem.), 19; Joseph L. Rawlins (Dem.), 18; Henry P. Henderson (Dem.), 16; Lawrence (Pop.), 4. The balloting continued from day to day, the Mormon Church authorities making a bitter fight against Thatcher. On January 28 the final ballot of the day was: Kearns (Rep.), 3; Thatcher, 20; Rawlins, 16; Henderson, 14; Harris (Dem.), 3; Mrs. E. K. La Barthe (Dem., member of lower house), 4; Chambers (Dem.), 1; Powers (Dem.), 1. On January 30 Thatcher polled 28, or 3 short of the necessary number, two members being absent. The contest ended on February 1 by the election, on the fifty-third ballot, of Rawlins. The final ballot stood: Rawlins, 32; Thatcher, 29; Henderson, 1; Brown 1.

WASHINGTON.—The first ballot for the successor to Watson C. Squire (Rep.) was taken by the Legislature January 22, 1897, the vote being: Squire, 4; Denny (Fus.), 25; Turner (Sil. Rep.), 20. The balloting continued from day to day until January 29, when the contest ended. On January 28, on the twenty-fourth ballot, the vote stood: Squire, 4; Denny, 26; Winsor, 42; Turner, 35; Cline, 2. On the following day George F. Turner, who had received the caucus nomination of the Populists and Silver Republicans the night before, was elected on the first ballot with 67 votes. During the contest it was charged that Senator Squire had attempted to bribe members of the Legislature to vote for him, but after a full investigation the committee on February 9 dismissed the charge for lack of evidence.

WISCONSIN.—John C. Spooner was nominated by the Republican caucus of the Legislature for the long term from March 4, 1897, to succeed William F. Vilas (Dem.) on January 13, 1897. The election took place at the joint session of the Legislature on January 26, the vote being: Spooner (Rep.), 118; W. C. Silverthorn (Sil. Dem.), 7; Bragg (Gold Dem.), 2.

POSTAL INFORMATION.

POSTAL UNION.—The fifth congress of the Universal Postal Union began at Washington, D. C., May 5, 1897, and adjourned June 15, 1897, to meet again at Rome, Italy, in February, 1903. It was the first meeting of the Union held in the United States. General George S. Batcheller was chosen president of the Congress, and fifty-five countries were represented. China and the Orange Free State are the only organized governments not in the Union. The principal business before the Congress was a revision of the regulations adopted at the Vienna Congress of 1891. It was also agreed how Corea might be admitted into the Union. The Orange Free State declared that it hoped soon to enter the Union, and China declared that it would observe the regulations of the Union as soon as the organization of its service would permit. Special arrangements concerning packages of declared value, postal orders, books of identity and subscriptions to journals were revised, but they mostly affected the State of the Continent of Europe.

The final act on the part of the United States in the ratification of the treaty was taken on November 16, when President McKinley signed the formal convention and Secretary Sherman had the Government's seal affixed. Postmaster-General Gary had already signed it. It modifies the convention of Vienna as follows:

"For territorial transit, including maritime transit of not more than three hundred nautical miles, each country in the line of transit is to be compensated by the country of origin at the rate of what amounts in American currency to 15 cents per pound for letters and post-cards and 2½ cents per pound for other articles. This rate is to be reduced every two years of the six at the rate of 5, 10 and 15 cents respectively. For maritime transit about $1 45 per pound for letters and post-cards, 9 cents for other articles. This is to be divided pro rata among countries in transit, with graduated reduction each two years to $1 35, $1 16 and 97 cents respectively. Transit expenses will be further reduced, as payments will be made only on the basis of weights exchanged during 1896, though mails increase in weight about 10 per cent annually. Commemoration postage stamps will not be recognized in international mails. Postage stamps are to be printed as far as possible by the various countries as follows: Five-cent in dark blue, two-cent in red, one-cent in green. Natural history specimens, except for commercial use, will be admitted as merchandise samples. Letters in care of consuls will be returned to origin free.

The new regulations will become operative January 1, 1899. After the close of the Congress the delegates visited several of the leading centres of industry and population, this Government having appropriated $50,000 for their entertainment.

CLASSES OF MAIL MATTER.—Domestic mail matter is divided into four classes:

First Class—Letters, postal cards, and matter wholly or partly in writing, whether sealed or unsealed (except manuscript copy accompanying proof-sheets or corrected proof-sheets of the same), and all matter sealed or otherwise closed against inspection. Rates of postage—Two cents per ounce or fraction thereof. Postal cards, one cent each. On "drop" letters two cents per ounce or fraction thereof, when mailed at letter-carrier's office; and one cent per ounce or fraction thereof at other offices.

Second Class—Newspapers and publications issued at stated intervals as often as four times a year, bearing a date of issue and numbered consecutively, issued from a known office of publication, and formed of printed sheets, without board, cloth, leather or other substantial binding. Such publications must be originated and published for the dissemination of information of a public character, or devoted to literature, the sciences, art, or some special industry. They must have a legitimate list of subscribers, and must not be designed primarily for advertising purposes, or for circulation free, or at nominal rates. Rate of postage—For publishers and news agents, one cent a pound or fraction thereof. For others than publishers and news agents, one cent for each four ounces or fraction thereof.

Third Class—Books, periodicals and matter wholly in print (not included in second class), proof-sheets, corrected proof-sheets and manuscript copy accompanying the same. Rate of postage—One cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof.

Fourth Class—Merchandise—namely, all matter not embraced in the other three classes, and which is not in its form or nature liable to destroy, deface or otherwise damage the contents of the mail bag, or harm the person of any one engaged in the postal service, and not above the weight provided by law. Rate of postage—One cent per ounce or fraction thereof, but on seeds, cuttings, roots, scions and plants, one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof.

LIMIT OF WEIGHT.—A package must not exceed four pounds in weight, unless it be a single book. Second-class matter is not subject to the four-pound limitation.

REGISTRY SYSTEM.—All mail matter, including drop letters, may be registered; but not matter addressed to fictitious names, initials or box numbers, or bearing vague and indefinite addresses.

The registry fee is eight cents in addition to postage. It must be prepaid by stamps affixed.

MONEY ORDER SYSTEM.—The following are the fees for domestic money orders: For orders not exceeding $2 50, 3c.; exceeding $2 50 and not above $5, 5c.; exceeding $5 and not above $10, 8c.; exceeding $10 and not above $20, 10c.; exceeding $20 and not above $30, 12c.; exceeding $30 and not above $40, 15c.; exceeding $40 and not above $50, 18c.; exceeding $50 and not above $60, 20c.; exceeding $60 and not above $75, 25c.; exceeding $75 and not above $100, 30c. The maximum amount of a single order is $100; and the maximum amount which may be issued at a "Limited Money Order Office" is $5. International money orders may be issued up to $100, which is the maximum, and the rate is 10 cents on each $10 or fraction thereof. Postal connections are now in operation for the exchange of money orders between the United States and the following countries: Great Britain, Switzerland, Germany, France, Italy, Canada, Newfoundland, Jamaica, New South Wales, Victoria, New-Zealand, Queensland, Cape Colony, Windward Islands (Barbadoes, Grenada, St. Vincent and St. Lucia), Leeward Islands (Antigua, St. Christopher-Nevis, Dominica, Montserrat and the Virgin Islands), Belgium, Portugal (including the Azores and Madeira), Tasmania, Hawaii, Sweden, Norway, Japan, Denmark, Netherlands, Bahama Islands, Trinidad and Tobago, Austria, Hungary, British Guiana, Luxembourg, Bermuda, South Australia, Salvador and Hong Kong.

SPECIAL DELIVERY.—The regulations governing "rapid" or "special delivery" provide that any article ofailable matter bearing a 10-cent special delivery stamp in addition to the lawful postage is entitled to immediate delivery on its arrival at the office of address, between the hours of 7 a. m. and 11 p. m., if the office be of the free-delivery class, and between the hours of 7 a. m. and 7 p. m. if the office be other than a free-delivery office. To entitle such a letter to immediate delivery the residence or place of business of the addressee must be within the carrier limits of a free-delivery office, and within one mile of any other office. Special delivery stamps are not available for the payment of postage, nor can ordinary postage stamps be used to secure immediate delivery of mail matter.

POSTAGE RATES.—The rates of postage to all foreign countries and colonies (except Canada and Mexico) are as follows: Letters, 15 grams (½ ounce)..... 5 cents. Postal cards, each..... 2 cents.

the same postage rates and conditions as it would be if it were addressed for delivery in the United States.

PAYMENT OF POSTAGE.—On first-class matter the postage should be fully prepaid, but if two cents in stamps be affixed the matter will be forwarded and remainder due collected of addressee before delivery.

On second-class, third-class and fourth-class matter the postage must be fully prepaid.

THANKSGIVING DAY (last Thursday in November).—In all States, though not a statutory holiday in some.

CHRISTMAS DAY (December 25).—Observed in all States.

ARBOR DAY.—Arizona, first weekday after February 1; Colorado, third Friday in April; Florida, February 7; Georgia, first Friday in December; Idaho, first Friday after May 1; Kansas, on day set by Governor; Minnesota, on day set by Governor; Montana, third Tuesday in April; Nebraska, third Thursday in April; New-Mexico, second Friday in March; New-York, first Friday in May; North Dakota, on day set by Governor; Rhode Island, first Friday in May; Texas, February 22; Utah, first Saturday in April; Wisconsin and Wyoming, on day set by Governor.

LABOR DAY.—First Monday in September; in Alabama, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, District of Columbia, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New-Hampshire, New-Jersey, New-York, Ohio, Oregon, South Carolina, Texas, Utah, Virginia and Washington. First Saturday in September; in Pennsylvania. First Monday in October; in California.

Mardi Gras is observed as a holiday in Alabama and Louisiana.

Good Friday is observed as a holiday in Alabama, Louisiana, Maryland, Minnesota, Pennsylvania and Tennessee.

SATURDAY HALF HOLIDAYS.—After 12 o'clock noon: In Colorado and Louisiana (in cities and towns of 100,000 population and over); Delaware (Newcastle County only, in Wilmington throughout the year, and rest of county from June to September); District of Columbia; Maryland (Baltimore and Annapolis only); Michigan, New-Jersey, New-York, Pennsylvania and South Carolina (in Charleston County only).

COLORADO.—By an act of the Legislature in regard to negotiable instruments, the statute providing that Christmas, New Year's, Fourth of July, Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day and Thanksgiving should be legal holidays was repealed. Consequently, until the Legislature shall rectify the mistake, Arbor Day, Labor Day and the Saturday half-holiday will be the only legal holidays.

WEATHER SIGNALS.

The Weather Bureau furnishes, when practicable, for the benefit of the general public and those interests dependent to a greater or less extent upon weather conditions, the "Forecasts" which are prepared at the central office in Washington, D. C., and certain designated stations daily, at 10 a. m. and 10 p. m. for the following day. These weather forecasts are telegraphed to stations of the Weather Bureau, railway officials, postmasters and many others, to be communicated to the public by means of flags or steam whistles. The flags adopted for this purpose are five in number, and of the form and colors indicated below:

FLAG SIGNALS.

No. 1.
White Flag.

No. 2.
Blue Flag.

No. 3.
White and Blue Flag.

No. 4.
Black Flag.

No. 5.
White Flag with black sq. in centre.

No. 1 indicates clear or fair weather; No. 2, rain or snow; No. 3, local rain or snow; No. 4 always refers to temperature (when placed above Nos. 1, 2, or 3, it inicates warmer weather; when placed below Nos. 1, 2 or 3, it indicates colder weather; when not displayed the indications are that the temperature will remain stationary; No. 5, a cold wave, or the approach of a sudden and decided fall in temperature. During the late spring and early fall the cold wave flag is also used as a frost warning flag to indicate anticipated frosts. When No. 5 is displayed No. 4 is always omitted. A special (inland) storm flag, red, with black square in centre (not shown above), is prescribed for use in North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota (except at Lake stations), Iowa, Nebraska and Wyoming, to indicate high winds, accompanied with snow with temperature below freezing. When displayed on poles the signals should be arranged to read downward; when displayed from horizontal supports a small streamer should be attached to indicate the point from which the signals are to be read.

There are also storm, information and hurricane signals, the combinations being made with a white triangular flag, a red triangular flag, and a square red flag with a black square in the centre. With the square flag below the red triangular flag, it foretells northeast winds; the square flag above the red triangular foretells southeast winds; the square flag below the white triangular, northwest winds; the square flag above the white triangular, southwest winds, and two square flags—one above the other—indicate a hurricane. The red triangular flag displayed foretells easterly winds on the great lakes, and the white triangular foretells westerly winds.

Whistle Signals—The warning signal, to attract attention, will be a long blast of from fifteen to twenty seconds' duration. After this warning signal has been sounded long blasts (of from four to six seconds' duration) refer to weather, and short blasts (of from one to three seconds' duration) refer to temperature; those for weather to be sounded first: One long, fair weather; two long, rain or snow; three long, local rain or snow; one short, lower temperature; two short, higher temperature; three short, cold wave.

(By repeating each combination a few times, with an interval of ten seconds between, possibilities of error in reading the signals will be avoided, such as may arise from variable winds, or failure to hear the warning signal.)

As far as practicable the forecast messages will be telegraphed at the expense of the Weather Bureau; but if this is impracticable, they will be furnished at the regular commercial rates and sent "collect." Persons desiring to display signals should communicate with the Weather Bureau official in charge of the climate and crop service of their respective States, the central stations of which are as follows:

Montgomery, Ala.; Phoenix, Ariz.; Little Rock, Ark.; San Francisco, Cal.; Denver, Colo.; Jacksonville, Fla.; Atlanta, Ga.; Idaho Falls, Idaho; Chicago, Ill.; Indianapolis, Ind.; Des Moines, Iowa; Topeka, Kan.; Louisville, Ky.; New-Orleans La.; Baltimore, Md. (for Delaware and Maryland); Boston, Mass. (for New-England); Lansing, Mich.; Minneapolis, Minn.; Vicksburg, Miss.; Columbia, Mo.; Helena, Mont.; Lincoln, Neb.; Carson

INTERNATIONAL TRIBUNAL OF EGYPT.

In 1876, as the result of negotiations between the Ottoman and Egyptian governments and the various Christian Powers having representatives at Cairo, certain courts were created in Egypt for the trial of mixed civil causes arising between persons of different foreign nationalities, and suits of foreigners against natives, the Egyptian Government and members of the Khedival family. These mixed tribunals, in civil matters within their exclusive jurisdiction, superseded the consular courts. A mixed tribunal consists of five judges, three of whom are foreigners and two natives. The foreign judges are appointed by the Khedive on the recommendation of the great Powers, each of which is represented by from one to three judges. There are several tribunals of original jurisdiction (first instance) and a court of appeals at Alexandria. The United States is represented in these courts by the following judges:

Court of Appeals at Alexandria—Anthony M. Keiley, Virginia (app'd 1894).

Court of First Instance at Cairo—Geo. S.
Batcheller, N. Y. (app'd 1897).

Court of First Instance at Mansourah—Somerville P. Tuck, New-York (app'd 1894).

COPYRIGHT IN THE U. S.

Under the International Copyright act (approved March 3, 1891; took effect July 1, 1891) any United States citizen, or citizen or subject of foreign nations granting copyright to United States citizens on substantially the same basis with their own citizens, or which become parties to an international agreement for reciprocity in copyright, may secure for twenty-eight years the sole liberty of printing, reprinting, publishing, completing, copying, executing, finishing and vending his work; and, in case of a dramatic composition, of publicly performing or representing it, or causing it to be performed or represented by others. The right of citizens or subjects of a foreign nation to copyright in the United States, on January 1, 1896, had been extended by Presidential proclamations to Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Belgium, Denmark and Switzerland. On February 27, 1896, copyright benefits were extended to citizens of Mexico by proclamation of the President; and on May 25, 1896, copyright benefits were extended to Chili in the same manner.

A bill of Congress, signed by the President January 6, 1897, makes an injunction against the unlawful production of a play obtained in a United States District Court operative in all districts, instead of only in the one in which it is granted, as formerly. It also makes the unlawful production of a play punishable by imprisonment, under certain conditions.

The secretary of the American Copyright League is R. U. Johnson, No. 33 East 17th-st., N. Y. City, N. Y.

UNITED STATES MILITARY ACADEMY.

The U. S. Military Academy at West Point was founded in 1802. Each Congressional District and Territory—also the District of Columbia—is entitled to have one cadet at the academy; the cadet to be named by the Representative in Congress. There are also ten appointments at large, specially conferred by the President of the United States. The number of students is thus limited to 371. Appointments are usually made one year in advance of date of admission, and may be made either after competitive examination or given direct, at the option of the Representative. The Representative, should he desire, may nominate a legally qualified alternate, who will be examined with the regular nominee, and admitted in the event of his success and the latter's failure to pass the prescribed preliminary examinations.

Appointees to the Military Academy must be between seventeen and twenty-two years of age, free from any infirmity, and able to pass a careful examination in reading, writing, orthography, arithmetic, grammar, geography and history of the United States.

The course of instruction, which is quite thorough, requires four years, and is largely mathematical and professional. The principal subjects taught are mathematics, French, drawing, tactics of all arms of the service, natural and experimental philosophy, chemistry, mineralogy, geology and electricity, history, international, constitutional and military law, Spanish, and civil and military engineering and science of war. About one-fourth of those, appointed usually fail to pass the preliminary examination, and but little over one-half the remainder finally graduate.

The discipline is very strict, even more so than in the army, and the enforcement of penalties for offences is inflexible rather than severe. Academic duties commence September 1 and continue until June 1. Examinations are held in each January and June, and cadets found proficient in studies and correct in conduct are given the particular standing in their class to which their merits entitle them, while those cadets deficient in either conduct or studies are discharged.

From about the middle of June to the end of August cadets live in camp, engaged only in military duties and receiving practical military instruction. Cadets are allowed but one leave of absence during the four years' course, and this is granted at the expiration of the first two years.

The pay of a cadet is $540 per year, and with proper economy is sufficient for his support. The number of students at the Academy is usually about 337.

Upon graduating cadets are commissioned as second lieutenants in the United States Army.

The whole number of graduates from 1802 to 1897 has been 3,808.

MANNER OF APPLICATION.—Applications can be made at any time, by letter, to the Secretary of War, to have the applicant's name registered for submission to the proper representative when a vacancy occurs. The application must exhibit the full name, date of birth and permanent abode of applicant, with the number of the Congressional district in which his residence is situated.

Immediately after his admission, and before receiving his warrant of appointment, the cadet must sign the following engagement for service. In the presence of the Superintendent or some officer deputed by him:

I, _____, of the State (or Territory) of _____, aged _____ years _____ months, do hereby engage (with the consent of my parent or guardian) that, from the date of my admission as a cadet of the U. S. Military Academy, I will serve in the Army of the U. S. for eight years, unless sooner discharged by competent authority.

In the presence _____,

The candidate must then take the following oath or affirmation:

I, _____, do solemnly swear that I will support the Constitution of the U. S., and bear true allegiance to the National Government; that I will maintain and defend the sovereignty of the U. S. paramount to any and all allegiance, sovereignty or fealty I may owe to any State or country whatever, and that I will at all times obey the legal orders of my superior officers, and the rules and articles governing the armies of the U. S.

U. S. NAVAL ACADEMY.

STUDENTS AND COURSE.—The students of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., are styled Naval Cadets. One cadet is allowed for each member or delegate of the House of Representatives, one for the District of Columbia, and ten at large. No more than ten appointed at large are allowed in the Academy at any one time. The course of study is six years, four years at the Academy and two at sea, at the end of which time the cadet returns to the Academy for final graduation, and the district then becomes vacant.

NOMINATIONS.—The Secretary of the Navy, as soon after March 5 in each year as possible, notifies in writing each member or delegate of the House of Representatives of any vacancy in his district. The nomination of a candidate to fill the vacancy is made on the recommendation of the member or delegate, if such recommendation is made by July 1 of that year; but if it is not made by that time, the Secretary of the Navy shall fill the vacancy by appointment of an actual resident of the district in which the vacancy exists, who shall have been for at least two years immediately preceding the date of his appointment an actual and bona fide resident of the district in which the vacancy exists and of the legal qualification under the law as now provided. The candidate allowed for the District of Columbia and all the candidates appointed at large are selected by the President. Candidates allowed for Congressional districts, for Territories and for the District of Columbia must be actual residents of the districts or Territories from which they are nominated. And all candidates must, at the time of their examination for admission, be between the ages of fifteen and twenty, physically sound, well formed, and of robust constitution.

ENTRANCE EXAMINATION.—Candidates nominated in time to enable them to reach the Academy by May 15 receive permission to present themselves on that date to the Superintendent for examination for admission. Those not nominated in time to present themselves at the May examination are examined on the 1st of September following. When either of the above dates falls on Sunday, the candidates present themselves on the Monday following. Candidates are required to enter the Academy immediately after passing the prescribed examinations. No leave of absence is granted to cadets of the fourth class.

GRADUATE APPOINTMENTS.—Appointments to fill all vacancies that may occur during a year in the lower grades of the Line and Engineer Corps of the Navy and of the Marine Corps are made from the Naval Cadets, graduates of the year, at the conclusion of their six years' course, in the order of merit as determined by the Academic Board. At least fifteen appointments from such graduates will be made each year. To surplus graduates who do not receive such appointments will be given a certificate of graduation, an honorable discharge, and one year's sea pay, as provided for Naval Cadets.

¹Also diplomatic agent. ²Authorized to transact business. ³Also E. E. and M. P. ⁴Also Secretary of Legation. ⁵Also Minister Resident. ⁶Also C. G. at Nukualofa, Tonga. C. G., Consul-General. C., Consul. V. C., Vice-Consul. C. A., Consular Agent. The aggregate of official fees, when not exceeding $2,500, is retained by officers who are not allowed a fixed salary by law; any surplus over $2,500 is turned into the Treasury. Consuls who receive a fixed salary retain notarial fees only, and are accountable to the Government for all official fees received by them. Clerk hire, except when especially authorized by law, is not chargeable to the Government.

On September 20, 1895, President Cleveland issued an Executive order incorporating in the Federal Civil Service the Consular Service to the extent embraced in this paragraph: "It is hereby ordered that any vacancy in a consulate or commercial agency now or hereafter existing the salary of which is not more than $2,500, nor less than $1,000, or the compensation of which, if derived from official fees, exclusive of notarial and other unofficial receipts, does not exceed $2,500, nor fall below $1,000, shall be filled (a) by a transfer or promotion from some other position under the Department of State of a character tending to qualify the incumbent for the position to be filled; or (b) by appointment of a person not under the Department of State but having previously served thereunder to its satisfaction in a capacity tending to qualify him for the position to be filled; or (c) by the appointment of a person who, having furnished the customary evidence of character, responsibility, and capacity, and being thereupon selected by the President for examination, is found upon such examination to be qualified for the position."

LIFE-SAVING CORPS.

It now covers in great part all the important lakes and rivers in the State, numbering on October 1, 1897, 681 stations and over 5,000 enrolled members—expert swimmers, yachtsmen and boatmen working upon the waters. Over 1,000 boats of all kinds, from dories to expensive sail, steam and naphtha launches, are in its service, and all are intended to be supplied with its flags and life-saving appliances as fast as means will permit. It has saved 1,000 lives in four years, and has awarded 403 medals for heroic rescues from drowning in that time. Number of stations in Greater New-York, 162; number of sub-stations in Greater New-York, 41; boats of all kinds in the service in Greater New-York, 438. Its officers are J. Wesley Jones, President; Thomas Smith, secretary; J. Wentworth White, treasurer.

The Volunteer Life-Saving Corps of the State of New-York was incorporated in 1890, but was sustained only in New-York Harbor and Brooklyn waters by private subscription until by State aid, in 1894 and 1895, it was extended largely over the State waters. For two years it has depended entirely upon the liberality of its Board of Trustees in time and money and on the contributions of its humane friends.

The miles of railway lines constructed reflect, as compared with square miles of territory and population, the rate of development in railway facilities since 1890. Thus in the year 1890 there were 5.51 miles of line for each 100 square miles of territory, which was increased to 6.15 miles of line per 100 square miles of territory in 1896. In 1890 there were 26.05 miles of line per 10,000 inhabitants, as against 26.00 miles in 1896. The total number of locomotives in the employ of the railways of the United States on June 30, 1896, was 35,950, and the total number of cars in the service of the railways was 1,297,649. The number of persons employed was 826,620, a decrease of 46,982 as compared with 1895. The amount of railway capital, excluding current liabilities, was $10,566,865,771, which shows that the railways of the United States are capitalized at $59,610 per mile. The number of passengers carried during the year was 511,772,737, being an increase of 4,351,375 as compared with the previous year. Reducing this to passengers per mile it would show, as per the reports of the railways, that the number of passengers carried one mile was 13,049,007,233, being an increase of 860,560,962 as compared with 1895. The number of tons of freight reported by the carriers was 765,891,385, being an increase of 69,130,214 tons over that of 1895. The number of employees killed during the year was 1,861, and the number injured was 29,969. The number of passengers killed was 181, and the number injured 2,873.

NEW-YORK STATE CONSTITUTION.

The following are the salient points of the New-York State Constitution adopted by the Constitutional Convention September 29, 1894, and ratified by vote of the people in November following. It took effect January 1, 1895:

PROVISIONS OF ARTICLE I.

No member of the State shall be disfranchised or deprived of any of the rights or privileges secured to any citizen thereof, unless by the law of the land, or the judgment of his peers.

Trial by jury in all cases in which it has been heretofore used shall remain inviolate forever, but a jury trial may be waived by the parties in all civil cases in the manner to be prescribed by law.

The free exercise and enjoyment of religious profession and worship, without discrimination or preference, shall forever be allowed; no person shall be rendered incompetent to be a witness on account of his opinions on matters of religious belief. But the liberty of conscience hereby secured shall not be construed so as to excuse acts of licentiousness or justify practices inconsistent with the peace and safety of the State.

The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended unless when, in cases of rebellion or invasion, the public safety may require its suspension.

Excessive bail shall not be required nor excessive fines imposed, nor shall cruel and unusual punishments be inflicted, nor shall witnesses be unreasonably detained.

No person shall be held to answer for a capital or infamous crime (except in specified cases) unless on presentment or indictment of a grand jury, and in any trial in any court whatever the party accused shall be allowed to appear and defend in person and with counsel. No person shall be subject to be twice put in jeopardy for the same offence; be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself; be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public uses without just compensation.

When private property is taken for any public use the compensation to be made therefor, when such compensation is not made by the State, shall be ascertained by a jury, or by a commission. Private roads may be opened in a manner to be prescribed by law, but in every case the necessity of the road and the amount of damage to be sustained by its opening shall be first determined by a jury of freeholders.

Every citizen may freely speak, write and publish his sentiments on all subjects, being responsible for the abuse of that right. In all criminal prosecutions or indictments for libels, if it shall appear to the jury that the matter charged as libelous is true and was published with good motives and for justifiable ends, the party shall be acquitted.

No law shall be passed abridging the right of the people peaceably to assemble and to petition the government, or any department thereof; nor shall any divorce be granted otherwise than by due judicial proceedings; nor shall any lottery or the sale of lottery tickets, pool selling, book-making or any other kind of gambling be authorized or allowed within this State.

The people of the State, in their right of sovereignty, are deemed to possess the original and ultimate property in and to all lands within the jurisdiction of the State; and all lands the title to which shall fail, from defect of heirs, shall revert, or escheat to the people.

No lease or grant of agricultural land, for a longer period than twelve years, hereafter made, in which shall be reserved any rent or service of any kind, shall be valid.

Section 16 provides that all laws repugnant to this Constitution are abrogated.

PROVISIONS OF ARTICLE 2.

Every male citizen of the age of twenty-one years, who shall have been a citizen for ninety days, an inhabitant of the State one year next preceding an election, for the last four months a resident of the county, and for the last thirty days a resident of the election district in which he may offer his vote, shall be entitled to vote in that district; provided that in time of war no elector in actual military service of the State, or of the United States, shall be deprived of his vote by reason of his absence from such election district.

No person who shall receive, accept, or offer to receive, or pay, offer or promise to pay, contribute, offer or promise to contribute to another, to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing as a compensation or reward for the giving or withholding a vote at an election, or who shall make any promise to influence the giving or withholding any such vote, or who shall make or become directly or indirectly interested in any bet or wager depending upon the result of any election, shall vote at such election. The Legislature shall enact laws excluding from the right of suffrage all persons convicted of bribery or of any infamous crime.

For the purpose of voting, no person shall be deemed to have gained or lost a residence, by reason of his presence or absence, while employed in the service of the United States; nor while engaged in the navigation of the waters of the State or of the United States, or of the high seas; nor while a student of any seminary of learning; nor while kept at any almshouse, or other asylum or institution wholly or partly supported at public expense, or by charity; nor while confined in any public prison.

Registration of voters is required. In cities and villages having 5,000 inhabitants or more, according to the last preceding State enumeration, voters shall be registered upon personal application only; but voters not residing in such cities and villages shall not be required to apply in person for registration at the first meeting of the officers having charge of the registry of voters. The registration must be completed at least ten days before each election.

The next section provides that all elections by the citizens, except for such town officers as may by law be directed to be otherwise chosen, shall be by ballot, or by such other method as may be prescribed by law, provided that secrecy in voting be preserved.

All laws creating, regulating or affecting boards of registry and boards of canvassers at elections require that such boards shall be bi-partisan, except at town and village elections.

PROVISIONS OF ARTICLE 3.

The Legislature is composed of fifty Senators and one hundred and fifty Assemblymen. The term of Senators elected in 1895 was fixed at three years, and thereafter the term of a Senator is to be for two years. The term of each Assemblyman is one year. Each member of the Legislature shall receive an annual salary of $1,500, and, in addition, one dollar for every ten miles of travel in going to and from the place of meeting, once in each session, by the most usual route. Senators when alone convened in extraordinary session, or when serving as members of a court of impeachment, and such members of the Assembly (not exceeding nine) as shall be appointed managers of an impeachment shall receive an additional allowance of ten dollars a day. No person shall be eligible to the Legislature who, at the time of his election, is, or within one hundred days previous thereto has been, a member of Congress, a civil or military officer under the United States, or an officer under any city government.

On and after January 1, 1897, no person in any State prison, penitentiary, jail or reformatory is to be employed at any trade, industry or occupation wherein or whereby his work, or the product or profit of his work, shall be farmed out, contracted, given or sold to any person, firm, association or corporation. This section is not to be construed to prevent the Legislature from providing that convicts may be employed at labor for the State or any part of it, or for any public institution owned or managed or controlled by the State or political division thereof.

A census of the population of the State shall be taken in May and June, 1905, and in the same months every tenth year thereafter. After the enumeration the Legislature, at the first regular session following, shall so alter the Senate districts that each shall contain as nearly as may be an equal number of inhabitants, excluding aliens, and be in as compact form as practicable, and no county shall be divided in the formation of a Senate district except to make two or more Senate districts wholly in such county. No county shall have four or more Senators unless it shall have a full ratio for each Senator; no county shall have more than one-third of all the Senators, and no two counties or the territory thereof, as now organized, which are adjoining counties, or which are separated by public waters, shall have more than one-half of all the Senators.

The Senate shall always be composed of fifty members, except that if any county having three or more Senators at the time of any apportionment shall be entitled on such ratio to an additional Senator or Senators, such additional Senator or Senators shall be given to such county in addition to the fifty Senators, and the whole number of Senators shall be increased that extent.

The members of the Assembly shall be chosen by single districts, and shall be apportioned by the Legislature at the first regular session after the return of every enumeration among the several counties of the State, as nearly as may be according to the number of their respective inhabitants, excluding aliens. Every county heretofore established and separately organized, except the county of Hamilton, shall always be entitled to one member of Assembly, and no county shall hereafter be erected unless its population shall entitle it to a member. The county of Hamilton shall elect with the county of Fulton until the population of the county of Hamilton shall, according to the ratio, entitle it to a member. But the Legislature may abolish the said county of Hamilton and annex the territory thereof to some other county or counties.

The quotient obtained by dividing the whole number of inhabitants of the State, excluding aliens, by the number of members of Assembly, shall be the ratio for apportionment, which shall be made as follows: One member of Assembly shall be apportioned to every county, including Fulton and Hamilton as one county, containing less than the ratio and one-half over. Two members shall be apportioned to every other county. The remaining members of Assembly shall be apportioned to the counties having more than two ratios according to the number of inhabitants, excluding aliens. Members apportioned on remainders shall be apportioned to the counties having the highest remainders on the order thereof respectively.

No county shall have more members of Assembly than a county having a greater number of inhabitants, excluding aliens. An apportionment by the Legislature, or other body, shall be subject to a review by the Supreme Court, at the suit of any citizen, under such reasonable regulations as the Legislature may prescribe; and any court before which a cause may be pending involving an apportionment shall give precedence thereto over all other causes and proceedings, and if said court be not in session it shall convene promptly for the disposition of the same.

The Legislature shall not, nor shall the common council of any city, nor any board of supervisors, grant any extra compensation to any public officer, servant, agent or contractor.

Sections 13 to 25 define the powers of the Legislature in the enactment of laws, as follows:

Sec. 13. Any bill may originate in either house of the Legislature, and all bills passed by one house may be amended by the other.

Sec. 14. The enacting clause of all bills shall be "The People of the State of New-York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows," and no law shall be enacted except by bill.

Sec. 15. No bill shall be passed or become a law unless it shall have been printed and upon the desks of the members, in its final form, at least three calendar legislative days prior to its final passage, unless the Governor, or the acting Governor, shall have certified to the necessity of its immediate passage, under his hand and the seal of the State; nor shall any bill be passed or become a law, except by the assent of a majority of the members elected to each branch of the Legislature; and upon the last reading of a bill no amendment thereof shall be allowed, and the question upon its final passage shall be taken immediately thereafter, and the yeas and nays entered on the journal.

Sec. 16. No private or local bill which may be passed by the Legislature shall embrace more than one subject, and that shall be expressed in the title.

Sec. 17. No act shall be passed which shall provide that any existing law, or any part thereof, shall be made or deemed a part of said act, or which shall enact that any existing law, or part thereof, shall be applicable, except by inserting it in such act.

Sec. 18. The Legislature shall not pass a private or local bill in any of the following cases:

Changing the names of persons.

Laying out, opening, altering, working or discontinuing roads, highways or alleys, or for draining swamps or other low lands.

Locating or changing county seats.

Providing for changes of venue in civil or criminal cases.

Incorporating villages.

Providing for election of members of boards of supervisors.

Selecting, drawing, summoning or impaneling grand or petit jurors.

Regulating the rate of interest on money.

The opening and conducting of elections or designating places of voting.

Creating, increasing or decreasing fees, percentage or allowances of public officers, during the term for which said officers are elected or appointed.

Granting to any corporation, association or individual the right to lay down railroad tracks.

Granting to any private corporation, association or individual any exclusive privilege, immunity or franchise whatever.

Providing for building bridges, and chartering companies for such purposes, except on the Hudson River below Waterford, and on the East River, or over the waters forming a part of the boundaries of the State.

The Legislature shall pass general laws providing for the cases enumerated in this section, and for all other cases which in its judgment may be provided for by general laws. But no law shall authorize the construction or operation of a street railroad except upon the condition that the consent of the owners of one-half in value of the property bounded on, and the consent also of the local authorities having the control of, that portion of a street or highway upon which it is proposed to construct or operate such railroad be first obtained, or in case the consent of such property-owners cannot be obtained the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in the department in which it is proposed to be constructed may, upon application, appoint three commissioners who shall determine, after a hearing of all parties interested, whether such railroad ought to be constructed or operated, and their determination, confirmed by the court, may be taken in lieu of the consent of the property-owners.

Sec. 19. The Legislature shall neither audit nor allow any private claim or account against the State, but may appropriate money to pay such claims as shall have been audited and allowed according to law.

Sec. 20. The assent of two-thirds of the members elected to each branch of the Legislature shall be requisite to every bill appropriating the public moneys or property for local or private purposes.

Sec. 21. No money shall ever be paid out of the treasury of this State, or any of its funds, or any of the funds under its management, except in pursuance of an appropriation by law; nor unless such payment be made within two years next after the passage of such appropriation act; and every such law making a new appropriation, or continuing or reviving an appropriation, shall distinctly specify the sum appropriated and the object to which it is to be applied; and it shall not be sufficient for such law to refer to any other law to fix such sum.

Sec. 22. No provision or enactment shall be embraced in the annual appropriation or supply bill, unless it relates specifically to some particular appropriation in the bill; and any such provision or enactment shall be limited in its operation to such appropriation.

Sec. 23. Sections seventeen and eighteen of this article shall not apply to any bill or the amendments to any bill which shall be reported to the Legislature by commissioners who have been appointed pursuant to law to revise the statutes.

Sec. 24. Every law which imposes, continues or revives a tax shall distinctly state the tax and the object to which it is to be applied, and it shall not be sufficient to refer to any other law to fix such tax or object.

Sec. 25. On the final passage, in either house of the Legislature, of any act which imposes, continues or revives a tax, or creates a debt or charge, or makes, continues or revives any appropriation of public or trust money or property, or releases, discharges or commutes any claim or demand of the State, the question shall be taken by yeas and nays, which shall be duly entered upon the journals, and three-fifths of all the members elected to either house shall, in all such cases, be necessary to constitute a quorum therein.

PROVISIONS OF ARTICLE 4.

There shall be a Governor and a Lieutenant-Governor, who shall be elected for terms of two years. The Lieutenant-Governor is the president of the Senate, but has only a casting vote therein. In case of a vacancy in the Governorship by impeachment, removal from office, death or inability to discharge the duties of his office, resignation or absence from the State, then the Lieutenant-Governor becomes the Governor. In case of the Lieutenant-Governor becoming disqualified to act as Governor the President of the Senate becomes Governor, and next in order is the Speaker of the Assembly.

PROVISIONS OF ARTICLE 5.

Provides for the offices of Secretary of State, Comptroller, Treasurer, Attorney-General and State Engineer and Surveyor, each of whom shall be elected at the places and times of electing the Governor, and shall hold office for two years, beginning with the election in November, 1898. It also provides for the appointment of Superintendent of Public Works, to be confirmed by the Senate, for the same term as the Governor; a Superintendent of State Prisons for the term of five years; Commissioners of Land Office, who shall be the Lieutenant-Governor, Speaker of the Assembly, Secretary of State, Comptroller, Treasurer, Attorney-General and State Engineer and Surveyor; Commissioners of Canal Fund, composed of the Lieutenant-Governor, Secretary of State, Comptroller, Treasurer and Attorney-General; Canal Board, composed of the Commissioners of the Canal Fund, the State Engineer and Surveyor, and Superintendent of Public Works. The powers and duties of the several officers and boards are also prescribed.

Appointments and promotions in the civil service of the State, and of all the civil divisions thereof, shall be made according to merit and fitness, to be ascertained, so far as practicable, by examinations which, so far as practicable, shall be competitive; provided, however, that honorably discharged soldiers and sailors from the Army and Navy of the United States in the late Civil War, who are citizens and residents of the State, shall be entitled to preference in appointment and promotion, without regard to their standing on any list from which such appointment or promotion may be made.

PROVISIONS OF ARTICLE 6.

This article applies to the various courts and justices. The State is divided into four judicial departments, with an Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in each. Once every ten years the Legislature may alter the judicial departments, but without increasing the number thereof. The justices constituting the Appellate divisions are to be selected by the Governor from the justices elected to the Supreme Court.

No Judge or Justice shall sit in the Appellate Division or in the Court of Appeals in review of a decision made by him or by any court of which he was at the time a sitting member. The testimony in equity cases shall be taken in like manner as in cases at law; and, except as herein otherwise provided, the Legislature shall have the same power to alter and regulate the jurisdiction and proceedings in law and in equity that it has heretofore exercised.

The official terms of the justices of the Supreme Court are fixed at fourteen years, from January 1 next after their election.

The Superior Court of the City of New-York, the Court of Common Pleas for the City and County of New-York, the Superior Court of Buffalo, and the City Court of Brooklyn, are abolished from and after January 1, 1896.

The jurisdiction now exercised by the several courts hereby abolished shall be vested in the Supreme Court.

Circuit Courts and Courts of Oyer and Terminer are abolished from and after December 31, 1895. All their jurisdiction shall thereupon be vested in the Supreme Court.

After December 31, 1895, the jurisdiction of the Court of Appeals, except where the judgment is of death, shall be limited to the review of questions of law.

The Judges of the Court of Appeals and the Justices of the Supreme Court shall not hold any other office or public trust. All votes for any of them, for any other than a judicial office, given by the Legislature or the people, shall be void.

The Assembly shall have the power of impeachment, by a vote of a majority of all the members elected. The Court for the Trial of Impeachments shall be composed of the President of the Senate, the Senators, or the majority part of them, and the Judges of the Court of Appeals, or the major part of them. On the trial of an impeachment against the Governor or Lieutenant-Governor, the Lieutenant-Governor shall not act as a member of the court. No judicial officer shall exercise his office, after articles of impeachment against him shall have been preferred to the Senate, until he shall have been acquitted. Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from office, or removal from office and disqualification to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust or profit under this State, but the party impeached shall be liable to indictment and punishment according to law.

The Court of Appeals judges are also elected for the same terms as Supreme Court Judges. Judges of the Supreme Court and of the Court of Appeals may be removed by concurrent resolution of both houses of the Legislature, if two-thirds of the members elected to each house concur therein. All other judicial officers, except Justices of the Peace and judges or justices of inferior courts not of record may be removed by the Senate, on the recommendation of the Governor, if two-thirds of all the members elected to the Senate concur therein. No person shall hold the office of judge or justice of any court longer than until and including the last day of December next after he shall be seventy years of age.

Surrogates' Courts are provided for, and the duties of Surrogates are defined. Surrogates are elected for the term of six years, except in New-York County, where the term continues for fourteen years. In counties where a separate Surrogate is not elected the County Judge acts as such. In counties having a population of 40,000, wherein there is no separate Surrogate, the Legislature may provide for the election of one. No County Judge or Surrogate shall hold office longer than until and including the last day of December next after he shall be over seventy years of age.

Justices of the Peace are provided for by election in towns, whose terms of office shall be four years.

PROVISIONS OF ARTICLE 7.

The credit of the State shall not in any manner be given or loaned to or in aid of any individual, association or corporation. The State may, to meet casual deficits or failures in revenues, or for expenses not provided for, contract debts; but such debts, direct or contingent, singly or in the aggregate, shall not at any time exceed $1,000,000, and the money arising from the loans creating such debts shall be applied to the purpose for which they were obtained, or to repay the debt so contracted, and to no other purpose whatever.

The lands of the State constituting the forest preserve shall be forever kept as wild forest lands, and they shall not be leased, sold or exchanged, or be taken by any corporation, public or private, nor shall the timber thereon be sold, removed or destroyed.

The Legislature shall not sell, lease or otherwise dispose of the Erie, the Oswego, the Champlain, the Cayuga and Seneca, or the Black River canals, but they shall remain the property of the State and under its management forever. No tolls shall be imposed on persons or property transported on the canals, but all boats navigating the canals, and the owners and masters thereof, shall be subject to such laws and regulations as have been or may be enacted concerning the navigation of the canals. The Legislature shall annually, by equitable taxes, make provision for the expenses of the superintendence and repairs of the canals.

PROVISIONS OF ARTICLE 8.

Corporations may be formed under general laws; but shall not be created by special act, except for municipal purposes, and in cases where, in the judgment of the Legislature, the objects of the corporation cannot be attained under general laws.

Neither the credit nor the money of the State shall be given or loaned to or in aid of any association, corporation or private undertaking.

The stockholders of every corporation and joint-stock association for banking purposes shall be individually responsible to the amount of their respective shares or shares of stock in any such corporation or association for all its debts and liabilities of every kind.

In case of the insolvency of any bank or banking association, the billholders thereof shall be entitled to preference in payment over all other creditors of such bank or association.

No county, city, town or village shall hereafter give any money or property, or loan its money or credit to or in aid of any individual, association or corporation, or become directly or indirectly the owner of stock in, or bonds of, any association or corporation; nor shall any such county, city, town or village be allowed to incur any indebtedness except for county, city, town or village purposes. No county or city shall be allowed to become indebted for any purpose or in any manner to an amount which, including existing indebtedness, shall exceed 10 per centum of the assessed valuation of the real estate of such county or city subject to taxation, as it appeared on the assessment rolls on the last assessment prior to the incurring of such indebtedness; and all indebtedness in excess of such limitation shall be absolutely void. This provision is not to be construed to prevent the issue of bonds for the supply of water.

PROVISIONS OF ARTICLE 9.

Provides for the maintenance and support of a system of free common schools, and the regents of the University of the State of New-York. The capital of the common school fund, the capital of the literature fund and the capital of the United States deposit fund shall be respectively preserved inviolate. The revenue of the common school fund must be applied to the support of the common schools; that of the literature fund to the support of academies; and the sum of $25,000 of the revenues of the United States deposit fund shall each year be appropriated to and made part of the capital of the common school fund. Neither the State nor any subdivision thereof shall use its property or credit or any public money, or authorize or permit it to be used, directly or indirectly, in aid or maintenance, other than for examination or inspection of any school or institution of learning wholly or in part under the control or direction of any religious denomination, or in which any denominational tenet or doctrine is taught.

PROVISIONS OF ARTICLE 10.

Relates to the election and duties of the Sheriffs, Clerks of Counties, District-Attorneys and Registers. Sheriffs are not permitted to hold any other office, and are ineligible for re-election.

The Legislature shall provide for filling vacancies in office, and in case of elective officers no person appointed to fill a vacancy shall hold his office by virtue of such appointment longer than the commencement of the political year next succeeding the first annual election after the happening of the vacancy.

The political year and legislative term shall begin on the first day of January; and the Legislature shall, every year, assemble on the first Wednesday in January.

Provision shall be made by law for the removal for misconduct or malversation in office of all officers, except judicial, whose powers and duties are not local or legislative and who shall be created at general elections, and also for supplying vacancies created by such removal.

The Legislature may declare the cases in which any office shall be deemed vacant when no provision is made for their purpose in this Constitution.

No officer whose salary is fixed by the Constitution shall receive any additional compensation. Each of the other State officers named in the Constitution shall, during his continuance in office, receive a compensation, to be fixed by law, which shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which he shall have been elected or appointed; nor shall he receive to his use any fees or perquisites of office or other compensation.

PROVISIONS OF ARTICLE 11.

Provides that all able-bodied male citizens between eighteen and forty-five years of age, who are residents of the State, shall constitute the militia, subject to exemptions under the State and Federal laws. The militia is to be organized and divided into such land and naval, and active and reserve forces, as the Legislature may deem proper, provided, however, that there shall be maintained at all times a force of not less than 10,000 enlisted men, fully uniformed, armed, equipped, disciplined, and ready for active service.

PROVISIONS OF ARTICLE 12.

Relative to the organization of cities, and classifying them, according to the latest State enumeration, as follows: First class—All cities having a population of 250,000 or more. Second class—Having a population of 50,000 and less than 250,000. Third class—All other cities.

Section 3 provides that all elections of city officers, including supervisors and judicial officers of inferior local courts, elected in any city or part of a city, and of county officers elected in the counties of New-York and Kings, and in all counties whose boundaries are the same as those of a city, except to fill vacancies, shall be held on the Tuesday succeeding the first Monday in November in an odd-numbered year, and the term of every such officer shall expire at the end of an odd-numbered year. This section does not apply to any city of the third class, or to elections of any judicial officer, except judges and justices of inferior local courts.

PROVISIONS OF ARTICLE 13.

Defining bribery and corruption and providing punishments for persons guilty of either, or for offering or promising to bribe.

No public officer, or person elected or appointed to a public office, under the laws of the State, shall directly or indirectly ask, demand, accept, receive or consent to receive for his own use or benefit, or for the use or benefit of another, any free pass, free transportation, franking privilege or discrimination in passenger, telegraph, or telephone rates, from any person or corporation, or make use of the same himself or in conjunction with another. A person who shall violate this law shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall forfeit his office at the suit of the Attorney-General. Any corporation, or officer or agent thereof, who shall offer or promise to a public officer, or person elected or appointed to a public office any such free pass, free transportation, franking privilege or discrimination, shall also be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and liable to punishment.

PROVISIONS OF ARTICLE 14.

Provides that any amendment or amendments to the Constitution may be proposed in the Senate or Assembly, and if the same shall be agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two Houses, such proposed amendments shall be entered on the journals, and referred to the Legislature to be chosen at the next general election of Senators, and shall be published for three months previous to the time of making such choice, and if in the next Legislature so next chosen the amendments shall be agreed to by a majority of all the members of each house, then it shall be the duty of the Legislature to submit them to the people for approval; and if the people shall approve and ratify such amendments by a majority of the electors voting thereon, such amendments shall become a part of the Constitution from and after January 1 next after such approval. At the general election to be held in 1916, and every twentieth year thereafter, and at such times as the Legislature may by law provide, the question, "Shall there be a convention to revise the Constitution and amend the same?" shall be decided by a vote of the people, and in case a majority of the electors voting thereon shall decide in favor of a convention for such purpose the electors of every Senate district in the State shall elect three delegates at the next general election when Assemblymen are chosen, and the electors of the State voting at the same election shall elect fifteen delegates-at-large. The delegates so elected shall convene at the State Capitol on the first Tuesday of April next ensuing after their election, and shall continue their session until the business of such convention shall be completed. Each delegate is to receive the same compensation and the same mileage as shall then be paid annually to the Assemblymen. Such Constitution or amendments as shall be adopted by the convention shall be submitted to the electors of the State at the time and in the manner provided for such conventions, but not less than six weeks after the adjournment of the convention, and upon the approval of such Constitution or amendments, in the manner above cited, shall go into effect on January 1 next after such approval.

CHURCH SERVICE SOCIETY.

The Church Service Society, representing the Presbyterians all over the United States, was organized in New-York City on March 3, 1897, with the following officers: President, Rev. Dr. Louis F. Benson, Philadelphia, Penn.; vice-president, Rev. Dr. Henry Van Dyke, New-York City; secretary, Rev. Dr. S. J. Clark, Buffalo, N. Y.; treasurer, B. B. Comegys, Philadelphia, Penn. The following declaration of principles was adopted.

First—The Church Service Society of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America stands upon the basis of that doctrine of the Church, the ministry and the sacraments which is set forth in the Westminster standards; including within its province all matters and things which pertain to public worship.

Second—The society proposes as its first object an inquiry into the present conduct of public worship in the Presbyterian Church, and the various orders of worship in actual use.

Third—The society proposes to study the modes of worship which have been in use in the different branches of the Church, and especially in those churches known as the Reformed, of which we are one; and thus to recognize the importance of this branch of historical theology, to make its lessons clear to the mind of the Church, and to strengthen in our services the links which bind us to historic Christianity.

Fourth—The society aims to follow this study of the present conduct and past history of the worship of the Church by doing such work in the preparation of forms of service in an orderly worship as may help to guard against the contrary evils of confusion and ritualism, and promote reverence and beauty in the worship of God in His holy House, unity and the spirit of common praise and prayer among the people.

FOUNDERS AND PATRIOTS OF AMERICA.

Organized, New-York City, May 13, 1896.

—Objects: To bring together the descendants of the founders of the country and those patriots who fought in the Revolution; to teach reverent regard for their names, their deeds and their heroisms; to inculcate patriotism among the members; to discover, collect and preserve records, manuscripts, monuments and history, relating to the genealogy and history of the first colonists and their ancestors and descendants, and to commemorate and celebrate events in the history of the Colonies and Republic.

Eligibility: Any man above the age of twenty-one years, of good moral character and reputation, a citizen of the United States and who is lineally descended in the male line of either parent from an ancestor who settled in any of the original colonies, from May 13, 1607, to May 13, 1657, and whose intermediate ancestors adhered as patriots to the cause of the Revolutionary War.

Officers—Governor-General, Frederick D. Grant, New-York City; deputy Governor-general, William A. Halsey, Newark, N. J.; treasurer-general, J. F. Morris, Hartford, Conn.; secretary-general, John Quincy Adams, New-York City; attorney-general, Morris P. Ferris; historian-general, Professor Thomas Eggleston, New-York City; registrar-general, Howard S. Robbins, New-York City; chaplain-general, the Rev. J. F. Folsom, Kearney, N. J.; councillors, J. J. Belden, E. P. Cone, F. L. Hill, T. W. Bicknell, L. C. Hopkins, Henry Hall, Edward P. Chapin, L. E. Chittenden and C. C. Wolcott.

INDIAN WARS VETERANS.

The Society of Veterans of Indian Wars was organized at a meeting of the officers of the U. S. Army, in Philadelphia April 23, 1896. Its objects are to perpetuate the faithful services, heroism and privations of the officers and soldiers of the Army of the United States, as well as of the auxiliary forces of the several States of the Union, "in their successive campaigns conducted against a savage foe on our frontiers, in the interests of civilization and for the settlement and defence of our territories, at different periods in the history of our common country, since the close of the War of the Revolution; and also to collect and preserve for publication a record of these services and other historical data relating thereto, as well as to unite in a fraternal bond of union all those who are entitled to membership therein."

The members are divided into three classes. The first class includes commissioned officers of the Army, on the active or retired lists, or those who have become honorably separated from the service, of good moral character and reputation, and who have or may hereafter serve in the Army in an Indian war in a strictly military capacity; also any officer of a State National Guard or Militia, meeting the above requirements, and who regularly served under a commission from the Governor of a State or Territory. The second class includes lineal male descendants of members of the first class, or of officers who served subsequent to January, 1784, who would have been thus eligible, but who died without such membership. The third class includes non-commissioned officers and soldiers who have received the medal of honor or certificate of merit from the United States, or who have been proffered or recommended for a commission, or who have been specially mentioned in orders by the War Department or their commanding officer for services in an Indian war.

The principal officers are: Commander, General Judson D. Bingham, U. S. A.; recorder, Captain G. S. Bingham, U. S. A.; treasurer, Captain Frank A. Edwards, U. S. A.

SOCIETY OF COLONIAL WARS.

L., Philadelphia; chaplain-general, Bishop Whipple, St. Paul, Minn.; surgeon-general, Charles Samuel Ward, Bridgeport, Conn.; chancellor-general, Roger Wolcott, Boston, Mass. A deputy governor-general is appointed from each State society.

ALLIED COUNCIL U. S. DAUGHTERS.

The Allied Council, United States Daughters, represents the patriotic hereditary and artistic societies made up of honorary members selected from Colonial, Revolutionary and Columbian Daughters, in alliance, to advance the interest in music, to promote fine arts, and advance the education of American artists, and to enrich and embellish home and country. Mrs. Flora Adams Darling is the president-general, Mrs. LeRoy S. Smith, secretary-general. Headquarters of president-general, Washington D. C. The annual meeting is held on October 9.

FOUNDERS' KIN ALLIANCE.

The Founders' Kin Alliance is an order the objects of which are to bring into closer relation and fellowship the several branches of American families; to make collateral branches of the family tree allies instead of aliens in the patriotic organizations of the United States, thereby strengthening the bonds of family alliance through fraternity; that April 19, Patriots' Day, shall mark union of clans to honor the name and deeds of the chieftain who crossed the trackless sea to found liberty, home and country under the Charter Oak planted in the virgin soil of the New World, from the date of discovery to the close of the Mexican Conquest, by founders who bequeathed to their kin, both lineal and collateral, the heritage of birthright and opportunity—as one of the family—true “chips of the old block,” and kinsmen of pioneers of the Western World, to keep alive memories of the founder. The officers are: Mrs. Flora Adams Darling, director-general; John H. Warner, secretary, No 611 Broadway, New-York City.

COLONIAL DAMES OF AMERICA.

The Society of the Colonial Dames of America was organized May 23, 1890, and was the first society of women for purely patriotic purposes ever founded in this country. It was incorporated April 23, 1891. It has a membership of about 300, and chapters in many States. Its objects are: (1) To collect and preserve relics, manuscripts, traditions and mementos of the founders and builders of the thirteen original States of the Union, and of the heroes of the War of Independence, that the memory of their deeds and achievements may be perpetuated. (2) To promote celebrations of great historic events of National importance, to diffuse information on all subjects concerning American history, particularly among the young, and to cultivate the spirit of patriotism and reverence for the founders of American constitutional history.

Officers: President, Mrs. William Warner Hoppin; first vice-president, Mrs. Thomas Wren Ward; second vice-president, Mrs. James W. Gerard; treasurer, Mrs. Oscar Egerton Schmidt; secretary, Mrs. Timothy Matlack Cheesman; historian, Miss Julia Livingston Delafield. Advisory Council—Henry E. Howland, Franklin Bartlett and Louis V. Bright.

OTHER ORGANIZATIONS.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION.

The University Extension movement in America was started at Buffalo, N. Y., in 1887, and is a system of instruction for adults embracing lecture courses, determined upon by each local organization, with classes, written work, examinations and certificates. The “unit of instruction” in New-York is a course of ten weekly and fortnightly lectures, preceded by the class for students and followed by a special conference or class. The “unit of instruction” in this society is a course of six or twelve lectures. The “unit of organization” is a committee of citizens or the directors of a literary or social club, willing to assume the local management of the course. Lecturers are secured through the central office, either from the faculty of a neighboring college or from the society's regular staff.

The extension department of the University of the State of New-York is located in the Capitol, at Albany, with Melvil Dewey as director; Myrtilla Avery, director's assistant; Eugene Whitney, honorary inspector for Western New-York, Rochester. Needed advice and suggestions are given to centres organizing or in process of organization, and unnecessary duplication of local expenses is saved by effecting co-operation among centres in all parts of the State.

THE AMERICAN SOCIETY FOR THE EXTENSION OF UNIVERSITY TEACHING.—Office, No. 111 South Fifteenth-st., Philadelphia. Board of Directors; Charles A. Brinley, M. G. Brumbaugh, Charles E. Bushnell, John H. Converse, Walter C. Douglas, Theodore N. Ely, William H. Ingham, John S. MacIntosh, Frederick B. Miles, Henry S. Pancoast, J. G. Rosengarten, Justus C. Strawbridge, Charles-magne Tower, jr., Stuart Wood, Charles C. Harrison. Officers: President, Charles A. Brinley; treasurer, Frederick B. Miles; acting secretary, John Nolen.

CATHOLIC SUMMER SCHOOL.

The Catholic Summer School, or, as frequently spoken of, “The Champlain Assembly of Cliff Haven, N. Y.,” has been engaged in various forms of university extension work since 1892. The season begins the second week in July and extends for seven weeks, during which conferences are held and lectures given each day. The principal officers are: President, Rev. Michael J. Lavelle, New-York City; secretary, Warren E. Mosher, Youngstown, Ohio; treasurer, Rev. John F. Mullany, Syracuse, N. Y. Headquarters, No. 423 East 50th-st., New-York City.

THE NATIONAL LEAGUE FOR THE PROTECTION OF AMERICAN INSTITUTIONS.

Objects.—"The objects of the League are to secure constitutional and legislative safeguards for the protection of the common school system and other American institutions, and to promote public instruction in harmony with such institutions, and to prevent all sectarian or denominational appropriations of public funds." Officers: William H. Parsons, president; Dorman B. Eaton, vice-president; James M. King, general secretary; William F. Morgan, treasurer. Offices: No. 1 Madison-ave., New-York City.

THE GOOD ROADS NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Organized 1892. Vice-president and acting president, General Roy Stone, Department of Agriculture, Washington; acting secretary, Charles T. Johnson, San Francisco, Cal.; general Western secretary, S. Thornton K. Prime, Dwight, Ill.; general Eastern secretary, E. G. Harrison, Asbury Park, N. J., treasurer, William H. Rhawn, Philadelphia; general press agent, Otto Dörner, Milwaukee, Wis. Objects: "To awaken general interest in the improvement of public roads, determine the best methods of building and maintaining them, secure the legislation, State or National, that may be necessary for their establishment and support, and conduct or foster such publications as may serve these purposes."

The following are the members of the permanent Road Conference Committee, of which the Hon. E. H. Thayer, of Clinton, Iowa, is chairman: Alabama, Major W. W. Screws, Montgomery; Alaska, John G. Brady, Sitka; Arizona, Governor L. C. Hughes, Tucson; Arkansas, G. W. Sappington, Little Rock; California, J. A. Woodson, Sacramento; Colorado, Louis G. NATIONAL MUNICIPAL LEAGUE.

Objects: To improve the methods of governing municipalities. Affiliated members, 103; associate members, 305. Officers: President, James C. Carter, New-York City; secretary, Clinton Rogers Woodruff, 514 Walnut-st., Philadelphia; treasurer, George Burnham, jr., Philadelphia.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF CIVICS

Officers: Chairman, Chief Justice Melville W. Fuller; vice-chairman, Senator Joseph R. Hawley; treasurer, Colonel Henry H. Adams, New-York City; secretary, Dr. Henry Randall White, New-York City; auditor, Edward P. Cone, New-York City.

The object of the institute is to promote a higher standard of citizenship through education and by other means. It now has the co-operation of nearly three thousand citizens in communities throughout the country who have accepted appointments. These include members of faculties in 250 of the higher institutions of learning, and also members of a corps of lecturers numbering about two hundred and thirty-five.

THE REFORM BUREAU.

The Reform Bureau seeks to promote those Christian reforms on which the churches sociologically unite while theologically differing. It proffers co-operation to all associations that stand for the defence of the Sabbath and purity; for the suppression of intemperance, gambling, and political corruption; for the substitution of arbitration and conciliation for both industrial and international war.

Headquarters, 210 Delaware-ave., N. E., Washington. D. C. Officers—President, Charles Lyman; secretary, Rev. Dr. F. D. Power; superintendent, Rev. W. F. Crafts.

THE TRIBUNE FRESH-AIR FUND.

Organized in 1877, its object being to send children of the New-York poor into the country for a summer vacation of two weeks. Hospitable country people receive them, not as boarders, but give them food and lodging and freedom of the country grounds. The fund is dependent upon voluntary contributions. The following table shows the condition of the work from the beginning:

Year.	Number of children sent for two weeks.	Number for one day.	Total number of beneficiaries.	Expenditures.	Cost per child.

SOCIETY OF NAVAL ARCHITECTS AND MARINE ENGINEERS.

Officers—President, Clement A. Griscom, Philadelphia; vice-presidents, Commodore F. M. Bunce, U. S. N.; Engineer-in-Chief George W. Melville, U. S. N.; Chief Engineer Charles H. Loring, U. S. N.; Naval Constructor Frank L. Fernald, U. S. N.; Charles H. Cramp, Naval Constructor Philip Irving M. Scott, Naval Constructor Philip Hethorn and William W. Webb, Secretary and treasurer, Naval Constructor Francis T. Boyles, U. S. N., 12 West 31st-st., New-York City. There is also a council of twenty-two naval officers and architects and builders in civil life and an Executive Committee.

The society was organized on May 10, 1883, and it has a membership of nearly 600. Its objects are: "The promotion of practical and scientific knowledge in the art of shipbuilding and marine engineering and the allied professions; and in furtherance of this object, to hold meetings for social intercourse among its members, and the reading and discussion of professional papers, and to inculcate by means of publication the knowledge thus obtained."

SPORTS.

BASEBALL.

The baseball season of 1897 was a good one from a financial standpoint for the big League clubs, but the amateur games did not attract usual attention, which may be due to the interest taken in the bicycle and in golf. In the National League struggle the Boston team won the championship by a narrow margin from Baltimore, the three-time winners. Princeton captured the intercollegiate championship, Brockton won the New-England championship, Lancaster finished first in the Atlantic Association, and Syracuse first in the Eastern League.

In the National League several of the clubs made money, but the conduct of many of the players was such as to arouse vigorous criticism, and unless the club-owners do something to check the rowdiness on the field, the game will be irreparably injured. The record for the season of '97 was:

Keeler led the League in batting; Tebeau led the first basemen in fielding, with a percentage of .994; McPhee, the second basemen, with .965; Quinn, the third basemen, with .952; Clingman led the shortstops, with .947; Nance led the outfielders, playing in 34 games without an error, making a percentage of 1,000.

In the Temple Cup series between Boston and Baltimore the latter won, taking four of the five games. If they win it again it will become their personal property. The team averages for the series were:

ATHLETICS.

The absence of international competitions during the season of 1897 detracted considerably from the general interest in athletics. The dual games between the members of the New-York A. C. and the Chicago A. A. furnished good sport, although the New-York men won the majority of the contests easily. The other notable athletic contests of the year were those of the New-Jersey A. C. at Bergen Point, and those held annually at Travers Island by the New-York A. C. It was not a season for records, however, and comparatively few new ones were made. Wefers proved himself the best sprinter in the country, if not in the world. Charges were made of professionalism against him, but his friends disclaimed them. Some of the most noteworthy performances of the year are as follows: 120 yards, B. J. Wefers, 11½s., Worcester, Mass., August 20, 1897; 150 yards, B. J. Wefers, 14½s., Travers Island, N. Y., October 2, 1897; 300 yards, hurdles, P. O'Day, 38½s., and Kraenzlein, 37½s., Military and Athletic Carnival, Chicago, Ill., May 12, 1897; throwing the 16-pound hammer, John Flannagan, 150 ft. 8 in., at Bergen Point, N. J., May 31, 1897; throwing the 56-pound weight for height, James S. Mitchell, 15 ft. 6¾ in., at Bergen Point, N. J., September 6, 1897; throwing the 16-pound hammer, John Flannagan, 157 ft. 4 in., Albany, N. Y., August 3, 1897 (exhibition throw); dumb-bell lifting, L. C. Rood, of Harvard College, on June 27, 1897, broke the amateur record for lifting heavy dumb-bells; he elevated 212 pounds by a straight lift; the old record was 201 pounds 5 ounces, made by R. A. Pennell in 1894.

BICYCLES.

Cycling both as from a racing standpoint and as a means for recreation and pastime has had the best season in its history. In the professional class E. C. Bald showed that he was the best all-round rider in competition work in this country, and he easily led his competitors both in the number of races won and in the amount of cash captured in prizes. Michael did the best work in paced races. Bald probably cleared close to $15,000 on his season's work, and Michael likely made at least $10,000.

Some of the best records made are below:

July 22, 23, 24.—At Lord's, London: M. C. C. and Ground, 278 and 280 (declared); Philadelphians, 179 and 162. Lost by 227 runs.

July 26, 27, 28.—At Maidstone: Kent, 454; Philadelphians, 168 and 277. Lost by an inning and 9 runs.

July 29, 30, 31.—At the Oval, London: Surrey, 273 and 372; Philadelphians, 233 and 258. Lost by 154 runs.

Games played, 15; won, 2; lost, 9; drawn, 4.

The following were the American team: G. S. Patterson (capt.), J. A. Lester, A. M. Wood, F. H. Bohlen, J. B. King, H. C. Thayer, C. Coates, jr., E. M. Cregar, P. H. Clark, L. Biddle, H. L. Clark, F. W. Ralston, H. P. Bailly, F. H. Bates, J. H. Scattergood.

In the autumn a team of English amateurs, under the captaincy of P. F. Warner, played a series of five games. The visitors won their game in New-York and one game against the "Gentlemen of Philadelphia"; they drew against the "Colts" of Philadelphia and Baltimore, and lost one game against the "Gentlemen of Philadelphia."

The local championship was fought for by the Staten Island, New-Jersey, Manhattan and New-York clubs, with the following result.

	P'd.	Won.	Lost.	Dr.	Pct.
New-Jersey A. C.	9	7	0	2	1000
Staten Island	9	3	3	3	.500
Manhattan	9	2	4	3	.333
New-York	9	0	5	4	.000

The second-class club of the Metropolitan district also played a championship series of games. The competitors were the Brooklyn, Paterson, New-Jersey, Kings County, Manhattan, Kearny, Columbia and St. George's. The teams finished in the order above given.

FLY-CASTING.

Two important fly-casting tournaments were held in 1897. At the Sportsmen's Exposition, New-York, March 15-20, a tournament was held in a tank constructed indoors, although the records were not recognized as official because of the lack of wind and other outdoor conditions unfavorable to the caster. The longest cast in this event was 110 feet 9½ inches, by Thomas Mills, of New-York, but these figures were not allowed because the fly went beyond the end of the tank, and, catching in some draperies, was detached when the judges went to measure the cast. The previous record of 102 feet 6 inches, therefore, held good until the tournament in Chicago in August, when W. D. Mansfield, of San Francisco, broke all records with a cast of 111 feet 3 inches, thus making the world's record.

FOOTBALL.

The football season of '97 was interesting. While some attention was paid to the Association games, the contests of the large colleges attracted the big crowds of the year. At Cambridge 25,000 people saw the game between Yale and Harvard, while 20,000 witnessed the contest at Philadelphia between the University of Pennsylvania and Harvard. The Yale-Princeton game, at New-Haven, attracted 15,000 people, the weather being cold and disagreeable. The most important games of the year resulted as follows:

LAWN TENNIS.

THE AMERICAN CHAMPIONSHIPS.

The National championship lawn tennis tournament for 1897 began at Newport, R. I., August 18. It was made unusually important by the presence of three expert British players, who competed in both singles and doubles. Robert D. Wrenn, champion for 1896, won the championship, defeating Dr. W. V. Eaves, of London, England. Score: 4-6, 8-6, 6-3, 2-6, 6-2. In the "all-comers" Larned lost to Nisbet after five sets in the semi-finals, and Nisbet lost to Eaves the next day in the finals by three straight sets. Larned's defeat was accomplished by the Englishman only after a most sensational match, in which the American was twice within a single stroke of winning in three straight sets. Score: 3-6, 2-6, 9-7, 6-4, 6-1.

The championship in doubles was contested for in two sections again, as in 1896, the tournament being played simultaneously in Chicago and Boston for the Western and Eastern championships. Leo E. Ware and George P. Sheldon, jr., won the Western championship at Chicago, and H. S. Mahony and H. A. Nisbet, British players, won the Eastern championship at Boston. These two teams met at Newport for the National championship in doubles, and the American pair won. Score: 11-13, 6-2, 9-7, 1-6, 6-1. Owing to the default of the Neel brothers, the 1896 National champions in doubles, Ware and Sheldon took the title.

In the National championship tournament for women, held at Philadelphia, beginning June 15, Miss Juliette Atkinson, of Brooklyn, who held the championship in 1895, won from Miss Bessie Moore, of Ridgewood, N. J., the 1896 holder. With her sister, Miss Kathleen Atkinson, she also won the championship in women's doubles, while Miss Laura Henson and D. L. Magruder, of Philadelphia, won the championship in mixed doubles.

THE BRITISH CHAMPIONSHIPS.

The English championship tournament, held at Wimbledon in July, was won by R. F. Doherty, of Cambridge, beating H. S. Mahony, the 1896 winner, three straight sets in the challenge round. The new champion, with his brother, H. L. Doherty, won the English championship in doubles, beating the Baddeley brothers, 1896's holders, three sets to one. Mrs. G. W. Hillyard, the former holder of the title, retained the English championship in women's singles, beating Miss C. Cooper two sets to one in the challenge round.

The Irish championship meeting, held at Dublin in May, was won by Dr. W. V. Eaves, against R. F. Doherty, taking three sets to one in the finals, and beating W. Baddeley, ex-champion of England, three sets to two, in the challenge round. The Baddeley brothers won the doubles, and Mrs. G. W. Hillyard won the championship in women's singles.

THE BRITISH PLAYERS IN AMERICA.

The United States National Lawn Tennis Association challenged the English Lawn Tennis Association to an international match in America, but the latter declined the challenge for financial reasons. A team of three British experts, however, was made up to play in American tournaments, and Dr. W. V. Eaves, H. S. Mahony and H. A. Nisbet came over late in July. They played in four tournaments, being opposed by Wrenn and Larned in sixteen matches, of which the visitors won three and lost thirteen. The score in sets was 39 to 16 in favor of the American players. At Longwood Larned beat Mahony and Eaves. In the Hoboken international event Eaves beat R. D. Wrenn in five close sets, though Larned beat all three of the visitors and Wrenn beat the other two. In the Chicago international tournament both of the Americans beat Eaves and Mahony, but Nisbet beat Wrenn, and the tournament resulted in a three-handed tie, as Larned beat Nisbet and Wrenn beat Larned. The visitors did better at Newport in the finals of the "all-comers" singles. Mahony was beaten by Whitman in one of the earlier rounds, but Nisbet beat Larned in the semi-finals, and was then beaten by Eaves in the finals. Eaves was then beaten by Wrenn. The result of the season was an overwhelming victory for the American players. Mahony did not win a match from a first-class American player; Eaves beat Wrenn once, and Nisbet beat Wrenn and Larned each once.

RANKING, 1897.

The leading American tennis players for the season of 1897 (including the three British visitors) are ranked in the following order: First, R. D. Wrenn; second, W. A. Larned; third, W. V. Eaves; fourth, H. A. Nisbet; fifth, H. S. Mahony; sixth, G. L. Wrenn, jr.; seventh, M. D. Whitman; eighth, K. Collins; ninth, E. P. Fischer; tenth, W. S. Bond; eleventh, J. D. Forbes; twelfth, L. E. Ware; thirteenth, J. P. Paret; fourteenth, C. R. Budlong; fifteenth, G. P. Sheldon, jr.; sixteenth, Everts Wrenn; seventeenth, Holcomb Ward; eighteenth, C. P. Dodge; nineteenth, G. W. Lee; twentieth, M. D. Smith.

ROWING.

The rowing season of 1897 was one of unusual interest. The victory of Ten Eyck, the American, at Henley, the victories of Cornell against Columbia and Pennsylvania, and again against Harvard and Yale, and the contests for the championships of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen served to keep the world well informed on rowing matters.

There was great rejoicing among the oarsmen in this country when young E. H. Ten Eyck, of the Wachusett Boat Club, of Massachusetts, captured the Diamond Sculls at the Henley Regatta in England. It was the first time that an American had captured the race. Ten Eyck's time was 8:35. The Grand Challenge Cup was won by New College, Oxford, in 6:51.

On June 25 the great three-cornered race between Cornell, Yale and Harvard was rowed on the Hudson River at Poughkeepsie, and the crews finished in that order. Time, 20:34. The winning crew was made up as follows:

Position.	Name.	Wt.	Ht.	Age.
Bow.	S. W. Wakeman, '99.	165	6.00	20
2...	W. Bentley, '98....	155½	5.11	20
3...	C. S. Moore, '98....	166	5.10½	20
4...	A. C. King, '99....	167	6.00	20
5...	M. M. Odell, '97....	160	5.11	22
6...	E. O. Spillman, '97.	158	5.10½	22
7...	E. J. Savage, '98....	160	5.11½	22
St'ke.	F. A. Briggs, '98....	133	5.06	24
C'wn.	F. D. Colson, '97....	106	5.06	21

The three-cornered race between Cornell, Columbia and Pennsylvania was rowed on the Poughkeepsie course on July 3. Cornell won easily in 20:47. Columbia was second. Pennsylvania did not finish.

The fifty-fourth annual race between crews representing Oxford and Cambridge, the two great English universities, took place on the Putney-Morlake course on April 3, 1897, and was won by Oxford with barely two boat lengths to spare. The length of the course was the same as since 1878, namely, 4¼ miles. The time of the race was: Oxford, 19:12; Cambridge, 19:23. The best time made over this course was in 1893, 18:47. The record of the races by these two crews will be found on page 177, Almanac of 1897.

SKATING.

The National Amateur Skating Association held the annual speed-skating races for the championship of the United States January 20, 26, 27 and 28, at Cove Pond, Stamford, Conn., and Silver Lake, Staten Island, N. Y. A thaw and soft ice at Stamford forced the change of location after only one day's racing. Record of championship events:

One mile—E. Reynolds, Chicago, Ill., won. Time—2m., 56½s. B. McPartlan, Verplancks, N. Y., second, and A. Y. Morgan, New-York, third.

Quarter-mile—E. Reynolds, Chicago, won. Time—37½s. E. A. Thomas, New-York, second, and A. Y. Morgan, New-York, third.

Five miles—E. A. Thomas, New-York, won. Time—18m., 29½s. T. Cooney, Cornwall, N. Y., second, and C. L. McClave, Portchester, N. Y., third.

Ten miles—E. A. Thomas, New-York, won. Time—39m. 10½s. E. Reynolds, Chicago, second, and C. McClave, Portchester, third.

The International Skating Union held its annual meeting for the world's speed-skating championships in Montreal, February 5, 6 and 10. The Canadian championship races were also held during the progress of this meeting. The result of the world's championship events was as follows:

Five hundred metres—A. Naess, Norway, won. Time—46½s. J. K. McCullough, Canada, 48½s., was second, and J. Seyler, Bavaria, 48½s., third.

Five thousand metres—J. K. McCullough, first. Time—9m. ½s. M. Lordahl, Christiania, 9m. 39½s., second, and H. Davidson, Canada, 10m. ½s., third.

Fifteen hundred metres—J. K. McCullough, first. Time—2m., 36½s. A. Naess, 2m. 41½s., second, and J. Seyler, 2m. 43½s., third.

Ten thousand metres—J. K. McCullough, first. Time—20m. 2½s. J. Seyler, 20m. 42½s., second, and J. Davidson, 20m. 43½s., third.

The Canadian championship races resulted as follows:

Two-hundred-and-twenty-yard hurdle race on skates (six hurdles, 2 ft. 3 in. high)—Won by F. B. Irwin, Montreal. Time—26½s., breaking the world's record.

Half-mile backward—Won by W. A. Lockhart, St. John. Time—1m. 36½s.

Two-hundred-and-twenty-yards—J. Des Browne, Toronto. Time—21½s.

The ninth annual competition for the figure-skating championship of America was held in the St. Nicholas Skating Rink in New-York, January 27 and 28. The competition resulted in a close three-sided struggle between G. D. Phillips and A. G. Keane, of New-York, and J. Michalson, of Montreal. Phillips finally won by a score of 132 points to 120 for Keane and 119 for Michalson.

SWIMMING RECORDS.

ENGLAND.

One hundred yards—(Straightaway; still water). 1m. 12s.; J. Nuttall, Hollingsworth Lake, August 1, 1887. Warrington (bath), 1m. ½s.; J. H. Derbyshire, September 21, 1897.

Two hundred and twenty yards—Nottingham (bath), 2m. 38½s.; J. H. Tyers, September 25, 1897.

Four hundred and forty yards—Manchester (bath), 5m. 43½s.; J. H. Tyers, May 11, 1896.

Half mile—(Open water; 220-yard course), 13m. 20s.; J. H. Tyers, Bradford, July 13, 1895. Birmingham (bath), 13m ½s.; J. A. Jarvis, September 6, 1897.

One mile—(Open water; one turn), 29m. 25½s.; Horace Davenport, Hendon, August 11, 1877. (Open water; 220-yard course), 26m. 46½s.; J. H. Tyers, Walsall, July 11, 1896.

UNITED STATES.

One hundred yards—(Straightaway; across slack water), 1m. 9¾s.; Dr. Arthur T. Kenney, Travers Island, N. Y., September 15, 1894. New-York City (bath), 1m. 12s.; G. J. Whitaker, March 18, 1896.

Two hundred and twenty yards—(Straightaway; Chicago Lagoon), 2m. 57¾s.; D. M. Reeder, July 3, 1897.

Four hundred and forty yards—New-York City (bath), 6m. 41s.; S. B. French, November 19, 1896.

Half mile—(Open water) Australia, Woolloomooloo Lay (44-yard course, 19 turns), 12m. 45¾s. P. Cavell, Sydney, N. S. W., March 27, 1897. 110-yard course, B. A. Hart, Wayne, Penn., 14m. 45¾s., August 22, 1896. California (bath), 12m. 47s., Dana Thompson, Oakland, July 22, 1893.

One mile—(Open water; one turn), 28m. 45¾s.; Dr. Arthur T. Kenney, Lafayette, Penn., August 27, 1892. (Open water; 220-yard course), 30m. 24¾s.; Dr. Paul Neumann, Chicago, July 3, 1897.

The English and American records and best performances are given for all the championship distances, except five hundred yards, the latter event not being held as frequently in England as the others, while in America no championships are regularly held at this distance. All the English championships and records at swimming are held by native-born Englishmen. Only three of the American holders are native-born—Whitaker, Reeder and Thompson. Dr. Kenney is an Australian; French and Hart are Englishmen and Dr. Paul Neumann an Austrian. The great swimming feats for 1897 in America were one hundred yards in 1m. 7¾s., by D. B. Renear, of California, at Chicago, July 3, and two hundred and twenty yards in 2m. 57¾s., by Donald M. Reeder, of New-York, at same time and place; but, as both these distances were swam in the lagoon, with a surface wind current, they were invalidated as records. H. F. Bremer, of California, swam a quarter mile on the same day, with and against this wind current, in 7m. 8¾s., and Dr. Paul Neumann covered a mile over the same course in 30m. 24¾s., which are the best American records under these conditions. The world's greatest swimmer is Joey Nuttall, English professional champion. On September 8, 1897, in a five-hundred-and-ten-yard match with Cavill, Australia's champion swimmer, he won, the time being 6m. 34½s. Nuttall has a half-mile record of 12m. 7½s., over a one-hundred-and-ten-yard open water course, and has covered 900 yards in 13m. 23¾s., and one mile over a two-hundred-and-twenty-yard open water course in 26m. 8s.

YACHTING.

The yachting season of 1897 was one of only medium interest. In the Goelet Cup race for schooners only one, the Colonia, went out to compete, and after sailing alone over the course was not allowed to take the $1,000 trophy. Only two cutters—the Navahoe (winner) and the Vigilant—competed for the $500 Goelet Cup for single-stickers. The Seawanhaka-Corinthian Yacht Club failed to win back the challenge cup which was lost in the previous summer to the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club, of Montreal, Canada. In the trial races the 20-footer Momo, designed and sailed by Clinton H. Crane, won from eleven competitors and was selected as the defender. In the series of challenge races, which began at Lake St. Louis, near Montreal, on August 14, the Canadian boat, the Glencairn II, fouled the buoy at the start and lost one contest. In the three subsequent races, sailed in brisk winds, the Canadian craft won. Among the schooner yachts the presence of two or three fast boats closed out whole fleets of two-stickers, which did not race because they held no chance of winning, and the Colonia and Emerald divided everything between themselves. In the 51-foot sloop class, the Syce and the Wasp took everything in sight. The Larchmont Yacht Club gave no less than fifteen regattas. The following are the principal events:

LARCHMONT Y. C. (Spring regatta), June 19—Winners: Emerald, Queen Mab, Syce, Pawnee, Vaquero III, Vaquero I, Skate, Volsung, Ondana, and Minnetonka. July 6 (annual regatta)—Winners: Vigilant, Colonia, Schem, Syce, Norota Acushla, Sakana, Vaquero III, Hour, Skate, Dorothy, Ada, Minnetonka. July 17—Winners: Colonia, Amorita, Syce, Acushla, Pawnee, Raccoon, Kite, Hour, Asthore, Volsung, Presto. July 19—Winners: Colonia, Raccoon, Shark. July 20—Aquatic sports, gig and naphtha launch races. July 21—Winners: Colonia, Norota, Surprise, Pawnee, Raccoon, Goblin, Hour, Shark, Kit, Win or Lose. July 22—Winners: Choctaw, Musme, Kit, Shark. July 23—Winners:

Syce, Norota, Raccoon, Shark. July 24—Winners: Syce, Pawnee, Carolina, Hour, Shark, Jester, Dosoris, Win or Lose; sail-over prizes, Colonia, Norota, Acushla. September 4—Winners: Syce, Kit, Win or Lose. September 6—Winners: Colonia, Syce, Norota, Anotok, Hera, Vaquero I, Shark, Kit, Win or Lose, Sora. September 11—Winners: Colonia, Syce, Goblin, Shark. September 22—Winners: Syce, Acushla. September 25—Winners: Syce, Acushla.

NEW-YORK Y. C. June 17 (annual regatta)—Winners: Colonia, Bedouin, Wasp, Hera, August 3 (cruise run to New-London)—Winners: Emerald, Wasp, Vigilant. August 4 (cruise run to Newport)—Winners: Vigilant (Ledyard Cup for sloops), Emerald (Ledyard schooner cup). August 5 (Goelet Cup for sloops)—Winner: Navahoe. August 6 (cruise run to Vineyard Haven)—Winners: Emerald, Marguerite, Gevalia, Vigilant, Sayonara, Jessica, Norota, Amorita. August 7 (Morgan Cup races to Bar Harbor)—Winners: Vigilant, Colonia. August 10 (handicap at Bar Harbor)—Winners: Wasp and Amorita.

ATLANTIC Y. C., May 31—Winners: Eclipse, Akista, Wawa, Feydeh, Qui Vive. June 12—Winners: Emerald, Wasp, Vaquero III, Dorothy. June 15 (annual regatta)—Winners: Emerald, Syce, Norota, Akista, Wawa, Dorothy. June 26 (Adams Cups)—Winners: Eidolon, Dorothy. July 9 (cruise run, Bridgeport to New-London)—Winners: Colonia, Schem, Syce, Gaviota, Eidolon, Akista. July 11 (cruise run to Shelter Island). September 18 (Adams Cup for sloops, final race of 3)—Winner: Eidolon.

SEAWANHAKA CORINTHIAN Y. C., May 29—Winner: Keneu, Shark second. June 26—Winners: Colonia, Queen Mab, Bedouin, Carmita, Wasp, Syce, Norota, Surprise, Hera, Vaquero I, Skate, Paprika, Volsung, Win or Lose, Alice. July 13, 14, 15 (trial races of 20-footers)—Winner: Momo. July 17—Roosevelt Cup. August 14 (series challenge races near Montreal)—Winner: Momo. August 16, 17, 18 (same series)—Winner: Glencairn II. September 4—Winners: Acushla, Skimmaug, Shark, Alice, Yola.

NEW-ROCHELLE Y. C. May 22—Winners: Ondawa, Keneu, Mary S., Surprise. July 3—Annual regatta. August 4—Special regatta.

RIVERSIDE YACHT CLUB. July 10—Winners: Hour, Kit, Presto, E. Z. Sloat, Dorothy. September 11 (fall regatta)—Winners: Acushla, Hera, Vaquero I, Onoway, Win or Lose, Yola.

The Newport Yacht Racing Association gave a $250 cup that was raced for between the Navahoe and the Vigilant on September 4, in which contest the Vigilant fouled a mark and the cup went to the Navahoe. The club gave several prizes for the special 30-footers, in which class there was continued racing in Newport waters throughout the year. The Vaquero III won the greatest number of these races.

The most important innovation of the year was the introduction of a long ocean race during the cruise of the New-York Yacht Club. Commodore J. Pierpont Morgan offered $5,000 in two cups to be contested in a 185-mile race from Vineyard Haven to a point near Bar Harbor. They were won by the Vigilant and Colonia.

*1 scattering. †Rejected. a Under each year, the Republican candidate is in the first column and the Democratic candidate in the second column. In 1892 they occur in this order: Republican in first column, Democrat in second, and Populist in third column. b Horace Greeley, the Democratic and Liberal Republican candidate for President, died before the electoral vote was cast, and the Greeley electors of five States voted for Thomas A. Hendricks.

AMERICAN FLAG.

The official National ensign contains 45 stars in a blue field, arranged in 6 rows—the 1st, 3d and 5th rows having 8 stars each, and the others having 7 stars each. The garrison flag of the Army is made of bunting, 36 feet fly and 20 feet hoist; thirteen stripes, and in the upper quarter, next the staff, is the field or "union" of stars, equal to the number of States, on blue field, over one-third length of the flag, extending to the lower edge of the fourth red stripe from the top. The storm flag is 20 feet by 10 feet, and the recruiting flag, 9 feet by 1 foot 4 inches. The "American Jack," is the "Union" of the flag, its name originating with the "union" of the English flag at the blending of St. Andrew's Saltire with St. George's Cross.

The "narrow pennant" or "whip" has the Union composed of thirteen white stars in horizontal line on a blue field, one-fourth the length of the pennant, the remaining three-fourths of a red and white stripe, each of the same breadth at any part of the taper, with the red uppermost. The Revenue Marine Service flag, created by Act of Congress, March 2, 1799, was originally prescribed to "consist of sixteen perpendicular stripes, alternate red and white, the union of the ensign bearing the arms of the United States in dark blue on a white field." The sixteen stripes represented the number of States which had been admitted to the Union at that time, and no change has been made since. Prior to 1871 it bore an eagle in the union of the pennant, which was then substituted by thirteen blue stars in a white field, but the eagle and stars are still retained in the flag.

June 14, the anniversary of the adoption of the "Stars and Stripes," is celebrated as "Flag Day" in very many of the States, especially by the children of the public schools. The New-York Legislature passed a bill in February, 1896, prohibiting the display of foreign flags on any public building in the State. A Colorado law of February, 1895, prohibits the display of any foreign flag in that State, except over the buildings occupied by the several consuls.

PATENT OFFICE STATISTICS.

The method of procedure to obtain a patent is to be found on page 89 of "The Tribune Almanac" of 1896. For the calendar year of 1896 there were 42,077 applications for patents, 1,828 for designs, 17 for reissues, 2,271 caveats, 2,005 for trade-marks, 59 for registration of labels and 36 applications for prints. There were 23,312 patents granted, including designs; 61 patents reissued, 1,813 trade-marks registered, 1 label and 32 prints; 12,133 patents expired, and 4,736 were forfeited for non-payment of the final fee. The receipts of the office were $1,324,059 83, expenditures, $1,113,413 71, leaving a balance in the Treasury to the credit of the Patent Office of $4,718,639 47. In every year since 1861 there has been a surplus over all expenditures; and in every year but eight since the foundation of the Patent office on its present basis, in 1836, there has been a surplus. In proportion to population, more patents were issued to citizens of Connecticut than to those of any other State, and next in order came the District of Columbia, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New-Jersey, New York, Colorado and Montana. There were 2,027 patents granted to citizens of foreign countries, England taking the lead with 617; then Germany, 543; Canada, 214; France, 191; Switzerland, 61; Austria, Hungary, 61; Sweden, 40; Scotland, 39, and others of a lesser number. The library has a record of 849,130 patents issued by foreign countries, 137,139 of which were issued in 1896.

TRANS-MISSISSIPPI EXPOSITION.

The Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition will be held in Omaha, Neb., from June 1 to November 1, 1898. The exposition had its origin in resolutions adopted by the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress at Omaha, in 1895, representing twenty-four States and Territories. It is controlled by an organization known as the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition, with a capital of $1,000,000. The management is vested in a directory of fifty members, with an Executive Committee of six department managers. Each department is divided into appropriate bureaus, in charge of experts in their respective branches. In addition to the stock subscriptions, revenues aggregating not less than $1,000,000 from various sources have been assured. Under an act of Congress the enterprise is granted recognition as a national and international exposition, with privileges for the admission of foreign exhibits free of duty, the right to strike memorial medals through the United States Mints, and all other privileges heretofore granted to international expositions. The Government will have a large building and place therein a Government exhibit. The bill carried an appropriation of $200,000. The Secretary of the Treasury has issued official orders covering the regulations under which foreign exhibitors may participate. By direction of President McKinley, the State Department has extended invitations to the rulers of foreign nations soliciting them to participate.

Nebraska has appropriated $100,000, Illinois $45,000, Montana $30,000, and Colorado, Utah, Iowa and other Western States have made appropriations and are preparing extensive exhibits. The city of Omaha has contributed $30,000, through its Park Commission, and will doubtless increase this sum to a total of $100,000 by expenditures for beautifying and improving the Exposition grounds and approaches thereto before the opening day of the Exposition, while Douglas County, of which Omaha is the seat, will issue $100,000 in Exposition bonds.

The great buildings of the Exposition include the Agriculture, Fine Arts, Electricity and Machinery, Mines and Mining, Manufactures and the Auditorium. There are various smaller buildings in course of construction. The grounds are within the city limits, on the north side. A large number of National bodies will hold annual meetings in Omaha this year. The principal officers are: Gurdon W. Wattles, president; Alvin Saunders, resident vice-president; Herman Kountze, treasurer; John A. Wakefield, secretary; Carroll S. Montgomery, general counsel. Executive Committee—Zachary T. Lindsey, chairman and manager Department of Ways and Means; Edward Rosewater, manager Department of Publicity and Promotion; Freeman P. Kirkendall, manager Department of Buildings and Grounds; Edward E. Bruce, manager Department of Exhibits; Abram L. Reed, manager Department of Concessions and Privileges; William N. Babcock, manager Department of Transportation. State Vice-Presidents—Arkansas, W. G. Vincenheller, Little Rock; California, George W. Parsons, Los Angeles; Colorado, Henry P. Steele, Denver; Idaho, B. P. Shawhan, Payette; Iowa, George F. Wright, Council Bluffs; Kansas, C. A. Fellows, Topeka; Louisiana, C. Harrison Parker, New-Orleans; Minnesota, Frank H. DEPTHS OF THE OCEAN.

The greatest known depths of the different oceans that have been reliably sounded are the following, the data having been obtained from the Bureau of Navigation, Navy Department. (Six feet equals a fathom).

Location of soundings.	Latitude	Longitude	Depth in fathoms.
N. Atlantic Ocean	19 39 N.	66 26 W.	4,561

In many respects the North Pacific Ocean resembles the North Atlantic. A great warm current, much like the Gulf Stream and of equal magnitude, called the Black Stream or Japan current, runs northward along the eastern shore of Asia. Close to the east coast of Japan it flows through a marine valley, which holds the deepest water in the world. It was sounded at a depth of five and a quarter miles by the United States steamer Tuscarora in 1875, while surveying for a projected cable route between the United States and Japan. The heavy sounding-weight took more than an hour to sink to the bottom. But trial was made of a chasm yet more profound, where the lead did not fetch up at all. In November, 1895, a depth of 29,400 feet was attained without touching the bed of the ocean, in latitude 23 degrees 40 min. S.; longitude 175 degrees 10 min. W.

THE FLOODS.

The floods that swept down the Mississippi Valley in the spring of 1897 were declared to be the most remarkable in the history of the continent. Not only was there the highest recorded water in all the tributaries of the Mississippi during the latter part of March and the middle of April, but the Mississippi River itself had been so dyked and leveed, and its aforesaid outlets so stopped up, that the stream rose to 49.75 feet, or one and a quarter feet above the highest record of any previous year. The back waters, where the levees were broken, flooded lands not before in history known to have been flooded. From Marion, Ark., to Greer, Miss., a distance of more than two hundred and fifty miles by river, at least fifty towns and villages were under water, and a territory extending from one hundred miles north of Memphis to two hundred miles south and from five to forty miles wide, was submerged. Hundreds of thousands of acres of cultivated lands were submerged, and from 50,000 to 60,000 people had their property destroyed and business suspended.

On April 7 President McKinley sent a special message to Congress urging prompt, generous and intelligent action for the relief of the sufferers. A joint resolution was introduced in both houses of Congress on the same day, and passed by each, appropriating $200,000 to be used for the purchase of subsistence stores and the distribution of them to the relief of the destitute. The President signed the bill on April 17.

The estimated losses by the floods were: Louisiana, $1,750,000; Mississippi, $8,500,000; Arkansas, $4,250,000. The Commission reported that the flood of the Mississippi was the highest of which there is any record. The total length of the levees on both sides of the river was 1,377 miles, and there were in all thirty-eight breaks by the flood, aggregating eight and seven-tenths miles. An interesting feature of the breakages is that none of the levees built by the United States Government were broken, but the breaks occurred in those portions which had been built by States or municipalities or private persons.

On April 27 a cloudburst swept over Oklahoma, and on the following morning a wall of water from six to eight feet high and a mile wide broke over West Guthrie, crushing houses, sweeping away property and drowning many persons.

FOREIGN COMPLICATIONS.

HAWAII: ANNEXATION TREATY.

On June 16, 1897, President McKinley sent to the United States Senate the following treaty for the annexation of the Republic of Hawaii to the United States, accompanying it with a message, and a report of the Secretary of State briefly reviewing the negotiation which led to the signing of said treaty:

The United States of America and the Republic of Hawaii, in view of the natural dependence of the Hawaiian Islands upon the United States, of their geographical proximity thereto, of the preponderant share acquired by the United States and its citizens in the industries and trade of said islands, and of the expressed desire of the Government of the Republic of Hawaii that those islands should be incorporated into the United States as an integral part thereof and under its sovereignty, have determined to accomplish by treaty an object so important to their mutual and permanent welfare. To this end, the high contracting parties have conferred full powers and authority upon their respectively appointed plenipotentiaries, to wit, the President of the United States, John Sherman, Secretary of State of the United States; the President of the Republic of Hawaii, Francis March Hatch, Lorin A. Thurston and William A. Kinney.

Article I.—The Republic of Hawaii hereby cedes absolutely and without reserve to the United States of America all rights of sovereignty of whatsoever kind in and over the Hawaiian Islands and their dependencies; and it is agreed that all the territory of and appertaining to the Republic of Hawaii is hereby annexed to the United States of America under the name of the Territory of Hawaii.

Article II.—The Republic of Hawaii also cedes and hereby transfers to the United States the absolute fee and ownership of all public, Government or Crown lands, public buildings or edifices, ports, harbors, military equipments and all other public property of every kind and description belonging to the Government of the Hawaiian Islands, together with every right and appurtenance thereunto appertaining. The existing laws of the United States relative to public lands shall not apply to such lands in the Hawaiian Islands, but the Congress of the United States shall enact special laws for their management and disposition. Provided: That all revenue from or proceeds of the same, except as regards such part thereof as may be used or occupied for the civil, military or naval purposes of the United States or may be assigned for the use of the local government, shall be used solely for the benefit of the inhabitants of the Hawaiian Islands for educational and other public purposes.

Article III.—Until Congress shall provide for the Government of such islands, all the civil, judicial and military powers exercised by the officers of the existing Government in said islands shall be vested in such persons or persons, and shall be exercised in such manner as the President of the United States shall direct, and the President shall have power to remove said officers and fill the vacancies so occasioned. The existing treaties of the Hawaiian Islands with foreign nations shall forthwith cease and determine, being replaced by such treaties as may exist, or as may be hereafter concluded between the United States and such foreign nations.

The municipal legislation of the Hawaiian Islands, not enacted for the fulfilment of the treaties so extinguished, and not inconsistent with this treaty, nor contrary to the Constitution of the United States, nor to any existing treaty of the United States, shall remain in force until the Congress of the United States shall otherwise determine.

Until legislation shall be enacted extending the United States customs laws and regulations to the Hawaiian Islands the existing customs relations of the Hawaiian Islands with the United States and other countries shall remain unchanged.

Article IV.—The public debt of the Republic of Hawaii lawfully existing at the date of the exchange of the ratifications of this treaty, including the amounts due to depositors in the Hawaiian postal savings bank, is hereby assumed by the Government of the United States, but the liability of the United States in this regard shall in no case exceed $4,000,000. So long, however, as the existing Government and the present commercial relations of the Hawaiian Islands are continued as hereinafter provided, said Government shall continue to pay the interest on said debt.

Article V.—There shall be no further immigration of Chinese into the Hawaiian Islands, except upon such conditions as are now or may hereafter be allowed by the laws of the United States, and no Chinese by reason of anything herein contained shall be allowed to enter the United States from the Hawaiian Islands.

Article VI.—The President shall appoint five Commissioners, at least two of whom shall be residents of the Hawaiian Islands, who shall as soon as reasonably practicable recommend to Congress such legislation concerning the Territory of Hawaii as they shall deem necessary or proper.

Article VII.—This treaty shall be ratified by the President of the United States, by and with the consent of the Senate on the one part, and by the President of the Republic of Hawaii, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, in accordance with the Constitution of the said Republic, on the other; and the ratifications hereof shall be exchanged at Washington as soon as possible.

In witness whereof the respective plenipotentiaries have signed the above articles and have hereunto affixed their seal.

JOHN SHERMAN,
FRANCIS MARCH HATCH,
LORIN A. THURSTON,
WILLIAM A. KINNEY.

The President's Message was, in part, as follows: "The incorporation of the Hawaiian Islands into the body politic of the United States is the necessary and fitting sequel to the chain of events which from a very early period of our history has controlled the intercourse and prescribed the association of the United States and Hawaiian Islands. The predominance of American interests in that neighboring territory was first asserted in 1820, by sending to the islands a representative agent of the United States. It found further expression by the signature of a treaty of friendship, commerce and navigation with the King in 1826, the first international compact negotiated by Hawaii. It was signally announced in 1843, when the intervention of the United States caused the British Government to disavow the seizure of the Sandwich Islands by a British naval commander, and to recognize them by treaty as an independent State, renouncing forever any purpose of annexing the islands or exerting a protectorate over them.

"In 1851 the cession of the Hawaiian Kingdom to the United States was formally offered, and although not then accepted, this Government proclaimed its duty to preserve alike the honor and dignity of the United States and the safety of government of the Hawaiian Islands. From this time until the outbreak of the war in 1861 the policy of the United States toward Hawaii, and of the Hawaiian sovereign toward the United States, were exemplified by continued negotiations for annexation or for a reserved commercial union. The latter alternative was at length accomplished by the reciprocity treaty of 1875, the provisions of which were renewed and expanded by the convention of 1884, embracing the perpetual cession to the United States of the harbor of Pearl River, in the Island of Oahu. In 1888 a proposal for the joint guarantee of the neutrality of the Hawaiian Islands by the United States, Germany and Great Britain was declined, on the announced ground that the relation of the United States to the islands was sufficient for the end in view. In brief, from 1820 to 1893 the course of the United States toward the Hawaiian Islands has consistently favored their autonomous welfare, with the exclusion of all foreign influence save our own, to the extent of upholding eventual annexation as the necessary outcome of that policy.

"Not only is the union of the Hawaiian territory to the United States no new scheme, but it is the inevitable consequence of the relation steadfastly maintained with that mid-Pacific domain for three-quarters of a century. Its accomplishment, despite successive denials and postponements, has been merely a question of time. While its failure in 1893 may not be a cause of congratulation, it is certainly a proof of the disinterestedness of the United States, the delay of four years having abundantly sufficed to establish the right and the ability of the Republic of Hawaii to enter, as a sovereign contractant, upon a conventional union with the United States, thus realizing a purpose held by the Hawaiian people and proclaimed by successive Hawaiian governments through some seventy years of their virtual dependence upon the benevolent protection of the United States. Under such circumstances, annexation is not a change; it is a consummation.

"The report of the Secretary of State exhibits the character and course of the recent negotiation and the features of the treaty itself. The organic and administrative details of incorporation are necessarily left to the wisdom of the Congress, and I cannot doubt, when the function of the constitutional treaty-making power shall have been accomplished, the duty of the National Legislature in the case will be performed with the largest regard for the interests of this rich insular domain and for the welfare of the inhabitants thereof."

On the following day ex-Queen Liliuokalani presented the Secretary of State a formal protest against the treaty and urged upon the Senate to decline to ratify it.

The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations on July 14 made a favorable report urging the ratification of the treaty without amendment. Only seven of the eleven members were present. Senators Davis, Cullom, Foraker, Clark and Morgan cast their votes for the resolution of ratification. Senators Daniel and Turpie did not take a positive stand in opposition to the treaty, but expressed the opinion that it was neither expedient nor consistent with the vast importance of the subject that the treaty should be pressed to immediate consideration.

Both houses of the Hawaiian Legislature ratified the treaty by unanimous vote on September 10.

The Japanese Minister at Washington submitted a protest against the treaty in a letter to Secretary Sherman on June 15, in which he said: "My Government cannot view without concern the prospects of a sudden and complete change in the status of Hawaii, whereby the rights of Japan and of Japanese subjects may be imperilled. While, therefore, they confidently rely upon the United States to maintain toward them a just and friendly attitude in this as in all other matters, they feel that, under the circumstances, they cannot be regarded as spectators merely, without interest in the important change which it has been so positively asserted is about to take place in the relations of the United States and the Hawaiian Islands.

For this reason, if it is really true that a treaty of annexation is about to be concluded, I feel that I am justified in inquiring from you, Mr. Secretary, what provision has been made therein for the preservation and maintenance of the rights acquired and enjoyed by Japan in her intercourse with Hawaii under the solemn sanctions of law and of treaty?"

Secretary Sherman sent this letter on the following day to the Japanese Minister:

"Sir: Replying to your note of the 15th inst., just received, I have to say that the governments of Hawaii and the United States, by their duly authorized representatives, have signed a treaty annexing the Hawaiian Islands to this country. This has been done in pursuance of the policy long since adopted by the United States, and the treaty will, I understand, be submitted to the Senate of the United States by the President for ratification. As to your inquiry as to the provision made therein concerning the treaties which may be in existence between Japan and the present Hawaiian Government, my understanding is that the Government of the United States does not take upon itself any obligations of the Hawaiian Government arising from treaties or conventions made by it with other governments. It is believed that there is nothing in the proposed treaty prejudicial to the rights of Japan, and certainly the United States has no disposition to disturb the friendly relations which have long existed between the Government of Japan and this country."

Three days later the Japanese Minister, under instructions of the Emperor of Japan, filed the formal protest, citing the following as the reasons for such protest:

"First—The maintenance of the status quo of Hawaii is essential to the good understanding of the Powers which have interests in the Pacific.

"Second—The annexation of Hawaii would tend to endanger the residential, commercial and industrial rights of Japanese subjects in Hawaii, secured to them by treaty and by the Constitution and laws of that country.

"Third—Such annexation might lead to the postponement by Hawaii of the settlement of claims and liabilities already existing in favor of Japan under treaty stipulations.

"With reference to the mischievous suggestion or report, which has been so industriously circulated in this country and elsewhere, that Japan has designs against the integrity or sovereignty of Hawaii, I am further instructed by the Imperial Government to state most emphatically and unequivocally that Japan has not now and never had such designs, or designs of any kind whatever, against Hawaii.

"Permit me to add, in conclusion, Mr. Secretary, that in making this protest, and in asking full and careful consideration for it, the Imperial Government are actuated by what they regard as an imperative duty, and not in the remotest degree by a desire to embarrass the United States. They prize most highly the cordial relations which have always existed between our countries, and they confidently trust that their representations on this occasion will be received in that spirit of justice and fair dealing which has so notably characterized the intercourse of Japan and the United States."

On December 16 the Japanese Minister at Washington presented the reply of his Government to Secretary Sherman's note, in which the protest was withdrawn. It was suggested, in addition, that the purpose of the Japanese authorities was to secure specific assurances from the United States that, in case Hawaii should be annexed, all Japanese interests would be fully protected.

JAPAN-HAWAII DISPUTE.

The significant growth of the Japanese population in Hawaii led to unpleasant complications between the two countries early in 1897. A treaty made in 1871 guaranteed to Japanese subjects all the rights of the most favored nations. In 1895 an act was passed excluding all immigrants from Hawaii not having $50 in coin, except contract laborers who were duly to be sent back. It was claimed later that the Japanese companies or their agents had resorted to the device of making temporary loans to immigrants to secure their landing, and that many immigrants, practically paupers, had been thrust upon the community. The influx of "Japanese laborers" rose to the number of about a thousand a month, and it was claimed that there were many infractions of the spirit of the law, and that the Mikado's object was to secure political control of the islands in the near future. The next step taken by the Hawaiian Government was to prohibit the landing of 535 out of 670 so-called immigrants arriving on a Japanese steamer, and the Supreme Court decided that the Collector at Honolulu had jurisdiction in the matter; but after a reinvestigation made in the presence of the Japanese representative the number of refusals was reduced to 413, and these were promptly returned to Japan at the expense of the company bringing them out. A later and similar case was that where 163 out of 316 were rejected. The Japanese residents in Hawaii then appealed to their home Government for redress, and the Japanese Minister entered a vigorous protest against the action of the Honolulu authorities, with demands for indemnity. These protests, etc., were emphasized by the appearance of the Japanese warship Naniwa in the harbor of Honolulu. Next, Hawaii proposed to submit the dispute to arbitration, which was accepted by Japan in July. The subjects of arbitration included that relating to immigration; the increase of duty upon saki (a liquor largely imported and consumed by the Japanese on the islands) from 15 cents to $1 a gallon, and questions of minor importance.

HAWAII STATISTICS.

The numerical strength of the principal elements of the population of Hawaii in 1897 was as follows:

Nativity.	Population.	Males.	Females.
Japanese	24,407	19,212	5,195
Chinese	21,616	19,167	2,449
Portuguese	15,100	8,202	6,898
Part Hawaiians.	8,485	4,249	4,236
American	3,086	1,975	1,111

Nativity.	Population.	Males.	Females.
British	2,250	1,406	844
Miscellaneous ..	3,057	1,907	1,150

Totals 109,020 72,517 36,503

The population of Americans is comparatively small, but the official figures show that the commercial interests of citizens of the United States are larger than those of all other countries. Of a total invested capital of $32,146,601 in sugar plantations the proportion held by United States citizens and others of American origin is $25,516,474; the total value of American property in the islands is estimated at $43,731,544, while the total amount of foreign capital other than American is only about $9,000,000.

BEHRING SEA SEAL FISHERIES.

On April 8, 1897, President McKinley appointed John W. Foster and Charles S. Hamlin a commission to consider and report how best to protect the seal fisheries of Behring Sea. It had been represented to the President that as the rules for the prevention of poaching were not satisfactory or efficient, more efficacious measures should be devised against pelagic sealing. The Commission was authorized to report wherein the existing rules, adopted in pursuance of the provisions of the Paris award, were inadequate to insure the protection of the seals, and what further rules should be agreed to by the United States and Great Britain to prevent poaching.

The modus vivendi of 1891 provided that for the purpose of preserving the seal species in Behring Sea, England should prohibit seal killing in that part of the sea lying eastward of the line of demarkation, described in Article I of the treaty between the United States and Russia, and that she should use her best efforts to insure the observance of this prohibition by British subjects and vessels. This country agreed to prohibit seal killing under the same conditions in excess of 7,500 to be taken for the subsistence of the natives in that region. Persons or vessels violating the agreement were to be seized and handed over to the country to which they belonged and punished.

In July Secretary of State Sherman sent to the American Ambassador at London, important and exhaustive instructions for his guidance in urging upon the British Government a compliance with the provisions of the Behring Sea award. The instructions were prepared as a reply to a note received from Lord Salisbury, the Premier of the British Government. Lord Salisbury's letter was a reply to the proposals of the President for a modus vivendi for the suspension of all killing of seals for the season of 1897, and for a joint conference of the Powers concerned, with a view to the necessary measures being adopted for the preservation of the fur seal in the Northern Pacific.

Mr. Sherman noted that the President was greatly disappointed that the proposals should be rejected, especially as such rejection was based upon unsubstantial and inadequate reasons. He analyzed at some length reports made by Dr. Jordan and Professor Thompson to the British Government, upon which Lord

Salisbury based his rejection of the proposals, and declared that in view of the explicit language used in these reports "it is not easy to understand how Lord Salisbury can reconcile his refusal to entertain the proposals of the President with the interests of his own countrymen, to say nothing of the friendly relations which he desires to maintain with the United States, Russia and Japan." Mr. Sherman then noted the operations of the pelagic fleet in Behring Sea since the Paris regulations had been in force, as follows:

1895—Fifty-nine vessels, 44,169 seals taken, or an average of 748 per vessel.

It thus appears that nearly double the number of vessels in 1896 were not able to take as many seals as were taken in 1894, and the catch per vessel fell off nearly one-half. Mr. Sherman next reviewed the manner in which the waters embraced in the award area had been patrolled, in order to see that the regulations were not violated by the sealing vessels, and criticised the British patrol as not being adequate. He continued thus:

"The obligations of an international award, which are equally imposed on both parties to its terms, cannot properly be assumed or laid aside by one of the parties only at its pleasure. Such an award, which in its practical operation is binding only on one party in its obligations and burdens and to be enjoyed mainly by the other party in its benefits, is an award which, in the interest of public morality and good conscience should not be maintained. Having in view the expressed object of the arbitration at Paris and the declared purpose of the arbitrators in prescribing the regulations when it became apparent, as it did after the first year's operation of them, and with increased emphasis each succeeding year, that the regulations were inadequate for the purpose, it was the plain duty of the British Government to acquiesce in the request of that of the United States for a conference to determine what further measures were necessary to secure the end had in view by the arbitration.

"A course so persistently followed for the last three years has practically accomplished the commercial extermination of the fur seals, and brought to naught the patient labors and well-meant conclusions of the Tribunal of Arbitration. Upon Great Britain must therefore rest, in the public conscience of mankind, the responsibility for the embarrassment in the relations of the two nations which must result from such conduct. One of the evil results is already indicated in the growing conviction of our people that the refusal of the British Government to carry out the recommendations of that tribunal will needlessly sacrifice an important interest of the United States. This is shown by the proposition seriously made in Congress to abandon negotiations and destroy the seals on the islands as the speedy end to a dangerous controversy, although such a measure has not been entertained by this Department. We have felt assured that, as it has been demonstrated that the practice of pelagic sealing, if continued, will not only bring itself to an end, but will work the destruction of a great interest of a friendly nation, Her Majesty's Government would desist from an act so suicidal and so unneighborly, and which certainly could not command the approval of its own people.

"The President therefore cherishes the hope that even at this late day the British Government may yet yield to his continued desire, so often expressed, for a conference of the interested Powers, and in delivering to Lord Salisbury a copy of this instruction you will state to him that the President will hail with great satisfaction any indication on the part of Her Majesty's Government of a disposition to agree upon such a conference."

UNITED STATES-RUSSIA-JAPAN CONFERENCE.

Both Russia and Japan made arrangements for the conference and appointed delegates. Subsequently the Canadian Government requested the withdrawal of Great Britain from the Conference if Russia and Japan were to be represented, and on October 6 the officials of the British Foreign Office communicated to Colonel John Hay, the United States Ambassador at London, that their Government declined to take part in any conference with the representatives of Russia and Japan. The British Government, however, asserted its willingness to confer with the United States alone on the subject, but insisted that Russia and Japan were not interested in the Behring Sea seals to a degree entitling them to a representation at the conference. On October 12 Secretary Sherman sent a reply in which he expressed astonishment that Great Britain should withdraw, inasmuch as in the verbal negotiations between Ambassador Hay and Lord Salisbury, and in the written correspondence, specific reference was made to the participation of Russia and Japan. In view of the differences which had arisen, Secretary Sherman suggested a conference in accordance with Lord Salisbury's proposition—that is, between experts of Great Britain, Canada and the United States. Lord Salisbury accepted this solution on October 15.

The Russia-Japan-United States Conference assembled at Washington on October 23, with the following as delegates: Russia—Pierre Botkine, M. De Routkowsky, M. De Wolant, Chargé d'Affaires, Russian Legation, Japan—Shiro Fujita, Professor Kakichi Mitsukuri, United States—John W. Foster, Charles S. Hamlin, President David Starr Jordan. The Conference ended its sittings on October 28, first agreeing to a proposition calculated to bring about a complete change in the sealing question. Its special features contemplated an absolute suspension of all pelagic sealing, and a restriction of such sealing within narrow limits.

UNITED STATES-ENGLAND-CANADA CONFERENCE.

On November 5, acting upon the proposition of Lord Salisbury, Canada selected Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Premier of Canada, and Sir Louis Davies, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, delegates to a tripartite conference to be conducted by the experts representing the United States, England and Canada. The convention began at Washington on November 10, with the following experts present: Professor Jordan, United States; Professor Thompson, England, and Professor Macoun, Canada. The other representatives present were John W. Foster and Charles S. Hamlin, United States; Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Ambassador, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Louis Davies. These last-named five representatives were privileged only to ask questions and exchange views incidental to the taking of expert testimony. This conference ended its sittings on November 21, and a protocol was signed by the two secretaries—Mr. Venning, on behalf of Canada; Mr. Clark, on behalf of the United States—and Mr. Hamlin, the chairman of the Conference, which set forth the circumstances under which the meeting was held, with the minutes of the proceedings, and to some extent showing the circumstances leading up to the agreement. A few days later the Canadian Government sent its reply to the proposition of the United States that the Canadians should stop killing seals for a year beginning January 1, 1898, to the effect that it was not possible to comply with the proposal, as every British subject has a right to engage in pelagic sealing unless prohibited by imperial decree, which could only be issued by authority of Imperial Parliament, and the Parliament would not meet till February. The reply also suggested that the proposed joint commission be appointed and meet at once, when, on conclusion of negotiations on the questions at issue, the necessary legislation could be secured from the British Parliament and the suspension of pelagic sealing go into effect in the spring. It was stated that the United States had offered to pay the Canadian Government a lump sum of money to extinguish pelagic sealing, but that the Canadian Premier refused the proposition.

CLAIMS AWARD.

The arbitrators appointed to adjust the claims of Canadian sealers for losses sustained by the seizure of their vessels made an award on December 22, 1897, of $464,000, with two reserved cases—those of the Black Diamond for $5,000, and the Ada for $1,000. In 1894 the United States offered $400,000, and Canada claimed $450,000 as a settlement. Afterward a compromise was reached, and the amount was placed at $425,000, but Congress refused to vote this sum.

SEAL-CATCH STATISTICS.

The official statistics of the catch of seals for the season of 1897 were made public at the conference of Russia, Japan and the United States, and they showed two features most important in sustaining the American contention: That the catch had fallen off about one-half, showing conclusively that the seal herd was being rapidly wiped out; and, second, that the catch of seals from the American islands in Behring Sea was about 15 to 1 as between the Canadian sealers under the British flag and American sealers. The same proportion was shown to exist throughout the waters of the North Pacific. In detail, the figures for the season were: Total catch of seals in the North Pacific for the season, 38,700, against 73,000 in 1896. The total catch of seals in 1897 is divided as follows: Taken by British vessels, 30,800; by American vessels, 4,100; by Japanese vessels, 3,800. The catch in Behring Sea was 16,650 for 1897, against 29,500 in 1896. Of the catch in Behring Sea, British vessels took 15,600 and American vessels 1,050. The figures make no distinction between British and Canadian vessels, as practically all the sealing is done by Canadian vessels, which, however, are nominally classed as British.

In view of the statement of experts that the season was a better one for the taking of seals than in 1896, the conclusion to be drawn from the figures is that the seal herd has been greatly reduced by indiscriminate slaughter.

THE CUBAN REVOLT.

The principal features of the insurrection in Cuba in the first three months of 1897 were the communication to the United States Senate on January 5 by Mr. Olney, the Secretary of State, regarding the power of the President of the United States in the matter of recognition of the Cuban Republican Government; the campaign of General Weyler in the eastern provinces and his complete failure to take advantage of the shock caused to the insurgents by the loss, in December, 1896, of their boldest leader, General Antonio Maceo, and the serious doubt he aroused as to the ability of the Spanish commanders to cope with the forces against them; also the capture of the insurgent General Juan Ruiz Rivera, on March 28. In connection with the latter incident Senator Allen, of Nebraska, on April 1, introduced in the United States Senate a resolution protesting against the alleged purpose of the Spanish authorities in Cuba to try General Rivera by summary court martial, upon which there was an exciting debate. In the meanwhile Mr. Sherman, Secretary of State, made a verbal protest to the Spanish Minister at Washington, and a few days later there was made public the reply from the Spanish Government that General Rivera would not be executed, but would be treated as a prisoner of war.

On January 25, in response to a resolution of the Senate, President Cleveland submitted a list of American citizens, either native born or naturalized, who had been arrested in Cuba since the beginning of the insurrection, together with the action taken in each case. The total arrests were seventy-four; of these seven had been tried, and appeals were taken in the cases of Sanguilly and Someillan from the sentences imposed. Seven were correspondents of American newspapers who had been arrested and banished. Another case was that of Dr. Ricardo Ruiz, a physician resident in Guanabacoa, who had died in the prison at that place, his friends claiming that his death was due to inhuman treatment by his jailers. On February 21 Secretary Olney directed the American Minister at Madrid to demand of the Spanish Government a full inquiry into the circumstances of the death of Dr. Ruiz. Later, in April, President McKinley appointed William J. Calhoun, of Illinois, special counsel to Consul General Lee, with directions to investigate the case, and he went to Havana for that purpose. The report was that, although no positive or direct proof was found that the doctor died from an actual assault, his death was due to congestion of the brain.

After Mr. McKinley became President notice was served upon the Spanish Government that the United States recognized a state of civil war in Cuba which demanded a treatment of prisoners taken in action by either side different from that followed by General Weyler. It was also stated that American citizens pursuing lawful occupations in a lawful way would be held to be entitled to the protection of the law. On May 17 President McKinley sent a message to Congress suggesting an appropriation to be used in relieving the distress of American citizens resident in Cuba, and a week later a bill making an appropriation of $50,000 became a law.

On April 20 the Queen Regent of Spain signed a decree instituting certain reforms of government in Cuba. It provided among other things a Council of Administration, a sort of parliament for the government of the island, subject to certain supervisory authority of the Crown; also a scheme to permit Cuba to revise her own tariff schedules. The decree was the direct result of the announcement by General Weyler that the western part of the island was completely pacified. This was proved later to be a mere theory of General Weyler.

Following the assassination of Senor Canovas, Prime Minister of Spain, Senor Sagasta was made Prime Minister on October 2. Six days later General Weyler was recalled and Captain-General Blanco was chosen to succeed him. General Blanco reached Havana on October 30 and at once assumed control of affairs and instituted several changes in the conduct of the campaign against the insurgents.

On November 27 the Spanish Government officially published a decree tendering to Cuba and Porto Rico a system of autonomy. The scheme provided that the Spanish Parliament or Cortes should be the central executive power, and that the government in the colony should be the colonial parliament, the colonial chambers, legislative assemblies, and the Governor-General. It was proposed that the Council of Administration should consist of thirty-five members, eighteen of whom to be elected, and the others nominated by the mother country. The Governor-General is to exercise the supreme command, is given complete liberty to appeal to the officials of his secretariat, to issue and execute laws and decrees, negotiate international treaties and conventions, etc. It is proposed that the secretaries of the Cuban autonomous government shall be five, viz.: Justice and Interior, Finance, Public Instruction, Public Works and Communications, and Industry and Commerce, all to be appointed by the Governor-General.

On December 14 Governor-General Blanco issued a proclamation granting complete amnesty to all political exiles, going to the extent of encouraging the return of all who emigrated from Cuba voluntarily and those who considered themselves obliged to remain in exile for a purely political motive, reason, cause or act, and giving guarantees of protection and assistance to life and property.

CRETE.

Disorders broke out afresh on the Island of Crete on February 1, 1897, arising from the hatred existing between the Christians and their Turkish rulers. Four days later the Mahometans and Christians had a pitched battle in the city of Canea, when the city was set on fire and fully 300 Christians were killed. On February 8 the union of Crete and Greece was proclaimed by the people at Halepa, and the Greek fleet reached Canea on the same day. On February 11 the Greek Government formulated a notification to the Powers that the ties of race and religion compelled her to intervene on behalf of the Christians of Crete. The Greek forces attacked and captured the Turkish garrisons on February 17, and the foreign Powers landed their naval forces at Canea and Sitia later. On February 20 the United States Senate adopted a resolution of sympathy for the Greeks and Cretans. On February 23 a mass-meeting of sympathizers was held in Chickering Hall, New-York City. On the same day King George of Greece issued a proclamation enjoining the Cretans to pacify themselves and to confide in the efforts of Greece to uphold and maintain the rights of the Hellenic people. On February 24 the Governor's palace at Canea was burned; the Powers ordered Greece to withdraw her army of occupation, and Queen Olga of Greece returned her Russian insignia. King George replied to the demands of the Powers on the following day that it was impossible to withdraw the troops from Crete.

On February 25 Lord Salisbury, Premier of Great Britain, presented a scheme of autonomy for Crete, which Turkey opposed. The Cretans rejected it three days later, and pleaded for union with Greece. The Greek Government, on March 8, sent word to the Powers that it was doubtful that autonomy could fulfil their aim, and requested that the Cretans be permitted to declare their preference of government. On May 21 the Cretan insurgents were advised by the Greek Government to accept autonomy on condition that the Turkish troops should be previously withdrawn from the island. On the same day the Mussulmans telegraphed to the Sultan that autonomy under the conditions existing on the island of Crete "cannot fail to perpetuate race wars, and will only briefly postpone the revival of the annexation question with all its disastrous consequences." The withdrawal of the Greek troops followed, and on May 23 the last detachment of the Greek expeditionary force embarked for Greece. Then followed the war between Turkey and Greece.

NEW YORK LIFE

JOHN A. McCALL, - - - - - President,

346 and 348 Broadway, New York City.

WHY DID I INSURE IN THIS COMPANY? BECAUSE

It is one of the strongest companies in the world.

It has in Assets over.....$200,000,000

It has in Surplus over.....$28,000,000

It earned for policy-holders last year from interest and rents over.....$9,000,000

It is purely mutual, and all of its assets, surplus and earnings belong to its policy-holders.

It has an honorable record of 53 years, during all of which time it has steadily increased in strength and prosperity.

Its policies as now issued contain no restriction as to residence, travel or occupation, habits of life or manner of death.

The SOLE condition is that if premiums are paid the Company will certainly pay the policy immediately in the event it becomes a claim by death, and thus leave a widow or an estate a legacy and not a law-suit.

Its policies cannot be forfeited after three years, and if allowed to lapse, the insured will receive the full benefit of his payments either in a paid-up policy, or extended insurance, as he may elect.

It gives a grace of one month in the payment of premiums.

Its policies will be re-instated at any time during the five months following the month of grace if the insured passes a medical examination and pays the back premium with interest.

You can borrow money from the Company at 5% per annum, after your policy has been three years in force.

You do not have to DIE TO WIN. If you live 10, 15, or 20 years you can settle your policy in any way that best suits your circumstances at the time—for cash, paid-up insurance, annuity, or other options.

Your insurance is not a luxury, nor an expense without tangible return, but is an investment of a small sum each year to mature 10, 15, or 20 years hence, if you live.

If you live to the end of the term you will have made a substantial provision for yourself in old age, and if you die before the end of the term you will have made a substantial provision for your family or your estate.

It is the most valuable estate you will leave behind you, more certain in its results than lands, houses, stocks, or bonds, as its value does not rise and fall with the market.

The New-York Life Insurance Company is the ONLY company in which you can get ALL of these benefits.

You want the very best—the most privileges and the fewest restrictions, whether small or great—and the New-York Life's Accumulation Policy furnishes it.

The New-York Life is the only large Life Insurance Company that closes its books on December 31st, each year, and makes its Detailed Annual Report early in January, upon the basis of Paid-for Business, and publishes a full and complete Statement of how and where the policy-holders' money is invested.

THE PEABODY MEDICAL INSTITUTE

No. 4 Bulfinch St.
(opp. Revere House), Boston, Mass.
Established in 1860.

PRIZE ESSAY.

Author of the Science of Life, or Self-Preservation.

Graduate of Harvard Medical College,
Class of 1864.

The Science of Life, or

The Standard Medical Treatise on Nervous Debility,
Manhood, Atrophy (wasting),
Varicocele and all Diseases of Men.

Mr. Geo. Peabody,
the Great Philanthropist,

for whom the Peabody Medical Institute was named.

The critics and the press throughout this country and England highly commend

"The Science of Life, or Self-Preservation."

A BOOK FOR EVERY MAN,

Young, middle aged and old. It contains 370 pages, 12mo., 125 invaluable prescriptions for acute and chronic diseases, bound in substantial embossed French muslin, full gilt. It treats scientifically, exhaustively and in a masterly manner upon Exhausted Vitality, Nervous and Physical Debility, the Errors of Youth, Varicocele, Atrophy (wasting) and all Diseases and Weaknesses of Man, from whatever cause arising. New edition, revised and enlarged. Price only $1 by mail, sealed.

"'The Science of Life, or Self Preservation,' is a Medical Treatise of rare merit and great value, from the pen of a distinguished author and famous medical practitioner and Nervo Specialist. It is pre-eminently a book for every man. It is published by the reliable, time-honored and far-famed Peabody Medical Institute, which is of itself a guarantee of excellence and high character. It would be better for the individual and the State if all were conversant with the truisms so tersely set forth in this noble work. It is not of that cheap order of abominable trash sent broadcast by irresponsible parties and purchased to gratify coarse tastes, but a work of such intrinsic value as cannot be measured by dollars and cents, coming as it does from a source eminently trustworthy and reliable, containing facts which should be known—facts which must be known."—Medical Review.

"The Peabody Medical Institute has many wouldbe imitators, but no equals."—Boston Herald.

Popular Publications by The Tribune.

REFERENCE BOOKS.

Tribune Almanac, Back Numbers.—Copies can be supplied for 1874 to 1879, for 1880, and for 1882 to 1897. 25 cents each.

Gold and Silver.—The Question of Coinage.—A pamphlet of 96 large pages, containing the entertaining and hard-hitting joint debate between Roswell G. Horr and U. S. Senator William M. Stewart on Free Coinage, in which Mr. Horr completely routed his adversary. The whole question, on both sides. 25 cents per copy.

Dingley Tariff Bill.—Substantially in full. Rates compared with the Wilson law. 10 cents per copy.

Wilson Tariff Law.—Rates of the abominable measure which has brought unhappiness to the whole country and left tens of thousands of homes of workmen vacant, compared with those of the McKinley law. 10 cents a copy.

Tribune Index.—A complete index of dates in 1897, amounting almost to a diary of the year. Back numbers can be supplied from 1870 inclusive, excepting for 1878, '79, '81, '89 and '95. 50 cents a copy.

ART AND THE HOME.

Bird's Eye View of Greater New-York.—A colored picture, prepared expressly for The Tribune by Graham, who painted the "White City" for the World's Fair, with key to noted objects in the landscape. It shows New-York, Brooklyn, Staten Island, New-Jersey, the Narrows, Forts, Coney Island, etc., in one clear and comprehensive view. Suitable for framing. 10 cents a copy.

Prize War Stories.—Over 40 Tales of the Civil War, written by Union Soldiers who were actors in the scenes represented. Thrilling, pathetic and entertaining. 88 pages. 25 cents.

True War Stories.—A later collection by other authors, all of them participants in the stirring deeds which they narrate. All written especially for The New-York Tribune. 88 pages. 25 cents a copy.

Our Chauncey.—A brilliant, entertaining poem, by Isaac H. Bromley, the humorous editorial writer of The Tribune, handsomely and ingeniously illustrated by Dan Beard and C. D. Gibson, two great magazine artists. The forty-odd pages devote as much space to illustration as to poem. Fine paper covers, illustrated. "Our Chauncey" is Chauncey M. Depew, long one of the most celebrated of after-dinner orators, whom, as a baby in his cradle, Mercury, the messenger to Jupiter, finds at Peekskill, N. Y., and whom Jupiter brings up to put to flight the old fogies who talk stupid commonplace at public banquets. The story of "Our Chauncey" is delightfully told. The poem was read originally at a gathering of graduates of Yale College. They laughed just once during the reading, but the laugh began with the third line, and never stopped until the close. Price, 50 cents.

Washington's Farewell to His Officers.—A picture, in colors, 14 by 18 inches, of a famous scene of the American Revolution, painted expressly for The Tribune by the artist Ogden, a great authority. Portraits of Washington, Knox, Putnam, Steuben, Clinton and others. This picture is historically correct; the uniforms are exact to a button. Obtainable only from The Tribune or its Club Agents. Price, 10 cents.

Village Improvement.—Two charming articles, by B. G. Northrop, showing why villages differ in prosperity. Mr. Northrop is the greatest authority on the subject in America. 5 cents each.

Trusts.—An argument between S. C. T. Dodd and Terence V. Powderly, who take different sides of the question. 5 cents.

After-dinner Oratory.—The best public speeches of one winter's public dinners in New-York City. 10 cents.

Knitting and Crochet.—Patterns for garments, tidies, mats, chair covers, etc. Six different pamphlets; each 64 pages or more. Each 10 cents; the six for 50 cents.

Art and Architecture at the World's Fair.—A critical review by The Tribune's art critic. 58 large pages. 10 cents.

Summer Leisure.—A good collection of love stories. 100 pages. Just as good for winter reading. 10 cents.

SPECIAL EDITIONS OF THE TRIBUNE.

Inauguration Edition of The Daily Tribune, March 4, 1897, with colored cover and a special supplement, entitled "Eleven Administrations," which supplies an exhaustive review of the whole life of the Republican party, and a comparison of the constructive and patriotic policies of the party with the destructive and reactionary spirit of the Democratic party. 5 cents a copy. The Tribune never gave so much for 5 cents as in this Edition.

Memorial Day Number of The Daily Tribune, May 29, 1897. Splendidly illustrated. 5 cents a copy.

TO THE EDITOR OF The Tribune.

SIR: Several of the New-York City papers had special large editions on Sunday, December 12. It seems to me that it might be interesting for you to know that, in spite of these extra editions, The New-York Tribune contained again still more live and important news items than any other paper. I inclose a list of the number of clippings found for over five thousand subscribers, prominent in all walks of life:

New-York Tribune - - -	203	New-York Press - - -	105
New-York Times - - -	165	New-York Sun - - -	102
New-York Herald - - -	136	New-York Journal - - -	100
New-York Herald (Brooklyn edition) - - - - -	14	Sunday News - - - - -	35
New-York World - - -	145	Sunday Telegraph - - -	25
